NYE WAS 'WAY OFF

How Humorists Were "Stung" in Business Venture.

Anecdote James Whitcomb Riley Used to Tell, Dealing With the Wiles of the Publisher—All They Got Was a Feed.

Among the many comical stories told of James Whitcomb Riley's experiences with Nye was the history of a book called "Nye and Riley's Railway Guide," which gave them a broad personal and legal experience with publishers. From their first tour in 1888 their fancy ran riot with the idea of a comic railway guide for just such poor, ill-fated travelers as they themselves proved to be, for the man, as they wrote in the introduction, "who erroneously gets into a car which is sidetracked and swept out and scrubbed by people who take in cars to scrub and laundry."

"Nye and I," Riley used to say, "thought a little book made from our readings might perhaps stanch a long-felt public want. In fact, we grew enthusiastic as our eyes swept the prospect. Nye, indeed, thought there was money in it. I remember that, in his optimism, he wrote: 'Let us make some money, be gosh, and put it in our inside pocket. It feels bully.' Riley always chuckled reminiscently at this point in the story.

"Well, we went to Chicago to look for a publisher, and there we found one Ketchem & Skinnem who had a sign on the door, 'Drop M8S. Here.' We dropped ours and went away feeling pretty good."

Riley then told of a long wait, during which they wondered whether the manuscript would be accepted; then how glad they were to find the book on sale at the news stands, and finally how they paid a visit to the publishers to inquire timidly into the matter of royalties. The door was locked. Some months later, in response to their letters, came an invitation to a banquet given by the publishers in their honor. Hopefully they presented themselves. "As we filed in to dinner Nye whispered to me, 'Think they'll hand us checks with the cigars?' Well, when the cigars were passed at length the publisher at the head of the table pushed back his chair, put his finger tips on the cloth, beamed on us, and said:

"'Gentlemen and publishers, we have met to do honor to our two illustrious humorists tonight in an unusual way. We appreciate their humor, especially that which has made our book so successful. And in token of our appreciation we now present to them one hundred shares apiece in our great company. Ahem—I believe that is all!'

"It was all. Nye and I hoped at first for the best, but neither of us secretly could find any market for our shares and the company never paid any dividends before it went out of business."—Harper's Magazine.

AINU BEAR FEAST

Festival That Is Really a Communion Service.

Ceremonial One of a Number of Similar Celebrations That Have Religious Significance Among People of Lowest Culture.

The most important object of the Ainu chase is the bear. At a certain season of the year it is the ambition of the hunters of every village to capture a wee bear cub. It is taken home and treated with affection. If, as is often the case, the little creature is too young to have been properly taken from its mother, it is turned over to the young women of the village, who suckle it at their own breasts. A special pen made of logs is erected for the cub, and here it is reared, the pet of the entire village, until fairly grown. When the day of the feast comes the invited guests assemble from all quarters; food and drink in plenty have been prepared. The signal given, the bear is led out from its wooden pen; it is fethered by a rope to a post and everyone teases and irritates the unfortunate creature; it is set upon, struck, prodded, beaten. When the scene has become one of wild excitement, and the tormented creature snarls and tears and runs in every way to escape from his tormentors, young men come forward with two poles, one of which is placed upon the ground. They then throw themselves upon the stunned creature, and, seizing him by the legs, place his head upon the pole in such a way that the lower jaw rests on it. The second pole is now laid across the back of the head, above. A group of the young men now threw themselves with all their might upon the upper pole. The head of the animal caught between the two poles is subjected to the pressure of the whole mass of struggling humans. Leaning over the dying creature, one of the old men strokes both sides of his head and prays, at the same time catching and inhaling the creature's dying breath. When the bear has breathed his last gasp—and he must be killed without the shedding of blood—the corpse with the head is skinned, and the rest of the body is taken inside and prepared for cooking. The skin and head are now carefully laid out upon a handsome mat. When the flesh is cooked a bowl of soup is first brought out. This is offered with prayer to the skin and head of the animal. He is begged to take a portion of the soup; he is reminded of the kindness which the village has shown him; he is begged to carry their petitions and regards to his parents and to send favor and prosperity to them in return for their respect, attention and kind treatment. Pieces of the flesh of the animal are then brought out and offered to him. After these acts of prayer, thanksgiving and worship, the people themselves begin to feast. Abundance of millet beer has been provided, in addition to the food, and the celebration ends in a scene of wild intoxication.

The bear feast is really an interesting communion service. To kill the god, to eat his flesh and drink his blood is a commonplace in many religions of lower culture. The bear feast is the most startling ceremonial of the Ainu, but it is only one of a considerable number of similar celebrations. Thus they capture and rear hawks and other birds of prey, eagle-owls, rooks and foxes. All are treated with kindness. All ultimately are sacrificed with prayer and offerings, to secure from the creatures of their kind blessings and favor for the people.—Asia Magazine.

Talked Navy Slang.

"Now, this striper takes me up in the eyes and shows me a little gadget, where all you had to do was press a doohickey, turn over a gimick, and blooey—it would sink every tin fish within a mile." So said the tanned and wind-burned young sailor of the U. S. S. Florida. Everyone on the subway platform turned to look at him. What he was talking sounded like English, but it wasn't the English spoken in New York. In the latest form of navy slang the sailor was telling how an ensign had shown him how to work a depth bomb down at Guantanamo bay, Cuba. A "striper" is an ensign, and the "eyes" the front of the ship. "Gadget" and "gimick" are words that fit any contrivance the sailor doesn't know the name of, and "tin fish" is the latest word for submarine.—New York Sun.

Fish With a Long Name.

The scippiopattidecis is here. But how it ever reached this section of the country is a mystery to ichthyologists. The scippiopattidecis hasn't anything to do with the jazz, neither is it good to rub on your head or eat. It is nothing more or less than a poor fish. But it is here and how it ever migrated to these waters is what is puzzling the followers of Izaak Walton. It was caught here the other day 8,000 miles away from its sporting grounds. The new immigrant's name is not found in ordinary dictionaries. He has a head like a wolfish, a tapering tail, ground along his sides. This was 29 inches long. Anglers are agreed that the scippiopattidecis must have accompanied a Brazilian schooner which passed this way last summer.—New York Times.

"Then they will have plenty of reflection about it."

CHARLES KING

Charles King, formerly town engineer, died in St. Michael's Hospital early on Tuesday morning after an illness of five weeks or longer from a baffling internal malady. Deceased, who had only moved to Toronto last spring held a position as engineer with a city firm until ill-health compelled him to give up work. The late Mr. King was born at Kuyham, Leicester, England, on May 3rd, 1858, and was therefore a little over 62 years of age at the time of his death. He was appointed Town Engineer of Orangeville on March 1st, 1908, and held the position continuously until March 31st, 1920, when the municipality combined the offices of town engineer and hydro engineer, Mr. W. W. Marshall, acting hydro engineer, taking over the duties of the former office. As a civic official the late Mr. King gave the town of Orangeville excellent service. He was a first-class engineer and showed sound judgment in the discharge of other duties that pertained to his office. For a number of years he had the oversight of all street and pavement improvement work. He was a member of L. O. L. No. 427, a Conservative in politics and a member of St. Mark's Church. The news of his illness and death came as a shock to his Orangeville friends, many of whom had not even learned that he was in ill-health. The remains were brought to Orangeville Thursday morning, the funeral which was private, taking place from the C. P. R. Station to Greenwood Cemetery immediately after the arrival of the Toronto passenger train. Rev. (Capt.) Stewart, rector of St. Mark's Church, conducted the service at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. C. R. McKeown, W. C. McMillan, W. M. Green, A. D. McKitrick, D. B. Brown and Robt. Allen. The late Mr. King is survived by his wife and a family of three sons and one daughter. The latter are Chas. J. King, of Northfield, Birmingham England, George W. King an engineer in Toronto, Miss Florence King, manageress of the C. P. R. restaurant, Orangeville, and Harry, Inspector of Wiring with the Bell Telephone Co., Orangeville. Mr. Geo. King, John St., is a brother. Our citizens unite in extending their sincere sympathy to the widow, family and other relatives in their hour of trial.

JAMES FORSYTHE

In the death of Mr. James Forsythe on Friday last, August 13th, the Mono Centre district has lost an old and highly respected citizen. The deceased, who was 66 years and 7 months of age, had been in poor health for a number of years and had been bedfast for some months prior to his demise. The cause of death was arterio-sclerosis, commonly known as hardening of the arteries. The late Mr. Forsythe is survived by a widow and a family of one son, Herman, a farmer near Mono Centre, and a daughter, Miss Annie, living at home. Messrs. Robert Forsythe, Caron, Sask., Richard Forsythe, Oxbow, Sask., Thomas Forsythe, Thorold, Peter Forsythe, of St. Catharines, John Forsythe, Toronto, Mrs. James Dunnett, Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Miss Grace Forsythe, Toronto, and Mrs. John Scott, Granger, are the surviving brothers and sisters. To the bereaved wife, family and brothers and sisters the people of the neighborhood join in extending their sympathy. Deceased was a member of Burns' Presbyterian Church, Mono Centre, and a Liberal in political affiliations. He was a man of strict integrity, kindly in his nature and a first-class neighbor. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held from his late residence to Burns' Church Cemetery, Mono Centre, on Sunday afternoon. Service was held in the church at one o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Wm. Coutts, officiating. The pallbearers were Messrs. Peter Forsythe, Wm. Shields, Wm. Lundy, Robert Cunningham, Wm. Scott and Wm. Ewing. The brothers and sisters were all present at the funeral.

There are an even hundred different classes of chickens provided for in the Canadian National Exhibition prize list.

There are 63 distinct varieties of canaries to be exhibited this year at the Canadian National Exhibition, 31 different breeds of rabbits and 24 cavies.

DIED IN B. C.

Ernest H. Harold, Former Dufferin County Boy, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Deceased was a returned soldier and his health had been injured by gas poisoning.

Ernest Harold, a returned overseas man, about thirty-six years of age, came down from Minnie Lake, beyond Quilchena, last week suffering from illness, and on Sunday developed double pneumonia. Considering the case a very serious and critical one, Dr. Gillis, early in the week, telegraphed to the young man's relatives in Caron, Sask., and his father and mother immediately started for Merritt, but failed to get here in time to see their son alive, arriving yesterday, while the unfortunate young man succumbed Wednesday evening about eight o'clock.

The late Ernest H. Harold was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold, of Caron, Sask., and was in his thirty-seventh year, having been born on June 14th, 1884, in the city of Toronto, Ont. He was unmarried, but left to mourn his loss, besides his father and mother, three brothers and one sister—O. W. Harold, farming at Lawson, Sask., Douglas N., also farming in Saskatchewan; R. L., a medical student in Toronto University; and Miss Laura, living at home with her parents, at Caron, Sask. His sorrowing parents bear testimony to the fact that he was all that could be desired as a son and brother. He was always looking after the comfort of others, and his influence was always for the best and highest things of this life. He will be greatly mourned by his bereaved family and missed by a large circle of friends at his old home and in this Province.

It is about ten years since the late Mr. Harold came to the Interior of British Columbia, and about eight years since he took up his farm at Minnie Lake, near Quilchena. When the Great War broke out, he enlisted from this district, and, like so many others, suffered from the deadly poisonous gas of the Germans, from the effects of which he never fully recovered, and which so weakened his lungs as to make him a ready victim to the recent attack of pneumonia to which he succumbed.

At the time when he was taken ill, he was preparing to dispose of his place with the intention of returning to Saskatchewan and going into farming near where his parents reside.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold, father and mother of the deceased, will leave to-morrow, with the remains, for the family home in Caron, Sask., where the funeral will be held on arrival, on Monday afternoon next. They will carry with them the deep and heartfelt sympathy of many in this community who had learned to know and highly esteem the late Ernest Harold, whose sterling qualities made many friends during his residence of years in this district.—Merritt, B. C., Herald, August 6th.

On arriving at Caron early Monday morning, August 9th, the train was met by representative citizens and the remains were escorted to his father's home in the village. At 2.30 p.m. the local veterans provided a guard of honor, while the hearse proceeded to Bethel Methodist church, where Rev. J. C. Bond conducted the service. Beautiful cut flowers sent by sympathetic friends completely covered the flag draped casket and were banked at either end and in front of it. After an impressive service the procession, which was a very long one, proceeded to Caron Cemetery for the interment. The veterans formed a guard of honor and at the conclusion of the burial service the "Last Post" was sounded over the grave.

"Farmers Will Get $1.00 Apiece For Potatoes At Digging Time." Some headline for a H. C. of L. tirade against the profiteering farmer, eh? But in this case there will be no profiteering and that price will not be general, we hope. But someone in the County of Peel is actually going to get that price. Don't envy him, but get busy and be the lucky one yourself. It's worth hustling a bit for anyway. Major T. L. Kennedy, M. L. A., is offering $5.00 for the 5 best Green Mountain potatoes shown at Caledon Fall Fair and grown and exhibited by a resident of Peel.

The Caledon Agricultural Society is to be congratulated on having Mrs. D. N. Potter, Mono Mills, and Mrs. T. W. Meek Alton, on its Board of Directors.

Hearing of the remarkable cure Dr. Chase's Ointment was making, we sent for some, and after the third application the sore began to heal. I am glad to say that it is quite well now and we give the credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment. We cannot recommend this preparation too highly."

AIR LANE PATROLS

Britain Already Looking Into the Future.

Necessity of Having Force to Guard Country's Merchant Ships in the Clouds Against Sudden Attack Is Pointed Out.

The Dutch paper Telegraaf reported that on November 15 airplanes dropped bombs on the castle at Swaimen, where the ex-crown prince of Germany is staying.

No suggestion is made as to the nationality of the airplanes, except by the parenthetical remark that Swaimen is only three miles from the German frontier. The report does not mention any casualties, nor does it say how the ex-prince bore himself under fire, though it would have been interesting to have known, since, according to popular report, he has had no previous experience during the war of being under fire, having left all that to the German "cannon fodder," which he so recklessly and cynically sacrificed.

The report is vague in the extreme, but whether or not true, it suggests various exciting possibilities in the future. Piracy and smuggling by airplane are possibilities not to be overlooked. Of course, while all Europe is still armed, and the German army resembles a pack of wolves without a pack leader, nothing could be easier than for some German airmen who disapprove of the ex-crown prince's conduct in general and are resolved that no counter-revolution shall ever make him emperor, to paint out the national marks on their machines, fly high above the clouds into Holland, dive upon his residence and release their bombs. In any force still retaining its discipline and the discipline of active service at that, such action would be wildly impossible.

In times of peace such raids would be less easy. All airdromes and their airplanes will of course be registered; the movements of aircraft will be even more strictly under observation than those of seagoing ships, for the simple reason that their periods of absence from terra firma are necessarily much briefer.

Moreover, air pirates could never stop a commercial airplane and call on it to "stand and deliver." They could never get away with booty, and therefore their operations could only be destructive and not profitable.

But one must not overlook the possibility that a power as evil disposed and reckless as Germany was in 1914 might suddenly begin a systematic attack on all the aircraft of a rival. The experiences of the past warn us to be cautious in the future.

It will be the task of the royal air force to guard the air merchantmen of Britain. For years their work may be as bloodless as was the work of the navy from Navarino to 1914, but the navy was needed at last, and it would be very rash to declare that the royal air force will never again send a foe down in flames.

We must remain prepared on land, on the sea and, last but not least, in the air.—London Mail.

Life of a Collier.

A Scottish correspondent of the Yorkshire Post living in a colliery district, writes: The sentimental pity extended on the "poor devil who never sees the light of day" is sheer rubbish, and when uttered by union leaders is merely clap-trap. I meet plenty of our local miners coming home daily between two and three in the afternoon, having done their shift from 7 a. m., and probably earned $5 in the meantime. If you stopped one of these men to commiserate with him on his "dreadful" employment, he would stare at you in amazement, and wonder what on earth you were talking about. At a smoking concert some months ago one of our miners sang a song called "Down in the Mine." It drew a lurid picture of a miner's life, and one line referred to his "toiling for a bare existence." The miners roared with laughter, in which the singer joined.

Novel Counter-Claim.

A novel plea was put forth by Lieut. Sigurdson, an Icelander, described as an accountant, who was committed for trial at the Guildhall, London, charged with embezzling money belonging to his employers. When the chief bookkeeper of the firm was called to the colors, Sigurdson was engaged at $12 a week, and later it was discovered that smaller sums had been paid into the bank than had been received. Questioned, he agreed that he had used about $1,000 for his own purposes, and after arrest added: "I have a heavy counter-claim against them for inciting a young man to commit forgery." He went on to argue that by not keeping a sufficient check on him the firm had induced him to use their money, and that he had a claim for damages against them.

EPISODE 2.

The second episode of the latest Vitagraph serial, "Hidden Dangers," starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, is entitled "The Murder Mood," and will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights, August 23 and 24. This splendid serial of adventure, mystery and sensation, with its Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde atmosphere got off to a great start at that theatre on its opening nights, and if the reception it received is any criterion as to the future attraction of the subsequent episodes, "Hidden Dangers" will probably break all records at this theatre.

The next episode, "The Murder Mood," starts off the real action of the story.

In making the second episode the author called for an old-fashioned stage coach of frontier days for one of the scenes. After nearly six weeks of hunting, one was finally secured, and it is none other than the famous old coach that was used in the Buffalo Bill Shows for years.

MONO COLLEGE.

Mono College Women's Institute held their August meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Shirley. The meeting took the form of a picnic and the following verses are intended to convey an idea of the afternoon's fun:—

Mono College W. I. had their meeting
In the form of a picnic this month;
Mrs. Shirley was hostess, and everyone
Brought a basket and came for the fun.

Blount W. I. was invited to come,
And enjoy the day and the fun;
The crowd gathered about half past two,
A lot of ladies, but the men were few.

Down along the creek the ladies went,
And some of them, on mischief bent,
Off with shoes and stockings too,
Everyone paddled their own canoe.

The little girls all ran, and
Then—the Misses—their turn came;
And did they run? Well, I'll say so,
Then they let the married ladies go.

The married ladies took their place,
And victory was in each one's face;
When they started they all ran fast,
One got first, one second, and one last.

The fat women, they were called upon,
And when one, two, was said, they were all gone;
After a while they got started together,
Some of them ran, while some of them never.

The men ran next, married and single,
And the girls all ran to catch the winner;
Meade ran well, Jim a little faster,
Cleve came first, Rob. Island, laster.

The hammer and nails then were tried,
The ladies drove until they nearly dried;
The Blind Line had a winner for the single and married,
And then for supper—no one tarried.

There was sandwich, and cake, and pie,
And tea, and biscuits, and Oh! My!
When supper was ended, they began to sing,
We're all jolly good fellows, and God Save the King.

The road was clear, so was the sky,
And to the hostess we said goodbye;
We all went home then, everyone
Hoping to have another in 1921.

The amount given in prizes the first year of the Canadian National Exhibition was $17,000. This year $75,000 will be distributed.

NEVER AGAIN

The sawmill where old Uncle Zenas worked was behind in its payments. But one bright day the "darkies" were told to line up in alphabetical order. Till sundown, Zenas waited at the foot of the line, only to be told that the money had given out just before his turn.

After a hungry night, Zenas, applied for work at another sawmill.

"What name shall I put on the payroll?" asked the foreman.

The old man scratched his head. "Boss," he said, "at de las' place whut Ah wuks at, mah name was Zenas; but fo' pu'poses of de payroll Ah prefers to be called Aaron, wid a double A."

BARBER VAMOOSED

Wiarton Man Didn't Even Stay to Finish off Customer.

A raid on a supposed moonshiner's plant and a customer suddenly left half-shaved in a barber shop have apparently very little connection, but when we explain that the alleged moonshiner was the barber and that some little bird whispered to him that his tubs of "brew" had been discovered by the police, a reason can be found for his hasty exit from the shop.

Following advice received from a nearby town, where "swamp" whisky had been sold, Chief Crandon and Constable Glover proceeded to the residence of Thomas Miller, a local barber, and commenced to search for signs of a "still" Saturday afternoon last.

According to their report there was a heavy, unsavery odor permeating the house and they soon located two large buckets of "brew" in the pantry. Neither Miller nor his wife were home at the time of the search.

The officers made a thorough search for a "still" but were unable to locate any of the usual equipment. They then destroyed the brew retaining only a quantity sufficient for analysis by a chemist. It was apparently concocted from some mixture of which molasses is the chief component as an odor of "black strap" was very noticeable and the mixture was very dark in color.

While the officers were completing their search, some one, apparently, carried word of the seizure to Miller, at the shop where he was working. Miller grabbed his coat and hat and told the man he was shaving that he would be back in a minute, and that is the last that has been heard of him. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.—Wiarton Echo.

"They're six fine sons ye have, Casey," said Dennis to his friend. "They are," replied Casey. "Do ye have any trouble wid them?" inquired Dennis. "Trouble!" repeated Casey. "Ive never had to raise me hand to one of them, except in self-defense."

McGinnis kept a saloon, and lived with his family upstairs. One day his assistant shouted to him: "McGinnis, shall I trust Tim O'Leary for a drink?" "Has he had a drink?" called back McGinnie. "He has." "Thin trust him.'

An Irish waiter named Kenny was noted for his ready wit. A party of gentlemen who were staying at the hotel heard of Kenny and one of them made a bet that he would say something that Kenny couldn't answer at once. A bottle of champayne was ordered. The one who had made the bet took hold of the bottle and began to open it. The cork came out with a "bang" and flew into Kenny's mouth. "Ah," he said, "that is not the way to Cork!" Kenny took the cork out of his mouth and replied: "No, but it's the way to Kil-Kenny."

"How dare you come on parade," shouted the Irish sergeant to a recruit, "before a respictable man loike mesife, smothered from head to foot in graise and poipeclay? Tell me now—answer me when I speak to yez." The recruit was about to excuse himself for his condition, when the sergeant stopped him. "Dare yez to answer me when I put a question to yez?" he cried. "Hould yer lyin' tongus, and open yer face at yer piril. Tell me now, what have yez been doin' wid yer uniform? Not a word, or I'll clap yez in the guard-room. When I axes yez anything and yez shakes I'll have yez tried for insolence to yer superior officer; but if yez don't answer when I questions yez, I'll have yez punished for disobedience of orders. So, yes see I have yez both ways."

No horse or other animal is allowed in the judging ring at the Canadian National Exhibition until it has been examined and pronounced sound and healthy by the Association's veterinary surgeons.

A $600 KERMANSHA

By R. RAY BAKER

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

His brow corrugated in a dark frown, Armen Doomborijian stood at the window of his business place and watched Doctor Azaad Boyajian march past on the opposite side of the street, head erect, shoulders back, twirling a cane.

Armen's black eyes followed the other until he arrived at a bazaar near the end of the block. The doctor did not enter the bazaar. Instead he passed through a doorway which opened on stairs giving access to rooms over the store.

Armen was not angry. He just felt sad; or rather, he was just plain jealous. For he knew Azaad was calling on Araxia Altoonjian, whose father was proprietor of the bazaar and whose home was above it.

Slowly Armen walked toward the back of his store, traversing its entire length with a few steps; because it was only a niche. It appeared that the construction of the various buildings on the street had been started at either end of the block, and that they had failed to meet in the middle. In order to avoid wasting building space a little coop of a building ten feet high and twice as wide had been fitted between the two walls. For space was expensive on the Midway of this Lake Michigan summer resort.

The contents of the coop, however, rivaled that of many large bazaars in intrinsic value, for it was filled with Persian rugs, so full that Armen found difficulty in making a path to his worried pacing of the floor.

Armen's means of livelihood was against him in his campaign for Araxia's heart. Araxia favored the professions when it came to husbands. In her opinion, selling rugs was a menial existence. Armen, however, could not bring himself to dissociate his life from the business he had always known and which his fathers had followed before him. He loved rugs, and he knew them as an artist knows colors.

He could not understand anybody's resisting the charm of the magnificent handwoven fabrics which seemed to diffuse an atmosphere of enchantment from the mysterious East.

As he paced the floor Armen stopped now and then to caress one of his beloved rugs which he had hung from the ceiling—rows upon rows of them. This scheme of display was not satisfactory, but it was the best he could devise in his cramped quarters.

"I love you," he whispered to the rugs. "Next to Araxia and my mother, far away in Armenia, I love you best."

Finally he seated himself at the rear of the store and concerned himself with reflections on his unrequited love. He hoped no customers would appear, because he wanted to think of things more ethereal than business. His sales this week already netted him $1,000, and that was sufficient. Armen was accumulating a neat sum in the bank.

Dr. Azaad Boyajian was the fly in Armen's ointment. Before the other came back from college with his degree Armen had been making progress in his love affair in spite of Araxia's aversion to his occupation. He had almost persuaded her that the rug business was art, and she had even promised to look over his assortment some day.

Then Azaad came home and spoiled everything. He liked Araxia, and he was a professional man. He opened an office and set out after a practice. This came slowly; in fact, the doctor appeared to be having little more than no success. But this had no effect on Araxia's admiration. He was a professional man, which it was better to be, even though a financial failure, than a rug merchant, no matter how successful. Besides, Azaad was handsome and strong, albeit he had a very excitable nature, which Araxia excused as temperament. Armen himself had a rather attractive physiognomy, but he was short of stature.

So things began to go against Armen. Instead of calling twice each week on Araxia, he was allowed to see her but once, while the doctor went three nights—and they were not professional calls. Then, before long, Armen was left out entirely, for Araxia always found some excuse when he asked if he might call.

Only yesterday Araxia had been invited into the rug shop when she was walking on the other side of the street. She had grudgingly consented to enter the coop and had looked over the rugs not only without enthusiasm, but with marked disdain in her demeanor. Armen had fairly raved to her about a new Kermansha which had just become a part of his stock, but she had thrown cold water on his fervor with the remark:

"Oh, sure Armen, it is nice to look at, but one of these (pointing to several hanging near the back of the store) would be just as good to walk on. You can't talk rugs to me, Armen. I've seen so many of them, and when I have a home it will have bare floors or old-fashioned carpets."

This made Armen tear his hair, figuratively. The Kermansha was worth $600, while "those" referred to by Araxia would not bring more than $100 each.

Then, with polite sarcasm, Araxia began ridiculing Armen and his rugs until he reached the boiling point and was glad when she left. She would not receive another invitation to look at his stock, he resolved. Yet his love did not diminish, in spite of her cruel treatment. Rather, it was intensified.

Armen's cogitations were interrupted by the telephone bell.

"This is Mrs. Turpenning," said a woman's voice on the wire. "I've decided to take the Kermansha. I have some friends at my home now, and I'm anxious for them to see it. Will you have it sent right up?" She gave the address.

Armen was glad of the excuse to get away from the shop and the vicinity of Araxia's home. He rolled the rug carefully—almost tearfully, for he was loath to part with it—and went out to the street.

It was necessary to go past the Altoonjian apartments, on the other side of the street; and he resolved not to look in that direction, for fear he might see his idol in company with Doctor Azaad. Just as he was uttering a sigh of satisfaction because he had got past without yielding to the desire to look, he heard a cry and automatically turned to ascertain the cause.

A tall, well-built young Armenian had stumbled from the stairway of the Altoonjian building and was shouting "Help! help!" And as Armen watched, the alarmist went racing up the street in a panic, while a series of screams sounded from the rooms of the bazaar.

Some one else started to run. It was Armen Doomborijian, and his course lay across the street. Lagging the heavy rug, he hustled into the stairway and up the flight.

Into the Altoonjian living room Armen staggered, weak from the quick climb, burdened as he was with the rug. There was no one in sight, but a scream from the kitchen lured him in that direction. He burst through the doorway to be greeted by a horrifying sight.

Araxia was running from the kitchen, her hands wildly and ineffectually beating at her burning clothes. The floor also was blazing near the gas stove, and it flashed into Armen's mind that the girl's dress must have become ignited while she was trying to extinguish the other flame. A pepper containing some popped corn showed what she had been doing.

When Doctor Azaad returned from his quest for help, bringing several startled persons, including Mr. and Mrs. Altoonjian, he found Araxia lying on a davenport sobbing hysterically, her arms about the neck of Armen Doomborijian, rug merchant.

With one hand Armen patted her head, trying to soothe her, while the other held an object at which he now and then cast a rueful glance out of the corners of his eyes.

The object in question had once been a Kermansha rug valued at $600, but now it would not bring $25, it was so badly charred and burned.

HAD NO USE FOR FAIR SEX

St. Columba, Even in Fanatical Age, Carried His Aversion to Womankind to Excess.

Iona, which is one of the Hebrides group of islands off the coast of Scotland, long ago suffered the distinction of being a land without women.

During the middle ages the island was given to St. Columba, the patron saint of Argyle, by Christian, the king of the northern Scots. The holy man built a chapel with his own hands and established a mission station from which to send out missionaries to the heathen Picts. Then, in order to make sure that his island was a holy place, he decreed that no woman should set foot upon its shores. He carried this prohibition against the weaker sex even to the length of refusing to allow a cow to be kept on the island.

A difficulty arose in the fact that many of the converts which he made among the heathen had wives and refused to be separated from them. To obviate this difficulty another island a couple of miles away was set apart as a home for the wives of the faithful. On Iona a watch tower was built, from which the island of females was constantly watched to see that no woman left it. Legend says that post of watchman was in great demand among the brothers.

Later the good saint left Iona, and an abbess and nuns moved in.

It is a curious fact that when, many years after St. Columba had gone to his reward, a pilgrimage was made to the island of Iona, about two-thirds of the 4,000 pilgrims who went there were of the sex that does not mind being hated or feared, but cannot stand indifference.—Nikaah in Chicago Daily News.

A Communal Mind.

Certain things in animal life lead me to suspect that animals have some means of communication with one another, especially the gregarious animals, that is quite independent of what we mean by language. It is like an interchange or blending of subconscious states, and may be analogous to telepathy among human beings. Observe what a unit a flock of birds becomes when performing their evolutions in the air. They are not many, but one, turning and flashing in the sun with a unity and a precision that it would be hard to imitate. One may see a flock of shore birds that behave as one body; now they turn to the sun a sheet of silver; then, as their dark backs are presented to the beholder, they almost disappear against the shore or in the clouds. It would seem as if they all shared in a communal mind or spirit, and that what one felt they all felt at the same instant.—John Burroughs.

MRS. M. A. CLINGAN

Mrs. M. A. Clingan, formerly of Orangeville, Ont., more recently of Toronto, passed over to the long rest Friday night, at the ripe old age of nearly four score years. Deceased was a fine type of Christian lady, whom to know was to love, and her death while not unexpected, yet leaves a feeling of sad loneliness in the hearts of her relatives and friends. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Wilcox, Salmon Arm, B. C.; Mrs. J. B. Denton, Toronto; Mrs. R. Fowley, Upstergrove, Ont.; and two sons, F. W. Clingan, Salmon Arm, B. C.; and Dr. Geo. Clingan, M. L. A., Virden; also a sister, Mrs. Harvey, Toronto; and two brothers, His Honor, Judge Cumberland, Brandon, and William Cumberland, Rosemont, Ont.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, which was crowded with friends and sympathizers, who thus bore a last tribute to one whom they esteemed and loved.

The casket was banked with beautiful floral offerings. The service was conducted by Rev. G. F. McCullagh, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. H. Fair, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. D. B. Kennedy, of Elkhorn, a lifelong friend of the family. The latter spoke in feeling terms of the Christian life and influence of the deceased, covering a period of over forty years in his memory.

The remains were laid to rest in Virden Cemetery.—Virden Empire-Advance, August 3rd.

Exhibition crowds will be the first to see the second and last instalment of the Canadian War Memorials Paintings. They come to Toronto direct from England and after the Big Fair will be packed, not to be shown again until the War Museum is opened at Ottawa.

It is estimated that there are 10,000 permanent risidents of Exhibition City during the two weeks of the Canadian National.

Dancing and Music

The emotional side of the majority of people cannot be satisfied by Free Libraries, Gymnasiums, Playgrounds, etc. The love of moving the healthy body to the rhythm of music in some form of dancing is an inborn peculiarity of the average man and woman; with liquor and indecent music, however, dances may do more harm than bacteria. It is pathetic to see in our large towns and cities young men and women rush to some dance hall to satisfy a desire for amusement.

People who have used up their strength in Dancing, Late Hours, Rich Foods or Love, perhaps looked too long upon the Wine when it was Red and have let Old John Barleycorn sap their vitality will find a boon in the use of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy. It will dispel "that tired feeling," take away that feeling of depression and nervousness that comes from lowered vitality and brings back the healthy rich, red color to the cheeks. It will make your beauty sleep more satisfying so that you will awake in the mornings full of life and hope and more able to carry on with the day's work. The "habits that hurt" can more easily be overcome if you will use Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy to strengthen the Nerves, to add power to the Heart and to revive and stimulate the circulation of the Blood. Buy them from your dealer. 60c a box, 6 for $2.50.

MONTREAL WOMAN GAINED 20 POUNDS

Had Spent Hundreds of Dollars Without Benefit—Like New Woman Now.

"Tanlac has brought me health, strength and happiness, and I am glad of the opportunity to give my testimonial, which I sincerely hope will be of benefit to others," said Mrs. Phileas Coude, residing at 72 Massue street, one of the most highly esteemed women of Quebec, in an interview, a few days ago.

Mrs. Coude in relating her experience also reported a gain of twenty pounds in weight and her statement, while indeed remarkable, is by no means unusual, as many thousands have testfied to having used Tanlac with the same wonderful results.

Captain Phileas Coude, Mrs. Coude's husband, has been a navigator for forty years and is widely known, especially in maritime circles.

"It just seems like I am starting life all anew," explained Mrs. Coude, "for I no longer feel like the same person. My stomach has been in such a bad fix for the past forty years, that is until I took Tanlac, that I was always sick. I was troubled so with indigestion that I had ceased eating any kind of substantial food. In fact, nothing agreed with me, and I had pains all over my body. My arms and legs, especially, hurt me dreadfully. Even the white part of eggs caused me trouble and I had gotten where the only nourishment I could take was milk and vichy water. Three months ago I was brought home from Montreal lying on a bed and just suffering agony. I had become so nervous that even the crumpling of a newspaper annoyed me and I have gone through many a night unable to close my eyes in sleep. All energy and strength left me and I felt many times that I had come to the end of my way. My heart would often beat so hard and fast from the gas on my stomach that I thought that I could not live.

"Many hundreds of dollars have been spent on my case, but nothing ever seemed to give me a particle of relief until I began taking Tanlac. I am the mother of twenty children and have had much experience with medicines, having taken most every kind myself, but I owe all the praise, thanks and gratitude for my wonderful recovery to nothing but Tanlac. The very first bottle of Tanlac made a decided change in me and since I have finished my fourth bottle I am feeling just like a new woman. I have an appetite like I have never had before and meats nor anything else I eat hurts me in the least. Since I began taking Tanlac my weight has increased twenty pounds and my strength has returned so that I can now do all my house-work without feeling tired except in the natural way. My pains have all disappeared. I sleep soundly all night long and get up mornings thoroughly rested and feeling fine. My nerves are again normal and I have regained all my energy. Words cannot fully express the gratitude I really feel and I want to recommend Tanlac to all others who may be suffering from stomach trouble and a run-down condition like I was before taking this grandest of all medicines."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

Mr. R. W. Burrell has been appointed by the Ontario Government, as Police Magistrate for the Police Village of Caledon East.

The Bell Telephone Company will during the next few weeks spend some $3,000 in Fergus by cabling St. Andrew, St. David, St. George and Garafraxa streets, and about half as much more on new extensions on their local switchboard.

Honeywood, in the neighboring township of Melancthon, a village of probably 100 population, can boast of three chartered banks opened up recently, viz: The Union Bank, Home Bank and Bank of Toronto. There is no better farming section in Ontario and evidently the farmers have plenty of money. From Honeywood the name might fittingly be changed to Moneywood.

Straight talk on Cream Separators by

J. E. SMITH & Co.
Orangeville, Ont. Canada.

IN these times of high butter prices and scarcity of labor, no housewife should bother with the old-fashioned gravity method of skimming milk. The De Laval Separator will recover one-fourth more cream and do it with less work and in shorter time.

Neither is there any excuse for struggling with a half-worn-out or inferior separator that wastes cream and is hard to turn and difficult to wash. The work can be done much better, quicker and easier with the De Laval—the world's standard separator.

We would like to show you the De Laval and how quickly it pays for itself

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sensible Irishmen will surely realize sooner or later that the wanton destruction of property in Ireland is pretty poor business. Every necessary building, public or private, that is destroyed will have to be replaced and the cost of replacement will have to be borne out of the public or private means of the people of Ireland.

It is believed that sugar is just about due for a fall in price. No person would regret the tumble except the speculators, who happen to get caught with the stocks that they expected to unload on the small dealers at a profitable price. There has undoubtedly been a good deal of profiteering in sugar and the profiteers will receive scant sympathy if they get caught at their own game.

Stern measurers are overdue to check the carnival of lawlessness in unhappy Ireland. The murder of Police Inspector Swanzy, as he was walking home from church, is one of many crimes that call for swift and sure retribution. Ireland's grievances, if the country has real grievances, are no warrant for the system of murder, violence and terrorism that the extreme Sinn Feiners have instituted. There is r reason to believe that Great Britain is altogether too lenient in her treatment of the lawless and chronically disaffected portion of the Irish people.

One of the most effective methods of combatting the prevailing high prices of fruit would be for farmers and town householders to give more attention to the growing of raspberries and other small fruits. There is no reason why every farm should not have its apple orchard and its plot of raspberries, strawberries and other small fruits. Raspberries in particular take very little room, are easily cultivated and cared for and will well repay their owner for whatever time and attention theiy require. People who live in Orangeville and other town and village communities may not have enough ground for orchards, but most of them could have a plot of strawberries and another of raspberries. It is surprising how many berries a small plot will produce if vines or bushes are given the proper care.

The application of the Bell Telephone Co. for authority to increase its rates is meeting with strong opposition. The company has undoubtedly found its operating expenses greatly increased by reason of the rapid advance in the cost of labor and the material used in its plant equipment. At the same time the telephone business has expanded very rapidly in recent years and the increase in volume of business has probably been quite suficient to take care of any increase in the operating expenses. It is unfortunate that such a necessary utility as the telephone should be run by any private company for the purpose of making dividends for its shareholders. This is a case where the public should be given the service at cost, or as close to cost as possible. Public ownership and operation would seem to be the real solution.

Wholesale prices are falling in the United States and should soon fall in Canada. Those conversant with the situation say that there is not much prospect of an early drop in the prices of clothing on account of the scarcity of materials and the fact that the mills are away behind with their orders. In this connection note might be made of the fact that the mills in Canada and the United States are still using last season's wool, which was of course bought at high prices. This year's wool crop, which was bought at much lower prices, will commence to reach the mills next year. It will be interesting to watch what effect the use of this cheaper wool will have on the prices of the manufactured goods. The manufacturers state that the wool price does not have any great bearing on the cost of the finished article. They contend that the cost of labor is the important factor, and hence argue that there cannot be any reduction of prices so long as wages remain at their present level.

A shrewd business man recently expressed the conviction that one of the great sources of troube in Canada was the fact that there were too many people in the country who do not want to work. There is undoubtedly a good deal of truth in this assertion. Everywhere in the cities and even in the towns there are men, who will not get out and do an honest day's work unless they are driven to it. They regard toil of any kind as a disagreeable task to be avoided just as long as possible, rather than the ordained lot of the great mass of mankind. It is citizenship of this type that breeds agitators, revolutionaries and even criminals. There are too many people in this country to-day who are looking for an easy time. They want pleasure, change and excitement and they must have what they want, no matter what the cost. The persevering toil and the plodding methods of our fathers have gone sadly out of fashion. If we are to have the best type of citizenship the Canadian people must continue to be an industrious people. Idleness, whether in rich or poor, should be discouraged in every way possible, for idleness is always a source of weakness and danger to the state.

Canadian National Exhibition City has its own post-offices, telegraph and express offices, Customs House, police station, fire department, hospital, bank and electrical plant.

CHOOSING A SCHOOL

During the past fourteen years the Orangeville Business College, Orangeville, Ont, has trained and placed in excellent positions over one thousand three hundred young people. These graduates have measured up to the standard required by the most exacting and largest business concerns of Canadian and American cities. Many have been employed as teachers in other commercial schools.

Our premises are healthful, cool in summer, warm in winter, and in case of fire every student can leave the building in less than one minute. Does that appeal to you? Mother: or, are you satisfied to have your daughter in a third story attic where exit in case of fire would be cut off.

Positions are absolutely guaranteed every graduate, providing they go to Toronto. Last year every graduate who wished was met at the depot in Toronto by the Principal of our Canada Business College in that city and driven direct to a position and a suitable boarding house. The same good service awaits you. A position for every graduate is our motto.

The Orangeville College reopens on the same day as the High Schools, Tuesday, September 7th. This school is affiliated with the Canada Business College, of Toronto, Kitchener, Guelph, Stratford, Oshawa, Listowel, Hanover, Lindsay, Midland, Wingham, etc. This is Canada's Greatest Chain of High-grade, Modern, Actual Business Schools controlled and conducted by Mr. Spotton, of the Orangeville Business College, Orangeville.

Those who cannot enter on September 7th may study at home through the Spotton Correspondence Schools, 274 College St., Toronto, and enter college later. All interested should write for particulars at once.

EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS

The Ontario School Trustees' Association is in the midst of a campaign to organize Educational Associations in every school inspectorate in the Province of Ontario. The work is being vigorously prosecuted under the energetic direction of Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association. In a letter to the press Mr. Morris sets forth the purpose of these Associations very concisely in these words:

"I may say these Associations are not for trustees only, but for all the ratepayers, irrespective of race, creed, or politics. We are planning to provide means whereby all the people may come together in conference to discuss their own educational problems. There is the question of the low average attendance in the rural schools, the shortage and inexperience of rural teachers, the frequent changes of teachers and the necessity of boys and girls having to leave home at a young age to receive high school training. I know a little girl who has just passed her entrance, who had thirteen teachers in seven years. These and many other features of our educational system go to show that we are not obtaining the results we might, not because of any fault in the system itself, as much as the lack of interest on the part of the people. We believe the people of Ontario have intelligence enough to find solutions of these problems, if they will but come together in conference to discuss them. This is a purely democratic movement, not for the purpose of advocating any particular scheme in the administration of school affairs, but simply to help people realize the importance of our public schools in preparing the boys and girls of to-day for the privileges and responsibilities of the citizenship of to-morrow.

SCHOOL REOPENING

The Orangeville Public School Board has deferred the reopening of the Public School until Tuesday, September 7th. New pupils, six years of age and over, will report in Miss Lalor's room at 10. a.m. on that date.

LICENSES TO BE INCREASED

Motor propelled vehicles have increased over 25 per cent. in a year, and greatly increased also in the use of farm tractors, marine engines, and factory and farm equipment. As these all depend on gasoline for power there seems to be a probability of a prediction of 75c. gasoline coming true. The motorist has to face not only the rising price of gasoline, but the unpleasant assurance from Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways, that next year motor licenses will be raised, possibly to $15.00. The revenue from licenses this year amounts to $2,000,000.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. The occasional use of the Tablets prevents stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring baby safely through. ST. MARY'S AGAIN

The Dufferins are again pitted against St. Mary's in the first round of the semi-final games for the intermediate championship. The Saints proved redoubtable opponents last year and are said to have a stronger team this season than in 1919. Should this prove the case they will give The Dufferins a great argument for the honors. The two teams are playing home and home games, the number of goals scored on the round to count. The first game took place in St. Mary's yesterday afternoon, but the result was of course not obtainable when The Banner went to press. The return match will be played on the Idylwyld grounds next Saturday afternoon, September 4th, commencing at 3 o'clock. Both teams are out to win the round and the game here will be well worth seeing. The admission has been fixed at 50 cents; 25 cents for children. There are over a half dozen teams still in the running for the intermediate honors. The experts pick St. Mary's, Bracebridge, Mimico and The Dufferins as the best of the lot and say that the real fight for the championship will be between these four teams.

An expenditure of $350,000 is required to stage and prepare the Canadian National Exhibition each year, much of which goes for special attractions.

ORANGEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Orangeville High School will reopen on Tuesday, September 7th. The staff will be the same as last term with a single exception. The Commercial Department will be in charge of Miss I. Moir, of Woodbridge, who succeeds Miss Gabriel. Miss Moir was on the staff of Oshawa Collegiate Institute last year and comes here well recommended as a successful teacher.

You will find this lecture both interesting and instructive. The Gillespie home. Mr. Gillespie is a man of high qualities as a manager, keeping all his farm in high, productive form. The fact that he successfully operates such a large farm in the older part of the province, under present scarcity of labor, shows that he is possessed of no mean business ability.

Red Fife wheat grown with artificial fertilizer —it is 10 days earlier than the unfertilized wheat.

Swede turnips stand most in need of phosphatic fertilizer. Mr. Gillespie applied 10 tons of Manure and 400 lbs. per acre of phosphatic fertilizer to this crop.

A MAN WHO KNOWS HOW

Mr. W. H. Gillespie is a Live Stock Farmer, But Grows Potatoes, Turnips and Wheat as Cash Crops.

The days of hero worship are pretty well gone, as they ought to be. Unless a man really delivers the goods he does not hold the centre of attention any length of time—wherein times have changed. It used to be that a man who could put up the best outward appearance, could mystify his fellows by occasional saws of the questionable wisdom of silence got the reputation of being great. The little game of the last five years in Europe has shot all this sort of thing to pieces. Men question assertion and premise—in fact they question everything. The consequence is that some of those who used to appear least are actually greatest in public estimate to-day. We trust all are prominent from actual merit. We know some who qualify for leaders in their own way. Here is one.

Just west of Orangeville there is a farm of 400 acres operated by one, Wm. H Gillespie. The farm is prominently located, yet the traveller has to depart slightly from the main road if he plans to inspect this farm,—a close study of it is exceedingly worth while. Mr. Gillespie and his forebears have developed this farm until it is one of the leaders of Orangeville district, if not in Dufferin.

Two things mark the development of this farm to its present proportions. First, the effective business methods employed, and, second, the high qualifications of the farm as a home. When we called on Mr. Gillespie recently he gave us valuable information concerning these points. The 400 acres are divided into: two-thirds for grain and cultivated crops and one-third pasture and grass land. As a rule he keeps 40 head of good grade cattle, specializing in beef stock. He usually has about 50 head of hogs also. He believes in feeding a larger amount of the products of the farm right where it was produced. Among other things Mr. Gillespie specializes in potatoes, turnips and wheat. He makes these his money crops. This year he has about seven and a half acres of potatoes and a similar amount of turnips. Last year he sold $1,135.00 worth of turnips and a slightly greater amount of potatoes. At the exceedingly high price obtained this last spring for potatoes this would not amount to more than a total of 300 bushels, but let it be known that Mr. Gillespie sold his potatoes from the field at $1.35 a bag. This means that he harvested in excess of 300 bushels per acre. He says he found these crops exceedingly valuable not only as money crops, but as a means of cleaning land and preparing it for succeeding crops. It may be of considerable interest for some readers to note that Mr. Gillespie does not practice wasteful methods of summer fallowing, but accomplishes the same thing by growing cultivated crops in rotation with grain and hay crops. He has one of the cleanest farms in Dufferin, if not in Ontario. Mr. Gillespie watches the markets closely. He is fortunately located within two miles of Orangeville and right on the main line of the C. P. R., hence he can place his stock on the market with comparative ease when conditions prevail which prevent shipments by farmers farther back in the country.

Like many another Ontario home, Mr. Gillespie's farm has had an interesting past. The Crown deed of the place was held by the man from whom Mr. Gillespie's father bought the land. About sixty years ago the late Mr. Gillespie came from Welland and hewed out a little place in the dense woods of Amaranth Township, so that he might grow sufficient crops for home maintenance. As little by little the land was cleared, it was possible for him to grow a crop of wheat. This he had to carry all the way to Port Credit to have it ground into flour. Not until the coming of the railroads in the early 70's was it possible to find a shipping point where commodities could be received and produce shipped. Money was at a premium in those days, and it was hard to realize any great sum from farm crops, consequently early settlers spent part of their summers working for their more fortunate fellows who were located nearer the centres of population. The late Mr. Gillespie spent many a summer cradling grain from Toronto to the vicinity of his own home. Now his son reaps hundreds of acres of better grain than was harvested in those days, in one-fiftieth of the time.

Land was comparatively low in value in those days. Lands which were well farmed naturally increased in value. Farm management investigators have recently valued Mr. Gillespie's farm at $45,000, which valuation would appear quite reasonable.

Mr. Gillespie believes in growing high quality crops and at the same time keeping the land up to its maximum bearing power. This he does by a well-established rotation of crops and the use of such barn manure as is available, supplementing it with sufficient fertilizers of high analysis. Certainly his crops show the wisdom of such a system.

Regarding his potato crop, Mr. Gillespie says that his potatoes followed sod ploughed last fall, and they received 10 tons of manure per acre. In addition, Mr. Gillespie added between 250 and 300 pounds per acre of a fertilizer analysing 2 per cent. ammonia and 10 per cent. phosphoric acid. His prospects this year are good for a crop that will be bigger considerably than that of 1919. We do not think that Mr. Gillespie uses quite as high a grade of fertilizer for his potatoes as this crop warrants. We would have liked to have seen a trial fertilizer containing 4 per cent. ammonia, 8 per cent. phosphoric acid and 3 to 4 per cent. potash. The potatoes were manured fairly heavily. Nevrtheless, we believe in view of the splendid results obtained by the Dominion experimental farms and at various other experimental stations that Mr. Gillespie would receive larger and more profitable yields and better quality by using a fertilizer analysing as high as 4-8-4.

Mr. Gillespie's fertility methods have proven their correctness. This year they bid fair to exceed anything realized up to date. One field of late oats fertilized with 200 pounds of 2-10 shows up exceedingly well, another 10-acre patch of Early Alaskas received the same fertilizer, but the field has received no manure for 15 years. These oats look as though they were going to exceed 75 bushels to the acre. His spring wheat is of the Red Fife variety. The stand is comparatively thick and shows an exceedingly good head. It was sown on May 5, and, with its present rate of growth, it will ripen a week to ten days sooner than wheat in the neighborhood that has not been fertilized. To predict that it will exceed them materially in yield is but to make a statement which is sure of fulfilment.

Mr. Gillespie does not believe in fertilizers alone, or would we advise any man to depend upon plant food in this concentrated form for his entire supply of fertility. Used in connection with rotation of crops and proper manuring there is no question but that the increase in yields and the improved quality resulting pays a very high interest on the money invested in fertilizers. Mr. Gillespie believes in early working of the land. Furthermore, he believes in plowing as much of his land in the fall as possible. This is good business. With two hired men he operates 400 acres, two-thirds of which is under the plow. This is interesting, especially in view of prevailing labor shortage. The crops on this farm look clean and well-tended, but neither Mr. Gillespie or his hired men become slaves to the crops. Things are arranged systematically. Weeds are caught in their early stages and are readily destroyed by cultivation. The land which is worked is manured and fertilized sufficiently so that one acre yields as much as two or three acres of unfertilized land. This is what makes Mr. Gillespie's cost per bushel or per ton about half what similar crops cost on unfertilized fields. This is the secret of his good farm income year by year.

Mr. Gillespie is anxious to keep more live stock. To this end he is becoming more and more interested in fertilizing his pastures. Records show that by judicious fertilizing of pasture lands their carrying capacity has been doubled and sometimes tripled. Mr. Gillespie is going to find this thing out for himself. He aims to keep more cattle and hogs, but with the present comparatively tense condition of the labor market he sees how the increase in live stock must be cared for by greater crop production, which in its turn is practically the result of proper soil tillage and crop fertilization.

Mr. Gillespie is a man of high qualities as a manager, keeping all of his farm in high productive form. The fact that he successfully operates such a large farm in this older part of the province, under present scarcity of labor, shows that he is possessed of no mean business ability.—Henry G. Bell, in Canadian Country-Man.

Mr. Gillespie's barns are not "fancy," but they are substantial and arranged so as to save labor.

ALBERT WEBB

On Wednesday, August 18th, death came as a welcome relief to one, who had suffered and endured bravely in a long and losing fight against the inroads of an incurable malady. We refer to Mr. Albert Webb, whose death took place at his late home, lot 5, con. 2, west, Caledon, after a long illness from cancer. Deceased, who was the youngest son of the late John Webb and of Mrs. Webb, of Hamilton, was in the prime of life, being only forty-five years of age. He had been critically ill since last Christmas, undergoing an operation in the Western Hospital on the 13th of February and another in Wellesley hospital on June 17th. He had also been under the care of Dr. Glover in St. Michael's. He left the last named institution to go to his home just a week before his death. For the last thirteen years the late Mr. Webb had farmed at Inglewood. Up to three years ago he had also run a contracting business in Toronto, and had the contract to build the Pease Foundry in Brampton. He is survived by his wife and four daughters, Uria, Shirley, Sara and Doris, all living at home. Three brothers and four sisters also survive from his father's family, namely, John, of Cleveland, Thomas and George, of Hamilton, Mrs. Crammond, of West Nutley, N. J., Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Myers, and Miss Webb, of Hamilton, and Mrs. Barr, of Victoria, B. C. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon by motor to the Park Lawn Cemetery, West Toronto. The bereaved widow and family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and neighbors in their time of loss.

MRS. ISAAC MARSHALL

Mrs. Marshall, widow of the late Isaac Marshall, of East Garafraxa, passed away at the home of her son, Mr. F. J. Marshall, Calgary, on Sunday, at the ripe age of 86 years. Mr. Marshall is bringing the remains here for burial and will likely reach Orangeville to-day or to-morrow. Interment will take place in Greenwood Cemetery. Mr. F. J. Marshall, one-time Mayor of Orangeville, Mrs. W. A. Wansbrough, Grand Valley, and Mrs. (Rev.) J. J. Ferguson are the surviving members of the family.

WHY BEAUTY FADES

A Condition Due Entirely to Poor, Watery Blood.

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale, haggard and angular. She not only tires out easily but suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite. This condition will go from bad to worse, if prompt steps are not taken to increase and enrich the blood supply. To make the rich, red blood that brings the glow of health, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If given a fair trial their use brings rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a good appetite and good spirits. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made thousands of pale, languid girls active and strong. On the first sign of poor, thin blood, mothers should insist upon their daughters taking a fair course of these pills. They will not only restore health, but will save further doctor bills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

On Monday evening, August 23rd, the Epworth League meeting was taken by the Missionary Department. Mrs. Geo. Beswick gave a very interesting address on missionary work. The harvest is great and the laborers few. The call comes from the Orient, from the islands of the sea and from our own mission fields for greater zeal and increased effort along the line of missionary work.

Next Monday evening Miss J. Clark will give a paper on missionary work in Japan. A good turnout is looked for.

CAR TURNED TURTLE

While Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, of Toronto, were motoring near Thistletown their car turned turtle. Mr. Young was thrown some distance and had his face and arm badly bruised, while Mrs. Young, who was driving at the time, was pinned under the steering wheel of the car until help arrived. She had the good fortune to escape with a severe shaking up. Fresh gravel on the road was the cause of the accident.

CALEDON.

On Saturday evening ,August 14th, a few friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Scarland and presented them with the following address, which was read by Miss Nesbitt;—

Mr. and Mrs. Scarland and Master Wilbert,

Dear Friends:—

We, a few of your friends and fellow-workers in the Caledon Methodist Sunday School, have met to spend an evening with you before your removal from our midst. While we sincerely regret your departure from our community we feel that we should congratulate you on the advantages of your promotion, and we realize that our loss will be your gain. Mr. Scarland's long years of faithful service as Superintendent, Master Wilbert's cheerful performance of his duties in the Sunday School and Mrs. Scarland's kindly helpfulness in everything pertaining to the life of the church, of which her daughter, Maud, was for years the organist and soloist, are all very pleasant memories, which we shall continue to appreciate. While your activities have centred around the church of your choice with which you have had a lifelong relationship, yet you have alwayz shown a spirit of helpful friendliness toward the sister churches of the community and you have in many ways proved yourselves worthy of being counted amongst our most respected citizens.

And we now desire to present to you these mementoes, trusting that they may serve to recall to you in the days to come the friends of Caledon. In parting we most sincerely wish you and the other members of your family, Miss Myrtle and Mr. Fred, many years of happiness and prosperity in your new home.

Signed in behalf of the Sunday School,

MISS T. ARKELL
MISS E. CHALMERS
MRS. NICOL

Mr. Scarland replied in very suitable terms. Several of those present afterwards delivered speeches expressing their good opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Scarland and family and voicing the great regret so generally felt over their departure from the neighborhood. The program was pleasantly varied by music. The proceedings were brought to a conclusion with a dainty lunch, after which all dispersed to their homes feeling that they had spent a very pleasant evening.

PARKS IN MONO COUNCIL.

There was a very slim attendance at the nomination held in Mono Centre last Thursday to select a Councillor to fill the vacancy created by the death of Councillor Jas. A. Morton a couple of months ago. Ex-Reeves J. A. Marshall and T. J. Parks were the only persons nominated. Mr. Marshall withdrew and Mr. Parks was thereupon declared elected by acclamation.

HEALTH FADS SEEM FOOLISH

After All, Their Devotees as a Rule Lie Down and "Die Like Anybody Else."

Twenty years ago I knew a man called Jiggins, who had the health habit, observes Stephen Leacock in the Dallas News.

He used to take a cold plunge every morning. He said it opened his pores. After this he took a hot sponge. He said it closed the pores. He got so that he could open and shut his pores at will.

Jiggins used to stand and breathe at an open window for half an hour before dressing. He said it expanded his lungs. He might of course have had it done in a shoe shop with a boot stretcher, but, after all, it cost him nothing this way. And what is half an hour?

After he had got his vest on Jiggins used to hitch himself up like a dog in harness and do shadow exercises. He did them forward, backward and hindside up.

He could have got a job as a dog anywhere. He spent all his time at this kind of thing. In his spare time at the office he used to lie on his stomach on the floor and see if he could lift himself up with his knuckles. If he could then he tried some other way until he found one that he couldn't do. Then he would spend the rest of his lunch hour on his stomach, perfectly happy.

In the evenings in his room he used to lift iron bars, cannon balls, heavy dumb bells and haul himself up to the ceiling with his teeth.

He liked it.

He spent half the night slinging himself around the room. He said it made his brain clear. When he got his brain perfectly clear he went to bed and slept. As soon as he woke he began clearing it again.

Jiggins is dead. He was, of course, a pioneer; but the fact that he dumbbelled himself to death at an early age does not prevent a whole generation of young men from following in his path.

They are ridden by the health mania.

They make themselves a nuisance.

They get up at impossible hours. They go out in silly little suits and run marathon heats before breakfast. They chase around barefoot to get the dew on their feet. They hunt for ozone. They bother about pepsin. They won't eat meat because it has too much nitrogen. They won't eat fruit because it hasn't any. They prefer albumen and starch to huckleberry pie and doughnuts. They won't drink water out of a tap. They won't eat sardines out of a tin. They won't use oysters out of a pail. They won't drink milk out of a glass. They are afraid. Yes, sir, afraid. Cowards!

Two Generations at School.

Two Oklahoma mothers were graduated from the Central Normal school in Oklahoma City in the same class with their children. One had three daughters as classmates and the other stood between two sons when she received her diploma.

SHOWED SPIRIT OF AMERICA

Connecticut Youth Good Example of the Men That Made Victory Over the Hun Certain.

What was the spirit, French, British, Italian, American, that made possible the day of the signing of peace? Well, as for the American spirit, a story, which Gen. Clarence Edwards told me at St. Mihiel, has the meaning as I felt it, writes Lucian Swift Kirtland in Leslie's. He was visiting the hospital. Just as he was leaving a nurse ran after him. "A Connecticut boy," she said, "has heard you are here. He has begged me to ask you to see him. He's dying, but he doesn't know it. He says he has a great favor to ask." Just then the chaplain came and had the same request. They hurried back, the chaplain leading. The boy looked up and saw the chaplain.

"My God! Chaplain," he called out, "what are you looking so darn glum about? Just 'cause you think I'm going to die and you don't know how to tell me about it? H—, what did I come over here for? Didn't I come over here to die if that had to be the chance? Haven't I had my big chance? Have I failed? What the h— are you worrying about?"

Just then he saw the general. "Oh, General," he said, "excuse me for bothering you, but I'm dying. I know it. I don't want to ask for favors, but the Connecticut band is here, and I thought I'd ask you if you'd have them come and play just once outside here. I want to hear the 'Connecticut State March' just once more."

In a minute the band was there—and it was playing the strains of the march. The lad lifted himself up, a smile of satisfaction on his face. His arm beat the time of the music. He pretended to be leading the band. At the last note he dropped back to his pillow—dead.

OLD HOUSE TO BE MUSEUM

Movement for Preservation of Structure Identified With Early Days of Southern California.

A movement is on at Riverside, Cal., for the preservation of a number of the old landmarks of the vicinity, buildings and spots intimately connected with the early-day period of southern California. The plan is being fostered by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and the Pioneer society.

The first project to be undertaken is the restoration of the old Rubidoux home, an adobe structure, which was built by Indian labor three-quarters of a century ago. The Rubidoux family was one of the most prominent of the early Spanish residents, and the home was a social center for the interior section. Many of the notable events of history of the period just previous to the forty-niners are more or less intimately connected with this old building which in recent years has been abandoned and has begun to crumble away.

After the work of restoration is completed, the building will serve as a nucleus for a pioneer museum for the housing of many relics of the early days.

Mediterranean Air Base.

A far-reaching program of aviation in the French colonial possessions in Africa has been drawn up by the commission on aerial transports at Tunis, Algeria, which recommends that a great aerial transport center be established, with Tunis as its base, in order to centralize aerial traffic over the Mediterranean sea. Inasmuch as Tunis occupies an advantageous position, at the junction of French and international colonial possessions, a regular aerial service, it is urged, between Tunis and outlying districts would benefit the French protectorate. Already a line of airplanes is in operation between Gabes, an Algerian seaport, and the frontier of Tripoli; and this, in the expectation of colonial officials, will be extended to Tunis. So the "unchanging East" is fast becoming a by-word only of times past.

Flax in the War.

With restoration of the industry on a peace-time basis cotton once again goes ahead of linen in the world's favor. The exigencies of the recent conflict raised flax to the position as leader among fabrics, a rank which it had held for centuries but lost almost simultaneously with the advent of the cotton gin.

With realization of the importance of cotton in the making of munitions, there came a speedy reversion to linen for the more commonplace usages—waistcoats, sails for ships, even "wings" for airplanes having lately consisted of linen. But flax has reached the end of its days of monopoly. King Cotton now rises to the fore in ordinary pursuits, and linen once again becomes the aristocrat in this field of supply.

Modern Radio Methods.

In these days of the radio compass and instant wireless communication, a ship at sea is in little danger of losing its way, says Popular Mechanics magazine. Recently the Louisville Bridge lost its bearings in a heavy fog off the coast of New Jersey, and was unable to find Ambrose channel into New York harbor. The operator called the navy yard, and within five minutes received the answer: "Your true bearing at 4:43 p. m. from Rockaway beach two-hundred-ten, Sandy Hook sixty-seven, Manoloking fifteen." The auto tourist asking the best route to town could hope for no more definite information than that.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1918, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the case of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

The animal was reduced almost to a skeleton but was hauled out with ropes and made straight way for pastures green. When the animal wandered away it is estimated that it weighed 700 pounds. AN AUTO TOUR

Trip From Fergus to Erin and Belfountain.

All the short trips out of Fergus by automobile, which have been described in previous articles, have been to the south and west of this town. But out to the east there are trips which are equally as delightful and varieties of scenery and such like cannot be found in any other district around here. And of all the places in that direction, the one which furnishes the most delightful surprise of all to anyone who has not seen it before is perhaps Belfountain.

The road to this delightful little hamlet leads through Erin village, It is unnecessary for us to describe the various roads to Erin, but the easiest way to go from Fergus is by the way of the Orangeville road, taking the turn which is marked Erin, and following the road until you come to the place. Or you can turn to the right at Reading corner, where there is an empty church on the south-east corner, which road will take you by way of Hillsburg. The first turn to the left after passing that village will bring you out just above Erin, or you can go on to Eramosa Gravel and come into Erin from the South.

While there it is worth while going into Stanley Park, which is, perhaps the nearest summer resort to Fergus. The entrance is just opposite the C. P. R. station, north of the village itself. There is a little lake with a dozen or so of cottages and boating on the lake, and the stream which runs into it. There is also a "one horsepower" merry-go-round and other attractions for picnics, as well as a field for sports. Some Sunday School picnics from here have gone there in the past.

To go to Belfountain, pass through Erin and take the first turn to the left after passing through the village. Follow the road until you come to the hamlet of Belfountain. You will see nothing remarkable about the village itself. There is a general store and post-office, a church or two and a few houses. At the post-office the road branches, the one to the right going up the hill, and the one to the left going down. Turn to the left and follow the road as it winds down the hill and then, just before you come to the bridge, turn to the right. This will take you to the spot that lifts Belfountain out of obscurity and makes it famous.

When the road ends at a little artificial lake, you will have to park the car and walk. A gateway with a sign invites you to enter and tells you that although the grounds are private, you may walk around if you are considerate as you would be in your own home.

This little earthly paradise belongs to a Mr. Mack, a manufacturer in Toronto. It is on one branch of the Credit river and must have had considerable natural beauty. Some landscape architect has made a masterpiece of it, building the finest combination of well-kept orderliness and natural wildness that we have ever seen. There are several cottages in which working girls from Toronto spend a delightful holiday.

A small lake nestles at the foot of a steep hill. Several little touches, such as a fountain and a little windmill in the centre make it out of the ordinary. There are also several floats for swimming from. A walk runs along one shore past inviting seats and a large fountain; to the cottages.

The lake has been formed by a dam across the stream of wonderful construction, giving the effect of a large waterfall. A suspension bridge spans the chasm below it and leads to more rustic seats and steps up the hill. Below the fall, the river runs through a ravine, which has been left more or less in its original condition except for rough stone walls to hold up trees and so on. You could stand on the bridge for an hour and admire the beauty of the spot.

Constipation Cured By Christian Science

Seventy five people out of one hundred can be cured by Christian Science methods, which proves the great power of the Mind over the Digestive Apparatus and the frequency of Nervousness as a cause of Constipation.

When these methods fail Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills are recommended. They are purely vegetable and do not Gripe or Irritate; many people have found them excellent for Headache, Dizziness, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Gas on the Stomach, and many other evils that are due to Constipation.

Where there is Extreme Nervousness and you are "all run down" and "tire easily" it would be just as well to take Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy along with these Pills. This combination goes well together and restores the good health of your younger days. A PATHETIC INCIDENT

There was much of pathos in the attendance of the venerable Postmaster Matthews at the funeral of his life-long friend and neighbor, Joseph Lasby, on Tuesday afternoon. The two were born within a year of each other on adjoining farms in Wellington County, near Elora, between eighty-four and eighty-five years ago. Seventy-five years ago they came with their parents to Acton and here their fathers' farms were on opposite sides of the road. For the whole of these seventy-five years both have resided in Acton or within half a mile of the town. Hardly a day has passed through these seven and a half decades that James Matthews and Joseph Lasby have not seen each other and passed the usual greetings. Rarely indeed is it possible to record such an item of local history.—Acton Free Press.

DECEIVED TO SAVE PUPPIES

Shrewd Old Mother Coyote Wasted No Time Trying to Get Them Out of the Sack.

The coyote is unpopular both among human beings and among its fellow animals; but the coyote is very intelligent as well as unpopular, evidently sharing these peculiarities with the fox.

Two young men who lived near Garfield, in the state of Washington—Mathews and Babcock by name—were plowing one spring when they came upon a family of three young coyotes. They took possession of the little creatures; and meantime the old coyotes, the little ones' parents, kept hovering about in an unpleasant way.

By and by, to get rid of them, Mathews went to his house, got his brother Henry, a gun and a gunnysack. The little coyotes were put into the sack, which was then securely tied at the mouth. The old coyotes now disappeared, but in the hope of luring them so near that he could get a shot at them Mathews went to following the plowmen about the field, leaving at the end the bag with the little ones. Two or three times the party went around the field; but although the old coyotes were seen they kept at a safe distance.

But soon as the plowmen and the gunner came around toward the place where they had left the sack they saw a strange sight; it was the old mother coyote, with the sack in her mouth, making off over the hill at full speed.

Henry fired at her, but without effect. She made good her escape with her puppies tied up in the sack, and doubtless she had no difficulty in ripping the bag open and liberating the young ones as soon as she reached a safe place.

If she had been so foolish as to attempt to open the sack before picking up the puppies she would certainly have lost the young ones and her life.

Man-Eating Tigers.

"Man Eaters" begin their scourge of villages in India only when age begins to stiffen their muscles, and when human flesh is once tasted they crave for nothing else, according to Paul Dreyy, in the World Wide Magazine.

Increasing difficulty in seizing the small and agile denizens of the jungle, writes Dreyy, leads the tiger to attack persons as a means of gaining his food. The success with which the man eaters have been able to secure human flesh has led them to throw off the old instinct of terror of man.

Incursions of man eaters in India often die down for ten or fifteen years, says Dreyy, and then some community finds within a few days that any number of its members have disappeared and a search is made for the animal. In one district of the central provinces, 32 persons disappeared in 45 days. The beast was finally killed by an English officer.

In another section 12 villages were the scene of invasions for more than three months. Finally, more than 2,000 armed men set out to find the man eater, but without result. The animal, on one of its incursions, bounded over a garden fence and impaled itself on a stake.

In India few animals under fifteen years of age have been known to attack persons. It is generally after that age that they begin their attacks on human lives.

More Suitable.

The aunts and uncles had come to the long-enduring sister's home to have their monthly argument over the family affairs which interested all of them. They had argued even longer than usual and the children were getting weary and wished that they would go. So twelve-year-old Frances decided she would put a record on the Victrola and "play them down." She played several popular songs, among them being "Till We Meet Again." After that had been played through once she adjusted a fresh needle and began it all over again.

Then Thomas, the fifteen-year-old member of the family, whose opinion of relatives would not be printable, gave a growl which every one could hear. "Don't play that one over again for goodness sake," he commanded. "Instead, hunt out 'Farewell to Thee.'"

All the Kitten's Fault.

My father and mother were married at St. Paul. The room in which they were to be married had a white cloth tacked down over the carpet and an altar arranged at one side.

Just before the wedding party entered a little black kitten ran into the room and jumped about on the white cloth and in front of the altar until some one drove it out. Some said it was a sign of bad luck, but the others laughed at their superstition.

The couple traveled to Chicago on their honeymoon. The night they arrived the old cow kicked the lamp over and Chicago burned up. They lost their entire wardrobe, and all their money, barely escaping with their lives.—Exchange.

Widows Are Wonderful.

"I love you! I love you!" he murmured for the nineteenth time. "Speak! Answer me!"

The maiden coyly hung her head.

"I—oh, John, this is so sudden!" she pleaded.

He drew her closer to him.

"Don't be afraid, darling!" he said gently. "Would you like me to ask your mother first?"

With a cry of alarm she threw her arms round his neck.

"No, no!" she gasped. "Mother is a widow. I want you for myself!"

Mr. Bert Burrell, one of the workmen on Mr. Wm. Neely's special gang on the railroad, certainly had a very narrow escape from death Saturday evening. While returning to Markdale, he was on the first of three jiggers in a stretch, heavily laden with men, and speeding right along. In some way he fell off, with the result that the second hand-car passed over him and was derailed, while the third stopped on him. He was released from his perilous position and was rendered first aid by the men, then rushed home and the Dr. Called. He was badly cut, bruised and shaken up, but seems to be recovering very favorably. It is certainly a miracle howe he escaped death—Standard.

Record Crowd Witnessed a Splendid Exhibition of National Game.

Five thousand people saw The Dufferins down their old rivals, the Weston team, by the decisive score of 11 to 4 on the Idylwyld grounds on Wednesday afternoon. It was a great game and local enthusiasts were more than delighted at the splendid way in which the home players acquitted themselves. The victory carried with it the intermediate O. A. L. A. championship of the district. It was the fourth time that the two teams had met this season. In the first game on the Idylwyld grounds the Dufferins trimmed their garnet-shirted opponents by 11 to 8. In the Weston game about three weeks ago the Weston team won by 9 to 6. As each team had only sustained the one defeat the completion of the schedule found them tied for the championship of the district. It was decided to settle the tie by playing home and home games, the result to be determined by the number of goals scored on the round. The first game of the play-off took place in Weston a week ago Saturday, the home team winning a stubborn contest by a close score of 7 to 6. In the second, the game already referred to, The Dufferins demonstrated conclusively that they are the better team, by winning out 11 to 4. This means that they won the round by a score of 17 to 11.

As we have already said, it was a great game. It also attracted a great crowd, probably the largest crowd that has ever assembled in Orangeville for a lacrosse match. It is estimated that there were fully five thousand people on the grounds. They lined the fence that bounds the playing oval five and six deep, packed the grandstand to overflowing and perched in hundreds on the top of the high board fence that surrounds Idylwyld Park. Back of the great circle of spectators stood another circle of autos packed closely together and at certain points ranged two and three dep. Orangeville Citizens' Band was present throughout the afternoon and furnished delightful music before the game started and during the rests between playing periods. While many Weston supporters motored up, the majority came by a special train carrying 500 or 600 people. The special reached here about 2.45, shortly before the beginning of the game. The crowd was enthusiastic as well as large. Good plays were roundly applauded on both sides and every goal called forth a burst of cheering and hat waving. When the Dufferins tied up the round in the second period there was a scene of indescribable enthusiasm only surpassed by the outbreak which occurred when the green-shirts first assumed the lead in the early part of the third playing period.

Weston started out to play The Dufferins off their feet in the first quarter. The red-shirted home swarmed in on the Dufferin defence like a bunch of hornets and after a couple of fruitless efforts on the flags Riley got clear away and drew first blood with a neat shot that Booth had no chance to stop. The Dufferin home initiated a series of sharp attacks which culminated in a pretty shot by Blythe Brown that fooled Rowntree and tied up the score. The Dufferin home continued to do some fine sharpshoting, but Rowntree was either lucky or playing a phenomenal game. Twice the Weston goaltender was struck fairly by lightning shots that it is safe to assert he never saw. Both looked like sure counters when they left the Dufferin sticks. Finally after twelve minutes hard play in which the honors were about even, Coulter notched another for Weston. This was the last goal of the quarter, which ended 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors, who left the field feeling very comfortable with their two goal lead on the round.

Matters looked decidedly bad when the garnet shirts annexed another early in the second period. They continued to press their advantage and got a couple of hot shots at the Dufferin citadel, but Booth took care of both in neat fashion. The Dufferin home got its chance soon after the face-off and after a pretty dash on the flags Bert Brown shot successfully. Dufferins continued to rush in aggressive fashion, but Weston got a respite when one of their players went down and took a couple of minutes for rubbing and refreshment. Shortly after the resumption of play Stevenson incurred Judge of Play Thompson's displeasure by upsetting a Weston man and the Dufferin centre fielder was waved to the bench for a short rest. While he was off Blythe Brown, by a beautiful shot, scored the goal that again tied the two teams. A little later Blythe drew the hearty cheers of the Orangeville section of the big crowd by repeating the trick, thereby tying the teams on the round.

Dufferins continued the good work in the third period, scoring three more goals in succession. Scott, the sturdy defence man, who played a great game all day, got the first after fooling his check and then making a run in close to the flags. Ewing got the next with Laceby off, the Weston man having been benched for swiping his opponent with his stick. Farr was sent to the fence in the next for cracking Ewing over the head. With two men off Weston started to spar for time by playing rag with the ball. Doyle stood it for a short time and then stopped play by blowing his whistle and bringing the ball to the centre of the field for a fresh face-off. Weston made a dangerous looking attack, but Booth saved by a great stop. Cushing carried the ball right down the field, but collided with a Weston man just as he passed the rubber to one of the home players and the game stopped until Joe got repairs. Eventually The Dufferins scored, Ewing doing the trick after taking a clever pass from Blythe Brown. Weston got an easy one shortly before the close of the quarter by retaining possession of the ball and tallying after an Orangeville man had gone down from the effects of a hard check. There was no further scoring, the quarter ending with the tally standing 7 to 4 in favor of The Dufferins.

Stevens, who had replaced Stevenson at half time, was bowled over by a Weston defence man early in the final period and Weston threw the ball into the flags while he was down. As Thompson had already blown his whistle to stop the play the goal was not allowed. Dufferins, who were generally on the aggressive in this quarter, ran in four in succession before the whistle sounded for full time. Scott got the first, Blythe Brown the second on a fine pass from Stevens, the third was scored from a scramble right in front of the flags and Bert Brown tookthe fourth on a pretty combination play in which Zinn figured prominently. Kingdom made the claret run by tapping Scott over the nose. The blow was purely accidental and no penalty was inflicted. A little later McEwen was sent to the sidelines for being too attentive to Stevens, but his retirement did not affect the result for time was nearly up and Weston did not have any chance of winning.

Both teams played fine lacrosse. The performance of the Dufferins was easily their best effort so far this season. The green-shirts had to play a great game to win, for their opponents were in the pink of condition and came to town confident in their ability to hold and improve the one goal lead they had from the former game. Booth and Rowntree, the two goal keepers, played stellar lacrosse. Both men stopped exceedingly well, but the Orangeville man did the best work outside the flags. The Dufferin defence played stonewall lacrosse. Densmore, Cushing and Scott were all in great form and gave their checks a hard time of it. Scott was on H. Coulter, considered one of the most dangerous home players in the game, and blanketed the Weston man effectively. Clyde Gordon added a whole lot of strength to the defence and also helped the home by his aggressive fielding and well-judged passing. Stevenson did well at centre in the first half although not in any too good condition. He was replaced at half time by "Bill" Stevens, who played fine lacrosse throughout the second half. The two Browns, Zinn and Ewing made a fast, dangerous home and worked well together. Blythe Brown was the most conspicuous of the four, but Zinn and Bert Brown were always dangerous and did a lot of fine work. Ewing was as usual one of the hardest workers on the team and has seldom performed to better advantage than he did on Wednesday. Golden was on the home the first quarter and did well, but was rather light for the hard-checking Weston defence. The Weston team put up a hard, plucky game right through to the finish and accepted the adverse result in good part. The team is fast, strong and well-balanced, but has an unfortunate tendency to rough matters if the officials are at all lenient. Rough work did not go on Wednesday, the officials, Referee Ernie Doyle and Judge of Play "Tom" Humphrey, promptly benching the offenders on both teams. The players and officials were: —

Rates for Telephone Service

Our rates for exchange service, fixed many years ago, developed many inequalities as between cities at one time equal in population.

In the new schedule filed with the Board of Railway Commissioners we have so grouped cities and towns of approximately equal telephone development as to wipe out these inequalities.

The rates for exchange service proposed for ORANGEVILLE under the new schedule are shown in the following table.

	Proposed Monthly Rate
Business Service
Individual line	$2.75
2-Party line	2.25
Residence Service
Individual line	$2.00
2-Party line	1.75
Rural party service	1.75

These new rates, we submit, should be considered in the light of the present purchasing power of the dollar. They compare favorably with the increased rates which telephone companies have had to secure from public service bodies all over the continent.

The commodities we have to buy—labor and material—have advanced in no lesser degree than have those staples of every day use, the cost of which has made present living expenses so high.

ORANGEVILLE INSTITUTE

The next meeting of the Orangeville Branch of the Women's Institute will be held at Mrs. John Patterson's home on First St. on Tuesday afternoon, August 31st, commencing at 3 o'clock. The program will include a Paper by Mrs. H. T. Anderson on "The Necessity of Recreation." There will also be a selected recitation. A full attendance of the members is requested.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES

Further changes of importance are reported in Canadian newspaperdom. In Regina the two leading newspapers, The Leader and The Post, have been amalgamated. In Lindsay, Ontario, an arrangement has been effected whereby the Daily Warder and the Weekly Post pass out of existence on September 1st, leaving the field to the Weekly Warder and the Evening Post, daily. Increased costs are responsible for all the changes.

M'MASTER FARM SOLD

Mr. John Curry has sold the McMaster homestead, the east half, lot 7, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, to Mr. Black, of Chatsworth, who will get possession on March 1st next. Mr. Black is paying $9,500 for the property. Mr. Curry bought the farm from Mr. J. E. McMaster last spring for $8,500. Besides clearing up about $1,000 on the sale Mr. Curry will have the proceeds of this year's crop, which is exceptionally good. He estimates that his potato crop will alone realize $1,000 or over.

NOTES OF THE GAME

The gate amounted to $1,635.

There was the best of order, apart from one small scrap right in front of the grand stand. The scrap was pretty much of the verbal variety.

The array of autos was an imposing sight. Scores of cars were turned away at the entrance, as the available parking space inside the grounds was already fully occupied.

Farmers left their harvest fields for miles in all directions and motored to town to see the game.

Every town and village within a radius of fifty miles had its contingent of enthusiasts in the big crowd.

Fergus sent over a large delegation. The Scotch town has a real interest in the fortunes of The Dufferins owing to the fact that the two Browns, Cushing and Gordon are Fergus men.

Zinn was a marked man and was watched very closely, but was effective nevertheless.

Scott and Ewing, the farmers of the team, work like beavers. Both men were frequently in the limelight.

Bill Stevens has speed to burn. He is light, but has lots of pluck and stood up well under the rough usage of the Weston defence.

The Fergus men are all beautiful stick handlers and it is a treat to see any of them elude an opponent's efforts to get the ball.

Toronto sent up a large delegation of former Dufferinites. They were mightily tickled over the victory too.

Was Jimmie Armstrong pleased? Did you see him smiling?

Before the game started Mr. C. R. McKeown made an announcement in behalf of the Mayor and Town Council to the effect that spectators would not be allowed within the playing enclosure on any pretext and that no interference with the players on either team would be tolerated. Mr. McKeown also stated that a number of special constables had been sworn in to preserve order and that any person interfering with the game would be removed from the grounds. The officials and players, he further stated, were quite capable of taking care of themselves and of looking after the game without any outside assistance. The announcement was well received and the game was played without the slightest sign of interference with any of the players.

One lady enthusiast stationed herself at the entrance to the playing enclosure at the close of the game and conveyed her congratulations to the victors by giving each player a hearty clap on the back as he passed.

It is greatly to the credit of the two teams and the big crowd of red hot enthusiasts that the game passed off without bickering or other disagreeable incident.

PRAISE FOR DUFFERINS

Mr. Bert Booth, the clever goalkeeper of The Dufferins, has received a letter from Father Minehan, of Toronto, containing some very complimentary references to his own playing and personal characteristics and also to the work of The Dufferins in the recent games with Weston. Bert positively forbade us to publish the personal part of the letter, so that we must content ourselves with reproducing the portions which refer to the work of the team in general. On this score Father Minehan says:

"The treatment dealt out to you in Weston was rough and my sympathy was with your team all the time. I made up my mind that I would go to Orangeville yesterday (last Wednesday) and I motored up and considered I was well repaid by your brilliant victory over the Weston team.

"You have the nicest team and the cleanest lacrosse players I have ever seen on a lacrosse field. To you belongs the credit of your recent victory, for your influence has been nobly exerted in behalf of the national game. As you are the only boy on the team that I have the honor to know, please convey my deepest admiration to the others.

"With kind remembrance of days gone by."

Yours sincerely,
Father Minehan.

Mr. J. J. White arrived home from the West on Monday night. Our townsman states that newspaper reports of the big wheat crop in the West are overdrawn. The rains were by no means general and while there is a splendid harvest in many districts other parts of the country have suffered seriously from the drought and extreme heat. In the West the summer has been exceptionally warm, altogether different from the summer here, which has been abnormally cool and wet. Mr. White reports magnificent crops on the Portage Plains in Manitoba and also in the Regina district in Saskatchewan. Farmers in the Calgary and Lethbridge sections will also reap a bountiful harvest, but the country around Medicine Hat and Saskatoon has a light crop on account of high winds in the spring and insufficient rainfall.

It is estimated that 200,000 people from the United States annually visit the Canadian National Exhibition.

DUFFERINS SCORED DECISIVE VICTORY OVER WESTON IN WEDNESDAY'S GAME.

Record Crowd Witnessed a Splendid Exhibition of National Game.

Five thousand people saw The Dufferins down their old rivals, the Weston team, by the decisive score of 11 to 4 on the Idylwyld grounds on Wednesday afternoon. It was a great game and local enthusiasts were more than delighted at the splendid way in which the home players acquitted themselves. The victory carried with it the intermediate O. A. L. A. championship of the district. It was the fourth time that the two teams had met this season. In the first game on the Idylwyld grounds the Dufferins trimmed their garnet-shirted opponents by 11 to 8. In the Weston game about three weeks ago the Weston team won by 9 to 6. As each team had only sustained the one defeat the completion of the schedule found them tied for the championship of the district. It was decided to settle the tie by playing home and home games, the result to be determined by the number of goals scored on the round. The first game of the play-off took place in Weston a week ago Saturday, the home team winning a stubborn contest by a close score of 7 to 6. In the second, the game already referred to, The Dufferins demonstrated conclusively that they are the better team, by winning out 11 to 4. This means that they won the round by a score of 17 to 11.

As we have already said, it was a great game. It also attracted a great crowd, probably the largest crowd that has ever assembled in Orangeville for a lacrosse match. It is estimated that there were fully five thousand people on the grounds. They lined the fence that bounds the playing oval five and six deep, packed the grandstand to overflowing and perched in hundreds on the top of the high board fence that surrounds Idylwyld Park. Back of the great circle of spectators stood another circle of autos packed closely together and at certain points ranged two and three dep. Orangeville Citizens' Band was present throughout the afternoon and furnished delightful music before the game started and during the rests between playing periods. While many Weston supporters motored up, the majority came by a special train carrying 500 or 600 people. The special reached here about 2.45, shortly before the beginning of the game. The crowd was enthusiastic as well as large. Good plays were roundly applauded on both sides and every goal called forth a burst of cheering and hat waving. When the Dufferins tied up the round in the second period there was a scene of indescribable enthusiasm only surpassed by the outbreak which occurred when the green-shirts first assumed the lead in the early part of the third playing period.

Weston started out to play The Dufferins off their feet in the first quarter. The red-shirted home swarmed in on the Dufferin defence like a bunch of hornets and after a couple of fruitless efforts on the flags Riley got clear away and drew first blood with a neat shot that Booth had no chance to stop. The Dufferin home initiated a series of sharp attacks which culminated in a pretty shot by Blythe Brown that fooled Rowntree and tied up the score. The Dufferin home continued to do some fine sharpshoting, but Rowntree was either lucky or playing a phenomenal game. Twice the Weston goaltender was struck fairly by lightning shots that it is safe to assert he never saw. Both looked like sure counters when they left the Dufferin sticks. Finally after twelve minutes hard play in which the honors were about even, Coulter notched another for Weston. This was the last goal of the quarter, which ended 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors, who left the field feeling very comfortable with their two goal lead on the round.

Matters looked decidedly bad when the garnet shirts annexed another early in the second period. They continued to press their advantage and got a couple of hot shots at the Dufferin citadel, but Booth took care of both in neat fashion. The Dufferin home got its chance soon after the face-off and after a pretty dash on the flags Bert Brown shot successfully. Dufferins continued to rush in aggressive fashion, but Weston got a respite when one of their players went down and took a couple of minutes for rubbing and refreshment. Shortly after the resumption of play Stevenson incurred Judge of Play Thompson's displeasure by upsetting a Weston man and the Dufferin centre fielder was waved to the bench for a short rest. While he was off Blythe Brown, by a beautiful shot, scored the goal that again tied the two teams. A little later Blythe drew the hearty cheers of the Orangeville section of the big crowd by repeating the trick, thereby tying the teams on the round.

Dufferins continued the good work in the third period, scoring three more goals in succession. Scott, the sturdy defence man, who played a great game all day, got the first after fooling his check and then making a run in close to the flags. Ewing got the next with Laceby off, the Weston man having been benched for swiping his opponent with his stick. Farr was sent to the fence in the next for cracking Ewing over the head. With two men off Weston started to spar for time by playing rag with the ball. Doyle stood it for a short time and then stopped play by blowing his whistle and bringing the ball to the centre of the field for a fresh face-off. Weston made a dangerous looking attack, but Booth saved by a great stop. Cushing carried the ball right down the field, but collided with a Weston man just as he passed the rubber to one of the home players and the game stopped until Joe got repairs. Eventually The Dufferins scored, Ewing doing the trick after taking a clever pass from Blythe Brown. Weston got an easy one shortly before the close of the quarter by retaining possession of the ball and tallying after an Orangeville man had gone down from the effects of a hard check. There was no further scoring, the quarter ending with the tally standing 7 to 4 in favor of The Dufferins.

Stevens, who had replaced Stevenson at half time, was bowled over by a Weston defence man early in the final period and Weston threw the ball into the flags while he was down. As Thompson had already blown his whistle to stop the play the goal was not allowed. Dufferins, who were generally on the aggressive in this quarter, ran in four in succession before the whistle sounded for full time. Scott got the first, Blythe Brown the second on a fine pass from Stevens, the third was scored from a scramble right in front of the flags and Bert Brown tookthe fourth on a pretty combination play in which Zinn figured prominently. Kingdom made the claret run by tapping Scott over the nose. The blow was purely accidental and no penalty was inflicted. A little later McEwen was sent to the sidelines for being too attentive to Stevens, but his retirement did not affect the result for time was nearly up and Weston did not have any chance of winning.

Both teams played fine lacrosse. The performance of the Dufferins was easily their best effort so far this season. The green-shirts had to play a great game to win, for their opponents were in the pink of condition and came to town confident in their ability to hold and improve the one goal lead they had from the former game. Booth and Rowntree, the two goal keepers, played stellar lacrosse. Both men stopped exceedingly well, but the Orangeville man did the best work outside the flags. The Dufferin defence played stonewall lacrosse. Densmore, Cushing and Scott were all in great form and gave their checks a hard time of it. Scott was on H. Coulter, considered one of the most dangerous home players in the game, and blanketed the Weston man effectively. Clyde Gordon added a whole lot of strength to the defence and also helped the home by his aggressive fielding and well-judged passing. Stevenson did well at centre in the first half although not in any too good condition. He was replaced at half time by "Bill" Stevens, who played fine lacrosse throughout the second half. The two Browns, Zinn and Ewing made a fast, dangerous home and worked well together. Blythe Brown was the most conspicuous of the four, but Zinn and Bert Brown were always dangerous and did a lot of fine work. Ewing was as usual one of the hardest workers on the team and has seldom performed to better advantage than he did on Wednesday. Golden was on the home the first quarter and did well, but was rather light for the hard-checking Weston defence. The Weston team put up a hard, plucky game right through to the finish and accepted the adverse result in good part. The team is fast, strong and well-balanced, but has an unfortunate tendency to rough matters if the officials are at all lenient. Rough work did not go on Wednesday, the officials, Referee Ernie Doyle and Judge of Play "Tom" Humphrey, promptly benching the offenders on both teams. The players and officials were: —

Weston—goal, Rowntree; point, McEwen; coverpoint, Holley; defence, Ramshaw, P. Laceby; centre, Riley; home, Kingdom, H. Coulter; outside home, Farr; inside home; G. Coulter. Spares, Dickin, G. Laceby, W. Coulter.

Rates for Telephone Service

Our rates for exchange service, fixed many years ago, developed many inequalities as between cities at one time equal in population.

In the new schedule filed with the Board of Railway Commissioners we have so grouped cities and towns of approximately equal telephone development as to wipe out these inequalities.

The rates for exchange service proposed for ORANGEVILLE under the new schedule are shown in the following table.

	Proposed Monthly Rate
Business Service
Individual line	$2.75
2-Party line	2.25
Residence Service
Individual line	$2.00
2-Party line	1.75
Rural party service	1.75

These new rates, we submit, should be considered in the light of the present purchasing power of the dollar. They compare favorably with the increased rates which telephone companies have had to secure from public service bodies all over the continent.

The commodities we have to buy—labor and material—have advanced in no lesser degree than have those staples of every day use, the cost of which has made present living expenses so high.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

ORANGEVILLE INSTITUTE

The next meeting of the Orangeville Branch of the Women's Institute will be held at Mrs. John Patterson's home on First St. on Tuesday afternoon, August 31st, commencing at 3 o'clock. The program will include a Paper by Mrs. H. T. Anderson on "The Necessity of Recreation." There will also be a selected recitation. A full attendance of the members is requested.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES

Further changes of importance are reported in Canadian newspaperdom. In Regina the two leading newspapers, The Leader and The Post, have been amalgamated. In Lindsay, Ontario, an arrangement has been effected whereby the Daily Warder and the Weekly Post pass out of existence on September 1st, leaving the field to the Weekly Warder and the Evening Post, daily. Increased costs are responsible for all the changes.

M'MASTER FARM SOLD

Mr. John Curry has sold the McMaster homestead, the east half, lot 7, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, to Mr. Black, of Chatsworth, who will get possession on March 1st next. Mr. Black is paying $9,500 for the property. Mr. Curry bought the farm from Mr. J. E. McMaster last spring for $8,500. Besides clearing up about $1,000 on the sale Mr. Curry will have the proceeds of this year's crop, which is exceptionally good. He estimates that his potato crop will alone realize $1,000 or over.

NOTES OF THE GAME

The gate amounted to $1,685.

There was the best of order, apart from one small scrap right in front of the grand stand. The scrap was pretty much of the verbal variety.

The array of autos was an imposing sight. Scores of cars were turned away at the entrance, as the available parking space inside the grounds was already fully occupied.

Farmers left their harvest fields for miles in all directions and motored to town to see the game.

Every town and village within a radius of fifty miles had its contingent of enthusiasts in the big crowd.

Fergus sent over a large delegation. The Scotch town has a real interest in the fortunes of The Dufferins owing to the fact that the two Browns, Cushing and Gordon are Fergus men.

Zinn was a marked man and was watched very closely, but was effective nevertheless.

Scott and Ewing, the farmers of the team, work like beavers. Both men were frequently in the limelight.

Bill Stevens has speed to burn. He is light, but has lots of pluck and stood up well under the rough usage of the Weston defence.

The Fergus men are all beautiful stick handlers and it is a treat to see any of them elude an opponent's efforts to get the ball.

Toronto sent up a large delegation of former Dufferinites. They were mightily tickled over the victory too.

Was Jimmie Armstrong pleased? Did you see him smiling?

Before the game started Mr. C. R. McKeown made an announcement in behalf of the Mayor and Town Council to the effect that spectators would not be allowed within the playing enclosure on any pretext and that no interference with the players on either team would be tolerated. Mr. McKeown also stated that a number of special constables had been sworn in to preserve order and that any person interfering with the game would be removed from the grounds. The officials and players, he further stated, were quite capable of taking care of themselves and of looking after the game without any outside assistance. The announcement was well received and the game was played without the slightest sign of interference with any of the players.

One lady enthusiast stationed herself at the entrance to the playing enclosure at the close of the game and conveyed her congratulations to the victors by giving each player a hearty clap on the back as he passed.

It is greatly to the credit of the two teams and the big crowd of red hot enthusiasts that the game passed off without bickering or other disagreeable incident.

PRAISE FOR DUFFERINS

Mr. Bert Booth, the clever goalkeeper of The Dufferins, has received a letter from Father Minehan, of Toronto, containing some very complimentary references to his own playing and personal characteristics and also to the work of The Dufferins in the recent games with Weston. Bert positively forbade us to publish the personal part of the letter, so that we must content ourselves with reproducing the portions which refer to the work of the team in general. On this score Father Minehan says;

"The treatment dealt out to you in Weston was rough and my sympathy was with your team all the time. I made up my mind that I would go to Orangeville yesterday (last Wednesday) and I motored up and considered I was well repaid by your brilliant victory over the Weston team.

"You have the nicest team and the cleanest lacrosse players I have ever seen on a lacrosse field. To you belongs the credit of your recent victory, for your influence has been nobly exerted in behalf of the national game. As you are the only boy on the team that I have the honor to know, please convey my deepest admiration to the others.

"With kind remembrance of days gone by."

Yours sincerely,
Father Minehan.

Mr. J. J. White arrived home from the West on Monday night. Our townsman states that newspaper reports of the big wheat crop in the West are overdrawn. The rains were by no means general and while there is a splendid harvest in many districts other parts of the country have suffered seriously from the drought and extreme heat. In the West the summer has been exceptionally warm, altogether different from the summer here, which has been abnormally cool and wet. Mr. White reports magnificent crops on the Portage Plains in Manitoba and also in the Regina district in Saskatchewan. Farmers in the Calgary and Lethbridge sections will also reap a bountiful harvest, but the country around Medicine Hat and Saskatoon has a light crop on account of high winds in the spring and insufficient rainfall.

It is estimated that 200,000 people from the United States annually visit the Canadian National Exhibition.

Dr. Richard Brutell is a physician and scientist afflicted with a queer malady. He has two selves—a bad and a good. In his normal state he is the kindly doctor and scientist. In his evil moods, brought about by storm and nervous shocks, he is a demon and brute and head of a villainous band known as theBlack Circle. In both moods he is in possession of a wonderful scientific secret —the "double x-ray." In his bad moods he knows all that happens during his normal moments, while in his good self he does not know what has happened under the spell.

He meets Robert Stanton, a millionaire, after saving the latter's life from a maddened steer. He goes to the Stanton home and becomes interested in Madeline, the millionaire's daughter. Stanton is struck down by the Black Circle gang. She goes to the doctor's laboratory to discuss a clue with him and is caught in the deadly rays of the "double x-ray." Just as she is perishing the doctor rescues her. The Black Circle make another attack and take away the body of Madeline's father. She goes to the Stanton lodge in the mountains to rest up. Dr. Brutell goes with her. While there he is seized with one of his bad moods and getting the Chinese cook under a hypnotic spell orders him to kill Madeline while she lies asleep in her room. The Chinaman does as bid and is just raising the knife over Madeline when she yells and arouses Brutell out of his evil mood.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

All Children Will Be Kept There Until Sixteen.

In some quarters the coming into effect of the Adolescents School Attendance Act, as announced by Hon. R. H. Grant, is not thought to have the wide application that a reading of the bill indicates. After September 1, 1921, every child, except those specially provided for, will be required to continue at school until he or she reaches the age of sixteen. The present compulsory school age is fourteen. The act makes provision for allowing children between fourteen and sixteen to leave school for work, where family circumstances make it advisable, but this can only be done on the permit of a school attendance officer, and the child so excused from school must attend part time courses of instruction for at least 400 hours each year. These courses will be specially established to suit the circumstances in each locality.

The extension of the compulsory school age to eighteen which does not come into effect until September, 1923, is not so general in its application. It requires attendance at school of children between sixteen and eighteen years of age, for 320 hours each year. There are several exceptions. If the pupil has passed his matriculation he need not continue the part time courses and if he received a full time education up to the age of sixteen he is also exempted.

DUFFERIN ROADS

The Editor of the Collingwood Bulletin spent his holidays on an auto tour through Western Ontario. In his report of the trip the newspaper man pays special attention to the condition of the roads over which he travelled. His observations on the conditions of the roads in Dufferin County ,and especially on the Prince of Wales Road, are very far from complimentary. He says in part:—

"Between Kitchener, Guelph and north and east of Orangeville through Hillsburg there is a fairly good roadway, the hills being smooth. But from Orangeville via Primrose and Horning's Mills to Singhampton it is different. With the exception of half a mile south of Horning's Mills which has just been constructed and which by the way is stuck up in the middle of the road allowance, a foot or more above the sides, the entire mileage is a disgrace. It is one series of ruts and holes and the wonder is that any farm section in this prosperous province will stand for such a roadway. It reflects discreditably upon the progressiveness of the municipal authorities and gives evidence of a lack of recognition of the great value of good roads to the farming community. There is scarcely fifty feet of the entire distance free from a rut or a hole, these being in places six to eight inches in depth."

JOCELYN OF THE BLUE ARROW LINE

By RAY LEWIS

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"So our little girl is determined to come home," said Captain McDonald slowly, tossing back to his wife the letter she had given him. "What shall we do about it, Molly?"

"There's nothing to be done," returned his wife. "Didn't you see that she was going to start at once? You'll have to meet her tomorrow if we dock in time."

Twenty-five years ago, attractive Molly Steward had braved her parents' opposition and married Bruce McDonald, a powerful young Scotchman, with more skill at managing perverse mule drivers than culture or education. But Molly had not been unhappy.

Then had arrived a little girl so pretty even in her first baby days that Molly, searching her brain for the daintiest name she knew, named her Jocelyn. And the child grew up to fit the name—slim, graceful, with softly curling sun-kissed hair and eyes like blue velvet pansies.

Vaguely at first, then quite definitely, the parents grew to realize that the crudeness of the girl's surroundings were not calculated to develop her mind and character as they wished. And there was the question of education. After many hours of anxious meditation, Molly sat down and wrote to her widowed sister—and enclosed a snapshot of Jocelyn.

As a result, Jocelyn went to live with her aunt in a distant city, where she went to school, learned how to speak the king's English correctly and how to dress. There had been money enough for it all without any asking of charity from the aunt, for Captain McDonald, in spite of diminishing traffic on the canal, had made good with his Blue Arrow line barges.

As the years passed the girl's visits to her father and mother had become less frequent, and they, considering the girl's welfare, had been satisfied. Now, sudden and unexpected, had come her letter saying that she was "tired of being away so long from her own home" and that she was "coming before they could tell her not to."

Jack Stafford threw his portfolio down on the bank of the canal, removed his straw hat and mopped his brow. Tramping the towpath on a hot August afternoon, even in the interests of a free lance story on the "Passing of the Old Erie," wasn't altogether delightful.

"A nice, slow motor boat that would steer itself would just about hit me off," he grumbled. "Then I could sketch as I traveled and yet go slow enough not to miss anything."

As if in answer to his wish a boat poked her nose around the bend of the canal—but not the motor boat of his desire. Instead appeared the head barge of a tow.

"Jupiter!" cried Jack suddenly. "An idea for fair!"

And when the barges drew abreast he stepped forward, picked out the man who seemed to be in charge and begged of him board and lodging for a few days, compensation to be given accordingly.

The man hearkened, then called his wife. "Molly, this young man wants to take a trip with us; can we put him up?"

On the lips of his wife formed a refusal. Then she checked it. "Why, if there is room on one of the other barges. Our daughter has just come home and our bunks are full, but you're welcome to take your meals with us."

So Stafford found himself installed and started on the plodding journey to Buffalo. The tow had been held up awhile at one of the locks as a previous string of barges was put through. Jack had climbed out to sketch the dock.

As he swung back to the forward barge, the occupant of a low rocking chair in the cabin doorway looked up quickly. Taken off his guard, Jack stared, unbelieving. Then he bowed, and said, "I'm going with the tow for a way. Are we fellow travelers?"

Jocelyn smiled. "I'm the captain's daughter," she returned simply. "So I guess we are."

Followed long, lazy days of leisurely travel, and the young people soon became oblivious to all but each other.

Long ago Jack's article on the old canal had lost much of its importance. Why worry about outside occupations when father's considerable business would some day be his—a business which in the meanwhile gave him a comfortable berth and a month's vacation? And yet—if it wasn't for his dependence on his father wouldn't he perhaps allow himself to think of this glorious girl more seriously? As it was—well, dad was an excellent parent and all that, but he did have exaggerated ideas about the importance of family and all that sort of thing. If his son ever suggested such a contingency as marriage with a barge captain's daughter, dad would go up in the air and Jack's prospects along with him.

But the little god of love seldom takes into account the parents of his victims. One stormy night Jocelyn and Jack stood together on the prow of the barge, peering into the night for the lights of the lock ahead, and thrillingly conscious of the nearness of the other. A sudden gust, fragrant with washed rain, caught the fold of the girl's ulster and, to steady herself, she grasped at what she thought was the sleeve of Jack's coat. It proved to be his hand. At the sudden touch Jack forgot his father, his business—everything but the girl at his side.

"Jocelyn!" he cried hoarsely and folded her in his arms.

And Jocelyn, her velvet eyes lifted to his, let him see the love and surrender in them.

"You're going to marry me, girl!" he said, shaking her a little to emphasize his seriousness, "as soon as we can get the license after we dock."

"All—all right," said Jocelyn, breathless, but happy.

True to his word, Jack, the day the tow reached port, went up to the city hall to make investigations. Then he went around to the post office for his accumulated mail—bills, a letter from the firm, one from his father. Poor father! What a surprise he was going to get when he received the letter Jack had just mailed. Yet father got in his surprise first.

"Dear Jack—Don't know where this will find you. I shall be in Georgian bay very shortly. Am going to marry Mrs. Cynthia Arnold. Everything O. K. at factory. Yours,

"DAD."

Slowly Jack folded the letter and slipped it in his pocket. So his father was going to be married and going to Georgian bay for a honeymoon. He knew the lady by hearsay—knew that she was quietly well-to-do, of unassailable social position. This unexpected alliance on his father's part would not make the bargeman's daughter any more welcome to his father. Well, as far as that went, he would give up his father, his business, everything, before Jocelyn.

And then Jocelyn gave him the greatest surprise of all.

"It's all right about the license, honey," he said. Then, holding out his father's letter, "as long as you're coming into the family, you might as well know you're going to have a step-mother-in-law. I hope he will be happy. No one could be as happy as we are going to be!"

But Jocelyn was reading. "Am going to marry—why, Jack, how funny! Mrs. Cynthia Arnold—that's my aunt!"

LAND OF HILLS AND RAVINES

Reasons Why Mountainous Madeira Is Somewhat of a Trial for the Traveler on Foot.

Of all civilized parts of the world, Madeira is the most difficult to get about in. This is because so much of its landscape is, as it were, set on edge.

Once upon a time a volcano broke loose in the sea-floor where Madeira is now located. It built up an enormous mountain, which it presently thrust above the surface, and kept on at the business until four lofty islands had come into being. Two of these are even now uninhabited. The larger of the other two is called Madeira and is terrifically mountainous, with many rugged peaks, the highest of which has an elevation of nearly a mile and a quarter. Much of the coast is an irregular line of lofty precipices.

The islands, built of lava (the group is called "the Madeiras"), are so rugged, with steep hills and deep ravines, that travel by any ordinary means is hardly practicable. Hence tourists who visit them and well-to-do residents are commonly carried in litters or drawn in curious sled-carriages by bullocks.

The Madeirns belong to Portugal and are 360 miles west of the coast of Morocco. To keep the rich soil from being washed off the mountain side, incredible labor has been expended in the making of terraces. No wine of its kind approaching in quality the old-time product of Madeira has been known; but about seventy-five years ago the vines were well nigh destroyed by a fungous disease, and the output since then has been of markedly inferior excellence.

Cicerone.

Cicero was one of the great orators of ancient times, and certainly the greatest orator of ancient Rome of whom we have any account. He was both a lawyer and a politician, and besides a man of letters and something of a philosopher. Many of his letters and several of his written speeches have come down to us and are well known, not only to Latin scholars, but also to readers of English into which language they have been translated. By a kind of analogy of modern times that has degraded the name, there came into use the word, cicerone (four syllables), an Italian word that English has borrowed, meaning a guide to point out objects of interest to strangers. In a party of sight-seers the guide is the chief speaker, and as he came to be compared to the famous Latin orater, Cicero, a name was given him by corrupting the name of the orator.

Britain's Need of Houses.

It has been estimated that 800,000 new houses are needed in the United Kingdom properly to house the population. All building was at a standstill throughout the war. Because of the greatly increased cost of building materials and the increased cost of labor these houses cannot be built for less than twice the amount they would have cost in 1914. Thousands of big houses in London are for sale, but these are of no use to newlyweds, who in most instances cannot afford to maintain them, nor can they get the servants necessary to keep up such establishments. It has been found too costly to try to convert many of these houses into apartments. They now are monuments to pre-war and opulent family life in London, when servants were employed by the dozen.

Wash Day and Backache

WASH day is the least welcome day of the week in most homes, though sweeping day is not much better. Both days are most trying on the back.

The strain of washing, bending and sweeping frequently deranges the kidneys. The system is poisoned and backaches, rheumatism, pains in the limbs result.

Kidney action must be aroused—the liver awakened to action and the bowels regulated by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This favorite prescription of the well-known Receipt Book author will not fail you in the hour of need.

Only a small number of men attended the war memorial meeting at Palgrave a week ago Saturday evening. The proposal to erect a monument in Laurel Hill Cemetery was favored by some of the speakers. It was finally decided to appoint a committee to co-operate with Bolton, said committee to consist of Messrs. T. J. Roe, Chairman, Anson McCabe, George Taylor and Dr. Reynar, with power to add to their number.

For a period of about ten years, Mr. E. H. Lindsey has acted as choir leader in the Methodist Church, Grand Valley, with no other reward than the knowledge of doing a necessary duty, and with the appreciation of many in the congregation. These thought the time opportune to recognize the splendid services so cheerfully rendered, and gathered a very respectable purse which they presented to Mr. Lindsey at the church.

A young fellow who has not long been married usually confides his troubles to a friend whose matrimonial experience covers a period of 20 years.

One day the former remarked very despondently:

"I said something to my wife she didn't like and she hasn't spoken to me for two days."

The eyes of the old married man brightened.

"Say, old top;" he exclaimed eagerly, "can you remember what it was you said?"

If You Have High Blood Pressure You Must Be Careful

When the Blood Pressure is much above normal there is always the danger of rupture of a blood vessel, most frequently in the Brain and producing a stroke, or in the Kidneys, producing Bright's Disease. One should guard against over-exertion or excitement and take to dissolve the Uric Acid deposits that form in the Veins and Arteries, making them hard and brittle. This remedy is a wonder; it builds up the entire system by Purifying the Blood, Strengthening the Heart and by producing a normal and healthy condition of the Nerves.

Mrs. Wm. Morley, of Palmerston, used quite a number of boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and they benefitted her so much and she was so pleased with them that she recommends them to all her friends who have this trouble or who are all run down and Nervous. She says "you must be sure to get Hacking's."

Constipation is one of the aggravating causes of High Blood Pressure and it is advisable to use Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills to drive out the Poisons that generate in the system. These two preparations go well together and you should buy a few boxes from your dealer to-day. Hacking's Limited, Listowel, Ont.

FORCED TO TAKE SON FROM SCHOOL

Grateful Mother Tells How Tanlac Brought Back Her Boy's Health.

"I am more grateful than I can tell you for what Tanlac has done for our boy Arthur for it has completely restored his health and built him up wonderfully," was the statement made by Mrs. Florence Mulines, of 62 Peter St., Toronto, the other day.

"his illness was brought about by the air raids. During the war we were in England, and you people here can't imagine what we went through when those terrible zeppelins and gothas came over, dropping their bombs and aerial torpedos, and the noise of our guns trying to shoot down the German aircraft was as terrifying as though one was actually at the front. As the result of that experience, Arthur, who is just fifteen, got into a frightfully nervous condition, which affected his general health as well. We had the greatest difficulty to get him to eat, and his stomach was all upset for he had indigestion very bad and his food formed gas and turned sour. He was always complaining of terrible headaches, and had spells of dizziness. He got into such a badly run-down condition at last that we had to keep him away from school. He lost all his boyish activity and spirits, and at night would lie awake for hours. We tried every thing we could think of to try and build him up and make him well, but nothing seemed to meet his case.

"Then when the war was over we came out here to Canada and heard about Tanlac, and got some for him. Very soon we noticed that he was eating much better, and sleeping soundly at night. It wasn't very long before he was playing just like other boys, and was full of life, and everybody was remarking what a wonderful change had come over him. He has gained eleven pounds in weight, and is to-day a bright, healthy, happy boy. How can I help praising Tanlac, and you may be sure that I shall always recommend it whenever I get the chance."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

While in Toronto, Mr. W. A. Gardner, of Bolton, had his car stolen. It was recovered a few days later, none the worse, but a club bag had disappeared.

BANKS BECOMING EPIDEMIC

Banks are becoming epidemic in the villages noth and west of here says the Alliston Herald in last week's issue. The Union has opened an office in Mansfield, the Bank of Toronto has established itself in Glencairn and the Merchants in Avening. Honeywood, however, is being served like a big town, the Toronto, the Home and the Union having each established a branch there. New Lowell is served by the Bank of Toronto, which established there a year ago. Recently branches of the Home Bank were opened in Rosemont and Angus, so that all the villages in the district except Lisle are now the proud possessors of branches of the Canadian chartered banks. Since the Victory loans were floated the banks have been reaching out into the country districts in all parts of the country.

SHELBURNE WON

Northern Juniors Downed Weston Boys by 9 to 4 on Idylwyld Park Last Thursday.

Orangeville and Weston Juniors treated the spectators to a fine exhibition of Canada's national game at Idylwyld Park last Thursday afternoon in a replayed game for the lacrosse championship of the district. The teams met in Shelburne a short time previously, but the game ended in a dispute over a goal, which the Shelburne team claimed and which the Judge of Play failed to allow. The matter was placed before the O. A. L. A. executive, which ordered the game replayed in Orangeville. A large crowd saw a fast cleanly played game. Shelburne supporters were in the majority and gave their team an enthusiastic backing.

Play was very even in the opening quarter, the period ending with the score standing 2 all. Weston pulled one ahead in the scond period, but one of their players got saucy to Judge of Play Coombes over some decision and was given five minutes at the fence to cool off. The penalty led to further wordy remonstrance from the offending player, the result being, that another five minutes was added to his punishment. The loss rather demoralized the Weston defence and the speedy Shelburne home pressed hard in order to make the most of the advantage that the possession of the odd man gave. The northerners ran in three goals before the quarter ended, while the Weston home failed to improve their score. Each team tallied once in the third playing interval and Shelburne added two in the final quarter making the score 9 to 4 when time was called.

The winners played fast, scientific lacrosse and deserved their victory. They are a speedy bunch of boys. It is said that most of the players can sprint a hundred yards in or close to eleven seconds. Their speed is a valuable asset in the field and on the home. There did not seem to be a weak spot on the team on Thursday. Weston has a fast, heady playing team, but does not seem to be quite as well balanced as the Shelburne bunch. The defence has a couple of exceptionally clever boys and the home is speedy and aggressive, but the combination play lacks the finish displayed by their opponents. Shelburne's win ties the teams for the district and a play-off has been ordered on the Scarborough Beach grounds on Thursday. It should be a great argument. Jimmie Dundas, Secretary of the O. A. L. A., and Fred Coombes handled the game on Thursday. The players were: —

Shelburne—goal, Claridge; point, Matthews; coverpoint, McBride; defence, Gray and Brown; centre, Graham; home, Ferguson and White; outside, Silk; inside, Kilpatrick; spare, Lindsay.

Weston—goal, Hugill; point, Coulter; coverpoint, Holley; defence, Huston, McInnes; centre, Kilroy; home Mallaby and Usher; outside, Burgess; inside, McEwen; spares, Stokes, McKitrick and Foster.

ST. SIMON'S WIN

BRAMPTON EXCELSIORS BEATEN BY 7 TO 4 AT WESTON

Teams Are Tied For Senior Championship And Will Play Off in Orangeville on Saturday.

Leaving no doubt as to which was the better team on the day's play, St. Simon's of Toronto defeated Brampton last Saturday at Weston by 7 to 4 and tied for the O. A. L. A. Senior League leadership, necessitating a play-off game at Orangeville next Saturday. Until half-time the ultimate result was in doubt, but the well-conditioned St. Simon's swept the Excelsiors off their feet in the third period.

The winners showed a smooth-working attack that worried the Mara-Beecham inner defence from bell to bell. Scott, J. Sullivan, McGregor and Harling worked lightning like combination plays that generally got them within shooting distance of the Brampton net. Down at the other end of the field Charters, Sproule and company ran into a barrier in the person of Jesse Spring, who turned them back time and time again. The big fellow was assigned the task of checking Charters, and he did it to the satisfaction of all, the Brampton star being held at bay until the final moments of the game.

A large gathering of fans attended, and saw a game that, from the standpoint of clean and clever play, did credit to the two best teams in the O. A. L. A. senior series. One of the Brampton players hit O'Rourke a nasty blow, but this was the only incident that tended to mar an otherwise cleanly-contested game.

The decisive result was unexpected, the majority of the fans leaning toward the opinion that Excelsiors were the better team. However, the latter did not justify the predictions, and it was only in the last few minutes of play that they had an edge on the play. It was noticeable at this stage that St. Simon's were content to rest on their oars, and perhaps it was owing to their lack of aggressiveness that Excelsiors made their last-minute bid.

Coach Eddie Powers has worked wonders with the Saints, who from a mediocre team at the commencement of the season, have developed into an aggregation that will take a lot of beating on any field. Next Saturday at Orangeville they will open proceedings favorites, and unless Excelsiors uncork some "bag of tricks" which was absent at Weston they are probably in for a trouncing.

The scores by periods were:—2-2, 3-3, 6-3, 7-4.

St. Simons—goal, Chandler; point, Hayes; coverpoint, Morris; defence, Spring, E. Sullivan and O'Rourke; centre, Bennett; home, J. Sullivan, McGregor and Starling; outside, Scott; inside, Robertson; spares, Robinson, Markle, Walsh and Martin.

Brampton — goal, J. Campbell; point, Beecham; coverpoint, Mara; defence, Blain, Ashley and Warre; centre, McClure; home, Sproule, N. Anderson and R. Anderson; outside, Burrell; inside, Charters; spares, Sproule, McLean and Stevens.

WON IN ST. MARY'S

Dufferins Away to a Fine Start in the Semi-Finals.

Nearly four thousand people witnessed the lacrosse match between The Dufferins and St. Mary's teams in St. Mary's last Wednesday afternoon. The game was the first of the semi-finals series for the intermediate O. A. L. A. championship and The Dufferins got away to a fine start by winning the argument by a score of 12 to 10. The game was exceptionally good in spots, but could hardly be described as equalling the hard, gruelling matches with the Weston team. Dufferins showed their class by winning and doing so under disadvantageous conditions, for several of the players were far from having recovered from the bruises and injuries sustained in the Weston series. St. Mary's has a fast, clever home, but the defence is not any too strong and proved rather easy picking for the Browns, Zinn, Ewing, Stevens et al.

The game started off with a rush and some of the best play of the whole match was seen in the opening quarter. Dufferins assumed the aggressive right from the face-off and ran in three goals in short order. Then the Saints steadied away and by clever play succeeded in tieing up the score before the end of the period. In the second round the Dufferin home fooled Shannon, the Saints goal tender, shortly after play started. The reverse put the home team on their mettle and they treated the spectators to some real lacrosse for the balance of the quarter. The joy of the home crowd was unconfined when the home ran in two goals and the Saints were ahead for the first time. Dufferins executed a lively come-back scoring three in a row and the quarter ended with the score standing 7 to 5 in favor of the green-shirts.

St. Mary's had the edge on their opponents in the third period and notched four goals, while The Dufferins failed to score. At this stage the home team looked like sure winners, but The Dufferins showed their calibre in the final by coming from behind with a dazzling rush that netted them five goals before the whistle sounded for full time. A single tally was the best the St. Mary's home could do, and the game ended with the score 12 to 10 for The Dufferins. The defeat was the first that the St. Mary's team has sustained this season. The home team was handicapped to some extent from the fact that Alberts, one of their defence men, was suffering from a fractured rib and was therefore unable to put up his usual game. But making due allowance for this it is doubtful if the Alerts are fast enough to beat The Dufferins at any time.

Charlie Querrie acted as referee and Tom Humphrey was Judge of Play. The officials did their best to give the two teams a fair deal and little fault could be found with their decisions. Unfortunately a section of the crowd took exception to some of Humphrey's rulings and at the end of the game a few hot-headed people made an attack on the official with the idea of throwing him into the river. In the end saner counsels prevailed and the Judge of Play was able to leave the grounds without being subjected to any violence. The teams' line-up was: —

Dufferins—goal, Booth; point, Cushing; coverpoint, Densmore; defence, Gordon and Scott; centre, Stevens; home, Ewing, Zinn (Stevenson); outside home, Blythe Brown; inside home, Bert Brown; spares, Henderson, Golden and Firth.

St. Mary's—goal, Shannon, point, Stewart; coverpoint, Cpthbertson; defence, Klersey and Munroe; centre, Cowan; home, L. Lavelle and Hilts; outside home, Slattery; inside home, W. Lavelle; spares, Tuer, Robson and Alberts.

FARMER BOLTED

When a Man has Three Stills Discretion is Better Part of Valor.

Whiskey stills with a capacity of a gallon an hour were seized Tuesday morning at the farm of Allan McDonald, con. 10, Flos. McDonald succeeded in getting away but a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Setting out from Barrie in a car, Inland Revenue Officer Floody and Inspector Wellington Fisher reached the farm about ten o'clock. McDonald, who was working in a field, came to the house and when accused of having a still finally said he had one in the bush and offered to lead them to it. Inspector Fisher agreed to follow McDonald while the other officer took a look through the house. The farmer led the way towards a cedar swamp and then he bolted. For about forty yards the officer followed him and then gave up the chase, realizing that there was little chance of catching him in the thick undergrowth.

Returning to the house Inspector Fisher found that Officer Floody had located a still in the kitchen. This was about the size of a garbage can and its appearance indicated that it had been used. Investigating further, they went into the cellar and in a room off the main cellar discovered a very complete plant for the manufacture of "moonshine" whiskey. This consisted of two stills with worms of copper coil, an oil stove going full blast to generate the necessary heat, and five 25 gallon kegs filled with a rich mash made of black strap, yeast and corn meal. To complete the evidence there were five gallons of the manufactured article in jugs, which Inspector Fisher declares is of good quality. It is estimated that the plant could turn out a gallon an hour—a small gold mine provided a market could be found at present prices of "hard stuff." It is alleged that most of "McDonald's Special" found its way to Collingwood. At any rate it was complaints that an unusual number of cars from Collingwood direction were paying visits to McDonald's that led the inspectors to make the search.

After destroying the mash, kegs and other portions of the plant, the officers brought the stills and whiskey to Barrie and placed them in the care of Chief King. McDonald is well known in Barrie, having lived here for several years while buying cattle in the surrounding country. For a time he kept hotel at Craighurst and while there was penalised for the illegal sale of liquor. A year ago he was fined $200 in Elmvale after being caught with ten gallons of whiskey in his buggy.—Barrie Examiner.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown.

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired or depressed, it is the duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CAUGHT BY MOWER

Five Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson, of Adjala, Succumbs From Effects of a Distressing Accident.

A fatal accident of a most distressing character took place on the farm of Mr. Robert Watson, of Adjala, on Tuesday forenoon. Mr. Watson was engaged cutting sweet clover with a mower, when he was startled by a sudden cry of anguish and was horrified to discover that his little son, a lad of five years, had got in the way of the mower knife. It seems that the little chap had gone into the field to gather eggs from a nest that a hen had made in the thickly growing clover. His father was not even aware that he was in the field until he heard him cry. The sharp knife caught and completely severed the left foot from the leg midway between the ankle and the knee. Dr. Spearing was hastily summoned from Beeton and on his advice the little sufferer was rushed to Lord Dufferin Hospital, reaching here about 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Early in the afternoon Dr. Spearing amputated the limb just below the knee, but the shock and the loss of blood following the accident in the morning proved too much for the little patient and he succumbed shortly afterwards. The remains were taken to his home near Athlone Tuesday night and the funeral will take place to Raney's Cemetery in Adjala this (Thursday) afternoon. The child was a bright, attractive little chap and his parents are terribly distressed over his loss. He leaves a younger sister. The unfortunate affair has filled the entire neighborhood with gloom and everywhere there is a feeling of the most profound sympathy for the afflicted parents.

ORANGEVILLE FAIR LISTS

At noon on Wednesday, August 18th, Secretary D. B. Brown handed The Banner the copy for the Orangeville Fall Fair Prize Lists with instructions to rush the job. Our linotype operator started on the copy about ten o'clock on the following morning and on Friday of last week, just eight days later, part of the completed lists were in Mr. Brown's hands ready for mailing and the balance of the order was delivered on Saturday forenoon. To say proof, correct, print, bind and trim 1,000 copies of a 38 page book in a little over a week is no small accomplishment, considering that the staff got out the weekly issue of The Banner and looked after the regular jobwork of the office at the same time.

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAMSON—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Mary Margaret, who passed away on September 4th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
God called the one we loved away;
Forget her—no, we never will,
For in our hearts she liveth still.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near;
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting, that farewell.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother and Brother.

BROADWAY - ORANGEVILLE

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Margaret Jane Rawn, beloved wife of James Thompson, who departed this life August 27th, 1920.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When the one we loved was called away;
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.

Forget her, no! We never will,
We loved her then and love her still;
She was the best that God could send,
A loving wife, a faithful friend.

Oft I think of you, dear Maggie,
And my heart is said with pain;
All this world would seem a heaven
Could I hear your voice again.

While on this earth we're parted,
This thought will soothe our pain;
That we shall still be joined in heart,
And one day meet again.

IN MEMORIAM.

EWING—In proud and loving memory of the late Pte. Robt. Ernest Ewing (Bob) No. 663460, 164th Battalion, who died of wounds September 5th, 1918.

Two year have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

None know the bitter heartache,
None but those who lose can tell
The pain and grief in parting
With one we loved so well.

Alone so far from home and friends,
So far from all that's dear;
No loved one was there near him
To shed a farewell tear.

Your loved ones could have rached yor.
But the distance was so great;
When the Saviour's voice had called you
We knew you could not wait.

Oh! "Bob," 'twas hard to part with you,
When you waved a last farewell;
Did we think so soon to Jesus
You were going home to dwell!

Somewhere in France in an unknown grave,
Our dear soldier son lies sleeping;
For his King and Country, his life he gave Into his Saviour's keeping.

DAVIS-McFADDEN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McFadden, Glenelg, was the scene of a quiet wedding on the 4th inst., when their youngest daughter, Dorothea May, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. William Milton Davis, late of the 4th C. M. R., fourth son of Mrs. William Davis, Toronto Line, Artemesia. Owing to the recent death of the groom's father, only a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony, which was duly performed by Rev. A. P. Stanley, pastor of Markdale Methodist Church. At 2 o'clock the bride was escorted under the arch by her eldest brother, Mr. R. W. E. McFadden, M. A. She was prettily attired in a frock of satin and georgette with customary bridal veil and floral bouquet. Her attendant was her cousin, Miss Martha McFadden, gowned in taffetta silk and georgette. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Glen Davis, dental student at the University of Toronto. The groom's gift to the bride was a pendant set with diamonds, to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch and to the groomsman a tie pin. After a sumptuous wedding repast the young couple left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride's travelling suit was aand serge with marabou stole and black picture hat. After the honeymoon the young couple will reside on the Davis homestead, Toronto Line, where they will be at home after September 1st.—Flesherton Advance.

GOD IS LOVE

The landscape is very much affected by the glass through which you regard it. If that glass is yellow, everything looks yellow. If it is blue, everything looks blue. If it is sombre, everything looks sombre. Now the man who is living a life of love looks out upon his life through the love of God, and the love of God has such a mysterious property in it that it takes away from terrible things their dread, and from the malignity of man his spite; and the soul looks with a calm serenity upon all the circumstances of life and finds itself hushed and calm.

READINESS AND REST

Brain fag and nerve strain are not God's plan for us .His will is for us to have rest in the midst of our most energetic service. An extremely hard-working missionary in Africa, well up in years, in a letter to The Sunday School Times, tells of learning a new lesson. He says, "The great help I have been having lately on the line of restfulness in service is in dwelling on the fact that He is the worker, condescending to use me as his willing, intelligent instrument, and how much He uses me is His affair, not mine. I have not to try to do as much as I can, and ask His help to do more, but to keep in the attitude of readiness for service, knowing that He is far more interested in the work He has put into my hands than I am. In a marvelous way He has seemed to get more out of me without the strain of my laborious effort." Let us then cease taking the wrong cure for nervousness, and try this missionary's prescription.

ON A LITTLE TOOT

A couple of women left the train here on Monday evening and made things jingle around the station for a few hours. They had evidently been partaking of something with a little more kick in it than the statutory two and a half per cent. contains. There being no train to the city the visitors attempted to take possession of the waiting room and office for the night. There is nothing in the C. P. R. Regulations which tells young men in charge how to handle two belligerent women who have strong arms and saw-edge tempers and are full of bad whiskey and a Billingsgate vocabulary running on high. Tact and fine diplomacy won the night, however, and the erring pair finally fished up a ten spot which induced a kind hearted autoist to convey them to their homes, their husbands and their families in St. John's noble ward in Toronto the good. Some toot.—Bolton Enterprise.

SHE WAS THERE

Mr. McKee "cracked" a good one at the U. F. O. Labor picnic, after remarking that although the men had the first say in politics, he hoped the ladies would have the last words:

A certain Irishman was very ill and all hopes of recovery had ben given up. The parish priest was a daily visitor at his bedside, but business reasons made it necessary fo rhim to leave town for a few days. Upon returing he set out the following morning to visit his sick parishioners, and meeting the sick man's son on the street, he enquired of him as to his father's condition.

"Oh, father died last night," said the young fellow.

"Is that so?" ejaculated the priest, and after extending the usual sympathy, he asked the young fellow: "And what were your dear father's last words?"

"Oh, father never had any last words," responded the son, "for mother was with him to the end."—Hanover Post.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

Edward J. South, Young Meadowvale Farmer Was Thrown From Wagon.

On Thursday, August 12th, Mr. Edward Joseph South, a young farmer, of Meadowvale, received injuries from which he died on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. South was at Lambe's store in Meadowvale and had finished his business there and had jumped into his one-horse wagon at the door when the accident which later caused his death occurred. In the wagon Mr. South had a box on which to sit, but before he could seat himself and gather up the lines the horse had whirled impatiently to be off home and Mr. South lost his balance and was thrown violently on the stone road. He alighted almost squarely on the top of his head and was rendered unconscious. He was taken to his home and all that physicians and nurses could do for him was done, but without avail. Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday his condition had so much improved that his friends hoped he would cheat death, but the rally was alas only temporary and he gradually sank until the end came on Tuesday. Mr. South, last December, was very ill of the grippe, which left his lungs affected but at the time of the accident was almost well again.

Mr. South was the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. South ,of Meadowvale ,and was twenty-nine years of age.

Four years ago deceased was married to Miss Eva Biggar, of Trafalgar, and the happy young couple settled down on the Crozier place, lot 14, Meadowvale sideroad. Mr. South was making an excellent success of farming when his illness last year overtook him.

Besides his widow he leaves behind a little boy and girl, one of them an infant of a few weeks.

Mr. South was an intelligent, honorable young man, destined to make a success in life. His loss in the community in which he had grown to manhood is keenly felt and the greatest sympathy is felt for the young widow, bereft of a loving husband, and for his afflicted parents and their family.

The funeral took place to Streetsville Cemetery.

Mr. E. T. Stork, of Brampton, who has been summering at his cottage at Credit Forks, was taken ill three weeks ago of inflammatory rheumatism and his condition was serious for a couple of weeks.

Why We Need More Money!

Last year our rates for service were increased by ten per cent.

That was the first general increase in telephone rates in over twenty-five years.

To-day the general level of commodity prices is three hundred and fifty per cent over what it was twenty-five years ago.

Our operating expenses in 1919 had increased 99 per cent over 1915, while gross revenue was only 49 per cent greater.

Wages absorbed over 56 per cent of our revenue last year, and our wage bill this year will be at least 35 per cent higher than in 1919!

It is apparent that if we are to continue to pay good wages, and so ensure good service, and at the same time pay such a return to investors as will attract new capital to enable us to extend our plant, we must earn more money!

We must accomplish both of these things, else service to our present patrons will suffer and new applicants for service cannot be accommodated!

Increased rates are the only source from which such further revenue can come!

Two wheels and the windshield were smashed but both occupants of the car came out of the mixup uninjured. We have not learned what damage was done to the cow but presume that her running gear was damaged and an air pump would be required to reinflate her.—Flesherton Advance.

Nearly everything that Canada makes, mines or grows is exhibited each year at the Canadian National Exhibition.

He had escorted her home, and they stood together by the open door. What mattered the cold to these pulsating lovers? What mattered the icy wind that entered from the street outside and threatened to extinguish the flickering hall lamp? What, in fact, mattered anything? For their last moments had arrived and they would not meet again for twenty-four hours. "Heart of my heart," he whispered, "how I love you!" "And how I love you," she whispered back, "light of my days, light of my thoughts, light of my very existence, light—" "Lucy," shouted her father's angry voice from above, "just put out that light at once and go to bed."

It cost an Owen Sound man $40 for the privilege of beating his wife. He imbibed too freely one day and had a falling out with his wife. He chastised her too severely and police interference was necessary. He had a hearing, pleaded guilty, and was fined $25 and costs, amounting to $40.

This happened right here in town. Two young men, both returned soldiers—one United States, tthe other Canadian—were chatting amicably together, when the American started to use French in his conversation. He was halted and asked to speak British. "Oh," he said, "all the Americans learned French while over there." "Well," said the Canadian Lieutenant, "we Canadians had no time to study the language." No, there was no international mixup, though conversation languished. The dose was bitter but it was swallowed.—Flesherton Advance.

BE READY FOR EMERGENCIES.

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when croup, or colds, come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as the 25-cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.

WASTED LABOR

As she stood on the pier at a well-known East Coast fishing port, a young lady began chatting with the aged man who was passing his time with a mop and an intention to clean the pier some other day.

"What are all those ships just going out?" she asked.

"Trawlers, miss," replied the old man, glad of an excuse to rest. "They're just setting out to fish."

"And just look at the way those birds are following them."

"Yes, miss, they's gulls, waiting to pick up the waste food thrown overboard."

"But that smaller, greeny-colored boat over there," she said, pointing to the vessel she meant, "there are no seagulls flying after that one?"

"Tain't no bloomin' use, miss," said the aged man, sadly. "That's an Aberdeen boat.

ON ONE CONDITION

A minister shortly after his introduction to a new congregation made a round of visits so that he might become familiar with the various members. Amongst those visited was an old woman who was busy whitewashing her house. The minister met with a somewhat brusque reception from the good lady, and finding her the reverse of gossipy he made his visit as short as possible. Before leaving, however, he thought it better to ask if he should offer a prayer. To his consternation he received the reply:

"Very well, sir, ye can pray if ye like, but ye must cut it o' short, as I hae ma whitein' brush on hire by the hour."

THE SPIRIT OF GOD

The sanitary expedients of human chemistry are ridiculous when compared with the fires of the sun, the ozone of the sea, the virtue of the ether, the fragrance of the earth. So all our inventions to make pure and to keep pure the soul are sadly unavailing; the supreme guarantee for the health of humanity is the presence and operation of the Spirit of light, of health, of power. What the sun, the wind, the sea are to the physical life, the Holy Spirit is to our deeper life.

EX-CORPORAL HAD NO SHOW

Not Exactly a Willing Father-in-Law, but He Couldn't Forget His Army Training.

The youthful ex-lieutenant felt ill at ease as he approached the young looking but the older ex-corporal. They had been in the same company. That was before the young officer knew the corporal had a beautiful daughter.

"Er—Mr. Jenkins," the young man addressed the other. "I—er—wish to—"

"Speak freely, sir, sir—er—Mr. Hadley," replied the older man.

"Well, the fact of the matter is I want to marry your daughter."

"Not, by a darned sight. Why, you impudent young dog, if I had you outside I'd whale you good and proper. You lay off that stuff. Get me?"

Whereupon the angry Jenkins started for the young man. Hadley simply straightened up.

"'Shun," he snapped, as only one who has been in the army can say it.

Involuntarily the other drew himself up a second quicker than greased lightning. Hadley went on.

"Now, Bernice and I love each other and—"

"Cut it out. By George—"

"It's K. P. for you if I hear any more talk like that."

"But—"

"No liberty for ten days, either."

"Say, whose house is this? You are not my—"

"'Shun!"

Habit was too strong and Jenkins came up standing. Then he burst out:

"You get the—"

"Extra guard duty for that. If I have to speak again it'll be thirty days in the brig."

Bernice herself came into the room at that moment. She annexed herself to young Hadley, who promptly put his arm around her. Jenkins advanced as if to separate them when Hadley roared:

"As you were!"

"Look here—"

"'Shun!"

The older man's eyes blazed for an instant. His mouth set in a fine line. Then he spoke quietly but firmly, as a man who has difficulty in keeping control of himself.

"Sir, the war is over, although you don't seem to know it. Take that girl away from here and marry her. As an ex-corporal, I can't seem to get your number, and you know it. But as your father-in-law, I can tell you where to get off at. Beat it!"—Cartoons Magazine.

Japanese Rockefeller.

A formidable oil field described by William Dietrich in a recent issue of the Petroleum Age lies in the Higashiyama district on the Sea of Japan. "Coolies dig a hole with a pick and shovel," says the writer, "and crib or brace the walls as they go down. Their wives pull up the dirt and the shale. Some of these hand-dug wells are exceedingly deep, and the natives pump air into them with an old-fashioned blower.

"The field covers about sixteen square miles, and in this are several producing wells. The largest of these produce about ten koku (or 480 gallons) a day. Other wells furnish not more than five gallons daily.

"It is a common practice for the head of a family to go to the oil wells with two of the familiar five-gallon oil-tins hanging from a yoke about his neck. He carries the tins, filled with crude oil, from five to seven miles to his little home refinery, and the whole family then turn to and help him refine it. When that is finished, the children take the oil to residential districts nearby, and peddle it from house to house in one or two sen lots."

Britain's Debt to Gordon.

Sir Reginald Wingate talked of the Sudan in war and peace, the other day, and asked a question. "Is it realized that this country, which Gordon characterized as an 'utterly useless possession,' comprises a territory of considerably over a million square miles, a large portion desert and wilderness, it is true, but through which the great Nile flows, spreading its fertilizing waters over vast areas?" Three outstanding dates, 1882, 1898, and 1916, milestones of Sudanese history, and then peace. Gordon, Omdurman, the defeat of Ali Dinar of Darfur, and then the Sudanese chiefs congratulating the king of England on victory in his own capital. That is 1919. Nineteen hundred and fourteen saw the great Sudanese leaders in Khartum vow loyalty to the cause for which Great Britain had taken up arms. And none of it would have been but for Gordon's sacrifice.

Breaking a Bad Habit.

"I see you have brought your dear old-fashioned father to the Catskills again this season, Miss Slick."

"Oh, yes, Miss Peck, we could hardly get along without papa, even if his manners are horrid."

"But I note a great improvement in his style of eating."

"In what way?"

"Why, now he invariably uses his fork."

"Yes, yes. You see, we bribe the waiter to put soup on papa's knife."

Mother (indignantly) —Why did you strike little Nancy, you naughty boy?

Peter—What did she want to cheat for, then?

Mother—How did she cheat?

Peter—Why, we were playing at Adam and Eve, and she had the apple to tempt me with, and she never tempted me, but went and ate it herself!

You can hear it in our store

—the phonograph that is featured in Vaudeville's strangest act

Perhaps you've seen it—Signor Friscoe's "Magic" Xylophone Act.

It's the hit of vaudeville's "Big-Time."

Signor Friscoe's "magic" is an Official Laboratory Model of the New Edison. We have one exactly like it.

Signor Friscoe's instrument is an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model, which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to perfect. Our instrument is also an exact duplicate of this famous three million dollar original. We guarantee it to be able to give the same marvelous RE-CREATIONS of music, which Signor Friscoe's Official Laboratory Model gives in vaudeville.

Come in and test the astonishing realism of this instrument for yourself—in Mr. Edison's Realism Test.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You've read how the New Edison has proved its perfect realism. Four thousand tests have been given, in which more than 50 different artists compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Leading newspapers conceded that there was no difference between the two.

Has any one suggested to you that these comparison tests are "faked"—that the artist imitates the New Edison?

Signor Friscoe's performance makes such an assertion positively ridiculous. Every week, 20,000 people see his hammers ripple over the xylophone keys. Suddenly he holds them aloft—still.

The rippling music continues.

Slowly, the gorgeous curtains of the back-drop part. The audience gasps. The New Edison stands revealed. It has taken up Signor Friscoe's performance, and is now RE-CREATING it alone. The effect of this extraordinary magic can rest upon only one fact: No one can distinguish any difference between Signor Friscoe's performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Signor Friscoe could not possibly imitate the New Edison, because the xylophone can not be made to imitate any other instrument, so as to deceive its hearers.

Signor Friscoe's act is not an Edison enterprise. He has simply been clever enough to use the New Edison for what it is worth. Why don't you?

PRICES

The price of the New Edison (United States price) has increased less than 15% since 1914. This includes the War Tax.

Mr. Edison has staved off price advances by personally absorbing more than half of the increased cost of manufacture.

Because of the exceptionally high quality of materials and workmanship demanded by the Edison Laboratories, and the continued scarcity of both, it may be necessary to advance prices. But rest assured that this will not occur, unless Mr. Edison is forced to it.

Our Budget Plan—the thrift way of spending—will help you buy now. Let us tell you about it.

CHOOSING A SCHOOL

During the past fourteen years the Orangeville Business College, Orangeville, Ont, has trained and placed in excellent positions over one thousand three hundred young people. These graduates have measured up to the standard required by the most exacting and largest business concerns of Canadian and American cities. Many have been employed as teachers in other commercial schools.

Our premises are healthful, cool in summer, warm in winter, and in case of fire every student can leave the building in less than one minute. Does that appeal to you? Mother: or, are you satisfied to have your daughter in a third story attic where exit in case of fire would be cut off.

Positions are absolutely guaranteed every graduate, providing they go to Toronto. Last year every graduate who wished was met at the depot in Toronto by the Principal of our Canada Business College in that city and driven direct to a position and a suitable boarding house. The same good service awaits you. A position for every graduate is our motto.

The Orangeville College reopens on the same day as the High Schools, Tuesday, September 7th. This school is affiliated with the Canada Business College, of Toronto, Kitchener, Guelph, Stratford, Oshawa, Listowel, Hanover, Lindsay, Midland, Wingham, etc. This is Canada's Greatest Chain of High-grade, Modern, Actual Business Schools controlled and conducted by Mr. Spotton, of the Orangeville Business College, Orangeville.

Those who cannot enter on September 7th may study at home through the Spotton Correspondence Schools, 274 College St., Toronto, and enter college later. All interested should write for particulars at once.

LEFT LARGE ESTATE

They are the widow, Selina Ryan, Harold G., and Norman Claude Ryan, merchants of Guelph, and by William S. Middleboro, K. C., of Owen Sound. Express rates on shipments of all kinds may be obtained at the Orangeville office of the Dominion Express Co. on application to the agent, Mr. Geo. Collins.

SR. LACROSSE SATURDAY

Orangeville fans will have a splendid opportunity to get a line on the calibre of the senior lacrosse teams, when St. Simons and the Brampton Excelsiors play off their tie on the Idylwyld grounds on Saturday afternoon. The two teams are the best in the senior group and it will be interesting to see how the brand of lacrosse they play compares with that put up by The Dufferins, Weston and other fast intermediate teams. Some of the followers of the game are of the opinion that The Dufferins would hold their own with either of the senior leaders. Saturday's game will give the spectators some idea whether this belief is well-founded or not. Senior lacrosse is played with twelve men on the team, whereas there are only ten players on each side in the intermediate game. The match is scheduled to commence at 3 o'clock. Admission, 50 cents; children, 15 cents. No additional charge for autos.

ORIGIN OF MULMUR

A few weeks ago an enquiry appeared in The Banner and a number of other local newspapers asking for information as to the probable origin of the name Mulmur. So far the only answer The Banner has seen appeared in the Beeton World, which states that Dr. Keffer, of that town, informs the World that the township was called after one of Tecumseh's two daughters, Mono and Mulmur, Adjala being the name of the famous Indian Chief's wife. This sounds reasonable, although The Banner is not in a position to vouch for the correctness of the explanation. Dr. Keffer also refers to the well authenticated fact that three of the townships of Simcoe County, Tiny, Tay and Flos, were so named by Lady Simcoe, wife of an early Governor of Upper Canada, in honor of her three pet dogs.

WILLIAM S. THOMPSON

The Elder community mourns the loss of a highly respected resident in the person of William Samuel Thompson, whose death took place at his home on lot 25, 5th line, east, Mono, on Monday, August 16th. The end came after a lingering illness resulting from nerve trouble and high blood pressure. Deceased was born in 1852 on the lot on which he was living, when he departed this life. In Mr. Thompson's young days he was a leader in the singing in St. Matthew's Church, of which he has long been a steadfast member, and where while in health he was always to be seen in his pew at the services on the Lord's Day. He filled the office of churchwarden for fourteen years and in 1885 was one of the men who helped to haul the material for the building of the present church. In the days of horse-power threshing the late Mr. Thompson threshed over the area of country extending from Hockley to Rosemont and west as far as the Prince of Wales Road. He also ran the first steam threshing engine in the Elder neighborhood. In 1893 the deceased married Miss Elizabeth Stone, daughter of the late John Stone, of Mono Centre. He is survived by his wife and seven sons, John Lytle, of Primrose, Joseph S., of Mono Mills, Trueman, of Rosemont, Maitland, at home, Stanley, of Mono Mills, George M., who has just obtained a commercial diploma after taking a course in the Orangeville Business College, and W. Edmund S., at home. The surviving brothers and sisters are Martin and Gabriel Thompson, of Shelburne, John, of Violet Hill, Mrs. Jake Law, Primrose, and Mrs. James Law, Mono Centre. The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held by motor to Burns' Church cemetery, Mono Centre. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. C. Howard, rector of St. Mathew's Church. The six oldest sons were the pallbearers. Among the beautiful floral tributes, indicative of the high esteem in which the departed man was held, were a broken wheel from the wife and family, a pillow from the brothers, a spray, Miss A. Stone, sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. H. Stone, and gates ajar from Mr. and Mrs. James Law. Among the friends present from a distance were Miss Stone, Toronto, Mrs. W. E. H. Stone and daughter, Brampton, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Thompson, Messrs. James Thompson, Wm. Newton and Beatty Lewis, Mrs. Cotton and Miss Stone, Orangeville.

HUNTER—LAUGHLIN

An interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laughlin, Fifth Line, west, Caledon, near Belfountain, at 2 o'clock Wednesday (yesterday) afternoon, when their eldest daughter, Reta May, became the bride of Mr. W. H. Hunter, son of Mrs. Hunter and the late W. H. Hunter, The Maples, East Garafraxa. The ceremony took place in the presence of quite a large assemblage of friends, Rev. John Lindsay, pastor of Burns' Presbyterian Church, Erin, officiating. Later in the day the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip through the Thousand Islands and to other Eastern points. The Banner adds its congratulations to the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

In their latest serial, "Hidden Dangers," starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, they have not neglected the "pull" of the horse in the making thrills for which this serial is famous. The fourth episode, which will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 6th and 7th, has probably the most exciting moments of this kind in it. Ryan, who is playing a Jekyll-Hyde character in this chapter play, goes into one of his evil moods. He disguises himself as a famous and feared border bandit and makes a lone raid on some border towns. It is during this scene that one of the prettiest bits of action with racing horses will be seen. Near the climax of this episode, brave and charming little Miss Paige is pursued by a band of gangsters from whose clutches she has made a daring escape. The scene is in the West. Just as the pursuing villians are about to overtake her, Miss Paige comes to a canyon which is spanned by a foot bridge made of a single log. Out on this log she runs, and when the bandits attempt to come after her she holds them at bay with the threat that she will jump off into the canyon below. They need her alive for a ransom more than they do dead, and in that way she holds them off until her rescuers arrive.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

To the People of Canada

THERE are many things which you need not buy unless you choose. But footwear is not among them. You must have shoes. From the standpoint of your health, as well as for comfort and appearance, good shoes are a necessity. And that fact alone places upon the manufacturer of shoes a responsibility which he must at all times appreciate.

That responsibility to the Canadian public is shared by the 158 manufacturers of shoes in Canada, from whom you buy nearly $50,000,000 worth of footwear every year.

The fact that we have built up an industry of such magnitude is the best evidence that we do appreciate this responsibility. One may think that our responsibility ends when we have produced footwear of honest value and sincere workmanship, and have placed it on the shelf of the retail store where it is accessible to you. That is one essential service which our industry is called upon to render.

But we cannot discharge our responsibility quite so easily. We believe that we should do more than that.

Good shoes are of such daily importance that we ought to make public certain facts and conditions which govern the quality of the product we make, and the value which you receive for your money. We ought to point out clearly, the part which you play, and the influence which you exercise, in establishing those conditions. We should urge upon you, your own responsibility in the matter, and show you just how you can help to maintain the quality of the footwear which we offer you.

This is the first advertisement of a series which will be devoted to that purpose.

¶ Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

TAKING GOD AT HIS WORD

Alexander the Great had a famous, but poor, philosopher at court. Being pressed for money he made application for relief to his patron, who commissioned him to draw whatever cash he required from the treasury. The philosopher presented a request for 10,000 pounds. The treasurer refused to honor it until he consulted with his royal master, adding that the amount was exorbitant. Alexander replied, "pay the money at once, the philosopher has done me a singular honor. By the largeness of his request he shows the high idea he has conceived both of my wealth and munificence." We honor God by believing what He says.

TIT-BITS

The road of knowledge is a path that leads to God, and the telescope and microscope are commentators on the text.

There is a dignity in true piety that commands respect. The policeman commands respect because he represents the force of the law, the true saint of God commands it by force of character.

To love God, to help others, to forgive evil, and to do good, make a fine rule of life.

There are 63 distinit varieties of canaries to be exhibited this year at the Canadian National Exhibition, 31 different breeds of rabbits and 24 cavies.

DECEMBER AND MAY

By CRAWFORD LUTTRELL

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Jerry Wells, Jr., was her latest and most important admirer. His holdings in steel alone made him a veritable young Midas, and Eloise was sophisticated enough to believe that no cupid waxed fat and healthy with the years unless his tender flesh was swathed in silk and protected from cold by wrappings of ermine and sable. So far her father had only been able to allow her dyed muskrat and skunk. She was ambitious. She had hopes of hitching her mortal clay to a star of riches.

"I hate even the thought of being old," she said one day when she and Jerry had been horseback riding together and he had stopped in the old-fashioned frame house to chat for a while. Then at the quick look he gave her, fearing that she had made a rash statement, she appended: "You know what I mean. I—I dislike the idea of old age. Life is so jolly when one is young. Now, there's Henrietta. She's beginning to be so material in all her ideas. Instead of sitting here talking to us and being gay and everything, she's trotted off to make sandwiches and to fix something cool to drink."

"That sounds jolly to me, all right," laughed Jerry happily.

"Henrietta is twenty-six, you know, and I suppose that is time to settle down. When I'm that old," this with a little shrug of horror, "I dare say my own thoughts will soar no higher than wherewithal shall we be clothed and wherewithal shall we be fed. Surely I won't be tearing along country roads and taking fences like I did today. That is certainly a fleet-footed horse of yours that I rode."

He looked at the glowing girl before him. There was the sheen of gold in her hair and the color and texture of a pink rose leaf in her cheeks. Her eyes, looking at him from under lashes that seemed long enough to tangle, were as dark as patches of a midnight sky. He had never seen such beauty, such health, such vitality.

"I'm glad that you enjoyed the ride. It gives me a lot of pleasure to make you happy."

Eloise thrilled at that. Already the star toward which she was straining her eager young eyes had begun to twinkle. It seemed to draw nearer as the look in the man's face before her.

"I'm going to give a dinner dance at the club Saturday night," he told her. "Sort of farewell affair before I sail for the orient on business for dad."

Eloise choked down a gasp of fright that seemed to swell her slim, white throat. "Oh, I'm sorry that you're going away so soon," she managed at last.

"It will be six weeks before I sail," he explained, watching her flushing face with a sort of satisfied smile lurking around his wide straight mouth. "I am planning to make the trip west rather leisurely, stopping off every day or two to break the monotony of the thing."

"I can't think of any trip being monotonous in a wonderful private car like yours," chirped Eloise. "Well, here's dear old Henrietta at last! I'm simply starved." She tossed her riding hat and whip on the porch floor beside her and languidly stretched a hand for the little white napkin that Henrietta's own hands had made and laundered, too.

"When I get to be as old as you, Henrietta, maybe I'll do lovely things like this for thankless young folks," she laughed.

Jerry saw a slow blush burn the older girl's olive cheeks. Her fine hand, pouring the icy drink from the beaded silver pitcher, shook a bit. The laughter died in his own eyes.

"She's relegating us to the shelf, Henrietta," he said calmly. It was the first time he had ever used her Christian name. He took the pitcher firmly from her hand. "You sit down! I'm going to serve you.

"I'm really very good at this sort of thing. I'm certainly not ornamental. Eloise thinks we are octogenarians simply because—"

"Why, the very idea, Jerry!" interposed the pretty girl. "I didn't say a word about you. We're about the same age. Henrietta don't mind my telling her age. She says she looks every day of it and doesn't care. Don't you, old dear?"

"I've learned not to care," said the older sister patiently.

"I'm much older than Henrietta," Jerry told the startled girl in the smart riding habit. "I'll soon be thirty-five."

"Oh, I didn't dream of it. You look so awfully young and are so young. But then," complacently, "men never show their ages, do they?"

"I was just telling Eloise," said Jerry, taking several sandwiches and a glass of lemonade and going to sit down beside the surprised Henrietta, who, from force of habit, occupied the hard bench instead of one of the comfortable rocking chairs, "I am giving a dinner dance on Saturday night; just my best friends here. I dislike big affairs—crushes—you know. Since Eloise has been so vehement about hating old age and as I, myself, have come to see that December and May are too far apart—oh, every way—for comfortable companionship, I'm going to send Henry Martin for her and take you myself, Henrietta, if you will honor this staid, elderly gentleman." He laughed good-humoredly, apparently enjoying the horrified expression that somehow took the beauty from the young girl's face. "I'm leaving Monday for the coast en my way to the orient," he added, turning to look at Henrietta.

"How lovely!" cried Henrietta, enthusiastically. "What a wonderful time you will have." She did not add that she was sorry or that she would miss seeing him around.

"You know," he said earnestly, "I'm going to remember all the good things to eat you've fixed for me. It's the first real home cooking I've had since I was a kid. Sometimes I've been greedy. You've noticed it, of course, but a chap does get so infernally tired of hotels and French chefs. And then, there's something about a woman doing it for you—a pretty woman like you."

Henrietta turned smiling gray eyes upon him. "It's nice of you to tell me such agreeable things. I like to really serve, doubly so, when the poor service is so charmingly appreciated."

"As if nobody ever appreciated you before!" interrupted Eloise icily.

"Oh, I didn't intimate that," Henrietta gently chided.

"After all," mused Jerry quietly, "the brute in every man loves real service in a woman, in his own woman," he added, his suddenly disconcerting eyes looking straight at Henrietta. "You know I think it would be great to have a real home like this—" he indicated the rambling old house with the paint almost blistered off its old shabby walls, "open fireplaces, flowers as only a woman who loves them can hope to arrange them—like you do, Henrietta. You are the most capable woman I ever knew. Say, I wonder if it would be too much to ask you to go down to my car now, it's on the tracks, ready to pull out any time, and show my chef how to make chicken salad like we had here last Sunday night—"

"Why, of course I will. The idea of you remembering it!"

"Remembering!" he echoed. "How could a man forget?"

A few minutes later as they went down the worn old steps, Eloise turned up her nose disdainfully. To her mother coming out to ascertain the facts of the amazing news that Henrietta had gone out with Jerry, she said: "He talked to Henrietta about her cooking as if that had been bringing him here all the time. Men are pigs, all of them. She's talking Hindu literature to him now—I heard her start. Wouldn't it be a perfect scream if she managed to go to the orient—with him?"

Which is the very thing that Henrietta did, after all, only Jerry did the managing, and he did it with incredible swiftness and with the ardor of a young man very much in love.

WOLVERINE AN UGLY FIGHTER

Animal That Looks Like a Small Bear Has Been Described as "Crazy as a Bat."

Ugliest of all the animals encountered in that wonderful game area (Mt. Whitney) is the wolverine, closely resembling a small bear, but much more powerful. This beast is credited with the ability to vanquish a grizzly, but there is no record of a witnessed combat and the possible result must remain a matter of conjecture.

The wolverine is aptly described as "crazy as a bat." On occasion it will make a mad, blind rush regardless of obstacles or consequences. Recently a power company drove a long tunnel under the Sierra Nevada to carry a stream for hydroelectric development. One morning a party of miners entering the bore saw a pair of blazing eyes in the darkness ahead reflecting the glare of their lanterns. They expected the owner to turn and run away. Instead it came dashing toward them, knocked one man off his feet and sent him sprawling, frightened the others almost speechless, and kept going. It was a big wolverine and its action was characteristic.

This creature's hide brings only $15 and nobody's looking for it. Dogs find it uncompanionable—it "breaks 'em all up" to come in contact.—John L. Von Blon in Scientific American.

The Way Iron "Grows."

The "growth" of cast iron is the result of repeatedly heating and cooling the cast iron parts. For instance, cast iron annealing ovens, originally eight feet in length, have grown to a length of nine feet as the result of being kept red hot for prolonged periods between which they have been permitted to cool. Cast iron furnace grates and other parts subjected to alternate heating and cooling are also frequently distorted and sometimes broken because of the growth. To avoid this growth or increase in size as far as possible, white cast iron having a carbon content of about three per cent and a relatively small amount of silicon and other impurities should be used.

Pretty Hanging Ball.

It really isn't necessary to make the children an excuse for trying the trick, as old as it is pretty, of a feathery hanging carrot ball. From a large carrot cut away the taper end, leaving about five inches of top. Turn it upside down and hollow out a deep well in the cut end—deep, not wide, for the sides must be left thick. Fill the well with water and hang the carrot in a sunny window. The exquisite feathery shoots soon begin to sprout out from the top—now the bottom—and, seeking the light, curve crisply upward, surrounding and concealing the carrot in a mist of green.

Healthy, Happy Boys and Girls

IS your child healthy? Is he or she up to standard weight, of good color, with plenty of rich, red blood to nourish the growing tissues?

For children who are thin, pale, anaemic, under weight, nervous, restless, sleepless, Dr. Chases' Nerve Food is of the greatest benefit imaginable.

Being mild and gentle in action, and yet wonderfully patent as a restorative, it soon makes the blood rich and builds up the feeble nerves.

Dr Chase's Nerve Food

Premier Meighen says that the financial policy of his Government is to go no further in debt. Public opinion will range itself solidly behind the Premier on this point. The war has added a tremendous sum to Canada's debt burden. The country cannot go on paying its obligations by floating new loans. The revenue must be made balance the yearly expenditure. In this time of general prosperity our Government, be it Conservative or Liberal, should make a real effort to reduce the country's indebtedness. It should be much easier to lighten the burden now than in the lean years that will probably come later on.

The Farmers' Sun is running a series of interesting articles on the subject of co-operative banking. The Sun holds that the farmers of this province can make the same success of co-operative banking that they have of co-operative marketing. It points out quite correctly that cheap money is one of the great essentials to profitable farming. At the present time the banks get the greater part of their deposits from the farmers. On the other hand the bulk of the loaning is to industrial, financial, commercial and transportation concerns, which require a large amount of capital to run their enterprises. The farmer is to a large extent a depositor and it is only occasionally that he borrows any considerable sums. When he does borrow he has to pay a high rate and give ample security for the accommodation he gets. The Sun seems to be of the opinion that the only way farmers will be able to get cheap money is through their own co-operative banking institutions.

Many School Boards are having a great deal of difficulty getting teachers for their schools. This is not a new experience for Trustees. Some of the trouble the Boards undoubtedly bring on themselves by their unwillingness to pay adequate salaries. On the other hand much of it is caused by the habit some teachers have formed of jumping their contracts the moment they have a chance of a more desirable or more lucrative position. One would be almost forced to the conclusion that certain teachers regard their contracts as one-sided bargains intended to be kept by the Boards, but not necessarily by the teachers. We do not think teachers are justified in jumping their jobs on short notice as many of them are doing. If a teacher contracts to teach a year in a certain school, then there is a moral as well as a legal obligation to teach in that particular school for the full year. A teacher would feel aggrieved, and rightly so, if a school board, after making a contract for a stated term, would give him notice to quit without some good reason for doing so. Yet teachers are throwing up their positions and sometimes leaving their Boards in the lurch simply because they have the opportunity of getting a few dollars larger salary somewhere else. If a business man broke his contracts in the manner that some of the members of the teaching profession break theirs he would soon find himself in the courts.

ASTONISHED OVER RESULTS, HE SAYS

"Words Are Not Strong Enough To Express My Gratitude," Says This Toronto Man.

"I have no word of praise strong enough to express my gratitude for what Tanlac has done for me," said John Howard, of 46 Beverley Street, Toronto, to the Tanlac representative recently.

"I hardly know where to begin in talking about my case," he said, "but for a whole year before starting on Tanlac I suffered so with nervous dyspepsia I got no pleasure out of life. No matter how careful I was about what I ate, trouble started soon afterwards. My food would seem to lie on my stomach like a lump of lead and then it would sour and ferment and form gas that bloated me up until I could hardly breathe and I had sharp pains all around my heart. I frequently had such headaches that they almost drove me distracted and my nerves were in a terrible state. I tried everything in the way of medicines but none of them ever gave me more than temporary relief.

"When I saw so many Montreal people coming out strong with statements as to the great benefits they had received by taking Tanlac, I began to take notice, and decided to give it a trial myself. Well, I've taken four bottles in all, and it is nothing less than remarkable the way that medicine has settled my stomach trouble and built me up. I can honestly say that for the first time in many a long day I know what it is to really enjoy life and health. I can now eat anything set before me without even suffering the least inconvenience from indigestion or gas. Headaches are a thing of the past and my nerves are as steady as a die. I sleep like a log the whole night through and get up in the mornings feeling fresh and strong. I shall always have a good word to say for Tanlac and have every confidence in recommending it to others."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

NEW CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

North Water Street Baptist Now Becomes Bremner Baptist Church.

A meeting of exceptional interest took place on Wednesday evening in the Baptist Church, North Water street, when the first annual congregational meeting of this recently organized church was held. There was a large attendance and a great spirit of enthusiasm and happiness pervaded the whole gathering.

The various reports presented, including the Ladies' Aid, Sunday School and B. Y. P. U., showed excellent progress.

The pastor, Mr. W. F. Bremner, reviewed the work of the past year and expressed his deep appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the congregation in all departments of the church's activities. He concluded his remarks by making an earnest appeal for continued effort on the part of the people looking toward a greater extension of the church's usefulness.

This church is a remarkable example of church union, as the work is carried on by members of various denominations all working together with the utmost harmony and good will.

The selection of a name for the church has been under consideration for some time past and a committee was appointed to consider the names submitted by the congregation. When the name Bremner Baptist Church was submitted it was received with such favor that all other suggestions were dropped and the Bremner Baptist became the unanimous choice of the congregation. This is a high and unique tribute to Mr. Bremner, the organizer and first pastor of the church, whose name also has been adopted in memory of his two brothers, the late Hon. Robt. G. Bremner, member of the U. S. Congress, the eldest, and Cecil, the youngest brother, who passed away recently.

Reference was made in the various reports to the self-sacrificing efforts of the pastor on behalf of the people of the vicinity and the high place he holds in their affections, also the esteem in which he is held throughout the city.

At the close of the business meeting an adjournment was made to the dining room, where a delightful supper was served by the ladies of the congregation. The tables were artistically decorated with a profusion of flowers and lighted candles making an exceedingly attractive picture, and a most enjoyable social time was spent.—Galt Daily Reporter.

Rev. W. F. Bremner, the pastor of this flourishing Galt church, is a son of Mrs. A. Bremner, of Camilla, and is therefore well-known to many of our readers. The success attending his ministerial work is a matter of hearty congratulation from his friends here, who will also rejoice to learn that the memory of his brothers and the name of the Bremner family has been so worthily honored.

LOST BABY BOY

The Banner unites with the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yokom in tendering our sincere sympathy in the grievous loss they have suffered through the death last Friday of their infant son at the tender age of 13 days. The little one had not been any too strong from birth. The funeral was held from the parents residence to Greenwood Cemetery on Friday evening, Rev. T. H. Stewart conducting the services at the house and grave. We are pleased to be able to state that the young mother, who has been quite seriously ill, is now much better and is thought to be fairly on the way toward complete recovery.

WAR HERO AND SCIENTIST

Another hero of the great war, the possessor of the coveted Croix de Guerre, awarded him for his heroism in attending wounded men under fire in France, is Maj. Alfred E. Lemon, who has been assigned to duty with the First Cavalry as surgeon. Major Lemon arrived here Monday, almost immediately following his return from overseas.

In addition to the bravery in action which marked him for the decoration he won during the great war, Major Lemon proved himself a scientist of high order, being the originator of the reflex cure for seasickness, now in use on all army transports.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallaugher and family, of Perm, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gallaugher Sunday.

Last Sunday was the first anniversary of Rev. Mr. Coutts' pastorate of St. Andrew's Church. He reviewed the work of the past very successful year inasmuch as the manse debt of $1100 was wiped out, many new members added to church, Y. P. S. and the Sunday School is in a flourishing condition. Mr. and Mrs. Coutts are to be commended for their untiring and unceasing labor.

Dr. Murray Bremner was home over the holiday.

WON M'LAUGHLIN CAR

Walter Reid, of Chatham, a son of Mrs. J. C. Reid, of Orangeville, received word last week that he was the successful contestant for a McLaughlin six touring car, which was raffled off in Hespeler a short time ago. Reid, who is in the employ of the Bell Telephone Co., chanced to be passing through Hespeler at the time and bought a ticket, which happened to bear the winning number. He has been offered the car or $1600 in cash and is undecided which to accept.

THE DUFFERIN PROTEST

Electors of Dufferin County will be interested in the following despatch, which appeared in the Toronto dailies a few days ago:—

Justice Rose recently fixed 11 a m. September 27th at Orangeville as the time and place for the hearing of the election trial in connection with the protest against the election of Thos. Kerr Slack as U. F. O. M. P. P. for Dufferin, and from the information now in the hands of the petitioner's solicitors, it is likely that Mr. Slack will be unseated. On the examination for discovery the latter admitted that he made a promise on the public platform at his convention that if he were elected he would pay back all those who subscribed to the campaign fund. He further admitted that over $500 had been paid back either to the clubs or individuals who made the subscription. He further admitted he had paid over thirty scrutineers as part of his election expenses, and it is thought that this information alone will be sufficient to unseat him. The outcome will be watched with interest by the Dufferin electors.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The death of Mrs. Lanktree occurred at her home, 219 Rosemount Ave., Weston, on Saturday, August 28th, after a painful illness of three weeks, which was borne with cheerfulness, patience and true Christian fortitude. ST. SIMONS CHAMPS.

Trounced Brampton Excelsiors 8 to 2 in Saturday's Game on Idylwyld Park.

St. Simons defeated the Brampton Excelsiors by the decisive score of 8 to 2 in the final game for the senior championship of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association played on Idylwyld Park on Saturday afternoon. The game attracted a crowd that approached in size the record crowd that gathered to witness the memorable Orangeville-Weston game a few weeks ago. It is estimated that there were fully 4000 spectators. The gate receipts were upwards of $1000. From the spectators standpoint the game was a fine exhibition of lacrosse. Brampton had fully as much of the play as their victorious opponents, but the Excelsior home seemed woefully weak when it came to shooting. The following extracts are clipped from the Mail & Empire's excellent report of the game:—

It was one of those lacrosse struggles that every lover of the national game delights in. The checking was hard and close, but at all times the play was clean. Both teams were evidently determined to stay on the field, so that the better aggregation would win on the merits of the play. The victory for St. Simon's was more than a little due to the fact that they pulled several surprises on their opponents, while the Saints were familiar with the dangerous spots in the Brampton team that they had to look after. The development of Max McGregor is one of the factors which completely disconcerted Brampton. Last year MacGregor was playing on the defence field, but he has now moved up to the home field, and works wonderfully round the nets. The big blonde boy drew the admiration and applause of the spectators by the way he accepted all sorts of chances and transformed them into shots. Not even the devoted affection of a defence man hanging round his neck like a long lost brother could keep Max from taking the passes. It was the greatest day of his career as goalie McClure of Brampton can certify with something approaching a sigh.

On the whole, however, it was the all round quality of the St .Simon's home that broke up the Brampton defence. They were completely unselfish, and either in combination plays or individual rushes worked like champions. Here is the assortment of problems that Brampton had to solve and didn't—Startling corkscrew rushes that mix up even the most experienced defences: Jerry Sullivan's bullet shot, and Bill Scott's heady play round the nets, which resulted in a couple on Saturday. Robertson got out of a sick bed to take his place on the line-up of the Saints, and played a fine game under the conditions, while tireless Silver Bennet, who has been showing steady improvement all year, fielded as though his motor power was furnished by a liberty engine. The work in the field displayed by the Saints was another thing that the Brampton team had not expected. The victors were right with their opponents every moment of the afternoon, and that is something new in the experiences of the Brampton boys. They usually count on getting a couple of goals by using the odd man.

At the other end of the field the St. Simon's defence was airtight. Jess Spring did not play and the Saints got an opportunity to prove that his presence or absence does not mean the difference btwen victory or defeat. in fact, the defence looked stronger as a whole than it did a week ago. Tommy Robinson, who has developed into a reliable defence man since the opening of the season, took over the task of watching the one and only Sammie Charters, and held him by being on the alert and checking cleverly all the way. Rod Anderson, who has become a Brampton star this year, was also carefully watched. But the great thing about the St. Simon's defence was its unbroken steadiness, while Chandler in goal, put up a game that equalled his display in Weston a week ago. There were no weak spots at which Brampton could direct its attack, and the Saints played without change from start to finish. Brampton used three substitutes. Burrell did not play at inside home, his place being taken by Harry Sproule, and McClure, who played centre in Weston, replaced Campbell in goal. At half time Sarles took Harry Sproule's place, and in the final quarter Campbell went into the nets.

The game was very even in the first quarter. St. Simon's tallied once, and Brampton kept rushing dangerously, but could not get a clear shot or make any tallies. The Saints came strong in the scond period, and the score was 3 to 1 at half time. St. Simon's would have been farther ahead at this time if they had not shown an over-anxiety in trying to score when McClure was on the sidelines serving a short penalty. Norm Anderson got Brampton's first goal by trotting in behind St. Simon's defence and accepting a perfect pass. Two more came to St. Simon's in the third quarter, making them 5 to 1 when the last period started. Brampton tallied a second time from a scramble in front of the goal. But St. Simon's with victory assured, could do all sorts of fancy stuff, and as usual when the goals are not really needed, the fancy stuff brought results. You have to give credit to Eddie Powers. He has built up a lacrosse machine to be proud of. The teams: —

St. Simon's—goal, Chandler; point, Heyes; cover, Morris; defence, Eddie Sullivan, Robinson and O'Rourke; centre, Bennett; home, Starling, Jerry Sullivan and MacGregor; outside, Robertson; inside, Scott.

Officials—Charlie Querrie and Dr. Campbell.

HOME BURNED

J. J. Milligan, an Adjala Farmer, Meets With Severe Loss.

Deprived of their home by the fire demon while away from the premises was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Milligan, of Adjala, on Sunday last. The house was a frame one built some years ago by the father of Mr. Milligan on the old homestead in the third concession of Adjala. The loss is a heavy one and an extremely inconvenient one since everything in the shape of domestic possessions was consumed by the flames. All the family knick knacks which have no great intrinsic value, but are priceless to the owners, are gone. The bedding, the personal attire even to the working overalls and smock of Mr. Milligan fell a prey to the flames and Mrs. Milligan's diamond ring and gold watch and chain, treasured possessions, were lost in the fire. No one was in the house or on the premises when the fire broke out. Mr. and Mrs. Milligan were away spending part of the day with friends out at Lake Simcoe. They left about eleven o'clock in the morning, the hired man agreeing to come around early in the evening and do the milking and the chores. The first intimation they had of their misfortune was when they reached home about nine o'clock in the evening. There is only one way to account for the fire and that is that a spark from the stove in the summer kitchen, where a fire was burning in the morning, lodged in a crack in the floor and smouldered in the dry wood till a flame burst forth. No valuable papers were lost. The insurance amounts to about $2,000 and the loss to between $5,000 and $6,000. There was an element of good fortune in the misfortune. Not two hundred feet from the house the barn stands and between it and the house is a newly made straw stack. The wind chanced to be in the south-west and at no time was there any danger of the fire spreading to the barn in which was the entire wheat crop threshed last week, the season's hay and all the unthreshed grain excepting a few loads of oats. —Alliston Herald.

GRAY-DORT

THE nation-wide friendship for the Gray-Dort cannot be based on price alone, for there are cars selling at lower prices.

Evidently motor car buyers have determined for themselves that the value and thrift of the Gray-Dort are very unusual.

In less than five years the Gray-Dort has outstripped, in demand and production, a dozen cars which have been on the Canadian market longer. It is now one of the four largest-selling cars in Canada.

At the present rate of sales, the market will shortly be bare of Gray-Dorts. The wise purchaser will act at once.

THE RAILWAY RATES CASE

Two important facts were not discussed before the Railway Board on the application for an increase of rates. The first was that the Government was itself in fact a member of the so-called association of railways presided over by Mr. Phippen and in fact an applicant for freight increases not only for the C. N. R. and G. T. R. systems but for the Intercolonial and National Transcontinental and Grand Trunk Pacific. The farce of pretending that the publicly-owned railways are owned by a company at the head of which is Mr. Hanna, cannot be maintained. The second fact not discussed was that both the C. P. R. and the Canadian Government own and operate railways extensively in the United States and so are subject to the railway regulations and wage awards of the United States. It was, therefore, not astounding that at the end the president of the Grand Trunk announced that the railway association, that is, the C. P. R. and the Canadian Government, had resolved to accept the Chicago award of wages, which imposes on the Canadian railways for this year an increase of labor cost of 60 to 65 millions.

There can no longer be any doubt as to the C. P. R.'s finances. It has put by since 1910 out of railway operation alone 127 millions and has gross reserves valued at more than 300 millions of which there is apparently enough liquid to carry the company through more than one bad year. Why that course should not be taken was not made clear. Officials of the company suggested grave consequences, if it were made known that the C. P. R. had passed a dividend or failed to earn one. Grave consequences may also be expected, we should think, if it is made public that Canadian industry has largely failed because of an annual addition to its burdens of from 160 to 225 millions. If Canadian industry fails, the expectations of the C. P. R. officials may be disappointed. From all appearances, the increased rates will be substantially granted. In that event, an appeal ought to be taken to the Cabinet, where the responsibility of so vast a measure of taxation belongs.

A noteworthy deduction from the evidence is that the Bolshevist scheme of taking over the C. P. R. for perpetual bonds for the amount of its stock bearing ten per cent., in order to use its surplus earnings to carry the other Government roads, was not well founded.—The Farmers' Sun.

A POOR EXCUSE

Roman prelates in Australia offer a weak excuse for their delay in calling on the Prince of Wales and expressing devotion to the British Throne. A press despatch of August 1st conveys this news:—

"Monsignor Cattaneo, Apostolic Delegate to Australia, and Archbishop Duhig, of Queensland, visited the Prince of Wales last week and formally presented the homage and devotion to the Throne on the whole Roman Catholic community of Australia.

"They assured the Prince of the loyalty of the Australian Catholic community, and said he had won the hearts of all.

"Monsignor Cattaneo explained that the reason no Roman Catholic prelates in Australia had hitherto called on the Prince was because all the senior clergy happened to be away when the Prince was in their respective centres."

Is it not remarkable that all senior Roman clergy happened to have been absent, "when the Prince was in their respective centres?" The Prince had been in Australia for several weeks, and they knew at least a year in advance that the Heir to the Throne intended to visit Australia this summer. Still they all managed to be absent when he visited "their respective centres!" Patriotic citizens in Australia, as in Canada, made it a point to be present at the time of the Prince's visit.

It looks very much as if the Roman prelates waited, hoping that the people would resent the visit of the Prince, but when they saw that the democratic representative of the British Throne had "won the hearts of all," they decided to go with the crowd. They made no effort to assist in welcoming the Prince, but when he is about to depart, they, for obvious strategical reasons, decided to present their respects in a formal and diplomatic way. It will be noted that the devotion of "the whole Roman Catholic community" of the British Commonwealth was presented by Monsignor Cattaneo, Papal delegate, who is an Italian, and Archbishop Duhig, who may not be a British citizen either. Where were all the Irish prelates who were so much to the front and who gave Archbishop Mannix such assistance in the last general election?. Has the charming Prince really won their hearts, or do they realize that this is a time to be silent.—Orange Sentinel.

The Kincardine Review says: "A newspaper at the new price is still the cheapest article that can be purchased to-day." It goes about to prove the statement by telling its readers what $1.00 would buy when the Editor bought the Review— a cord of wood 2 feet long, 8 to 12 dozen eggs, 6 or 7 lbs of butter, 2 to 3 bushels of potatoes, etc., etc. And yet the Editor asks only $2 a year for his paper. Everyone knows how little $2 will buy now.

A WORD FOR THE FARMER

Farming must be made remunerative in a way it has not been in the past. Even last year, when many people looked upon him as having made large profits, the average farmer received comparatively low wages for his labor. Before the war, in the areas where investigations are made, the average farmer did not make more than $60 for the labor of himself and all the members of his family. I do not believe he fared much better last year, because of the high wages he was compelled to pay and the high price of manufactured products he had to buy. If this situation continues, it may become a serious menace to the welfare of the nation as a whole.

I am not speaking of something that may happen in the remote future. It is about to happen now, this crop season. Many farmers in every state have reduced their acreage to just what they can handle with their family labor. Their outlook is not such as to encourage them to compete with the manufacturers for men.

The consumer must realize that, unless the price which the farmer receives increases in the same ratio as wages and other costs, agricultural production cannot be maintained. Assurance that consumers in the great centres of population are willing that the farmer should receive fair prices for his products would do much to encourage him to push ahead with his farm work regardless of difficulties and costs. The fear on the part of the farmer that, when the harvest is over and the results of his labor are ready for market, an effort will be made by the city people to bring about a reduction in the prices of agricultural products, is unfortunately one of the factors holding the farmers back this year. Consumers will benefit, in the long run, by showing their willingness to have the farmer receive fair prices for his products.—E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, in July-August Good Housekeping.

THE VIPER AND THE HEDGEHOG

The only time the viper commits suicide is when endeavoring to save its life. The hedgehog is the enemy of the viper, and attacks it in rather a peculiar manner. It creeps quietly up to it from behind, and, getting a grip on the viper's tail with its teeth, rolls itself up into a ball of prickles.

The viper, in order to release itself, turns and attacks the hedgehog; but instead of reaching, as it is intended, a vital part, it dashes its head with considerable force against the prickles of the hedgehog, which naturally inflict serious wounds.

Time after time the snake attacks its captor, and each time its condition becomes worse, until finally it dies from wounds of its own making.

The hedgehog then unrolls itself, and proceeds to devour its prey. Before doing this it goes carefully along the body, cracking all the bones in it. It commences its meal at the tail-end.

It is said that the porcupine captures snakes in the same way. Only, instead of waiting for the snake to kill itself before commencing its meal the porcupine begins to eat this tail while the viper is dashing its head to pieces on the prickles in its endeavors to escape.

INEFFICIENCY OF RAILROAD EMPLOYEES

One of the reasons for the railroads' failure to make both ends meet, is found in the lack of efficiency of their employees. Last year the average daily mileage of freight cars in Canada and the United States was but 23.1 miles; in 1916 it was 26.9 miles. Undoubtedly there would be a tremendous saving if freight cars could be moved say 30 miles instead of covering a distance of 23 miles per day.

At a recent meeting of the railroad executives, held in New York, the members pledged themselves to bring about five reforms which they believed would relieve the congestion. 1. To have an average daily movement of freight cars of not less than 30 miles. 2. To have an average loading of 30 tons per car. 3. The reduction of "bad order" cars to a maximum of 4 per cent. of the total cars owned. 4. An early and substantial reduction of locomotives unfit for service. 5. More effective efforts to bring about return of cars to owner roads.

It is estimated that the first three reforms would be the equivalent of adding 600,000 freight cars to the available equipment of the roads in Canada and the United States, whereas the present shortage is considerably less than half that number of cars.

These sidelights on the more or less ineffective workings of the railroad employees, is but another example of the inexorable workings of economic laws. Labor has gone on demanding increased wages, justly in some cases, unjustly in others. The prices of materials advance, the cost of living goes up and step by step the vicious circle is completed. The inefficiency of labor and the fact that there is less produced in a given day than in pre-war time, makes the situation doubly acute. There is not only shorter working hours to-day, but apparently less produced in the hours that men do work. In the case of railroads there seems to be faults in the management as well as among the employees.—The Farmers' Sun.

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

There's a way of spending money that spreads incomes over bigger "sandwiches."

Big business calls it financing.

Government calls it budget-making.

We call it the Budget Plan.

Would you like to own a New Edison?

Our Budget Plan will show you how to "swing" the purchase, without cutting in on your present necessary expenditures.

Now is a good time to buy. The New Edison has advanced in price (United States price) less than 15% since 1914; this includes War Tax. Mr. Edison has kept prices down by absorbing increased costs out of his own pocket.

THE LOOSENED "GRIP"

He bounded after a butterfly that lazily winged its way in the warm, spring sunshine, swatting at it with his forepaws and lunging upwards with jaws agaped and tongue outstretched. The very abandonment that the feeling of spring awakens in one, even reached and aroused within the old bear a joyous, bubbling over of long pent up feelings. And so he meandered up over rocky ridge and down through the unbroken swales and muskegs. The robins whistled from the topmost branches of the pine stubs, the bluebirds warbled among the wild cherries and poplars, the waters gurgled and gushed over the rocks, green specks of vegetation outcropped here and there, a fish-hawk gleamed silvery in the blue vault above. Along logs, scarcely eight inches in diameter, the old bear trotted as sure-footed as a goat, down into the hazy little valley, where the mist drifted in rainbow tints, the spawning suckers lured him.

Ambling along in his crude, shuffling way, he suddenly stopped dead still—his nose aquiver, his small eyes a peering about—then moved like a well-oiled spring, silently, quickly. At the opening between two logs he stopped and sniffed; the smell of fish several days old greeted him. Quietly he squeezed through the opening. The grey mossy lichens looked innocent. One step—two—a muffled click, and back through the opening came the bear threshing with his one free forefoot and his teeth clicking vainly against the thirty-pound trap. Madly he rushed down hill, till the tally-pole jammed in some bushes and swinging in the air, two hundred pounds of black ferocity hung suspended over the sheer face of rock that dropped thirty feet to the waters below.

Slowly the body sagged, then fell straight down and with a loud splash and grunt, and up over the opposite ridge limping and minus five toes scurried the old bear to hunt some secluded spot to nurse his wounds in the black muck; and the steel trap rang in a musical way as the wind tapped it rythmically against the rocky wall and the waters rushed and roared in the gorge blow.

MRS. JAMES OLDFIELD

A great sorrow came to the home of Mr. Jas. Oldfield, Backline, Melancthon, on August 24th, when death took away his wife and mother. In the spring, Mrs. Oldfield had suffered from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism which left the heart in a weakened condition, but that the result would be so serious came as a great blow to her friends. All was done for her that medical skill and good care could do but on Tuesday morning she passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Oldfield was a good faithful wife and mother, a splendid neighbor, who possessed many of those sterling qualities which go to make up a fine woman. The deceased was born in Grey Township in 1865. Her maiden name was Jennie Dougherty. During her girlhood she followed the profession of school teaching and in 1889 was united in marriage to her now bereft partner. Together they started farming on the second concession of Melancthon, where they lived until the time of her death. Her husband and nine children, two brothers and two sisters mourn her loss. All of the family were present at the funeral except one son, Lynn, who is in Alberta. Numerous floral tributes, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held, covered the casket.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Stotesbury, assisted by Rev. Mr. Rose and Mr. R. J. Woods. The pallbearers were James, Colwell, Edward and Harold Oldfield, Edward and Wilfred Coutts, all nephews of deceased.

Those present from a distance were:—Mrs. Charles Cleaver and Miss B. Cole, Ethel; Mrs. Dan Mahon, Brussels; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dougherty, Atwood.

Much sympathy is felt by the community for the bereaved family.—Dundalk Herald.

Dressy or mourning wear.

Nothing is more remarkable in our social life at this time than the rarity of conventional mourning, says London Daily Chronicle. There are millions of bereaved people in these islands, yet it is uncommon to encounter anybody who wears the "trappings and the suits of woe." We have found a juster way of showing respect for the dead than by changing the hue of our clothes. Only at the two extremes, east and west, will you now discover a woman wearing widow's "weeds."

ROLLED DOWN EMBANKMENT

On Wednesday night of last week while returning from the Garden Party at Cataract, a Ford car with a party of five from Adjala Twp., whose names are not known, met with a serious accident when passing a horse and buggy travelling in the same direction, on Bell's Hill, fifteen sideroad, Caledon, when the earth gave away and the car rolled down a forty foot embankment, turning over three times. When it finally landed at the bottom four of the passengers were still in the car and one under it, and when the four got out the car righted itself and the engine was still running. The fifth party was able to crawl out and all were very little the worse for their experience other than a few scratches and a severe shaking up. The wonder is that there was a survivor to tell the tale. Next day the car was removed with the aid of a block and tackle and taken to a repair shop, it being a bad looking wreck, the top and windshield being completely destroyed and many other parts twisted and broken.—Erin Advocate.

Why We Need New Money!

This year we are spending about ten million dollars to extend our system to accommodate new subscribers.

Year by year we must spend millions so that people requiring telephone service may be accommodated!

Such huge sums of course cannot be provided out of our revenue. The only way of obtaining money in such amounts is from investors seeking profitable employment for idle funds.

Investors naturally won't put their money into any enterprise that does not promise absolute security and a sure return. Nowadays security and a handsome return on investments are not difficult to find!

Our problem then is, in spite of the high cost of everything we buy in both labor and material, to pay such a return to present investors—our shareholders—as will attract new money. This must be accomplished while, at the same time, keeping our service up to the highest standard. If the rate of return is not attractive, then the supply of new money ceases.

This is the problem of telephone companies everywhere. None of them has found any other solution than to charge a fair and adequate rate to subscribers.

You will like Lantic fine!

For BAKING. For pound, tea and sponge cakes, coffee cakes, angel cake, layer cakes, fruit cakes, cocoanut cakes, pork cakes, nut cakes, short cakes, macaroons and biscuits, crullers, rolls, buns—ALL cakes—Lantic creams quicker with the butter—because it's FINE.

For PRESERVING. For peaches, pears, plums and grapes—if you use Lantic you can smile at the old caution "Let it simmer until all the sugar is dissolved." While yet the fruit retains its beautiful color and attractive form, the preserving is done!—because it's FINE.

FINE in granulation—finer than all other sweeteners in actual use—finest in results obtained. "Fine" has many meanings to the Lantic user! In snowy glistening crystals of pure cane sugar—all sugar and nothing else—Lantic brings you concentrated sweetening. And because each crystal is fine and even, Lantic dissolves at once—it instantly delivers its great sweetening power without hesitation. Of course it goes farther. Of course it costs less. Of course you will like it fine.

For BEVERAGES. For tea, coffee, cocoa, lemonade, root beer, orangeade, lemon pop and fruit punch—in fact for all home-made beverages—use LANTIC. There will then be no wasted spoonful left at the bottom of the cup or glass—because it's FINE.

In PRESERVING late fruits such as pears, plums and peaches, it eliminates the danger of over-cooking, which robs fruit of its natural color and shape, and some of its flavor.

In BAKING, Lantic creams quickly with the butter—which makes the cake light and dainty. Creaming need not be tedious.

In CANDY-MAKING fine granulation gives candy a soft velvety quality. Most of the highest grade chocolates and finer candies are made with Lantic. The exquisite "velours" of the best chocolate creams comes from Lantic fineness.

In TEA or COFFEE, in fact in all beverages (hot or cold), every Lantic crystal dissolves at once, yielding readily the full sweetening of the purest cane.

For CANDY-MAKING. For fudge, taffy, butterscotch, caramels and fondants, walnut and maple creams, marshmallows, peppermints, peanut brittle, candied fruits, and of course all icings, Lantic has the call with the best candy makers because it's FINE.

JUNIOR LACROSSE

Brampton Trimmed Orangeville by 6 to 4.

Brampton Junior Excelsiors played an exhibition game with the Junior Dufferins on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon of last week and managed to trim the locals by 6 to 4. The Brampton Conservator's report of the game reads:—

The boys played ten men a side, Brampton with no subs and Orangeville with three. The crowd was small but the game was snappy, and in charge of Bert Booth. At half time Excelsiors were at the top end of a 5-1 score and the game became exceedingly lively. It was played cleanly throughout, no penalties being handed out. The Brampton home had the opposing defence completely baffled, and the system was worked of having a defence man break away, and make the odd man down the field. All the Northerners' goals were scored in the third period from loose balls in front of the goal.

The scoring was opened by Dennis in the first two minutes, Young got the next in ten, and Worthy the third. Christie scored for Orangeville. The first period ended 3-1. In the second period Claridge opened, then Hodgins tallied the second. In the third period Orangeville scored two, from Christie and Firth. In the last period Brampton tightened up and the teams scored one each. Harrison for Brampton. The Brampton team lined up as follows: goal, Ingram; point, Perkes; cover, Hodgins; 1st defence, Dennis; 2nd defence, Claridge; centre; Harrison, home, Young and Worthy; inside, Fletcher; outside, T. Hodgins. Referee, Bert Booth.

After the game the team attended a dance in the town hall.

HUNTER–LAUGHLIN

Silver Hill Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laughlin, Caledon, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on September 1st, when their eldest daughter, Reta May, became the bride of Mr. W. H. Hunter, son of the late Mr. W. H. Hunter and Mrs. Hunter, Orangeville. The bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Annie Meek, of Newmarket. They passed down an aisle of ribbon, held by Misses Edith Laughlin and Alva McKim, to an arch of evergreens and asters, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Lindsay, of Erin. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white satin, with overdress of net and seed pearls. She wore a bridal veil of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of shell pink silk and carried a basket of sweet peas, scattering the flowers along the pathway of the bride. Miss Minnie Stinson, of Toronto, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a pink georgette frock and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridegroom was assisted by his brother, Mr. James S. Hunter. During the signing of the register, Mr. Lindsay, of Caledon East, sang "Until." After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to about 75 guests. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid and pianiste, bar pins, to the best man, a Masonic ring, to the maid of honor, a pearl ring, and signet rings to the ribbon-bearers. The happy couple left later for a trip down the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers, the bride travelling in a taupe velour suit with beaver collar and black hat. On their return they will live at "The Maples," Orangeville.

LATE HENRY HORAN

Albion township lost another of its oldest residents when Mr. Henry Horan passed away at his home on Saturday, Aug. 28. Mr. Horan was in his 86th year and had lived in the Lockton district for many years. He is survived by his wife, three sons and four daughters, Eugene at home, James and William John, of Albion, Mrs. John Curran, of Ballycroy, Mrs. James Gilmour, of Albion, Mrs. Finnerty, of the Canadian West, and Mrs. Harrison, who lives in the States. Interment took place at the St. John's Church Cemetery, Albion, on Tuesday.

TWO MEN KILLED

Collapse of Derrick at Terra Cotta Cause of Double Fatality.

Two men were killed at the Rogers quarries, near Terra Cotta, in Chinguacousy township on Wednesday afternoon, September 1st, when the derrick with which they were hoisting two tons of stone collapsed. They are Alex. Henry, aged 45, and Albert Maynard, 23.

Four men were engaged in hoisting the stone, which fell to one side, but the boom of the derrick hit the two men. Maynard was struck on the head and was killed instantly, and Henry was struck on the legs, both of which were broken. He lived about fifteen minutes and died of shock.

Dr. J. A. Lawson, of Brampton, the coroner, stated that no inquest would be held. Each man left a wife and children. Maynard had three brothers killed in the war and one brother drowned at sea.

FATALLY INJURED

Chinguacousy Farmer Died From Effects of Fall From Load of Grain.

A week ago Monday Mr. Neil Sinclair, a farmer living on the 1st line, east, Chinguacousy, a short distance south of Campbell's Cross, was assisting James Campbell, a neighbor living across the road, to take in his grain. While arranging some sheaves on the back of the load, which was nearly complete, Mr. Sinclair felt himself slipping. He caught at the ladder of the waggon, and in some way jerked himself awkwardly to the ground. Falling on his shoulder, Mr. Sinclair suffered some unusual injury, for when he was assisted to rise, he was found to be paralyzed from the waist down. In view of the seriousness of his injuries the unfortunate man was removed to the Western Hospital, Toronto, where he died a few days later. Mr. Sinclair's sad case furnishes a striking illustration of the truth of the familiar saying that misfortunes seldom come singly. Earlier in the summer his dwelling house was struck by lightning during a severe thunderstorm and was burned to the ground.

WHITE–DOBSON

St. Barnabas Church, Toronto, was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday of last week, when the Rev. F. E. Powell officiated at the marriage of Marian Alicia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dobson, and Lieut. W. G. White, late of the R. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White, of Orangeville. The service was fully choral, Mr. A. E. Hewetson presiding at the organ, the choir meeting the briday party at the door and preceding them up the aisle singing: "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." The altar was beautifully decorated with pink roses and gladioli. The bride wore white georgette crepe with silver trimmings with veil of white tulle arranged in cap style with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and sweetheart roses, and was attended by Miss Gladys Sparkhall, who was in green crepe-de-chine with black velvet hat and carried pink roses, the groom being supported by Mr. E. A. Roe. The bride's going away costume was of peacock blue jersey cloth with black tulle picture hat, and the groom's gift a Hudson seal scarf with sable trimmings. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a bar pin set with rhinestones, and to the best man a silver cigarette case. Owing to the serious illness of the bride's mother invitations were issued only to immediate relatives, but many friends witnessed the church ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. White left for Muskoka, where the honeymoon will be spent, and after October 1st will be at home at 62 Park Ave., Brantford, Ontario.

DUNCAN—In Watertown, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, on Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1920, James Price Duncan, son of James Reid Duncan, of Orangeville, aged 32 years, 9 months and 20 days.

IN MEMORIAM.

BREMNER—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Olive Emeline, who died September 13th, 1919.

"Dear wee Olive," how we miss you,
Only those bereft can tell,
But then we must remember
That "He doeth all things well."

A thought of comfort we have
As this earth we're passing through,
Every hour that we live
Is that hour nearer you.

For in our saddest moments,
The thought comes up before,
We will meet again our darling
And be happy evermore.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother and Brother.

"Hidden Dangers," the Vitagraph serial of sensational mystery and adventure, starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, is still packing the seats at the Gem Theatre every Monday and Tuesday nights. Coming as it does at a time when everybody in the country is more or less "het up" over spiritualism and other things occult, the serial, with its whole underlying story being one of mystery, black art, dual personality and uncanny doings, has awakened widespread interest both because of its theme and for the interest and action of what is one of the most unusual of all chapter motion plays.

Hypnotism is another element in this serial which attracts. Not only those morbidly interested in the manifestations of hypnotism, but scientists and psychiatrists as well, have broken all precedent in many cases and are thus far making perfect scores for attendance at the weekly showings of the serial episodes. In the fifth episode, with its particularly fitting title, "Hands of Horror," those interested in hypnotism have a special treat coming to them. One of the most startling scenes in this chapter occurs when the girl, Madeline, (Jean Paige) falls a victim to the hypnotic power of the evil Dr. Brutell. Not at close range, or with the permission of his subject, does the villainous doctor put her under the spell, but through several walls and from another part of the house he forces the girl to succumb.

A FATAL MISTAKE

James Price Duncan, a son of Mr. James R. Duncan, Elizabeth Street, died in Watertown, Jefferson County, State of Wisconsin, on Wednesday, September 1st, from injuries sustained by falling downstairs in the hotel at which he was boarding. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan left for Watertown immediately after receiving the sad news for the purpose of taking charge of the remains, which they brought here for burial. The following account of the tragic occurrence is taken from the Watertown Daily Times:

"James Duncan, aged about 32 years, died Wednesday afternoon in St. Mary's Hospital as the result of injuries sustained by falling down stairs in the Schott Hotel in Ixonia, where he was stopping. The accident happened shortly after five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, the man mistaking the basement door for a door leading to a toilet, and before discovering his mistake fell headlong to the basement and struck on a cement floor. The force of the fall caused a fracture of the skull. He was hurried to St. Mary's Hospital, but was beyond human aid.

"Duncan had been employed on the highway construction near Ixonia, being the engineer of the steam engine, which furnished power for the stone crusher, and had been in the employ of the contractors for the past four years."

The funeral was held from the residence of his father on Elizabeth St. by motor to Shelburne cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. W. M. Morris conducted a short service at the stricken home and Rev. A. E. Thornley, pastor of Knox Church, Shelburne, officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Harry and Gordon Sherratt, Johnston Martin, Herb. Gardner, Alex Bolen and H. Steurnol. Deceased, who was 32 years and 9 months of age, was unmarried and had been living in the United States for the last six years. He was in the employ of the Milwaukee Construction Company at the time of his death. He had been with this company for four years and previous to that spent two years making shells in a Milwaukee Munitions plant. He was a steady, industrious young man and the news of his unfortunate demise has brought genuine sorrow to his Ontario friends. Besides his father, he is survived by four sisters and two brothers, namely, William Duncan, Mossbank, Sask., David Duncan and Mrs. Harry Sherratt, Corbetton, Mrs. Geo. Shea, of Drake, Sask., Mrs. Andrew Kennedy, Riverview, and Mrs. Johnston Martin, Dundalk. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved relatives in their affliction.

TELEGRAM CHEAP TALK

Some kid writer, who has the gall to pose as a lacrosse authority, has been using the columns of the Toronto Telegram to rid his system of a lot of trashy talk about the St. Simons-Brampton game on Saturday. Bert Booth, the O. A. L. A. President, is the target at which the cub aims his awkwardly directly shafts and it is all because Booth ordered Saturday's game played in Orangeville, instead of Toronto. It is the same old story in another form—everything for Toronto. It is alright for outside Clubs to be put to the expense of going to Toronto to play off important games, but if a Toronto club happens to be ordered out of the city for a match then the whole bunch of the city sporting scribes set up a regular anvil chorus. Mighty poor sports a lot of these Toronto chaps seem to be unless everything is going their way.

Booth was quite within his rights in ordering Saturday's game playee in Orangeville and we are pleased that he had the backbone to stick to his decision despite the knocking of the city press. Brampton had just as much right to be satisfied with the choice of grounds as had St. Simons, particularly when they gave way and agreed to play the former game on the Weston field. St. Simons had no valid reason for not being willing to come here. As a matter of fact the supporters of the team are now quite pleased that the game was played here. They admit that the Idylwyld grounds suited their team splendidly and that the performance of St. Simons on Saturday was by all odds the finest game the team has played all season. But why was the game their best? Partly because of the excellent condition of the grounds, but chiefly because the team was playing at an altitude 1000 ft. greater than they are accustomed to on their home grounds in Toronto. The clearer, rarer air imparted a feeling of buoyancy and vigor to the St. Simons boys, that put them right on their toes for the game. Some of the Toronto sporting knockers had better ask some good medical man, just how this difference in altitude would affect the Toronto team and then go around the corner and congratulate one another that their knocking did not prevent the game from being played in Orangeville. Apart from all this the Orangeville grounds are to all intents just as good as any city grounds for an important fixture like Saturday's game. It may do no harm either to remind the Toronto critics of President Booth that a few games like Saturday's are coming to Orangeville and the Orangeville enthusiasts, who have been giving the national game their hearty support for many years.

WINTER WHEAT

Results of Experiments at Ontario Agricultural College.

Winter Wheat is one of the chief money crops of Ontario. Its market value for the Province amounted to about thirty-five million dollars in 1919.

Fourteen varieties of winter wheat have been grown under experiment at the Ontario Agricultural College for twenty-five years with average results for this period as follows:—Yield of grain per acre 53.9 bushels, yield of stray per acre 2.8 tons, and weight per measured bushel 60.8 pounds. The results for 1920 were 3 per cent. less in yield of grain per acre, 29 per cent. less in yield of straw per acre, and 2 per cent. greater in weight per measured bushel than the average results for the whole period. In fifteen years of the twenty-five year period, the yields of grain per acre surpassed those of 1920. In only nine years of the twenty-five year period were the weights per measured bushel greater than those of 1920.

Experiments at the College have shown that the best results have been obtained from sowing large, plump, sound, well-matured seed of strong vitality. Seedings which have taken place from the 26th of August to the 9th of September have given better results than those of either earlier or later dates.

Five varieties of winter wheat have been distributed for co-operative experiments throughout Ontario in each of the past four years. The following table gives the average results in bushels of grain per acre for 1920 and for the average of four years:

VARIETIES	Bus. per acre 1920	Av. 4 yrs.
O. A. C. No. 104	26.9	26.3
Improved Dawson's Golden Chaff	26.4	25.1
Improved Imperial Amber	22.7	24.2
Kharkov	22.3	21.1
Yaroslaf	17.3	20.0

The O. A. C. No. 104 was decidedly the most popular variety of those under test, eighty-two per cent. of the experiments giving it first choice. This new hybrid wheat will be distributed this autumn in connection with the co-operative experiments to every person who asks for the experiment with varieties of winter wheat.

Distribution of Material for Experiments in Autumn of 1920.

As long as the supply lasts, material will be distributed free of charge in the order in which the applications are received from Ontario farmers wishing to experiment and to report the results of any one of the following tests: 1, Three varieties of Winter Wheat; 2, One variety of Winter Rye and one of Winter Wheat; 3, Spring Applications of Five Fertilizers with Winter Wheat; 4, Autumn and Spring Applications of Nitrate of Soda and Common Salt with Winter Wheat; 5, Winter Emmer and Winter Barley; 6, Hairy Vetches and Winter Rye as Fodder Crops. The size of each plot is to be one rod wide by two rods long. Fertilizers will be sent by express for Number 4 this autumn and for Number 3 next spring. All seed will be sent by mail except that for Number 4, which will accompany the fertilizers.

C. A. ZAVITZ.

BACK TO HIS IDEAL

By R. RAY BAKER

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The three years' war was over and Leonard Moore was going home.

The war in question had nothing to do with England, France or Germany. It was a private family war—between Leonard Moore and J. Griffen Moore. Perhaps it had better be termed a rupture in relations, for no shots were fired.

In his hand Leonard held the terms of peace. They were contained in a letter from J. Griffen Moore, who happened to be his father. The situation was summed up in the closing paragraph of the letter:

"So the doors of the old home are open to you. I learn from reliable sources that you have settled down and made good as an automobile salesman. It has been a trying three years for me, all alone in the big house except for the servants, but I believe it has done us both good, and we will understand each other better when you return. There is only one obligation I will place you under; that is that you marry at once, and of course it must be some one in your own class. Maxie Dixon would suit me, and you used to appear extremely fond of her. I'll look for you shortly."

It was the first communication from his father since the latter sent him out into the world to shift for himself three years ago. It was after Leonard's second expulsion from college that the break occurred.

Leonard had steadfastly refused to shoulder any responsibility in life, had never been vicious, but had traveled with a clique that was not noted for its thrifty propensities or its mild forms of amusement; had openly defied hard and fast regulations of the school and had ended his career there with an extemporaneous valedictory address delivered in the presence of the faculty when the latter summoned him before it and which was far from being a eulogy.

The summons had resulted from a series of misdemeanors which had come to the faculty's attention, but when the faculty tried to express its opinion as to the merit of Leonard's sundry escapades the latter usurped the stage and expressed his ideas concerning the faculty, collectively and individually. He went home by the next train, bag and baggage.

When J. Griffen Moore shut the door of his magnificent home that night Leonard was on the outside with $500 in his pocket with which to "try to make something of yourself."

It woke Leonard up and, taking an inventory of himself, he decided it was high time to assume a different attitude toward life. Heretofore he had been irresponsible, because his father was wealthy and he was the only heir; consequently there had been no occasion to shoulder responsibility.

Now, of a sudden, there was plenty of occasion. He had been disowned by his parent, and his reasoning faculties told him J. Griffen Moore was right. So he went to work.

Three years later found Leonard a successful salesman, rooming at a place where other young business men and women made their homes. He had responsibilities, and he was glad of it.

Not once had he implored aid of his father. He was proud of himself, but not too proud to go back home when invited. Leonard had no particular liking for hard work, and he knew his father would get him a position where that kind of activity played a minor role. He had worked hard, but because he had to.

His heart filled with exultation, which showed in his eyes, he left his room and walked down the hall, pausing before a door, on which he knocked. It was opened by a pretty brunette, rather diminutive, attractive, intelligent young woman, who smiled him welcome and invited him to a chair.

"It's come, Minnie," he announced gleefully. "Father has relented, and I'm to go home. The world is rosy once more."

She walked to the window and looked out. The smile disappeared from her face when her back was turned to him.

"Tell me about it," she said.

He did. There was no reason why he shouldn't, because Minnie had been his confidante ever since he came to room here. They had been great friends—nothing more than that—and had spent many an evening together, discussing their hopes and ambitions. Minnie edited the woman's page on one of the newspapers, but had an intense yearning to become a police reporter.

They don't have women police reporters," she said, "but I don't understand why, seeing that they have women policemen. Anyhow, I want to be one. I'm tired of fashions and divorces and marriages and other heart throbs of the feminine world. I'd like to handle murders."

So Leonard told her how the rupture in relations was about to terminate and suggested they go out to dinner in celebration of the event, because on the morrow he would return home. But she insisted that they simply have one of their "chatty seances," as she expressed it.

"I suppose before long you will be married," she observed, "to one of your former sweethearts?"

This extracted a sigh from Leonard.

"Yes, I suppose I will. At least I hope to. Maxie Dixon always was my ideal. She's the most wonderful girl I ever met—a pronounced blonde with blue eyes—and she certainly would make me happy. I have always been insane over her, but of course when I left home I was obliged to give her up. Now it will be different."

He gave vent to another sigh, which was echoed by Minnie, no doubt out of sympathy for him, although there appeared to be little occasion for sympathy.

In the morning Leonard severed his connection with the auto sales company. The manager was not at all pleased, because Leonard had been a valuable man; but he was told that a place would be open for him any time he might care to return.

Then Leonard went to his father's office, where an affectionate greeting took place, and that night Leonard was formally welcomed back into the old home with a dinner party, at which young ladies and young gentlemen of "his class" were guests.

Among the guests was Maxie, and her greeting was effusive.

"I've missed you a lot," she said. "It would seem that you might have dropped me a line now and then."

"I was in no position to consider you as a—a friend," he reminded her. "I was just a poor working man. It would not have been the right thing, exactly."

"Perhaps you are right," she agreed. "But now we are back on the same level once more, and I shall expect you to make up for lost time and take me to all the best parties and dances and theaters."

While this conversation was taking place Minnie sat alone in her room pounding a dilapidated typewriter, trying to grind out material for her page. Leonard did not know that she had laid aside this work on more than one occasion in order to receive him and that it made the performance of her duties the next day doubly hard.

On this particular night the rickety machine would not run smoothly. Sheet after sheet of paper was torn up and finally Minnie admitted defeat, covered the typewriter, turned out the lights and moved her chair to the window, where she spent a silent hour, meditating.

It was only a sample of her program on several succeeding nights. A month after Leonard's exit from her life she sat thus at the window, lamenting the flight of inspiration, when a knock on the door intruded on her thoughts.

She exclaimed, wearily, "Come in," thinking perhaps it was the bothersome Miss Jenkins on a borrowing quest for the current magazines, or Mrs. Shear seeking a cupful of sugar, or Miss Haverhill with the latest gossip.

Instead a man stood at the opening when the door was thrown back. As the light was out she could not see who it was, but she could discern that he carried two suitcases. She pressed the electric switch and the light shone on the face of Leonard Moore.

"Back?" she exclaimed. "Did your father change his mind?"

"No," he said grimly, setting the suitcases in the hall and entering the room. "No, he didn't change his mind—but I did. Minnie, my three years of work have spoiled me for a life of leisure. Dad and I are on friendly terms all right, but I'm going to take my job back."

She motioned him to a chair, but he remained standing.

"How about your 'ideal?'" she inquired. "Why aren't you with her tonight?"

He walked up close to her, his face carrying an expression she had never seen before.

"Minnie," he said, and there was a peculiar softness in his voice, "Maxie Dixon isn't my ideal; she belongs to the Leonard Moore who used to be and who didn't know any better. You ask me why I am not with my ideal tonight and I answer that I am with her. I've been living three years under the same roof with her and I have just found it out."

Assert Ruin Was Chief's Home.

Casa Grande ruin, Arizona, is claimed by the Pima Indians who dwell in its neighborhood as the habitation of one of their ancient chiefs. They designate it by several names, among which are Vaaki, Old House; Civanavaaki, Old House of the Chief; and Sialim Civanavaaki, Old House of Chief Morning Green.

Casa Grande was a ruin when discovered and has not been permanently inhabited since first seen by white man. The walls of this historic structure are of a fawn color, slightly tinged with red. Externally they are rough, but internally are plastered and still showing places that formerly were as smooth as "Pueblo pottery."

Center of Population Moving.

How many of us can tell off-hand the exact center of the population of the United States? Every ten years the government calculates with great accuracy just where this point lies. The center moves westward at the rate of about fifty miles every ten years. When the center was first calculated in 1790 it lay three miles east of Baltimore, Md. In the first ten years it moved forty miles westward. By 1860 it had reached the State of Ohio and is today crawling slowly across the State of Indiana. In 130 years, says Boys' Life, the point has traveled westward about 600 miles.

Real Criticism.

"How did Biggins get to be so relentless a musical critic?"

"By listening attentively to all the things musicians say about one another."

Pains About the Heart

ANY derangement of the heart's action is alarming. Frequently pains about the heart are caused by the formation of gas arising from indigestion.

Relief from this condition is obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

SILENT SHADOWS

Just as in the sunlight, the shadow is cast without any effort, and is silent and often unnoticed of the man by whom it is cast, so in the nature of the case is our unconscious influence. It is silent, effortless and unavoidable, and falls either this way or that upon all who are daily in our pathway. It is, therefore, not a matter of option, but of compulsion, that we, as professed disciples of the Lord, lay to heart this fact and ask that our lives in their unconscious outgoing shall minister to His glory. For as a man's shadow is the similitude of his physical form, so his influence is the expression of his real self. On this account, every man is responsible for the kind of unconscious influence he is continuously exerting. The fact of its inevitableness involves him in the responsibility of determining its worth and quality.

INCREASED NEWS-PAPER POSTAGE

The Post Office Department has issued a circular advising newspaper publishers that on and after January 1st, 1921, and until the 1st of January 1922, all newspapers will be subject to postage at the rate of ¾ of a cent per pound. On and after the 1st of January 1922 the rate will be increased to 1½ cents per pound. An exception is made in the case of newspapers and periodicals published weekly, fortnightly or monthly in places having a population of not more than 10,000. These will still be entitled to free transportation to the extent of a circulation of 2500 copies per issue within a distance of forty miles from their place of publication. In all cases the centre of the area for free distribution must be the place of publication. Circulation transmitted beyond the forty mile zone and circulation in excess of 2500 copies will be subject to postage at the rates already set forth. On and after January 1st, 1921, the rate of postage on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a month, and on specimen copies, will be two cents a pound.

DRUG CLERK PUTS TANLAC TO TEST

"Three Bottles Put Me in Splendid Health," Says Herbert Knapton.

"Tanlac has been of such benefit to me that I feel it my duty to make the facts known to everybody," said Herbert Knapton, well-known drug clerk of 15 Epworth Ave., London, Ontario.

"As the result of an accident about three years ago I was laid up and had to stay in the house for seven weeks. I got in a very run-down condition and my blood was out of order for I broke out in pimples all over my arms. My stomach was also upset and I had to go on special diet because of indigestion. I frequently had to take medicine for constipation, and had so much neuralgic pain in my shoulder that I could get no rest at night without taking a sedative to induce sleep.

"I must confess that I did not think Tanlac could help me but a personal friend of mine was so benefited by it that I gave it a trial. I was both surprised and gratified by the results. It quickly gave men an excellent appetite and so improved my digestion that I could eat whatever I pleased without suffering any bad after effects. It relieved my constipation, purified my blood and the pimples disappeared. I haven't got an ache or pain in my body now and ever since I finished the third bottle of Tanlac I have enjoyed splendid health. I've been praising and recommending Tanlac ever since as a most excellent medicine."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE $2 WEEKLY

The day of the two dollar weekly newspaper has arrived, and a large number of papers have already bowed to the inevitable and fixed subscription price at that figure. The publishers have been hoping against hope that costs of production would commence to recede, but instead of recession there is increase in cost of all materials and stocks are harder to obtain than ever. The price of newsprint has advanced over 250 per cent. in the past three years, and a further advance is announced for October 1. Scores of papers that have been published for half a century or more have ceased to exist, and their owners have turned their attention to some more profitable means of livelihood. No industry has been so hard hit by the high cost of living as that of newspaper publishing and printing. Costs have doubled and trebbled, while the revenue has only perceptibly increased. Never a very profitable occupation, newspaper publishing in late years has become precarious, and a public-spirited sense of duty has been the incentive which has kept many a publisher from closing his doors and abandoning a profession for a trade. Few newspaper men have been tempted by the lure of gold to lay down the journalistic pen and engage in commercial pursuits, although the opportunity has come to many during and since the war. Those who still remain in the printing and publishing business are now compelled by stern necessity to increase the price of subscription, and it is expected that by January 1 next all country weekly newspapers will be charging a uniform subscription price of two dollars per year, not from choice, but of necessity.

Straight talk on Cream Separators by

Orangeville, Ont. Canada.

USERS of De Laval Cream Separators have carried away every first prize awarded at conventions of the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association since their first meeting in 1892. The record is unbroken!

The reason is that De Laval bowl design, together with low speed, enables the delivery of butter-fat globules unbroken and in their natural condition—thus insuring better butter.

Because of its close skimming the De Laval produces more cream, which means more butter.

Thus the user of a De Laval Separator gets both more and better butter.

Safeguard that valuable home of yours

YOU can never afford to let your home deteriorate for lack of paint. Lately property values have risen so high that the cost of a few cans of paint is a trifling expense for the safeguarding of the home. With this knowledge there is a more complete understanding of paint economy and a belief that it pays to use dependable paints, even if they cost a little more per can than the ordinary kind.

is guaranteed—every can of it—over the signature of the maker. There is also printed on it the basic formula which ensures permanence and "covering capacity." In spite of the rise in cost of materials, Brandram's B.B. White Lead and other similar quality ingredients are used in the same liberal quantities as in the very earliest days of B-H manufacture. B-H "English" Paint will never be allowed to deviate from its original standard of quality no matter how conditions may influence other manufacturers. There's too much at stake in the wonderful B-H reputation to risk its prestige by even a slight departure from the famous formula which gives it such "body" brilliance, durability and all-round satisfaction.

DUFFERINS GAVE BRACEBRIDGE A THOROUGH TRIMMING IN SATURDAY'S GAME.

Locals Have a Lead of 11 Goals For Return Game in Bracebridge on Friday.

Until shortly before three o'clock, the hour set for the commencement of the game, rain promised to mar the semi-final lacrosse match between Bracebridge and The Dufferins on Idylwyld Park on Saturday afternoon. Just as the crowd was beginning to gather, Old Sol's genial rays began to pierce the clouds, which quickly dispersed, leaving the landscape bathed in the warmth and sunshine of a perfect summer afternoon. The playing oval dried quickly and after the first quarter was in perfect playing condition. The rain had the effect of keeping many people at a distance from seeing the game. Still it was surprising how many spectators there were considering the unpromising weather conditions right up to the start of the match. It is estimated that at least 1500 people saw the game. The gate receipts were between $400 and $500 and would have been easily as large again had the weather outlook been favorable during the early part of the day.

The result of the game afforded The Dufferins and their supporters a great deal of satisfaction, for the green-shirts had the pleasure of walloping last year's champions by the decisive score of 15 to 4. The game was not nearly as one-sided as the score would indicate. The visitors handled the ball almost as much as the home team, but the work of their home division was not nearly as effective as that of The Dufferin home. The Bracebridge home is fast, but plays wide instead of boring in. This style of attack is dangerous against a defence that can be drawn out, but on Saturday the Dufferin defence simply allowed the visitors home to do the running and when they came in with the ball checked them so closely that the Bracebridge men got comparatively few good chances to shot. The Dufferin home on the other hand went straight in on the flags and either got their opportunity or lost the ball without any unnecessary waste of time playing for position.

Dufferins rushed hard right from the face-off, but lost the ball and then Bracebridge made an attack, but were stopped before they got a really good chance. Hostilities were quickly transferred to the Bracebridge end of the field, where the Dufferin home soon had the visiting defence working overtime. The attack culminated in a scramble in front of the flags and someone batted the ball into the nets, scoring number one for The Duffs. Blythe Brown got the second in short order on a swift pass from his brother Bert. Blythe took two more in clever fashion, going around his check both times in a manner that electrified the crowd. "Buck" Ewing got in close, accepted a pass and notched the fifth. Bracebridge was playing hard, and the home was showing some exceedingly clever work. Finally one of the visitors got clear away from his check after a bit of swift, accurate passing and fooled Booth with a lightning shot from the side. The quarter ended with the tally 5 to 1 for The Dufferins.

In the second period Blythe Brown tallied again after a bit of very pretty combination work in which Ewing and Stevens figured prominently. Henderson saved what looked like a score by a vigorous check before the Bracebridge man could get in position to shoot. The referee thought it was too vigorous and waved Bill to the penalty bench. Bracebridge pressed hard, but lost their vantage a couple of minutes later, when one of their men was retired for too vigorous application of the wood. The quarter was very even and there was only the one goal scored.

Earl Stevenson replaced Bill Stevens at centre in the second half of the game and Dr. Zinn took Golden's place on the attack. Zinn signalized his advent by tallying on a neat rush and shot from right in front of the flags. Bracebridge got their second goal a little later. Then Joe Cushing put the crowd on its toes by ambling up the field with the ball passing to one of the home men, getting close in for the return pass and scoring at close range. It was a clever bit of play and "Joe" deserved the plaudits of the spectators. Bert Brown got another on a cleverly taken pass from Blythe Brown and then Stevenson did his bit by further increasing the lead of The Dufferins. One of the Bracebridge men had a bad attack of cramps and was compelled to retire, Henderson going off with him. Zinn scored shortly after play resumed. Cushing was ruled off for a hard check and while he was at the fence the Bracebridge home ran in its third goal. The next went to The Dufferins after a clever bit of passing in which Zinn and Blythe Brown figured, the latter doing the scoring. Blythe took another before the period ended, making the score 7 to 2 for the quarter, and 13 to 8 for the game.

In the last quarter Black, one of last season's regulars, filled his old place on The Dufferin defence, this being his first appearance on the team this year. Bracebridge was aggressive and Booth was called on to make a couple of difficult stops. Then Ewing got into the limelight with one of his famous dodging rushes. After passing a couple of men "Buck" transferred the ball to Blythe Brown, who dropped it into the net. In the next Black ran in from defence and passed to Bert Brown, who placed The Dufferins final counter. Bracebridge got another before time was called, making the score 15 to 4 at the finish.

The game was fast and remarkably clean throughout. The Dufferins put up their best brand of lacrosse and that is saying a good deal. Booth performed brilliantly in goal and the whole defence played fine lacrosse. Densmore has not played any better game this year and the same can be said of Cushing and Scott. Henderson fitted right into the combination and did a whole lot of useful work. Black was steady and sure as of yore. Out in the field Stevens, Stevenson, Ewing and Golden worked like beavers and were right on their checks, whenever Bracebridge had the ball. Blythe Brown also did a lot of fielding and the Bracebridge defence found it almost impossible to hold him whenever he took a notion to go in on the flags. Zinn was in good form and was always dangerous. He is fast, a neat stick handler and seemed to fit in to the attack combination much better than in some of the earlier games. Bert Brown was closely checked, but this did not keep him from getting a couple of goals and doing a lot of clever work close in. Bracebridge has a strong, clever team and will give The Dufferins a great game in the return match on their home grounds on Friday. The defence checks closely and vigorously and the home is fast and tricky and would undoubtedly run up a big score against an inexperienced defence. The visitors were in prime condition, but were handicapped from the fact that they have not had any games all season. The players and officials were:—

Bracebridge—goal, C. R. Bastedo; point, S. Boyer; coverpoint, Gavin; first defence, Tudhope; second defence, Parent; centre, Anderson; 1st home, J. McDonald; 2nd home, Dr. Bastedo; outside home, Cooke; inside home, H. Boyer; spares, B. Bastedo, G. Gavin, J. J. McDonald.

Referee, E. Sullivan; Judge of Play, T. Humphreys.

Bracebridge made the journey here by motor arriving in town on Friday night and leaving again on Sunday. The team and their supporters put up at the Grand Central while in town. "Jimmy" Collins, the Bracebridge trainer, who is a former Orangeville boy, and who learned to play the game here, came in for a lot of good natured jollying during the game. "Jimmy" did himself credit by taking it all with a smile and when the match was over was one of the first to admit that The Dufferins had the better team. It is said that Collins came to town cherishing the belief that his pets could win from The Dufferins right in Orangeville. If this was the case the Bracebridge trainer got a rude awakening.

Sarnia nosed out Mimico by 9 to 8 in the first of home and home games in Sarnia on Saturday. Mimico expects to overcome the one goal margin in the return game in Mimico on Saturday. If they do they will then go into the finals against the winners of The Dufferins vs. Bracebridge round for the intermediate championship.

A LETTER TO FRANCE IN 1667

In 1667 the Jesuits wrote to Old France that, as a country would not be formed entirely without the assistance of manufacturers, an industry was already in operation making shoes and hats, and that another industry was contemplated for the making of linen and leather. In that year, 253 years ago, there were twenty shoemakers in the territory now comprising the Dominion of Canada, against the 158 shoe factories that to-day maintain in prosperity some 22,000 workers.

NOTHING SURER

The trade territory of a town is not all dependent upon the distance to the neighboring trading places. The trade depends upon the enterprise of the merchants and residents of the town. If the town does not reach out after its trade it will come only as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after the business in the surrounding country advertising in every possible way and making good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever increasing radius, the town will gain a reputation for being awake and it will forge to the front.

A WORD FOR ORANGEVILLE

In connection with its report of the recent Brampton-St. Simons game on Idylwyld Park, The Brampton Conservator has the following paragraph respecting the local arrangements for the game:—

"Good feeling has long existed between Brampton and Orangeville lacrosse players. A very considerable percentage of the 2,000 present were residents of the town, and with one accord they were anxious for the success of the Brampton team. Everything possible was done to give the two teams fair play and to make possible the best brand of lacrosse. They succeeded well and again won the thanks of the respective teams and assisted in restoring the national game to its former position.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms, and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red, strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W.T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N. S., says:—"I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with hastily cooked in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

RELESSEY.

The Relessey Epworth League held its annual motor picnic on Saturday, September 4th, to Wasaga Beach. It was altogether a decided success. Everyone present reported a splendid time, and the weather was all that could be desired for such an outing. It was not exclusive to the youth alone of the society, as a number of the senior members joined the party, and helped make it an event to be remembered with pleasure by all.

200 ACRE FARM SALE

Mr. John B. Lane sold his fine 200 acre farm, part of lots 2 and 3, con. 16, East Garafraxa, to Mr. Malcolm Gray, of Rochester, N. Y., formerly of Orangeville. We understand the sale was a cash transaction and that Mr. Gray paid in the neighborhood of $13,000 for the property. The deal was put through by Geo. Wilkins, real estate and insurance agent, Orangeville.

CONCERT RECITAL

Miss Edith M. O'Flynn, pupil of Maestro Carboni, will give a Concert Recital in Orangeville on the 23rd of September, after which she will open a studio for instruction in voice culture.

ALTON.

The members of the Alton Epworth League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Tribble on Friday evening, Sept. 10th, to tender them a reception following their marriage a few days previously. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all. After a few speeches felicitating the newly wedded couple and wishing them all kinds of happiness in the years to come, the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games. Refreshments were also served. Mr. Tribble and his bride proved themselves an excellent host and hostess, leaving nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of their guests.

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations have been holding union services for the last eight weeks. The closing service of the series was held in the Methodist church on Sunday night.

Rev. W. N. Carr, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has returned from his vacation and will resume services in his church next Sabbath.

We regret to report that Mrs. William White, one of our oldest residents, sustained a stroke on Sunday and is very low at time of writing.

Alton is to be congratulated upon having two representatives at the World's Sunday School Convention in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dods, who are leaving this week for Tokyo, Japan, where the Convention is to take place. Mr. and Mrs. Dods expect to sail from Vancouver on the 23rd. They plan to visit China and perhaps other parts of the Asiatic continent before they return.

The Epworth League held a big rally in the Methodist church on Monday night. The leading feature of the program was an illustrated address by Rev. Dr. Birks, a returned missionary from China. Dr. Birks, who is supported by the Leagues of the Orangeville District, will address the Epworth League of Caledon Methodist church on Friday night.

years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffrey, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it spread to my knee, and developed into an open sore. I had medical treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house.

"One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been cured by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything curing me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out; the pain was ended, and, after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was on the road to recovery. With perseverance, the awful sore was finally completely healed, and, although that was three years ago, there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning."

Zam-Buk is the best remedy, also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Fred. H. Rutherford, Secretary of Owen Sound Board of Education, Had His Arm Broken While Motoring Near Orangeville.

Mr. Fred H. Rutherford, of Owen Sound, met with a very painful and serious accident on Wednesday afternoon of last week when motoring to Toronto. He and his mother-in-law, Mrs. A. Maitland, were going down to visit friends in the city and were on the Prince of Wales Road about four miles from Orangeville when they met a car much bigger than their own. Mr. Rutherford turned out as far as he could to let the other car pass, he was prevented from turning out any farther by a deep ditch. The big car did not attempt to get off the road but coming on at a high rate of speed struck Mr. Rutherford's roadster, and turned it over in the ditch, continuing on its way without waiting to see what damage had been done.

Mr. Rutherford had his arm broken, but was able to crawl out from under the wrecked car. He was able to lift it with his shoulder so that Mrs. Maitland could also get out from under it. They made their way to Orangeville and Mr. Rutherford had his injured arm attended to and the fracture reduced. Although very badly shaken up Mrs. Maitland was not seriously hurt beyond a bad cut in her chin. They were able to proceed to Toronto later in the day.

The car was badly wrecked, and Mr. Rutherford was unable to identify either the occupants of the strange car or its number.

Many Charges are Made in Petition Against T. K. Slack, U. F. O. Member for Dufferin.

Monday's issue of the Toronto Daily Star states that John Johnston, William Braiden and George Moffatt, the petitioners in the Dufferin Election appeal, have filed the particulars of charges against Thomas Kerr Slack, the respondent. It is alleged in the particulars that the U. F. O., with the object of intimidating electors, used the co-operative stores as a means of discriminating against farmers who belong to farmers' clubs but who were not supposed to be voting or working for the U. F. O. candidates.

"During and prior to the elections of October, 1919, the farmers clubs became associations of the U.F.O. in Dufferin and other ridings. Every member became a worker and active and aggressive agent of the U.F.O. candidate, being intimidated by the central organization with penalties in trade and supplies.

"The U.F.O., under the personal direction of their board and the guiding genius of J. J. Morrison, raised a campaign fund from farmers and others who were opposed to the existing Government, and this money was used in Dufferin and other ridings to induce a candidate to contest the riding.

"The said J. J. Morrison was formerly a resident of Dufferin."

A list of 23 farmers' clubs is given who are said to have raised money, taken voters to the polls, promised return of subscriptions, provided vehicles and meal, drink and refreshments.

It is further alleged that Slack agreed that all scrutineers throughout the riding should receive an allowance for their meals.

A score of names of scrutineers who are said to have received $3 each and refreshments as a bribe to influence their vote is given.

Instances are alleged of money being placed in the hands of members of the U.F.O. in Dufferin County, it being charged that the money was placed in their hands to corruptly influence voters. It is stated in each case that the amount of the money has not been ascertained by the petitioners. It is alleged that a store promised a rebate on produce purchased by electors in order to influence their vote. Cases are given in which the U.F.O. candidate is said to have provided refreshments for his campaign managers before the election.

An allegation is made that a farmer was promised the position of organizer in the U.F.O. if he would devote his time and energy to the election, and that he is now occupying that position on salary.

Another man for the use of his influence and motor car is said to have been given a position in a store. A scrutineer is said to have cautioned voters in marking their ballots "not to forget Slack," thereby influencing the vote. At another booth U.F.O. organizers are accused of having procured many women voters and workers who were voting for the first time to canvass right in the polling booth, making it necessary to eject them.

It is alleged that Mr. Slack paid for gasoline used in a worker's car throughout the campaign and on election day.

The protest is down for trial at Orangeville on Sept. 27th.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms, and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red, strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W.T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N. S., says:—"I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with hastily cooked in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

RELESSEY.

The Relessey Epworth League held its annual motor picnic on Saturday, September 4th, to Wasaga Beach. It was altogether a decided success. Everyone present reported a splendid time, and the weather was all that could be desired for such an outing. It was not exclusive to the youth alone of the society, as a number of the senior members joined the party, and helped make it an event to be remembered with pleasure by all.

200 ACRE FARM SALE

Mr. John B. Lane sold his fine 200 acre farm, part of lots 2 and 3, con. 16, East Garafraxa, to Mr. Malcolm Gray, of Rochester, N. Y., formerly of Orangeville. ALTON.

The members of the Alton Epworth League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Tribble on Friday evening, Sept. 10th, to tender them a reception following their marriage a few days previously. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all. After a few speeches felicitating the newly wedded couple and wishing them all kinds of happiness in the years to come, the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games. Refreshments were also served. Mr. Tribble and his bride proved themselves an excellent host and hostess, leaving nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of their guests.

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations have been holding union services for the last eight weeks. The closing service of the series was held in the Methodist church on Sunday night.

Rev. W. N. Carr, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has returned from his vacation and will resume services in his church next Sabbath.

We regret to report that Mrs. William White, one of our oldest residents, sustained a stroke on Sunday and is very low at time of writing.

Alton is to be congratulated upon having two representatives at the World's Sunday School Convention in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dods, who are leaving this week for Tokyo, Japan, where the Convention is to take place. Mr. and Mrs. Dods expect to sail from Vancouver on the 23rd. They plan to visit China and perhaps other parts of the Asiatic continent before they return.

The Epworth League held a big rally in the Methodist church on Monday night. The leading feature of the program was an illustrated address by Rev. Dr. Birks, a returned missionary from China. Dr. Birks, who is supported by the Leagues of the Orangeville District, will address the Epworth League of Caledon Methodist church on Friday night.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

Why You Should Buy Shoes Now!

WE Shoe Manufacturers of Canada—and there are 158 of us in all—feel that there are certain features relating to our industry that you should know.

One of the principal things is this—

There is little likelihood that shoe prices will be very much lower than at present, for some months to come, at least.

IN any event, any reduction that the manufacturer may be able to make to the retailer will be slight; on the other hand, there is a possibility that prices on some styles may be higher.

Your shoe retailer bases his prices to you on what he pays the manufacturer. We, in turn, are dependent on the cost of leather and other things, as well as of labor.

We buy our materials months before our shoes are on your feet, and the price of these shoes is naturally regulated by the cost of the materials of which they are made, and of the handiwork expended on them.

Therefore, our advice to you—and we give it in all sincerity—is to BUY NOW any shoes you need for your self or your family. Don't buy extravagantly or recklessly, but do so carefully and judiciously.

Your retailer will give you this same advice too, if you ask him. He knows, as we do, that if the public demand for footwear suddenly started up abnormally, scarcity of shoes and higher prices would probably result.

This is a situation that should be mutually avoided, and will be if you buy what shoes you need, as you need them.

Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

A SHOCKING TRAGEDY

Mount Forest Man Burned to Death

One of the most shocking events in the history of the town took place on Saturday night shortly after midnight at the Grand Central Hotel.

Mr. Dan Cummins, Jr., who was the last to retire, when he went up to the second storey, heard some one moaning in the third flat and ran up, accompanied by Lorne Smith, who had just come in from the garage. They saw some one in flames run through the hall from one room to another. Following him they found it to be George Couttie, a boarder at the hotel, who had thrown himself in agony on the bed. They tried to get the burning garment off him, but not suceeding, one smothered out the fire with blankets, while the other hurried to the other room and succeeded in throwing the burning bedclothes out of the open window in time to save the building from destruction. A few minutes more and that would have been impossible.

A doctor was brought as quickly as possible and with the assistance of Messrs. D. Cummings, Lorne Smith, Pat Murphy, who occupied the next room, and W. and L. Gilstorf, what relief was possible was given to the sufferer whose hands and body were frightfully burned. He was taken to the Strathcona Hospital where he lingered until late Sunday evening, when he succumbed to the pain and shock.

George Couttie was a young man of about 39 years of age. He came from Scotland some twelve years ago and was employed in various capacities in town and vicinity. Of late he has had charge of the Canadian Express for Mr. Frank Hunt. During the war he enlisted with the 153rd Battalion and trained with it here for a time, but on account of his short stature was not allowed to go with it, but was transferred to the Bantams, of Toronto. Going with them overseas he served behind the lines in France and was wounded. At the close of the war he came back to Canada, obtained his discharge and went to Scotland to visit relatives. Later he came back to Mount Forest. His parents, a sister and two brothers live at Cardona, Maryfield, Dundee, Scotland, and to them sympathy will be extended in their sad affliction.

There is no doubt as to the cause of the fire. Only a short time before the discovery of the fire the deceased had gone to bed perfectly sober. A package of cigarettes, with one taken out, with a few matches, was found on a chair beside the bed. He had evidently gone to bed, lighted a cigaret, fallen asleep and allowed the cigaret to drop from his hand to the bed. Being a heavy sleeper the fire had made considerable headway before he was aroused, and could not be put out before he was fatally burned.

The family in Scotland were communicated with by cable and instructions were given to Mr. R. A. Fowlie, manager of the Royal Bank here, to make funeral arrangements. The funeral, which was private, took place yesterday forenoon from Gibson's Undertaking Parlors. It was private, but many returned soldiers and other friends and acquaintances of the deceased were present. The services were conducted by the Rev. William Cooper, of Westminster church, which deceased attended. Interment took place in the Mount Forest Cemetery, in the plot secured by the Great War Veterans' Association for deceased soldiers.—Mount Forest Confederate.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Shelburne Lad's Life Crushed Out by Threshing Tank.

A fatal accident of a most distressing character took place in Shelburne on Thursday afternoon of last week, whereby Angus Douglas Bell, the 5 year and 6 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Bell, of Owen Sound street, had his young life crushed out without a moment's notice. At the time of the accident the threshing outfit of John Bennington, comprising the engine, separator and water tank, was proceeding north on Gordon street to set up for a threshing on the following day, and three young lads, A. D. Bell, Floyd Thornley and John Bellerby, climbed on to the tongue of the tank wagon and it is thought that the deceased jumped or fell off and was caught or run over by the front wheel of the wagon, which was partly filled with water.

This all happened unawares to the drivers of the threshing outfit, who proceeded on their way, and were more than shocked when they learned of the tragedy. The two other lads, who escaped, immediately raised an alarm, and the father of the dead child was the first to pick him up, but life was then extinct, the lad having sustained a fracture of the skull. The remains were taken to his home and the funeral took place to Shelburne cemetery on Sunday afternoon last. The child was a bright, attractive little chap and the parents are terribly distressed over their loss. The unfortunate affair filled the entire neighborhood with gloom and the attendance at the funeral on Sunday demonstrated a feeling of the most profound sympathy for the afflicted parents. The funeral service was in charge of Rev. A. E. Thornley, pastor of Knox church, and the floral offerings were very numerous. Beside the parents, the deceased is survived by three brothers, Arthur, Walter and Grant; three sisters, Grace, Flora and Mary. To the bereaved parents and family the sympathy of the community is extended.—Shelburne Free Press.

We heard a man say:

"Let the Telephone Company use the profits they made in prosperous years, if they need money to build more plant."

That's exactly what we have done!

Shareholders of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada have been paid only a moderate return on the par value of their stock — no more!

We have made no distributions of bonus stock, no 'melons' have ever been cut; no distribution ever been made of surplus earnings. Every share of stock has brought us its par value, or better.

For forty years we have consistently used all surplus earnings, all idle reserves to buy more telephone plant. Every dollar has gone back into the business to extend it and serve new subscribers.

What has this policy meant to the public?

The Board of Railway Commissioners at our last rate investigation found that if we had not pursued this honorable course of turning all surplus earnings back into the business we would have had to provide in the year 1918 alone an additional $908,000 out of revenue to pay interest on the plant so secured. This, of course, would have meant higher rates to subscribers.

The fact is, we need millions of new money just because our funds have always been at work, keeping down our bond and stock issues, and ensuring low rates to our subscribers!

GLENELG HOME BURNED

A Broken Lamp Was the Cause of the Conflagration.

The home of Mr. Robt. Griffin, Durham Road, Glenelg, formerly owned by the late Christopher Firth, was completely destroyed by fire about 7 p.m. Sunday evening, says the Durham Review. Mrs. Griffin, alone in the house, in putting her youngest child to bed, let fall the lamp she was carrying, which broke and the flames which leapt up, spread so rapidly that she was unable to extinguish them. The four older children and two lady relatives visiting them were back in the bush at the rear of the house at the time, so could not arrive soon enough to aid. Mr. Robt. McFadden and other neighbors were quickly on hand, but the house, a large two storey dry frame one, was already doomed and a piano and almost all contents were consumed. A few chairs were saved but little else. We understand there is a small insurance. Mr. Griffin, who was in Hamilton, was phoned for and motored up, arriving about 4 a.m. The family spent the night with Mrs. Griffin's brother, Mr. Edwards, Bunessan, and now occupy the residence of Ms. Robt. McFadden, formerly vacant, opposite their own place. Mr. Griffin contemplated erecting a shingle and saw mill on his place soon but his misfortune will necessitate a new home and furniture as well.

The sense of humor is not, as a rule, accorded to the English as a people, but it must be allowed that the British schoolmaster who deliberately set himself to work to gather the choicest specimens from among the errors made by his pupils, possessed just a trifle. WIGGINS–VARCOE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Varcoe, Fairmount Farm, Burks Falls, when their eldest daughter, Edyth, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Leighton A. Wiggins, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Wiggins, Shanty Bay. Rev. J. F. L. Macdonald was the officiating minister. The bride, who was given away by her father, was unattended and wore a travelling suit of navy blue serge with hat to match. Miss Barbara Mitchell played the wedding march.

TRIBBLE–DAILEY

On Wednesday, Sept. 1st, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Dailey, Everett, was the scene of a pretty wedding when their eldest daughter, Elizabeth May, became the bride of Edward James Tribble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tribble, Alton, Ont. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of pearl georgette over duchesse satin. She also wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and sweetheart roses. Miss Minnie Tribble, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, wearing maize georgette over silk and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. E. Dailey, the bride's brother, was the best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. G. Morris, Alton, and the wedding march was played by Miss Bya Gray, Orangeville. The groom's gift to the bride was a lovely Oriental ivory set, to the bridesmaid an ivory brush and comb, to the pianiste, a fountain pen and to the groomsman a pair of cuff links. The young couple left shortly after the wedding breakfast was served, on the evening train from Alliston, on a honeymoon trip to Bracebridge, Muskoka, the bride wearing a blue serge suit, with hat to match. Those from a distance were Mrs. Dearborn, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. R. Tribble, Alton, Miss Bya Gray, Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray, Laurel, Mr. Bert Tribble and Miss Sarah Tribble, Caledon, and Miss Edith Tribble, Alton. Among the other presents was a beautiful electric reading lamp given by the girls of the C. P. R. office.

SALMON–BRADLEY

A pretty September wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bradley, Wellington St., on Monday, the 6th inst., when their second daughter, Beatrice, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Sewell Salmon, Local Registrar S. C. O. for Muskoka and eldest son of Town Clerk and Mrs. Alex. C. Salmon, of Bracebridge. The marriage ceremony, which took place at 2.30 o'clock in the presence of a number of the immediate friends, was performed by the Rev. H. L. Partridge, pastor of Orangeville Methodist Church, in the living room, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white duchesse satin and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses. She also wore the groom's gift, a beautiful sunburst of pearls. The bride's sister, Miss Hannah, who acted in the capacity of maid of honor, was attired in ivory Swiss taffeta and carried roses and maidenhair fern. She also wore the groom's gift, a fine onyx ring set in pearls. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Mr. James Bradley, who received a tie pin set in pearls. After a dainty buffet luncheon the bride slipped away and changed her bridal attire for a travelling suit of Joffre blue silvertone with taupe shoes and hat to match. The happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto, Buffalo and eastern points and on their return will spend a few days at Perry's Island, Muskoka, before taking up their residence in Bracebridge. The gifts were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The Banner joins their numerous friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

WHITE–HUDSON

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Parsonage, Danforth Ave., Toronto, on Thursday, Sept. 2nd, at 8.30 p.m., when Miss Emily Hudson, adopted daughter of Mr. John A. Skelton and the late Mrs. Skelton, of Orangeville, became the bride of Mr. F. W. White, son of Mrs. J. Grant, of Niagara Falls. The Rev. J. J. Ferguson was the officiating clergyman. The bride was becomingly dressed in a navy blue suit and large picture hat and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The young couple were unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a dainty pearl necklace. Mr. and Mrs. White will reside at 257 Sterling Road, Toronto. The Orangeville friends of the bride extend their hearty congratulations.

SCOTCH DOUBLES

Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club held a successful Scotch Doubles Tournament last Friday. Seventeen pairs of local players took part and outside clubs were represented by twenty-two pairs. Ideal bowling weather featured the tourney and added not a little to the enjoyment of the day. The greens were in splendid condition and this factor contributed to improve the quality of the bowling, which was of a high order in nearly every game. The trophy event was won by Dr. Robertson, of Elora, and partner, E. G. Bingham and Russell Morrow, of Orangeville, being the runners-up. Dr. G. J. Campbell and his son Irwin Campbell, of Grand Valley, won the Association event from W. C. Hopkins and W. E. Irvine, of Orangeville. It was late Friday night, or rather, early Saturday morning, when the Tournament was concluded.

HOME FROM HOLIDAYS

Rev. J. A. Matheson and family, of Mono Mills, have recently arrived home from Kaignoshene Point, a summer resort on the Georgian Bay, where they spent a very pleasant vacation. Kaignoshene Point, which is fast becoming a favorite resort for tourists, is a most charming spot among the 30,000 islands on the east shore of the Georgian Bay between Midland and Parry Sound. About thirty cottages are built there, besides two large summer hotels which are quite near. The fishing is very good and the scenery, fresh air and bathing cannot be surpassed.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

"A Heart to Heart Talk About Ages," proved a very entertaining topic at the Epworth League meeting last Monday night. Several musical numbers were also much appreciated. Next Monday evening, Dr. W. H. Birks, a missionary home on furlough from China, who is supported by the Epworth Leagues of the Orangeville District, will give an illustrated lecture on his work in China. This is a lecture that everybody should hear. To defray the expenses of the meeting a silver collection will be taken at the door. Dr. Birks will also occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

MRS. E. THOMPSON

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Thompson passed away at her home in the Dufferin House on Friday, September 10th, at the age of 68 years. Deceased was the mother of Mrs. Savage, wife of Mr. William Savage, proprietor of the hotel. The funeral was held by motor to Flesherton on Sunday forenoon, interment taking place in the Flesherton cemetery shortly after one o'clock. Rev. T. H. Stewart conducted a short service at the home here and Rev. Mr. Belfry officiated at the grave. Our citizens extend their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Savage in their bereavement.

MISS MARY ANN DAWSON

Miss Mary Ann Dawson, daughter of the late Thos. Dawson, passed away at the home of her brother, Mr. Thomas Dawson, South Ward, on Sunday night after a long illness. The late Miss Dawson was 73 years of age and had been a resident of Orangeville for the greater part of her life. Mr. Dawson is the only brother living, and Mrs. Dan May, of Orangeville, who has been with her sister during her illness, is the only surviving sister. The funeral was held from Mr. Dawson's residence to Greenwood cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. T. H. Stewart conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were two nephews, Wilmer and William Dawson, of Melville, and Messrs. T. J. Robinson, R. J. McConnell, Harry Shaw and Walter Fairbairn. We join in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

CULTIVATE HABIT OF SENDING IN NEWS

One of the things that ought to become a fixed hibit in every household in Orangeville is that of sending The Banner the news items that you may know of; tell us of your news and any neighborhood or other items that will be of interest to yourself, your neighbors or your friends.

Every lodge, church, body or social organization should have some representative who will look promptly and carefully after its news reporting. If you think some organization has better news service than your own, it is probably because that organization looks after such matters better.

Write your items and send them in where possible. Or telephone them, but please don't ask that long lists of names be taken over the telephone, as it not only requires much time, but usually errors occur in lists thus given.

Above all, be early. Never wait till the last minute to send an item that can be sent in early.

The Banner's telephone number is 30. Fix this in your mind.

CORN CURIOSITY

Mr. W. J. Brown, Centre St., Orangeville, left at The Banner office one day last week a cob of green corn that is a decided curiosity. Instead of a single cob, there is a large central cob surrounded on three sides by five smaller cobs, all firmly united to the larger stem at the base and for an inch or two upwards. In appearance the smaller cobs suggest the five fingers of a hand holding the large central cob, and in that respect the cob bears a striking resemblance to a cob sent to the Toronto World a few days ago by Charles Neale, of Queenston, Ont., and photographed in the World of Saturday morning, Sept. 4th.

WHEN BABY IS CROSS

Mothers, when your baby is cross—when he cries a great deal and no amount of attention or petting cheers him—something is the matter. It is not the nature of little ones to be cross and peevish—the well child is a happy child. Give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and he will soon be well again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and relieve the other minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Oscar Bedard, Ste. Sophie, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent remedy for constipation. They relieved my little one when nothing else would and I can strongly recommend them to all mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Hidden Dangers," the Vitagraph serial of sensational mystery and adventure, starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, is still packing the seats at the Gem Theatre every Monday and Tuesday nights. Coming as it does at a time when everybody in the country is more or less "het up" over spiritualism and other things occult, the serial, with its whole underlying story being one of mystery, black art, dual personality and uncanny doings, has awakened widespread interest both because of its theme and for the interest and action of what is one of the most unusual of all chapter motion plays.

Hypnotism is another element in this serial which attracts. Not only those morbidly interested in the manifestations of hypnotism, but scientists and psychiatrists as well, have broken all precedent in many cases and are thus far making perfect scores for attendance at the weekly showings of the serial episodes. In the fifth episode, with its particularly fitting title, "Hands of Horror," those interested in hypnotism have a special treat coming to them. One of the most startling scenes in this chapter occurs when the girl, Madeline, (Jean Paige) falls a victim to the hypnotic power of the evil Dr. Brutell. Not at close range, or with the permission of his subject, does the villainous doctor put her under the spell, but through several walls and from another part of the house he forces the girl to succumb.

SIX MONTHS' LEAVE

Some time ago the Ontario Trustees' Association asked the congregation of St. Andrew's church to grant their pastor, Rev. W. M. Morris, six months' leave of absence for the purpose of allowing him to engage in educational work under the direction of the Association. The Session and Managing Board of the church agreed to grant their pastor leave, provided arrangements could be made for a minister to take charge of the work here during the interval. A suitable man has now been secured in the person of Rev. Wm. Fingland, a recent graduate of Knox College and a young man of splendid pupil ability. Mr. Fingland had charge of the services last Sabbath and preached fine sermons morning and evening. He is a war veteran, was married a short time ago and will take up his residence here as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. Mr. Morris has been devoting his time to Educational work since the first of August and will continue in this work for another four months at the least. He is organizing Educational Associations in the different school inspectorates of the province for the purpose of increasing interest in education and educational methods. These Associations will, it is hoped, be eventually linked together by a provincial organization.

GLENWILLIAMS' BAND

Last week's Banner inadvertently omitted to refer to the presence and playing of the Glenwilliams Brass Band at the Brampton-St. Simons lacrosse game on Idylwyld Park a week ago Saturday. The members of the band motored to town for the game and played a number of selections before the match and during the rest periods. Their services were appreciated by the spectators, who enjoyed the music so freely rendered by the musicians from the Glen. The attendance of the band shows how widespread is the interest in championship lacrosse of the Brampton-St. Simons brand.

Canadian shoe manufacturers claim that for many years fully 20 per cent. of the finer lines of boots and shoes sold in Canada, although made in this country, are sold as imported goods in deference to the popular prejudice for the foreign products. Canada will never reach her highest development while Made in Canada products are discriminated against by her own people.

Mr. F. S. Beckwith, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Peel County, has tendered his resignation which has been accepted by the County Executive and he has accepted the Boys' Work Secretaryship in Oshawa. It is expected that Mr. Beckwith's successor will be Mr. Alex. McLaren, who is one of the leading rural sociologists of Ontario.

The abolition of the county constables' fee system and the substitution of an arrangement under which police protection would be provided by a staff of salaried men, is one of the recommendations that will probably be made by the commission appointed by the Drury Government to investigate the judiciary of Ontario.

MADE REAL SPORT

Bulls Not Always Easy Victims in Arena.

One Animal So Noted for Its Fighting Qualities as to Be Deemed Invincible—Imported Texan Furnished Excitement.

The toreador has not always been the hero of the bull ring. There was once a bull that earned the plaudits of a Spanish arena on more than one occasion by clearing it of his antagonists. Strangely enough the bull neither killed nor injured any man. But he did put to flight every toreador, matador, picador, chulo or banderillero who dared to enter the ring with him; and, although the crowds came to see him slain, his conduct proved so valiant that the people demanded that his life be spared.

This bull was named Lechuzo. His first appearance in the arena was made at San Lucar. He so suddenly cleared the ring of his enemies that the people rose in admiration and demanded his reprieve, for despite his bravery, he would have been treacherously approached and put to death in accordance with the usual practice had not the people intervened.

Again at Cordoba upon the healing of the wounds inflicted upon him by the picadors at San Lucar, Lechuzo drove all his enemies before him and again his life was spared at the demand of the spectators.

So in time Lechuzo began to be regarded as invincible, and finally he ended his days in peace at the age of ten years.

Some years ago a herd of Texas bulls were imported from their native land to Seville to give special attraction to a bullfight of more than ordinary importance. Those American bulls furnished the Spaniards with some interesting sport.

The first of the intended victims when confronted in the ring by horse and picador wholly neglected the horse, but paid instant and undivided attention to the man. The bull bellowed as if from sheer delight at the anticipated encounter and attacked the picador furiously. He pressed the fighter so hard that, defense being useless, the man sought safety in inglorious flight by scaling the barrier erected between the audience and the ring as a provision of safety.

The picador was ardently and efficiently assisted over the barrier by the horns of the animal and was followed so closely that he narrowly escaped with his life by reaching a convenient gallery. The bull did his best to get at him, but, finding this impossible, looked about for other game.

The stone seats in the inclosure at Seville were ten feet above the ground, and this height has always been an insurmountable barrier for a bull, but this time things were different, for as soon as the Texan bull saw the throng above his head he stepped back, and the next instant he was among them.

Before the people could escape he had tossed half a dozen of them into the ring, but they were all rescued by the ring attendants. The stone seats cleared, the steer returned to the ring, and seeing no one else to whom he might throw the gage of battle, he took the exact center of the ring and bellowed his defiance to the world. Meantime the management had got busy, and a soldier with a Mauser was summoned from a nearby barracks and the bull's life was ingloriously ended.

Mud Wallows Are Hygienic.

An old proverb says: "Mud does not stain." It might be completed by: "It even serves us soap, at least in Esthonia."

There are from three to five million inhabitants in Esthonia who have no soap.

It is difficult, in a country where there is such a lack of transportation facilities, to assure sufficient quantities of a necessary product to a population which is greatly in need of other things besides. That is why the American Red Cross, while waiting for new supplies of soap, has instituted mud baths. Esthonian mud has no healing powers, but thanks to regular mud baths, public hygiene has improved in this country.

A very simple thing; but it had to be thought of.—From Le Figaro, Paris.

Had Advanced Rates.

Whenever Warren went on an errand for aunty she invariably gave him a penny for a stick of candy. Last week she sent him to the drug store and upon his return with the desired article she, as usual, remunerated him with a penny.

"I'll 'cept this, on account," compromised Warren.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded aunty.

"My charge for running an errand has gone up to a nickel," independently explained Warren. "Don't forget that the price of candy has been raised now."

His Great Idea.

Frederick, aged four, has a beautiful mother, whom he very much admires. One day he accompanied his father to an art exhibition and for the first time he saw marble statuary. His father explained to him that many of the busts represented real people and how the artist cut them out of marble.

On the way home he was unusually quiet. Finally he exclaimed: "Oh, daddy, couldn't we have mother busted in marble?"

SUN DANCE LODGE AT TORONTO

The exhibit of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the Toronto Exhibition this year is unique and very representative of the glories and beauties of the Canadian Pacific Rockies. It is housed in the popular Railway Building and immediately catches the interest of the visitor. It is the C.P.R. Sun Dance Lodge and quite typical of the Rockies and the Indians of the West. The premier attraction on entering the building is the huge Sun Burst which throws its rays around the gigantic tepee in which are garnered the side scenes portraying in miniature form some of the gorgeous settings which none but the Canadian Rockies can produce. The rest of the Indian tepee is hand painted with symbolic writings and signs typical of the Rocky and Plain Indians. The side embellishments are finished in white birch, the bark of which was always a favorite with the Indian not only for the construction of his canoe but for the building of a quick camp fire. On each side of the entrance office accommodation has been worked into the setting where information of every description can be obtained and telegraph service is also installed. This has the tepee finish and real Indian tepee poles transported from the west for the purpose have been used. The lighting effect of these elaborate interiors are electric with miniature Indian tents as shades producing an interesting effect.

The scene from Sulphur Mountain overlooking Banff Springs Hotel in the foreground and the beautiful Rundle and Tunnel Mountains, and the stretch of the Bow river in the background is undoubtedly realistic. A fine model of the C. P. R.'s famous hostelry built specially for the occasion by Messrs H. Morgan Limited, Montreal, is electrically illuminated and gives the visitor the impression that he is paying a visit to Banff instead of sweltering under the atmosphere of an exhibition. The Banff Hot Springs famous for their health giving qualities, especially for curing rheumatism, were known to the Red men long years ago and accidentally discovered by some engineers when surveying for the C.P.R. The huge swimming tank hidden from the view, but situated directly in front of the hotel has a depth of water from three to eight feet and is one of the great summer attractions. The beauties of Banff are to be found on all sides. There are mountains to the right, mountains to the left, mountains in front and also behind, and the Bow river seen in the back of the picture reminds one of opals with its pale green color, and its ever changing fires. The view is entrancing, and one need never feel dull or suffer from ennui, in this delightful spot. The scene cannot be eclipsed for grandeur, although Lake Louise depicted on the opposite side of the tent certainly gives it a close running, and many people prefer this exquisite location high up amidst the innumerable peaks of the Canadian Rockies. This picture is a representation which meets the eye of the tourist looking for the grandeurs of Lake Louise from almost any spot behind the Chateau with a glimpse of the wonderful gem of a lake and a gigantic glacier and mountains in the rear. On arrival here feelings of wonder, awe, and admiration grip the mind, compelling a reverential silence. The Victoria Glacier which forms the background feeds the lake which is shown by real water, while the towering peaks of Mount Lefroy and Mount Aberdeen are observed in the distance. The model of the Chateau is another masterpiece from Morgan's. The frieze of Indian decorations and the magnificent transparencies lend a perfect finishing touch to the Sun Dance Lodge effect. The remaining sides of the "Lodge" are of typical white birch interspersed with pannelling of beautiful real Indian mats made from Cedar bark and there are also reproductions in miniature of the famous Totem poles from Alert Bay.

There is also on exhibition a very valuable collection of Indian relics from the West Coast, all of which are original and many over a hundred years old. They include eating and cooking utensils made of wood and whalebone, bows and arrows, coffins and tom-toms, cedar chests and models of Indian houses. The illumination effect is perfect comprising some five hundred lights. The scenic paintings were executed by Mr. Hal Ross Perrigard assisted by Mr. A. Robinson, and the decorations by Mr. Perrigard assisted by Mr. James Crockart all of Montreal. Taking the exhibition as a whole, fifteen or twenty minutes could be spent to advantage in the C.P.R. Ways Building as it is not only an historical representation but educational from every viewpoint.

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Earnest Clark, Police Officer, 238 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine cured me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

PROPOSAL TO AMALGAMATE COUNTY JAILS ABANDONED

A despatch from Milton of August 26th says: It has been finally decided not to attempt the amalgamation of Dufferin, Peel and Halton county jails, as it is believed it would be an unwise move to have only the one jail at Brampton for three counties. One reason is that it would cost sixty thousand dollars to enlarge the Brampton jail. Prisoners to be tried in Dufferin and Halton would have to be conveyed back and forth, and as far as Milton jail is concerned, it costs less to maintain its prisoners than any other jail in the province. Up till to-day the Milton jail held nine prisoners during the past week, the most it has had at any one time this year. There were released this afternoon. Three Toronto men are waiting transportation to Burwash for individual cases of stealing. They are all young men between 16 and 20 years of age.

HAMILTON WOMAN GAINED 25 POUNDS

Mrs. Nichols Only Weighed Ninety Pounds Before She Started Taking Tanlac.

"My wife has not only gained twenty-five pounds in weight but is enjoying better health than she has for years past, and we've got to thank Tanlac for it," declared Richard J. Nichols, of 88 East 24th St., Mountain Top, Hamilton, a few days ago.

"Owing to the strain of bringing up the children and doing all her own work, she had been in a general run-down condition for the past four years. Her appetite was very poor and the little she ate caused indigestion. The gas would form so bad as to bloat her up so she could hardly breathe. She had frequent sick headaches that almost drove her frantic, and always got up in the mornings feeling dull and heavy. She lost flesh until she only weighed ninety pounds, and although she tried all sorts of medicines none of them gave her more than temporary relief.

"She heard of so many people being helped by Tanlac that she thought she would like to try it and so I got a bottle for her. It was surprising to see the way it gave her an appetite and in a short time she could eat anything she desired and never had any trouble with gas or indigestion afterwards. As I've already said she has gained twenty-five pounds in weight and feels fine all the time. That tired feeling is all gone, she never has a headache now, sleeps well at night and gets up feeling as fresh as a May morning. I just can't describe how thankful I am for the great good it has done her, and I have every confidence in recommending the medicine."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

The saw mill of Mr. Adam Schaver of the 16th concession of Keppel, was burned to the ground on Wednesday night, Sept. 8th. The greater part of the lumber around was also consumed. Mr. Schaever had been cutting shingles in the afternoon and had quite a fire under the boiler. It is thought that a spark from the smoke stack lodged on the roof of the mill.

The engine house at Shelburne water works, together with the gasoline engine, electric motor, and other fittings, was destroyed by fire at an early hour a week ago Saturday morning. The fire, which is supposed to have resulted from a short circuit, had made considerable headway before it was discovered. Fall work on the land will not be interrupted on Hand Bros.' farm near Stanton, at least not by numerous calls to attend threshings. Their crop has been threshed as it was hauled in. There is a law on the Statute Books of Ontario requiring parents and guardians to send their children to school regularly up to the age of fourteen years in order that they may have at least a fair education to fight the battle of life. The law goes farther than this and makes it a punishable offense on an employer who hires a child within the school age to work during the school term.

COST—is what you put into a cream separator.

VALUE—is what you take out of your cream separator.

Value in a cream separator depends upon the amount and the quality of service to be got out of it.

Because it lasts fifteen to twenty years, the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy. Considering its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is exorbitant in comparison.

With present high butter-fat prices and the scarcity of labor this is truer today than ever before.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At the regular meeting of the Presbytery of Orangeville held in St. Andrew's Church here on Sept. 14th, Rev. D. R. Drummond, B. D., of Hamilton, was nominated to the position of Editor of the Church Paper of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. D. M. Solandt, M. A., of Winnipeg, to the position of Manager of the Presbyterian Publications and Rev. J. D. Cunningham, M. A., of Welland, to the Chair of Systematic Theology in Robertson College, Edmonton. A hearty and unanimous call from the congregation of Creston, B. C., in favor of Rev. Jenkins Burkholder, of Caledon, was received. Mr. Burkholder, however, notwithstanding excellent prospects in the Creston field, did not see his way clear to accept the call. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

1. "That in the judgment of the General Assembly that all self-supporting congregations aim at a minimum stipend of $1800 and a manse' be commended to the congregations of our Presbytery and that a copy of the Assembly's resolution, together with the minutes of Presbytery be sent to the Chairman of the Managing Board of each congregation with the request that he bring the matter before the Board and congregation."

2. "That a Committee of Five be appointed to devise ways and means for further urging this matter upon the congregations."

By request of the Trustees' Association of Ontario and with the consent of his congregation, a leave of absence for four months was granted Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, that he may continue his work in furthering the interests of the schools throughout the Province. Rev. Wm. Coutts was appointed interim moderator of St. Andrew's Church.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

How Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new, rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Graham, Port Perry, where he purchased a young bull that is sired by The Duke-110008—claimed to be the best dunl purpose Shorthorn sire in Canada at the present time. The young bull's dam is also a very fine milker, having at the same time good lines from a beef point of view.

In another column Mr. Nodwell offers some young stock for sale that are, as he says, the outcome of his efforts along this line.

DUFFERINS AGAIN

Won Return Game From Bracebridge by Score of 11 to 6.

The Dufferins demonstrated their class on Friday last by defeating the strong Bracebridge team decisively on the latter's grounds. To go out on a lacrosse field on which they had never played before, which most of the players had not even seen until Friday, and defeat a team of the calibre of Bracebridge by a score of 11 to 6 is assuredly a feat of which the Dufferins and their supporters have good reason to feel proud. Bracebridge expected to win and the home players went on the field determined to win. That they failed in their expectation was not due to any fault of their own, but to the fact that they were up against a faster and stronger team. There was plenty of hard checking, particularly in the second half of the match, but there was not a great deal of deliberate roughness. At that the Dufferins brought home a few mementoes of the game in the form of cuts and bruises. Blythe Brown fared worst in this respect, getting a nasty cut on the head, which compelled him to retire during the third quarter. Up to half time the Bracebridge team held their own fairly well with their more skilful opponents. In the opening quarter Dufferins scored twice, while their opponents were able to find the nets but once. The tally for the second period was 4 for Dufferins and 3 for Bracebridge, making the score 6 to 4 at half time. Dufferins had the better of the argument in the third playing period, when they ran in five goals, while two was the best their opponents could do. With the game well in hand and a lead of 11 goals from the former game in Orangeville, the visitors could hardly be blamed for taking it easy during the final twenty minutes of the game. The home did not score, as a matter of fact did not try very hard to score, but then the Bracebridge home was up against the stonewall Dufferin defence and was not doing any scoring either. The finish of the game was unusual from the fact that neither team tallied a goal during the quarter. A fair-sized crow saw the game, but as the great majority of the spectators were Bracebridge people they were naturally keenly disappointed over the defeat of the home team. Some twenty-five cars made the 116 mile journey from Orangeville to Bracebridge, carrying the players and about one hundred ardent supporters of the green and white. Most of the cars left here on Thursday evening, but a few of them did not start until six o'clock on Friday morning. Most of the players went to Toronto after the game to witness the Mimico-Sarnia match on Saturday afternoon.

As Mimico won the Sarnia-Mimico round, The Dufferins will now meet the Mimico team in home and home games in the finals for the intermediate championship. The first game of the series will be played on the Mimico grounds on Saturday afternoon and the second on Idylwyld Park here on Wednesday afternoon of next week.

ALTON

While driving near the village recently W. C. Martin, one of our young men, was run into by an auto. Martin had the good luck to come through the mix-up without suffering serious injury, but his buggy was badly smashed. He haled Arthur Duke, of Orangeville, before Magistrate Hawkins for the offence, but it transpired that Duke was not the right party and the charge was withdrawn. Martin has since got on the trail of the guilty party and promises doings unless the man who ran him down comes across with a fair settlement for the damage to his rig.

Mrs. John Pinkney and daughter, of West Toronto, spent the week-end with the former's uncle, Mr. W. J. Dods.

Mr. Ted Dorrington, of Kitchener, spent the week-end with friends in Toronto and Brampton and with his parents here.

We are glad to have Rev. W. N. Carr with us again after his vacation.

Mr. G. R. Dods, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dods and Master Arthur and Miss June Dods, of West Toronto, spent Sunday with Mr. W. J. Dods.

Mr. Orval Smith and Mr. Dick Ellis, of Galt, spent the week-end with friends in town.

Mrs. John Burnett has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. R. Patterson, of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dods left for Japan on Saturday.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Fred Madill with us.

A few of our townspeople attended the Orangeville Fall Fair and also the concert in the town hall in the evening.

Our Methodist people are preparing for a memorial tablet for the soldier members of the congregation who made the great sacrifice in the late war. Plans are rather indefinite as yet, but we understand that the memorial will take the form of a tablet, which will be placed in a suitable place in the church.

We regret the death of one of our oldest citizens in the person of Mrs. William White, who passed away late on the afternoon of Wednesday, Sept. 15th, after a trying illness. The remains were interred in Alton cemetery on Friday afternon, Rev. J. F. G.Morris, the family pastor, conducting the services at the house and grave. Citizens of all classes and denominations were present at the service and on all hands were heard expressions of regret at the passing of one who was universally known and beloved, and of sympathy for the bereaved husband and family. Mrs. White was one of the oldest members of the Methodist church here and in earlier life had taken a very active interest in the choir and other departments of church activity. She was a fine type of the devoted Christian woman.

Mr. Fred Madill had the misfortune to have the end taken off the forefinger of his right hand while cutting sweet clover one day recently. Mr. Madill had a great clover crop, cutting some stalks that measured 9 feet and 2 inches.

ORANGEVILLE FAIR

DUFFERIN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Attendance and Gate Receipts Establish a New Record.

Dufferin Agricultural Society was again fortunate in being favored with ideal weather for its annual fall exhibition on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. We doubt if President Jackson could have selected any finer day than Wednesday, even if the choice of weather had been entirely in his hands. The day was simply perfect for a Fair or any other outdoors gathering.

Taking everything into consideration the exhibition was one of the most successful ever held by the Society. From the attendance standpoint it was easily the most successful. The size of the crowd was reflected in the gate receipts, which were about $100 in excess of last year's receipts. The great majority of outside visitors came by auto and the display of cars on the grounds and along the streets approaching the entrance has never been surpassed in the history of Orangeville.

The exhibit of horses and cattle was noticeable for the superior quality of the animals shown. In some of the classes the number of entries was hardly up to the average. Any falling off in this respect is probably attributable to the lateness of the harvest and the shortage of help on the farms, factors which made it impossible for some would-be exhibitors to spare the time necessary to fit their stock for the show-ring. Sheep were not as numerous as usual and there was a falling off in the showing of hogs. This was disappointing to the Directors, in view of the heavy expense incurred since last year for the purpose of providing suitable stable accommodation for these two classes of stock. The poultry exhibit was by all odds the largest and best that Orangeville Fair has had for many years.

The large hall was well filled, the conspicuous features being the fruits and domestic products exhibits, the fine displays made by the Maples, Mono College and Orangeville Women's Institutes, the showing of flowers, the school children's extensive exhibit, embracing manual training work, writing, map drawing, art, domestic science, nature study, vegetables and flowers, and the special displays by Orangeville merchants and other business concerns.

On the downstairs floor of the hall J. E. Smith & Co., Massey-Harris and Ford Agents; Martin's Music Store, Brampton; W. J. Stubbs & Son, proprietors of the Caledon Garage; the Orangeville Music Store and the Home Products Co., a Hamilton concern, made attractive displays of their wares. Mr. Percival Harding, a former Orangevillian, was in charge of the exhibit for the last named firm. Of particular beauty and interest was the showing of floral designs by E. A. Parsons, Orangeville, "The Home of Flowers." Upstairs there was a fine display of ladies' work, this department being much better filled than it was a year ago. The McMillan Clothing Co. and T. S. Parkinson & Co. occupied nearly the whole of the east side of this floor with extensive exhibits of Furs, Fur and Fur-lined coats, overcoats, suits, ladies' coats, mantles and dresses. The exhibit of the McMillan Clothing Co. was on an elaborate scale and conveyed a good idea of the range of goods carried by this wideawake and enterprising firm. J. C. Kentner and A. G. Cooper had exhibits of photos, which attracted much interest and no end of admiring comment. G. A. Moore, harness dealer, was to the fore with a display of harness and other leather goods. One of the centres of interest was the school children's exhibit at the north end of the hall and at times during the afternoon there was a veritable crush of admiring spectators in this part of the big building.

Outdoors hundreds of spectators lined the horse ring toward the north end of the grounds and followed the judging with the keenest interest. The races, which were well-contested attracted general attention, the grand stand being filled to capacity and the homestretch being thickly lined with spectators right from the stand to the upper end of the stretch. The results of the speeding events follow:—

Ice cream and soft drinks booths were liberally patronized and had all they could do to take care of all the business that offered. There were the usual games of chance and all were properly busy during the afternoon. Orangeville Citizens' Band and Henderson's Juvenile Pipers from London furnished a fine musical program. The Pipers, sixteen in number, proved a popular attraction. They were a bonnie looking lot of lads and lassies and the way they could skirl the pipes was a revelation to the crowd and a source of unending delight to every Scotsman at the Fair. They were a versatile set of youngsters, who, in addition to the regular band numbers, danced the sword dance, Highland flings, Scottish and Irish reels, Lancashire clogs, etc., in the most approved manner. Starter William Hull, the veteran Erin journalist, auctioneer and horseman, voiced the sentiment of many people when he declared that the Band was alone worth the price of admission.

The concert on Wednesday night attracted a capacity audience despite the threat of rain, which fortunately did not materialize until late at night. One of the best Fair Night programs ever given in Orangeville was provided by the lads and lassies of the Juvenile Band, ably assisted by Sam Munro, not inaptly described as a juvenile Harry Lauder, his gifted and attractive little sister, Dorothy Munro, and Alice Dunbar, who invariably brought the house down with her comic make-ups and selections.

High interest rates usually imply risk.

But just now, money is "tight."

To move the grain crop, the Banks are calling loans from manufacturers and merchants.

Money usually available for investment purposes is required to "carry on" business.

Interest rates therefore are high, and bond prices are low.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

Canada—Why?

IS it really worth while to develop institutions and industries which are distinctively Canadian, and which promote the welfare and prosperity of the Canadian people? Of course it is!

Are we wasting our time and energy in training Canadian ability and encouraging Canadian enterprise? Of course not!

CANADA is more than an accident of geography. The magnificent record of effort made by Canadians in the great European struggle bears witness that the peaceful and unhindered development of the Canadian ideal should be maintained.

The future of Canada depends upon the sincere and earnest self-expression of Canada's millions of workers—at the plough, the loom, the forge—in the factory, the office and the home. And loyalty to Canada is best expressed, not in bursts of patriotic emotion on state occasions, but in supporting and sustaining Canadian enterprise and Canadian industry.

Canada produces footwear of many desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. Buy Made in Canada Footwear and you are then assured of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Fit and Style.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Weight of Motor Truck Load Exceeded its Carrying Capacity.

What is known as the lower steel bridge on King street, Bolton, collapsed when a heavily laden motor truck attempted to pass over it on Friday last. J. de Florence was in charge of a large five-ton truck belonging to Wilder Transports, Ltd., who were conveying a large steam boiler from Toronto to J. Walshaw & Son's woollen mill here. The truck and boiler are said to have weighed eleven tons. The truck was nearly over when the sides of the bridge buckled with the great weight and the rear end of the truck slowly sank to the bed of the river, the front wheels remaining on the abutment. The driver had no difficulty in stepping from his cab. The transport company soon had other trucks and a gang of men on hand and by noon on Saturday had the boiler transferred to another vehicle which safely landed it at its destination.

The wrecked bridge was a 48 ft. span, 14 ft. roadway, with plank flooring, and was erected in 1903. A notice placed on the bridge some years ago by the council said its capacity was 5000 pounds. The driver of the truck said he never noticed the sign before the accident.

The council will take steps to make the transport company pay for the damage done.—Bolton Enterprise.

The Bowman Trophy, a lawn bowling prize, has travelled over Western Ontario more than any other challenge trophy. It has been the most coveted trophy for the past six years, and has never been allowed to stay in any one place very long without an attempt to lift it being made. CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHES

Completely Relieved by this Grand Fruit Medicine, "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. ALFRED DUBOISSEAU
482 St. Catherine St. E., Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Indigestion, constant Headaches and Constipation. I took various medicines for the trouble but nothing seemed to do me any good.

Then, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Now I am free of Indigestion and Headaches, the Constipation is cured, and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine.

'Fruit-a-tives' is a grand medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor."

ALFRED DUBOISSEAU.

'Fruit-a-tives' are made from fruit juices and valuable tonics—and are pleasant to take, their action being gentle and mild, yet always most effective.

LAUNDRY BURNED

Leaking Gasoline Can Cause of Blaze in Brampton.

Sam Sim, the Chinese laundryman, Main St., north, east side of the G.T. viaduct, was burned out of his cabin on Tuesday morning at 8.30. Sam had a half gallon can of gasoline attached to ironing-machine that leaked where the pipe entered the can. A rag tied about the leak was intended to remedy the matter until Sam could get a new machine in, but Tuesday morning Sam did not notice that the gasoline was crawling along the outside of the pipe to the flame, until there was a burst of fire in the shop.

Sam tried to save some things but got his hair singed and was forced out into the street where he paused to stand and wave his hands and yell "belly up!" thereby conveying the idea that he wished the firemen to "hurry up." The boys laid a line of hose and squelched the blaze in a moment and it was not necessary at any time to run up the aerials. Sam left on the noon train for Toronto to think the situation over in a quiet place and far from the maddened customers who are loudly demanding of the neighbor, who has kindly undertaken to sort out the laundry, "why didn't he save this?; why didn't he have it insured; whatse want to have a fire for; whatse going to do about it," and other remarks. The neighbor says he can quite well understand now why Sam has gone on a few days' vacation. However, all Sam's customers are not grouchers and some of them say he was a very decent Chink and they're sorry for him and hope he'll soon get opened out again.

You'd hardly believe but in the Chinaman's laundry were found tablecloths worth eight and ten dollars and sheets and other stuff so precious nowadays. You'd think no woman would send them to be washed in chloride of lime.

The building belongs to a Canadian, Mr. Billingsley, at present in Montreal and he is said to have an insurance of $350 on it.—Peel Banner.

Watered Stock

If we had been paying dividends on "watered stock"—

If we had issued stock to shareholders at less than its par value and were asking for revenues to pay dividends on such issues—

Then we would expect the public to take the position that we had no right to increased rates!

But we have done neither of these things. On the contrary our plant represented, in actual cash invested, up to December 31st 1919, $16,000,000 more than our combined stock and bond issue.

By turning back into the business all surplus earnings, all idle reserve funds, we have kept the demands upon our revenues for dividends and interest down to a minimum—lower in proportion to the investment than any enterprise we know of.

But now, with the keen competition for money, we must make sure of such a return on our investment as will attract new capital.

An adequate rate for our service is the only means of accomplishing this. No one has found any other solution.

A COMPARISON BY STATISTICS

To some people statistics are both unreliable and uninteresting, but when we keep in mind the fact that they are approximately correct we ought to find them also both interesting and valuable. For instance, the statistics just published for 1919 for Ontario show an increase over 1917 in population of 61,332; with an increase for the cities of 62,078 and for the villages and towns of 4,221 and a decrease from the townships of 5,067. The present population is as follows: Townships, 998,597; villages and towns, 528,326; and cities 1,094,862, a total of 2,621,785. This shows that even now, when high prices avail, the drift from the farm is still unchecked. Our farm population is only 38 per cent. of our total, and 62 per cent. of our people live in villages, towns and cities. The average wealth per capita, according to assessment, returns, is as follows: Farms, $708; villages and towns, $503; and cities, $1,001. The amount of taxes paid per capita was as follows; Townships, $11.24; villages and towns, $11.63; and cities, $40.46. These figures show that while the wealth per capita in the city is assessed at about double that on the farm, the city dweller pays four times the amount of municipal taxes. In school taxes the assessments are: Townships, $5,093,924; villages and towns, $2,870,136; and cities, $8,474,337, or $5.10 per capita in the townships, $5.43 in the villages and towns, and $7.75 in the cities. This does not seem a very striking contribution toward national education but it will be noted that in the townships and towns the school tax forms about half the total tax, while in the city it forms less than 20 per cent. of the total tax. This is accounted for by the fact that the city is heavily taxed for pavements, water, light and police and fire protection. Another item worth noticing is the total assessment upon land and buildings. In the townships the land is assessed at $500,497,171 and the buildings at $194,540,273; in the villages and towns the land is valued at $77,687,195, and the buildings at $153,558,536; and in the cities the land stands at $496,795,154, and the buildings at $452,353,537. This is of very immediate interest to any municipalities which aim to take advantage of the recent legislation and exempt buildings from taxation. It would mean that in the townships about 40 per cent. would have to be added to the present land assessment; in the villages and towns the land assessments would be about trebled; and in the cities they would be increased 90 per cent.

INCREASED NEARLY 800 P.C.

The barn belonging to O'Brien Bros., 14th con., Bentinck, destroyed by lightning a few weeks ago and on which there was an insurance of $1800, was built 27 years ago for $700. The barn was 50x67 with 22 ft. posts. O'Brien Bros. got figures for the erection of a complete new barn the same size as the old and as the figures were $6200, or nearly 800 per cent. more than the old one, there will be no barn built. There in a fairly large driving shed on the unused barn will be bought and the premises and the framework of an two barns will be sufficient to hold the crop. It costs as much in these days of highpriced material and high cost of labor to put up a large barn as to buy a farm.—Chesley Enterprise.

CHILDREN MUST BE PROTECTED

The children must be safeguarded, for, if they do survive the frequent coughs and colds, it is often with the lungs so weakened that they become chronic sufferers from bronchitis or consumption, Being composed of simple ingredients of undoubted value, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is admirably suited as a treatment for children. It is pleasant to the taste. So much so that children delight to take it on this account, as well as because of the quick relief it affords them.

ORIGIN OF NAME MULMUR

Interest has been aroused as to the origin of the name, Mulmur, the northern township in the County of Dufferin. A recent inquiry through the weekly newspapers of the district has brought a reply from Dr. Keffer, of Beeton, who claims that the township was named after one of Tecumseh's two daughters, Mono and Mulmur.

History, however, does not support the Dr. in his view. Nor is it upheld in respect to Mono and Adjala, which current belief of local historians trace to the family of three daughters of the celebrated Indian warrior.

Gardiner in Nothing but Names, published in 1899, a volume which is authoritative being the result of much careful research says: "The reeve of Mulmur says it is generally supposed that this township, (Mulmur) was named after a son of Tecumseth. The supposition is probably wrong as Tecumseth had no son of that name, but the true origin is forgotten. The nearest approach to the name is Maolmura of Fathan, an Irish poet, who wrote in 844 and whose poems are preserved in the Leabhar Ghabhaltus or Book of Invasions, an old historical record, a copy of which, transcribed in the twelfth century from a more ancient manuscript is now in the Buckingam Library at Stowe. .....Senator Allan, of Toronto, says he has always regarded Mulmur as an Indian name or a corruption of an Indian name.

As to Mulmur or Mono being named after a daughter of Tecumseth, also spelled Tecumseh, Benjamin Drake's Life of Tecumseh" says he had no daughter and only one son, Pugeshasenwa,—a panther in the act of seizing its prey.

Gardiner in respect to Mono says, "This name may have been given by Sir Peregrine Maitland being the Spanish word meaning monkey, just as he named Oro, the bear, Zorra, the she fox and Lobo, the wolf. The residents apparently prefer to derive it from Mona, a daughter of Tecumseh. There is another and newer township in Ontario called Mona, which is the Roman name for the island of Angelsea. The Spanish derivation must stand unless the reader prefers to derive Mono from the Indian word Mah-noo, meaning "let it be so," or from Monon, "the little iron wood tree."

Dr. Keffer has opened an interesting discussion and it would be well if he or others were to continue their investigations and give publicity to their findings.—Collingwood Bulletin.

While being rung, the axle of the Anglican Church bell in Erin Village was smashed a week ago Sunday evening. It was repaired by Mr. Ward, of Hillsburg, who is using the oxy-acetylene welding process.

JAMES GAMBLE

Mr. James Gamble, an old and widely known resident of the township, passed away at his home near the corner of the 16th line and the north townline, East Garafraxa, on Thursday evening last. Deceased, who was 79 years of age, was hale and vigorous until a few days before his death, when the inevitable breakdown occurred quite suddenly and unexpectedly. Mr. Gamble was born down country, but came to East Garafraxa with his parents about seventy years ago. He was an honest, hard-working man, whose excellent qualities as a neighbor and citizen earned him the confidence and good-will of the people of the community in which his life was spent. He was twice married, and is survived by his second wife, Miss Annie Pratt prior to marriage. Of a family of twelve children by the first marriage, there survive six sons and two daughters, namely, Mrs. Wright, Fred and Evan in the West and Ida, George, William, Wilfrid and Richard, all living in the Waldemar neighborhood. George, the oldest son, had left for the West on a business trip a few days before his father's death and was unfortunately unable to get home for the funeral, which was held from the bereaved home to Greenwood cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Practically the entire countryside and a number of former friends from a distance assembled at the home for the service, which was conducted by the family pastor, Rev. J. A. Ross, of Waldemar. An unusually large motor cortege accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Greenwood cemetery. The pallbearers, all close neighbors of the deceased, were Messrs. Geo. Lomas, Robert Rea, Wm. Cornelius, Joseph Carney, James White and John Black.

WILLIAM PATTERSON

In the death of William Patterson, which took place at his home in the village of Mono Centre on Wednesday of last week, the township of Mono has lost a lifelong resident. The late Mr. Patterson, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Patterson, pioneer settlers in the Mono Centre district, was born on lot 16, con. 2, east, where he resided continuously until five years ago, when he retired from the cares and responsibilities of the farm and moved to Mono Centre, where he and his faithful partner spent the evening of life in well-earned leisure. Deceased, who had reached the ripe age of 80 years, 8 months and 27 days, had been in failing health since early last spring. He was confined to his bed for five weeks before his death. He accepted the trials and suffering of his last days on earth with patience and cheerful resignation to the will of the Master, whom he loved and strove to serve. His end was calm and peaceful, as befitted the close of a long life rich in service and fortified by a steadfast Christian faith. A kindly man, honorable in all his dealings and always ready to give just recognition to the rights of his fellows, Mr. Patterson was a model neighbor and a law-respecting citizen. He enjoyed the esteem and confidence of his home neighborhood and his demise will be keenly regretted by many old friends. He is survived by his widow, Miss Elizabeth Wilson before her marriage, and a family of three sons and six daughters. The latter are W. H. Patterson, Rosemont, Elmer Patterson, Orangeville, Herbert Patterson, on the homestead, Mrs. A. M. Turnbull, Mrs. J. J. Henry and Mrs. E. A. Avison, Mono Centre, Mrs. Sam. Ewing, Orangeville, Mrs. A. K. Henry, Hyningsmills, and Mrs. Sydney Bateman, Elva, Man. Another daughter, Annie, died about twenty years ago. Mr. Thos. Patterson, Mrs. Adair, living in Dakota, and miss Barbara Patterson, Toronto, are the surviving brother and sisters. Deceased was a staunch Presbyterian and had been an elder in Burns' Church, Mono Centre, for thirty years or longer. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held to Burns' Church cemetery on Friday afternoon. Rev. Wm. Coutts, the family pastor, conducted an impressive service in the bereaved home. The remains were borne to their last resting place in a rich oak casket by pallbearers selected by the deceased a short time before his death. The flowers included a beautiful pillow from the family. The pallbearers were the three sons and three sons-in-law, namely, S. Ewing, A. M. Turnbull and E. A. Avison. The sympathy of the many friends is extended to the aged widow and the family in their time of bereavement.

BURGLARS BUSY

Some burglars had a busy time in Bolton Friday night. Entering Smith & Schaefer's hardware store by a second-storey window, they blew open the safe with material secured on the premises, securing sixteen dollars in change. At McFall's flour mill office, where the safe had been left open, ten dollars was taken from a drawer. They also visited T. Linfoot's harness shop and the cellar of C. E. Chambers' drug store, but secured nothing. A sledge hammer and other tools taken from A. E. McCabe's blacksmith shop were used in their depredations. One young man, supposed to be in the gang, who visited several houses making inquiries of a suspicious nature, is described as round-faced and wearing an overcoat with belt.

ELEVATOR DESTROYED

Serious Fire at Cheltenham Sunday Morning.

Fire completely destroyed the elevator and granary at Cheltenham early on Sunday morning. The buildings are close to the G. T. R. tracks, and a spark from an engine is supposed to have caused the blaze. Two thousand bushels of grain were stored in the granary, and were destroyed, together with the weigh scales, gasoline and other contents. The loss to the owner, Deputy Reeve Elliot, of Chinguacousy, is only partly covered by insurance. The village is without fire-fighting apparatus, but a volunteer bucket brigade prevented the fire from spreading to buildings nearby. Grand Trunk outbuildings were destroyed by the flames, and for a time the station was in danger.

INNIS–WATSON

"Fairmont Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. I. Watson, of Caledon, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at high noon on Saturday, Sept. 18th, when their daughter, Elva Reta, became the bride of Mr. Robert J. Innis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Innis, of Mono Road. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. P. W. Spence, of Claude, in the presence of the families of the bride and groom. The service took place in the drawing room, the yung couple taking their places in a floral gateway of pink and white asters. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked winsome in her wedding gown of white georgette trimmed with seed pearls and carrying a bouquet of cream roses. She also wore a pretty necklace, the gift of the groom. Miss Olive Watson, sister of the bride, played the Lohengrin wedding chorus prior to the service. The groom's gift to the pianiste was a dainty French ivory jewel case. Shortly after the wedding breakfast the newly wedded couple left on a week's motor trip to Hamilton, Niagara, Buffalo, Woodstock and other Western points. The bride travelled in a blue tailored suit, fitch furs, and feather hat. On their return they will take up their residence on the groom's farm near Mono Road. Mr. and Mrs. Innis are a popular young couple and their many friends unite in wishing them all possible happiness in their new home. The bride received a large number of beautiful wedding gifts and also several cheques for substantial sums.

IN REVERSE

Erin Man Had Exciting Time With His Auto.

On Tuesday, while Mr. F. Ascott, Ninth Line, Erin, was in town, he stopped his Maxwell car at the Bush Hardware gasoline pump for gasoline, and after having his wants supplied, got into the car to start away. The starter refused to work and he got out to crank it; unknown to him the gear-shift of his car was in reverse and when the engine started, away went the car backwards. Mr. Warren, Fourth Line, Erin, had his team tied to a post at Mrs. Milloy's store and the car backed into them; the frightened horses broke away, damaging the harness and wagon but were not allowed to get far. Mr. Ascott jumped into the car and endeavored to get it under control, in doing so it ran across the road, on to the sidewalk in front of the finishing department of the Erin Casket Factory, and stalled, just in time to save the back of the car going through the large plate glass.

In the excitement Mr. T. J. Bush narrowly escaped being trampled down by the frightened team and Mr. Kearsh, of the Casket Factory was nearly run over by the car.

Fortunately no one was hurt and little damage was done other than to Mr. Warren's harness and wagon. We are quite sure that Mr. Ascott will carefully examine the gear-shift next time he starts his car. It is some time since our citizens saw such an exciting stunt pulled off—Erin Advocate.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The annual Missionary Meeting of the Orangeville Epworth League, in the Methodist Church on Monday night, was well-attended and proved both interesting and profitable. The speaker of the evening was Dr. W. H. Birks, a medical missionary now home on furlough from China. Dr. Birks, who is supported on his field by the Orangeville District Leaguers, appeared on the platform in Chinese costume and after exhibiting and explaining the dress of the Orient, gave an address on his work including a typical day's program in the hospital of which he has charge. Several interesting curios and exhibits were displayed by the speaker.

Several musical numbers were much appreciated. The annual missionary subscriptions were then taken, when upwards of $300 was subscribed.

Next Monday evening a Social Rally will be held under the auspices of the Social Committee. A goodly number of visitors are expected from outside points. Come and bring your friends.

ANOTHER FARM SALE

Mr. J. H. Sloan has sold his 100 acre farm on the Prince of Wales Road, Mono, to Mr. Abraham Reid, also of Mono, for $8,000, possession to be given on March 1st, 1921. Mr. Sloan purchased this farm about three years ago for around $6,000, so that his sale shows a very fair profit indeed. In addition to the profit from the sale, Mr. Sloan will have the proceeds of this year's crop of hay, grain and potatoes, which he values at $2,000. Mr. Sloan is already on the lookout for another good farm. The sale was put through by Auctioneer J. B. Irwin.

DONALD M'GREGOR HERE

The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church enjoyed a rare treat on Sunday night, when it was privileged to listen to two solos by Donald C. MacGregor, the widely-known Toronto singer and choir leader. Dr. MacGregor, who is leader of Bathurst St. Methodist church choir, was in town visiting his sister, Mrs. Carlyle, over the week-end and kindly consented to sing at the evening service. His numbers, "Beyond the Gates of Paradise" and "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes Unto the Hills," were heard with rapt attention and the hope was freely expressed at the close of the service that Dr. MacGregor might be heard in St. Andrew's Church again in the not distant future. By a happy coincidence, Rev. Wm. Fingland, who occupied the pulpit, preached from the text, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills." Dr. MacGregor's solo was therefore in harmony with the theme and thought of the minister's discourse. The church choir, which is making excellent progress under the skilled leadership of Mrs. Carlyle, rendered an anthem in excellent form during the service. The congregation was unusually large and was deeply impressed by the high order of the service.

EPISODE 7.

Did you ever see a man plunge a sword through his body, bring it out dripping with blood and still leave him unharmed and unmarked? Those who have been fortunate enough to see a genuine Hindoo magician at work have most likely seen this trick and been mystified by it. Seldom has it been recorded that anyone other than a Hindoo conjurer has ever been able to do this marvelous stunt, because it's one of the most carefully guarded of Oriental black art.

But there is one white man on record to-day who has mastered the sword stunt. He is Joe Ryan, star of the Vitagraph serial, "Hidden Dangers," now being shown at the Gem Theatre every Monday and Tuesday evenings. This serial is based on mystery and magic—every episode is chock full of it, but this greatest display of magic comes in the seventh episode, which, strangely enough, with its cabalistic symbolism of numerals, is one of the most startling and uncanny chapters of the serial.

Ryan, as Dr. Brutell, is a man of two characters. In his normal state he is a great scientist. In his possessed condition he is an evil personality, a demon who uses his scientific discoveries in a nefarious manner. In the seventh episode he is called upon to make a display of his devilish powers to the band of criminals over whom he presides as chief. All of his other mysterious and marvelous powers with his "double x-ray," and other scientific secrets he possesses, fails to awe them until he shows them the sword stunt and defies them to equal it. It is a tense, breathless moment as Ryan plunges the sword into his body and pulls it out again.

WORKS FOR SAME OLD BUNCH

"Hello, old man!" exclaimed the top-hatted traveller as he clutched the arm of the man in a shabby tweed suit.

"Why, it's Tompkins!" replied the tweed suit man and they shook hands.

"And how are things?" went on the man in the topper affectionately as they walked on together. "I haven't seen you for months! Who are you working for now?"

The man in the tweed suit sighed loudly. "Same old lot," he said, sadly, "a wife and six kids!"—Pittsburg Sun.

"AND HOW'S THE BOY?"

While the Methodist conference was meeting in Winnipeg lately, one of the ministers had late supper at a prominent cafe, and had some extra fine supper served him.

Next evening he took three brethren with him to the place, and when the waitress arrived at the table he said pleasantly:

"Good evening! And how is the chicken to-night?"

"Fine, kiddo!" she answered, as brightly, "and how's the boy?"—Winnipeg Free Press.

FRANKLIN COMES TO THE RESCUE

By LILLY WANDEL

(©, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"I never had a chance to do things that I want to do."

"Maybe you would not like them if you did have the opportunity," ventured the caller attempting to comfort.

"How do I know when I never could find out?" asked Sophronia passionately. "I'm tied down to the big old house and I long to sell it and go to the city in a convenient little apartment and—live!"

"You should have married long ago. There's nothing like four youngsters and an exacting husband to keep one contented"—Mrs. Cooke thought of her own. "I often wondered why you did not marry Ed Wallis after going together so long, and he was so suitable, too."

Sophronia's eyes grew steely. "Not if he were the last man on earth! We could not agree, Jessie, and it was all about this house. Ed actually thought we could live here, that I would be satisfied to go right on in the same old rut! I told him I wanted to move to the city in an apartment. I found out how stubborn he was, how selfish!"

"But rents are very high in the city. So you should be glad that you have this nice, roomy, comfortable place."

"Comfortable!" fairly shrieked Sophronia. "Yes, comfortable to you because you didn't have to climb those ladderlike stairs, nor bump your head every time you go down the cellar to tend that crazy furnace that does not heat the house no matter what you do to it! Nor have you ever washed dishes three times a day at that back-breaking sink; nor have you done the distance from the kitchen to the front door thirty-eleven times a day, nor had to carry lamps around—no gas here nor electricity—nor housecleaned these high-ceilinged rooms, nor that shed filled with all sorts of junk! Look at this big kitchen to scrub and that immense stove to polish!"

"Franklin seems to like it," smiled Mrs. Cooke, nodding toward a big puffed-out pussy purring her loudest before the warm range. "I must go now, So. Maybe this house does tie you down, living here all alone as you do, but it's a pretty, cool place in the summer with the big lawn."

"Yes," answered Sophronia bitterly, "you've never mowed that lawn. I'd enjoy a city park better."

A few days later Sophronia had a surprise. Ed Wallis, her old sweetheart, called. He had not been to see her for nearly two years and when Sophronia saw his round, genial face in the doorway something warmed her heart and made her feel young with happiness.

"Come in, Ed," she said almost tenderly.

"Thank you, So; I won't keep you but a few minutes," he answered in a brisk, matter-of-fact voice. "I've come on business, just business," he emphasized.

The warm, happy feeling vanished and she felt tired and chilly. It took quite an effort to ask politely, "What is it?"

"I happened to hear that you would like to sell your house, and you know I always rather liked the place, and as I am looking for a home" (here Ed flushed and pretended to stroke Franklin's sleek back), "why, er—I thought I'd drop in and ask you what you would want for the place."

Sophronia considered for a moment and then named the sum.

"That suits me. So suppose you come over to Mr. Hall's tomorrow and we'll fix up the deed and settle it. There's just one thing (rising); could you vacate in two weeks?"

She looked at him in surprise. How businesslike, almost curt, he was, as though he were a stranger. "Yes," she answered, "I'll be out in two weeks."

After Ed left Sophronia ran around to Mrs. Cooke's and told her the news. "I wonder if he intends to rent that old-fashioned place?" she asked, innocently.

"I hate to tell you so, but Ed told my husband that he's going to get married very soon. I don't know who the girl is, unless it's that pretty school teacher that lives at his boarding house—he's been walking home from church with her real often."

For the next three days Sophronia took the early train to the city and returned at dusk very tired, footsore and disappointed. It surprised her that a suitable apartment was so very difficult to locate, that rents were beyond her means and the rooms so very small and often dark. She had told the real estate agent to hold a certain little apartment for her; she would let him know positively by the next day at noon.

It was somewhat on the outskirts of the city, two rooms and kitchenette, all to the rear, with a view of hundreds of pulley lines. It was the best she could get for the money and she was sure that on the morrow she would rent it. She would have to decide what pieces of furniture she would take with her and what she would dispose of.

One thing was positive, her four-poster bed never would go into that little bedroom, and she hated to sleep in another bed! Not one of the living-room chairs could she take, for they were all too clumsy; even her old favorite wing chair would have to be sold or stored.

And the old secretary—she could not do without it, she must have it, but where on earth would she place it? Of course, the davenport, where she often curled up with Franklin for a nap, was quite out of question. Sophronia sighed as she looked at the bookcase filled with her old friends; they, too, were on the black list.

And the kitchen, that was the worst of all! She did not want to part with a thing, and yet she knew that she could take only a very few utensils to that tiny kitchenette. There was her doughnut kettle; it never in all the world would go in the miniature closet in that city flat, and to Sophronia breakfast was not complete without homemade fried cakes. And the three iron spiders hanging in the shed—how could she cook without them? And her mother's soapstone griddle, the envy of all her friends, could she really be happy without it?

"Franklin," she picked up the furry ball, "can't you help us? I did not know it would be like this—so hard to part with all the dear old things! Franklin, don't you care a rap that I have to give up my little mahogany sewing table and the gate-legged table from Aunt Betsy and so many things? Oh, you hard-hearted pussycat, wait till you find out what cat life is in the city! No big garden and no shed and cellar for a little hunting trip for mice! And you keep right on purring, and don't care a bit? Oh, Franklin, if you only knew how it looks inside of me, I think you'd help. I'm all torn apart, unhappy, uncertain, afraid!"

Three days later Sophronia sent for Ed Wallis. He was rather surprised when she opened the door to see everything in its usual order, nothing prepared for moving.

"Ed," began Sophronia, "I can't move, and it's on account of Franklin. I want to ask you to sell the house back to me!"

"Nothing doing," said Ed coolly. "I'm going to keep the house."

Sophronia turned pale. She had not expected this. "But I simply can't move—look here!" She marched ahead of him to the kitchen and there in a basket next to the stove was Franklin, plus four little newcomers!

"Oh, you could drown them easily," suggested Ed blandly.

Sophronia would not answer such a cruel remark and turned her back on the speaker. But she found herself suddenly wheeled around by a pair of strong arms and a round, genial face close to hers.

"So, I won't sell you the house, but there's no need of your moving if you'll take me in."

"And your wife, would she care to board here?"

"You are going to be my wife," he answered masterfully, "and we are going to live right here."

Sophronia looked at him in astonishment and then let her head fall comfortably on his shoulder. "Ed, are you saying this on the spur of the moment, or—"

"Mrs. Cooke and I planned it, So, darling. We even reckoned on your going to the city. You see we had not counted on Franklin helping us so wonderfully!"

HAVE NOTHING ON ANCIENTS

Work of Modern Engineers in Many Cases Surpassed by the Achievements of Antiquity.

Moderns are in the habit of assuming that their accomplishments transcend in importance those of the ancients, but there are fields of activity in which, with all the appliances furnished by ingenious mechanics of our time, we have not succeeded in remotely approaching the achievements of peoples who flourished millenniums ago and who from all accounts worked with tools of the most primitive character, remarks the San Francisco Chronicle.

We have made our boasts about cutting through the Isthmus of Panama and prided ourselves on the construction of the Roosevelt dam in Arizona, but the British engineers operating in the region between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, in central Asia, have made discoveries which indicate that the irrigation system constructed to utilize the waters of those great streams was a more daring conception and accomplished more for the good of man than any project conceived or carried out by modern man.

Find Lost Emerald Mine.

Rediscovery of one of the lost emerald mines in Colombia, South America, where flawless gems of a rich and vivid green, valued as high as $1,000 a carat, have been found in almost unlimited numbers, became known at New York the other day.

The mine is about 100 miles northeast from Bogota, capital of Colombia, in one of the wildest mountain ranges in South America. It was worked long ago by the Indians and some of the adventurers from Spain, who died without revealing the secret.

The rediscovered mine is known as the Chivor, and has lain for more than a century in the mountains near Bogota, while scores have searched for its location.

English Ice Cream Cones.

Candy is very scarce in England. There is almost none at all for the little children in the poorer quarters of the city, and that which can be bought is very expensive. A surprise in the way of ice cream cones seemed too pathetic. They were made in the accepted fashion, but the cone itself was not more than two and one-half inches high. It held just a dash of queer-looking frozen yellow "stuff" supposed to be ice cream. But you should have seen the joy on the faces of two little children fortunate enough to receive that cold sweet!—Exchange.

NEW MUNICIPAL LAWS

The following enactments at the recent session of the Legislature will be of interest to municipal officers and electors:—

Nominees for election to township councils must in future file declaration of qualification before election, the same as in urban municipalities. Public utility or franchise by-laws may now be submitted to the electors at any time, and municipalities may bonus tobacco driers.

County councillors may in future receive double the persent mileage allowance, and councillors in urban municipalities may be paid up to five dollars per day for attendance at council or committees.

The Assessment Act amendments now in force exempt pensions of soldiers, increase the exemption of income from personal earnings, and provide a new exemption of $200 for each child under 18 years of age. A most important innovation removes the special exemption of dividends from stock in mercantile and manufacturing companies. This will now be assessable as investment income. County councils are authorized, on application, to declare that a local municipality may handle it own arrears of taxes and conduct tax sales.

The Act respecting Dog Tax and Sheep Protection, which comes into force on 1st April next, makes it compulsory for all owners of dogs to procure numbered tags, to be supplied by the council, and for killing dogs without tags. The minimum penalty for not procuring a tag is $10. County councils are authorized to pass by-laws requiring all dog tax and license fees collected after 1920 to be paid to the county treasurer and form a sheep protection fund, all claims to be paid by the county, for which purpose county valuers are to be appointed.

Noxious weeds, after 29th July, on vacant land in urban municipalities and police villages may, on ten days' notice to the owner or occupant, be destroyed and cost placed on collector's roll.

The Obstructions on Highways Removal Act provides for the removal of trees and obstructions by road superintendents of counties and townships with approval of council having jurisdiction over the road, for agreements with adjoining owners as to compensation, which in case of dispute may be determined by the County Judge.

Councils are authorized to pass by-laws fixing distance from centre of any highway within which no trees or accumulation of snow as may injuriously affect the highway, shall be planted or erected.

The statutory allowance to jurors is now $4 per day and 13c. a mile. This may be increased to $5 per day by county councils, and in districts by the Lieutenant-Governor.

The Highway Acts require future appointees to office of county road superintendents to be civil engineers or surveyors. Suburban area commissions are authorized to employ an engineer in place of the county road superintendent. The proportion payable by the province to suburban roads forty per cent., except that where it is a Provincial County Road the province pays 60 per cent. There are other changes in the suburban area sections, but the greatest interest is in the provisions for grants to aid in township road work in counties. This will be expended under regulations similar to those applicable to county roads.

The appointment of township overseers is encouraged by fixing the contribution of the province at forty per cent. of his salary.

The Election Laws Amendment Act provides for a return to a voters' list with Part III., persons entitled to vote at elections to the Assembly only. Assessors are to enter in their rolls all persons who are of the full age of 21 years, British subjects, residents of Ontario for nine months from date fixed for beginning to make up his roll, and residents in the municipality. The clerk's instructions are to make the list in three parts. This will not apply to lists now being prepared, but in cities and towns where the amendment period ends with the 30th of September, the new Act will apply.

THOUGHT SHE'D HAVE TO GIVE UP

Mrs. Kenny Had Suffered Eight Years Before Taking Tanlac—Is Now Well and Happy

"I'll never stop praising Tanlac since it's helped me so much, and I just feel like going out and telling everybody about it," said Mrs. O. R. Kenny, of 75 Dresden Row, Halifax, N. S.

"For the past eight years I suffered dreadfully with stomach trouble and chronic indigestion. My appetite was poor, and for years I don't think I ate a good meal. The little I ate soured on my stomach and caused gas to press up into my chest and throat until I could hardly breathe. I had awful headaches that kept me confined to my bed for days at a time and left me in a terribly weakened condition. At nights I was so nervous and restless I could scarcely sleep. I had no energy to do my housework, and I was getting worse all the time.

"I got a bottle of Tanlac one day and it gave me so much relief I kept on taking it until I had finished my seventh bottle and all my troubles have disappeared. My appetite is just splendid and I no longer suffer from indigestion or gas on my stomach. My breathing is free and easy and I never have a sign of a headache. I sleep like a child and have regained all my strength and energy so that my housework is a real pleasure. I've also gained ten pounds in weight, and am feeling just fine in every way."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

OVERSEAS REVUE

Reminiscent of the oldtime war concert parties close up to the trenches is the original overseas revue, "The Ramblers," billed for the Orangeville Opera House on Friday night of this week. The members of the company are veteran entertainers, who have seen service at the front, every man of them. There is Blake, to whom the phrase "Fiddle and I" might easily apply. He has toured America with his famous makeshift violin, everywhere getting flattering applause from enthusiastic audiences. Another favorite is Eddie Jackson, known as "Red, the Irish Tenor" who makes a classic out of the popular hit, "Oh, aint it a lovely war." Other members are W. P. Smith, in the role of a Scotch comedian, Tim Healey, black face comedian and female impersonator, and George Geolah, known from coast to coast as the possessor of one of the finest yodelling voices in the country.

The latter part of the show is composed of two scenes, "Billet 13" and "The Shrapnel Dodgers." The Company appears in uniform and gives an oldtime musical show of the kind they gave in the billets and hospitals. It is a comedy drama with a great many clever bits of repartee and soldier humor. The finale is an effective rendering of MacNamara's Band, with the whole company joining in on an amusing array of musical instruments.

TOM MARKS COMING HERE

THE DUFFERIN PROTEST

ALL THE EVIDENCE HEARD ON MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

Argument by Counsel at Osgoode Hall To-day.

The trial of the Dufferin County election protest commenced in the Court House here at 11 o'clock Monday forenoon before Chief Justice Sir William Mulock and Mr. Justice Rose. Col. W. H. Price, M. L. A., is acting as chief counsel for the petitioners, Messrs. William Braiden, John Johnston and George Moffatt, and has the assistance of Mr. Gordon Shaver, also of Toronto. Mr. Gordon Waldron represented Mr. T. K. Slack, U. F. O. representative, whose right to sit for Dufferin has been brought into question by the petitioners. Upwards of fifty witnesses were served for the trial and the hearing of the evidence was not completed until late on Tuesday afternoon. Quite a large number of Dufferin electors, the majority of whom are prominent U. F. O. men, were on hand for the trial and followed the evidence with keen interest. R. H. Halbert, head of the U. F. O. and J. J. Morrison, Provincial Secretary of the organization, were present and took a lively interest in the proceedings. Mr. Slack was also present throughout the trial and occupied a seat beside his lawyer.

During the hearing Mr. Waldron repeatedly objected to several of the charges, which he contended contained only vague generalties, cleverly drafted and designed to be used in the public press for political effect. One charge to which Mr. Slack's counsel took special objection, mentioned Mr. Morrison, the Secretary of the U. F. O., and the organization and charged that the latter was used to influence elections by means of intimidation, bribery and other methods.

"They are cunningly drawn for that purpose," said Mr. Waldron while on his feet supporting one of his objections. "As a matter of fact these charges have been drawn up and spread in the paper for political purposes."

"We are not here to enquire about the object, but to decide how this election was conducted," said Chief Justice Mulock, who refused to order the charges to be struck out.

At another stage in the proceedings Mr. Waldron registered another objection to what he termed general charges in these terms: "The questions are irrelevant, they have no bearing on the Elections Act. The U. F. O. is entitled to defense. Its name is not to be used lightly without a definite point in jurisprudence being concerned. I object to taking up time with matters which are not contrary to the Elections Act. People all over the Province are entitled to organize for political purposes, providing that they do nothing that is illegal or treasonable. The Court, however, ruled that there were specific charges involved in the general statements to which Mr. Waldron objected.

Altogether there wre 68 charges on which the petitioners based their hopes of upsetting Mr. Slack's election. One of these set forth that the U. F. O., under the direction of the Board and its "guiding genius, J. J. Morrison," raised a campaign fund from farmers and others who were opposed to existing governments, and this money was used in various ridings, one of which was Dufferin, to induce a candidate to contest the riding, to finance the election of the respondent, to bribe and corrupt the electorate and to intimidate many farmers and others, who did not intend to vote for the respondent, thereby materially reducing the vote polled by John Reburn and affecting the result of the election. All witnesses were excluded from the court room prior to the taking of the evidence.

R. J. Woods, County U. F. O. Director for Dufferin at the time of the election, was the first witness called. Mr. Woods was examined at considerable length by Col. Price. When counsel for the petitioners commenced to question the witness as to the form of the U. F. O. organization, Mr. Waldron volunteered to make a statement of the form of the organization for the purpose of facilitating the enquiry. He did not think it was pertinent to any charge that might be brought under the Elections Act to go into minute detail. Col. Price, however, preferred to examine the witness on this point, stating as a justification for his course that witnesses' viewpoint might be different.

Mr. Woods stated that he had called the Convention at which Mr. Slack was nominated. He wrote the secretaries of the various farmers' clubs and notified them of the date and purpose of the convention. He asked the clubs to send representatives to the convention. At the first meeting held J. J. Morrison, who attended, said that the head organization was not urging the clubs to run candidates. This was their own work if they wanted to do it. No nomination was made at this meeting, but it was decided to hold another convention at a later date for the purpose of bringing out a candidate. At the second convention the chief question considered was that of bringing out a candidate. Witness presided at this convention and it was his duty to put any motions or resolutions. It was deceied to have the convention open and not confine the voting to members of the U. F. O. clubs. Mr. R. H. Halbert, who was present, was in favor of having the nomination made by delegates, instead of by an open convention. There was a public notice given of the convention, coupled with an invitation to all interested in the Farmers' movement. Mr. Woods stated that Mr. Slack, the nominee of the convention, was a member of the Melancthon Farmers' Club. He was not very clear as to what Mr. Slack said in his speech and did not remember if he asked all present to assist in electing him. So far as he could remember nothing was said about financing Mr. Slack's election. There might have been something said about paying Mr. Slack's expenses but he did not remember. Mr. Woods admitted that the U. F. O. clubs had done something toward meeting Mr. Slack's expenses in case he were defeated.

Col. Price—"If he were defeated what was to happen?"

Mr. Woods—"The understanding was the clubs were to pay his expenses."

Col. Price—"If he was elected what then?"

Mr. Woods—"He would pay his own."

Witness stated that he had heard Slack state at a committee meeting that he would pay his own expenses if he were elected. Mr. Slack had not asked his supporters to pay his expenses if he was defeated, but they had volunteered to do so. Mr. Woods denied that it was understood at the convention that the U. F. O. would pay half of Mr. Slack's election expenses, but stated that Col. Price's question had recalled to his mind the fact that Mr. Halbert had made the statement that in some cases half of the candidate's expenses were being paid.

In Mr. Woods' own club at Corbetton about $15 had been collected. Witness understood that this money was to go toward expenses if Mr. Slack was defeated and was to be returned in case he should be elected. Witness did not know what other clubs had raised, as none of them had made any report to him. He did not get any salary or expenses for acting as County Director. He had neither paid nor received money for election expenses and did not know any person who had.

The evidence on Monday afternoon was directed to proving the charge that the Slack scrutineers had been paid for their services. W. J. Bowers, T. J. Ormsby, John Leask and Henry Gilmore, four of the five scrutineers, who acted in Mulmur, admitted that they had been paid $3 apiece for their services, but were emphatic that they had not been promised any pay before the election and had not expected pay when they accepted their appointments.

Geo. A. Ferris, of Earnscliffe, had been asked by Mr. Woods to look after Mulmur township. He had appointed some of the scrutineers, but had not promised them any money for their services. He did not subscribe one cent toward Slack's expenses and did not know any person who did. He got a letter from Mr. Slack after the election asking him to see the scrutineers and pay them. Mr. Slack had given him the money to pay the scrutineers.

J. M. McNaughton told the Court that he was a shipper of livestock for the U. F. O. clubs in Orangeville district and handled grain and potatoes for the Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Co. He was in the hall when Mr. Slack was making his nomination speech, but did not remember much that he said as he was talking to some people most of the time. He had attended Slack meetings at Camilla, Glencross and Relessey and subscribed and paid $1.00 to a fund raised by the Camilla Institute, of which he was a member. The only money witness had paid out was to the four Orangeville scrutineers, John Kannawin, Sam Allison, John Howard and William Hughes. He had paid these men $3 apiece possibly three weeks or a month after the election. He was recouped by Mr. W. G. Noble, financial agent for Mr. Slack, who sent him money to cover his disbursements to the scrutineers. He had not made any promise to the scrutiners prior to the election.

Sam Allison thought John Park had asked him to act as scrutineer. Witness had met Mr. McNaughton and Mr. Slack once before the election, but had not been promised any money. He was paid by Mr. McNaughton at the latter's house sometime after the election. Witness had acted as scrutineer for the last fifteen years and had always been paid. Even if he had not been a scrutineer he would have voted for Slack.

Thos. Sime and his daughter, Miss Sarah A. Sime, admitted that they had been paid for their services as scrutineers at one of the East Luther polls. Like the other scrutineers they denied positively that they were promised money when they were appointed. Mrs. Stella Ferrier gave evidence to the same effect.

The last named witness created some diversion by objecting, before she was sworn, that she had not received sufficient for witness fees and expenses. It transpired that she had been allowed $1.50 for fees and $1.50 for expenses. She had come 21 miles, travelling by auto. Sir William Mulock suggested that as witness could not very well return home after night she should be allowed two days' witness fees. Sheriff Endacott thought that $4.00 would be a reasonable allowance for travelling expenses, which would make the total allowance $7.00. The Chief Justice named $7.00 as a reasonable amount and suggested that the solicitors for petitioners either pay this or allow witness to leave the box. Col. Price demurred, stating that if His Lordship ruled that it was necessary to pay witnesses $7 or $8 apiece he was afraid that the petitioners would be unable to go on with the case. It was finally decided to allow Mrs. Ferrier $5.50. She had already been paid $3 and the other $2.50 was handed over to her in the court.

Mr. W. N. Fines, of Mono, was the first witness called at the night sitting of the Court on Monday. He had attended the Shelburne convention and as far as he could remember Mr. Halbert had made a definite statement about the expenses of candidates. Mr. Halbert had stated that in his constituency the farmers were paying half of the election expenses and the candidate the other half. Mr. Fines also said that Mr. Slack had promised to pay expenses if he were elected.

The principal charge upon which Samuel C. McKee, the next witness, was called was that he had received an unstated sum of money to use in the election, and further that he was promised the position of U. F. O. organizer if he would devote his time to the election of Mr. Slack. Witness stated that to the best of his knowledge there had been no resolution at the convention committing the county organization to bear half of Mr. Slack's expenses. There was some discussion of the subject and as nearly as he could remember Mr. Slack had stated that if he were elected he did not want any of the people's money. If he were defeated the people could do as they pleased about it. Asked about a cheque which he returned to one club, Mr. McKee stated that it had been returned because it was not used. He was prepared to say that the Colbeck club, of which he was formerly the Secretary, had not contributed one cent toward the election expenses of the candidate. However, he did not know what other clubs had done. Witness had first discussed the matter of his appointment as general U. F. O. organizer with Mr. Morrison in January of the present year. "He made no such statement," said McKee in answer to a suggestion that Mr. Morrison had stated that the organization was prepared to bear half the expense of the candidate. It was alleged that the statement was made at the meeting, which preceded the convention at which Mr. Slack was nominated. McKee also declared that it was absolutely untrue that he had received money from the central Executive in Toronto.

William Manning, a former Secretary of the Primrose Club, said he understood Mr. McKee had returned the club's cheque sent as a subscription. He received his subscription back, and understood that all who subscribed had got their money back. The amount of the cheque was about $17.

F. W. Bourne objected that the $3 paid him for witness fees and expenses was insufficient. The Court fixed the amount at $6, but when Mr. Shaver pointed out that Mr. Bourne had been called out of turn to allow him to return home for Grand Valley Fair this was reduced to $4.50. Witness had been paid $3 for acting as scrutineer. He had given a $1 subscription, but could not say if it had been used for election purposes.

Much of the evidence offered Tuesday forenoon related to the payment of scrutineers and the raising of subscriptions to assist defray Mr. Slack's expenses. Nothing very new was elicited from any of the witnesses. In the afternoon Mr. Waldron placed Mr. Slack in the box to testify in his own behalf. Mr. R. H. Halbert, M. P. and Secretary J. J. Morrison were also called on behalf of the respondent. The taking of evidence was completed about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At the request of Mr. Shaver, counsel for the petitioners the Court then adjourned to meet at Osgoode Hall at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning, Sept. 30th, for the purpose of hearing argument of counsel.

ST. SIMONS GAMES

Arrangements have been made to have The Dufferins, intermediate champions, play off with St. Simons, the senior champions, for the championship of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. The two teams will play home and home games, the first on Idywyld Park here on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 6th, and the other in Toronto on the following Saturday. One game will be played with ten men aside and the other with twelve men aside. Both games should be well worth seeing, as it is conceded that The Dufferins should give the senior champs the run of their lives.

JOHNSTON SUSPENDED

At a meeting in Toronto on Monday night the Executive of the O. A. L. A. went fully into the matter of the fracas at the conclusion of the Orangeville-Mimico game on Saturday. From the evidence submitted the mmbers were unanimously of the opinion that Johnston, one of the Mimico players, was wholly responsible for the trouble, when he violently attacked Clyde Gordon, one of the Orangeville players, at the close of the match. Johnston was suspended indefinitely as a punishment for his offence and will therefore be ineligible to play in any further matches until he is reinstated. The Executive absolved the Mimico team and management of any blame for the occurrence. They also found that the Mimico team had made all possible arrangements for the proper conduct of the match, but the crowd was so large that it simply overwhelmed the officers who were entrusted with the task of keeping the field free. As a consequence the playing field was encroached on to some xtent. The action of the Executive in suspending Johnston deserves the hearty commendation of every lover of clean sport. By his rowdyism on Saturday this player sadly marred an otherwise fine game.

MONO MILLS.

The pupils of the school here made a very creditable showing indeed at the School Fair held in Caledon on Friday and carried off a large number of prizes. The two boys, Kenneth Duke and Edgar Moon entered from the school in the Boys' Stock Judging Competition, also succeeded in winning the first place. This is all the more creditable, when we consider the fact that the subjects the boys were judging on included a two months old nurse fed purebred calf entered in the same class with two milk fed brood calves eleven months old.

Anniversary services are being held in Mono East Presbyterian Church next Sunday, Oct. 3rd. Morning service at 11 o'clock and evening service at 7 o'clock. Rev. C. Sinclair Jones, of Priceville, will conduct the services.

Reopening services will be held in Mono Mills Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 17th. Fuller particulars next week.

The corn roast held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Potter on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the recently organized Girls' Club was very successful indeed. A very pleasant evening was spent by all who were there.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Matheson is still suffering from a severe attack of eye trouble.

Mrs. Cora Speers is away on a business trip to her former home in the West.

We regret to learn that Mr. Elmer McMullen, younger son of Mrs. Geo. McMullen, of Albion, has succumbed from the effects of a serious and complicated case of appendicitis. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

BLOUNT.

Blount Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. Bagnell on Sept. 8th. Seventeen members and four visitors were present. The program following the business meeting included a reading by Miss Myrtle Dodds, instrumental solo by Miss Ruby Reid and a Question Drawer. The hostess served a very dainty luncheon and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

In the Prize List for the Children's Section at the Orangeville Fall Fair as published in last week's Banner, the name of Mary M. Faulkner was inadvertently omitted. SHELBURNE BEATEN

Shelburne Juniors were again beaten by Weston by a single goal in the replayed game at Scarborough Beach last Thursday. Weston won the former game by one goal, but Shelburne successfully protested Mallaby, one of the winning players, on the ground that he was over the age limit. Despite the loss of this player, admittedly one of their best, the Weston Juniors managed to win Thursday's game by 5 to 4. It was a hard luck ending for the Shelburne Juniors, who were picked hereabouts as just about fast enough to win the championship. Weston will now play home and home games with St. Catharines and the winners of the round will meet Hanover for the championship.

DUFFERINS DOWNED MIMICO BY 9 TO 5 IN SATURDAY'S GAME.

Winners Had Game Well in Hand By End of First Half

Dufferins took the Mimico team into camp by a score of 9 to 5 in the first game of the finals for the intermediate championship of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. The game was played on the Mimico grounds on Saturday afternoon and was witnessed by a very large crowd. As a lacrosse field the Mimico grounds are a joke. They are just about the worst we have seen anywhere. The ground is extremely rough and there is a small-sized valley on one side of the field. A depression runs right across the centre of the playing ground and play is uphill toward both goals. On top of all this the field is small and unfenced and on Saturday the spectators pressed forward until they were within a few yards of the nets at the north end of the grounds. On account of the limited playing space and the encroachment of the spectators the ball was constantly getting out of bounds and there were consequently many stops for face-offs. Though seriously handicapped by the small field and the roughness of the ground, The Dufferins played a brilliant game. Mimico has a clever home that tried hard to run up a big score, but the Dufferin defence took their measure early in the game and they had few opportunities thereafter. At the other end of the field the green-shirted home was proving too strong for the Mimico defence and shots on Sutherland's citadel came frequently and from all angles. The Mimico goaltender is a good one and took care of a lot of hard shots during the afternoon. Most of those he missed were from close in on the flags delivered after the strong Dufferin home had worked its way right through the home team's defence.

Stevenson got the ball from the face-off and passed to Scott, who ran right up the field, dodging a couple of men on the way and dropped the ball into the nets. It was a pretty play and made the Mimico defence look like a lot of wooden men. A few minutes later Blythe Brown took a swift pass right in front of the flags. One of the Mimico defence men was right on top of him, but Blythe did the needful with one of his famous backward shots. Sutherland did not evex seen the ball, so unexpected was the shot on the flags. The Mimico home got possession when play resumed and kept the Dufferin defence properly busy for a few minutes. Finally one of the home men got an opening and tallied Mimico's first goal with a neat shot. Play was fairly even for the remainder of the quarter, neither team being able to score again.

Clyde Gordon, who was unable to get away from his office duties until one o'clock, arrived on the grounds during the rest period and appeared on the Dufferin home, when the teams lined up for the second period. The Mimico home launched a determined attack right from the face-off and had the Dufferin defence working overtime for the first seven or eight minutes. Thomas, the big Indian, got through for a tally. This was followed in quick order by another score, giving the home team the lead for the only time during the game. The Mimico home was unable to keep up the furious pace it set at the beginning of the quarter and when the attack died down the Dufferin home took possession and subjected Sutherland's citadel to a lively bombardment. Gordon, who had been playing brilliantly, got into the limelight by making a couple of eleven dodging runs, each of which netted the Orangeville team a goal. The green-shirts took another before the period ended, making the half-time score 5 to 3. By this time it was quite evident that The Dufferins had taken the measure of their opponents and barring accidents had the game pretty well in hand. The Dufferins took two goals in the third quarter, while Mimico failed to score. The Mimico home started the final period with another hot rush, scoring in short order. Dufferins evened a little later, and after the home team had tallied another the green-shirts came right back at them with another evener. This finished the scoring, the game ending with the count standing 9 to 5.

Both teams played clever lacrosse. Considering the rough grounds and the small playing field the game was with a few exceptions remarkably clean. Johnston, one of the Mimico men, furnished the exceptions. He got into a towering rage when Gordon scored twice in the second period and gave one of his own defence fielders an angry calling for allowing the Fergus man to get past him. Afterwards he undertook to hold Clyde himself and clashes between the two men were frequent for the rest of the game. Johnston slashed Gordon over the face on several occasions and had the latter bleeding freely. In the third quarter while the ball was in play near the south goal the two men had a mix-up back of the north goal. Just what occurred is not clear. One version is that Johnston deliberately struck Gordon with his clenched fist. Another story has it that one of the spectators struck the Fergus man while he and Johnston were checking each other close to the crowd. As the officials were watching the play at the other end of the field and did not see what happened they took the impartial course of sending both men to the penalty bench. The climax came in the final period, when Johnston got sandwiched between Zinn and Gordon. The Mimico man went down and when he was able to get up again was in a furious temper and declared loudly that he would get Gordon at the close of the match. As soon as the whistle sounded he started to accomplish his purpose, followed by a mob of the Mimico spectators. The two policemen on the grounds and a few Orangeville men protected the assailed player to the best of their ability and finally managed to get him into a car and out of danger. The situation was an ugly one for a few exciting minutes. In their eagerness to get at Gordon the mob managed to smash a couple of plate glass windows on the south side of the highway opposite the exit from the grounds. In justice to the Mimico players and citizens it should be made plain that the great majority of them deplored the unfortunate incident and openly expressed the strongest disapproval of Johnston and his tactics. He was the only player who took any part in the attack on Gordon. He is an ugly tempered chap, who has been in trouble before, and was warned by the Association last spring that he must deport himself differently on the lacrosse field if he intended to stay in the game. With the exception of Johnston the Mimico players seemed to be a gentlemanly lot of chaps, who put up a clean, hard game and took their defeat without any evidence of ill-will toward the victors. The teams and officials were:

The Dufferins—goal, Booth, point, Densmore; coverpoint, Black; defence, Cushing and Scott; centre, Stevenson; home, Gordon and Ewing; outside, Blythe Brown; inside, Bert Brown; spares, Zinn, Golden, Stevens and Henderson.

Referee, Ernie Doyle; Judge of Play, Tom Humphrey.

The following paragraphs are taken from the Mail & Empire's excellent report of the match:—

Orangeville led most of the way, although their superiority over the Mimico team did not show up prominently until well on in the second quarter. In the first period both defences looked wide open, and Booth and Sutherland in the goals had plenty of opportunity to show their class. The way that the homes rushed in for clear shots made it look as though the game would establish some sort of record for high scoring, but the goalies, especially Booth, were pulling all sorts of stunts in the way of stopping. Booth may have played better games in his life, but they have not been numerous. In spite of the bombardment of shots, a large percentage of which were unnecessarily wild, at either end of the field, the quarter ended 2 to 1 in favor of Orangeville. Mimico started the second period with a rush, and by scoring twice in quick succession took the lead for the only time in the game, but by that time both teams had settled down to their pace. Orangeville had it on their opponents in the handling of the ball when attacking. Their men are strong and shifty, and took the passes neatly and cleanly. The dodging and side-stepping of Blythe Brown when boring in for individual shots were as good as have been seen in these parts. The tallies came with a regularity that must have been heart-breaking to Mimico. On the other hand the losers resorted to individual rushes, and for two quarters Orangeville held them powerless. Thomas, the big Indian, was spectacular, but after his first goal got no more results by his rushes. The score at half time was 5 to 3, and Orangeville added two more in the third period. Mimico made an effort to come back in the final quarter, when Gordon was serving a long penalty. There was any amount of pep in that period, but the Orangeville defence refused to blow up. The play stayed in their vicinity for three-quarters of that time, but when their clever home got the ball they made as much use of it in their brief time allowance as did their opponents. The total score of the quarter was two each way. Orangeville certainly did look like sure enough intermediate champions for 1920.

There was one incident following the game which brought no credit to Mimico. A bunch of rowdies attempted to mob and beat up Clyde Gordon, who played a hard-checking and effective game for Orangeville. Threats certainly did not make him lie down on the field, and the fact that he had to take refuge in a friendly automobile after play had finished does not speak well for the sportsmanship of the followers of the beaten team. It looked like a cowardly exhibition of spleen. If the referee's report shows that one of the players was responsible for the episode it will be an ideal opportunity for the O. A. L. A. executive to show that anyone who cannot observe the most elementary decencies of sportsmanship must be barred out of lacrosse.

The industry provides them with over $20,000,000 a year to spend within the Dominion.

They buy food and clothing; pay rent and taxes—they help swell the total of Canadian trade.

ALLIED with these 22,000 men and women are many thousands of other workers who contribute to the making of Boots and Shoes. These include textile operatives; wire, nail and metal workers; machine manufacturers; box and carton makers; coal miners and dealers; railway men and shippers; printers; packers and battalions of clerks.

All these, and more, participate in the 50 million dollars which is the yearly value of the Canadian-Made Shoes.

EVERY pair of Canadian-made Shoes you buy actually puts money in the pay envelope of this vast army of men and women.

Every pair of imported Shoes you buy reduces Canada's capital stock and puts money in the pockets of foreigners who contribute nothing to our national growth

SHOE MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

OUR DEBT TO THE PIONEERS

Premier Drury sounded a good note at the annual meeting of the York County Pioneers and Historical Society at Sharon on Saturday when he urged the writing of the history of the pioneers of this province. To no class of people are we of the present day, nor will those who will come after, be more greatly indebted. As he said, they gave the key note to Canadian national life. They endured hardships of which the present generation knows nothing at all. They entered the forest and cleared the land, thereby giving to the province the broad agricultural acres of to-day. In their life these heroic fathers and mothers knew little of the pleasures that are now enjoyed, yet in their time they had a joy that came of their work and their part in the conversion of the country. "In these old neighborhoods there is a wealth of tradition that should be collected and preserved before it is too late," he added. In this he is right. As the years go by the difficulty of getting the information becomes steadily greater. The pioneers are passing the stories of the past, unwritten as so many of them are, are being lost, hence the importance of having this work done now whilst the opportunity is open. For the historical societies of the province there is undoubtedly a wide field, one that should be entered with energy and determination to save for the future a well and carefully prepared history of those to whom all are so deeply in debt.—Collingwood Bulletin.

ABANDON UNIQUE BRUCE CO. CHURCH

Sand is Now too Deep for Farmers' Autos to Approach Chapel.

Close to the wide, sandy beach of Lake Huron, nine miles south of Kincardine, stands a little Anglican chapel built by pioneers of the district over half a century ago and now about to be abandoned, says a writer in the Toronto Star Weekly. Once the centre of the thriving lakeside village of Aima, it has long been the only building in the neighborhood, except for the houses atop the hill, where fertile farm lands stretch for miles. It is many decades since the last of the mills and shops of Aima were demolished, and only the fine, rippled sand, in dunes which extend half a mile back from the lake, remains. And now the little church is being reluctantly left behind. The deep sand and the high hill are most inconvenient for the motor cars of the farmers and a new church home is to be established a short distance back from the brow of the bank. But it will be many a long day before the little church among the sand dunes is forgotten, and there will be many pilgrimages by older members of the congregation to the building erected with loving hands by their fathers.

No where else, probably in Ontario, can be found a church with architecture quite the same or with surroundings quite so desolate. It was built in the late fifties of timber from the virgin trees of the lake shore. It is a sturdy little building with high-pitched roof, exterior buttresses, high pew ends, and "naked rafters" of stained oak stretching from wall to wall. Outside and in the church is reminiscent of the English abbey or chapel, and bears evidence of the desire of the builder to make it resemble the edifices of his native country.

A stone's throw from the lake, near the site of the now-forgotten schoolhouse, may still be seen a few indications that there was once a settlement nearby. It was here that the first cemetery stood. Only one headstone was ever erected in this cemetery—that of Joshua Lindsay. This was in 1854. Lindsay, one of the earliest settlers, was killed by a falling tree. His widow sold the patents for a 200-acre tract of timber land for $200, and with part of the proceeds purchased a marble slab, which now lies prostrate in the sand, worn by the fine white sand, but still legible, bearing the warning epitaph:

"Remember, friend, as you pass by,
As you are now, so once was I,
As I am now, so you will be;
Prepare for death and follow me."

CROWN ATTORNEY

J. M. Kearns, Former Orangeville Man, Receives Important Appointment.

Last week, the order-in-council, appointing J. M. Kearns, of Arthur, Crown Attorney for Wellington County was passed and Mr. Kearns will enter upon the duties of his new office in Guelph on Oct. 1st. That the powers that be in Queen's Park, Toronto, were well advised in their selection of a successor to the late Col. McDonald, there can be no question. The manner in which the appointment is being received in Guelph is well illustrated by an editorial in the Herald of Friday, an extract of which is given below.

While congratulating Mr. Kearns heartily on his appointment, it is with more than passing regret that the Enterprise-News realizes that with it comes the necessity of his removal from Arthur where for the past seventeen years he has been one of the town's most deservedly popular citizens. He came to Arthur shortly after his graduation from Osgoode Hall and has built up one of the best legal practices in Wellington county and he leaves Arthur with a record for straight forward dealing that cannot be challenged. For many years, Mr. Kearns served as councilman and for the past three years has filled the reeveship, which position he resigned on Monday evening. As reeve, his services have been most satisfactory to the citizens as a whole, and in that capacity, he is regarded as one of the best officials Arthur ever had. To his new position in Guelph, he assuredly takes with him the best wishes of a host of friends in Arthur and vicinity, who have every confidence that the duties of the Crown Attorneyship of Wellington County will by him be fearlessly and efficiently managed. Commenting on his appointment the Guelph Herald says, "The Ontario Government will find very few to criticise its appointment of J. M. Kearns, K. C., of Arthur, as Crown Attorney of the county of Wellington, in succession to the late Col. A. H. Macdonald. His past career as a practicing attorney in the north, as well as his activities in general, justify the assumption that the new appointee will make an energetic, fearless and conscientious legal representative of the Crown in this district, of whom criminals need expect no favors and in whose keeping the interest of law-abiding people are safely entrusted.

"'Jack' Kearns, we feel confident, will make even more than a good crown attorney—he is bound to prove a valuable acquisition to the city of Guelph. He is known all through the county for his excellent social qualities; he is an experienced municipal legislator, always displaying great interest in the place of his residence, and as a good "sport" he comes to this city with a record to be proud of as a lacrosse player and bowler. The new crown attorney for Wellington County will find a warm welcome in Guelph when he takes up his new duties."—Arthur Enterprise.

The new Crown Attorney, as most Banner readers know, is a son of Mrs. John Kearns and a brother of Messrs. W. G. and Will Kearns, Broadway business men. The Banner adds its hearty congratulations to the good wishes of his Orangeville friends.

KEEP YOUR CHIN UP

There's a heap of satisfaction
In a trouble if you grin,
If you keep your nerve in action
And you wear a lifted chin.
There's joy in doing something
That you've never done before,
So don't be a deaf and dumb thing,
Chance is knocking at your door.

It's in overcoming trouble
That a fellow gets his fun;
It's in shattering the bubble
Whose name is "can't be done."
It's in striving night and daytime
When the problem hopless seems,
Man appreciates his playtime
When he realizes his dreams.

There's a heap of satisfaction
In a trouble if you grin,
Difficulties have attraction
If you keep a lifted chin.
And the harder that your fight is
The greater is your fun.
And the finer your delight is
As you view the things you've done.

"Tight Money"

—the Investor's Opportunity

The big problem facing the Canadian Banks to-day is that of providing sufficient money to enable this year's crops to be speedily marketed.

That's why manufacturers are finding it difficult to obtain money to buy raw materials and to make extensions.

That's why store-keepers are finding it difficult to get extended credits to enable them to increase their stocks.

That's the meaning of the expression "money is tight."

That's why interest rates are high now; in other words, that's why bond prices are lower.

You can buy a $1 1934 Victory Bond today for $93.

On the date of maturity—the date printed on the bond—the government will pay it off for $100.

Meantime the government will pay you interest on the full $100.

If you have any surplus funds take advantage of this "money shortage" and make your money work. It's your big opportunity.

VICTORY BONDS are among the best long-term securities available. We recommend those falling due in 1933, 1937 and 1934.

We shall welcome an opportunity to serve you in your investment matters irrespective of the amount of your funds.

KEEN EYES

Witness Could See Fishing Line at 3 a.m.

A magistrate's case which attracted a great deal of attention was tried before James McMullen, J. P., in the town hall on Saturday evening, when two of our citizens, Messrs. W. W. Trimble and H. Carrington, were charged with fishing out at the hydro dam on Sunday. Three or four weeks ago these gentlemen went out to the 8th line on Saturday evening to fish, and this trial was the result. Both gentlemen swore that they did not fish after 12 o'clock, but a man named Durrant swore that he saw Trimble's line in the water at 3 a.m. Mr. Durrant must have remarkably keen eyes in his head—sort of night glasses. A line cannot be seen in the water after dark, according to our experience, The explanation of why they were there at that early hour was a series of mishaps, including a lost fishing pole, a broken buggy and exploding lantern. As there was no evidence that Mr. Carrington was fishing his case was dismissed, but Magistrate McMullen accepted the evidence of the man Durrant, as against that of Postmaster Trimble, and recorded a conviction. W. H. Wright, who acted for the defendants, immediately gave notice of appeal. County Crown Attorney Dyre prosecuted.—Flesherton Advance.

Secured by the West India Trade Agreement and Canadian Ships.

By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag, without arousing international complications.

Canada possesses men with brains who will make these preferential trade agreements. But to make good these trade agreements we must have Canadian Ships.

M'NABB–SOLOMON

The Methodist church, Rosemont, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, the 15th inst., when Ella Tressa, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Solomon, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Franklin McNabb, of Rosemont, Rev. C. Forth officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin embroidered in silver. Her tulle veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Laverty, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of pink satin, and tulle trimmed with sequin, and black hat, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bridegroom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Harold Robinson. Mrs. Ella B. White played the wedding music. The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion. A reception to a large number of friends was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a sumptuous repast the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for Detroit and other cities. The bride travelled in a brown velour suit trimmed with fur and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. McNabb will reside near Rosemont.

A SERIOUS LOSS

Mr. George Overland, a young farmer on the 7th line, Erin, met with a very serious loss on Saturday night, when his barns and their contents, including the season's crop and nearly all his farm implements, were destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is enveloped in mystery. Mr. Overland had just finished his threshing. He left the place to go to Orangeville about an hour and a half earlier in the evening and there was no person at home when the fire occurred. The loss is particularly unfortunate, as the young man had only taken over the farm from his father, Mr. Richard Overland, a short time ago. The barn was one of the finest in the district and was well-fitted in every respect. The loss is estimated at about $10,000. Mr. Overland carried $2500 insurance.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Canada Big Four, which will appear in the Orangeville Opera House on the evening of October 12, is probably the best balanced entertainment company now touring Canada. Mr. Frank Oldfield is known as one of the world's best baritones and is easily the finest in Canada. He is just back from a successful tour of the British Isles. J. H. Cameron, the famous humorous entertainer, has been working on a new program and will delight all with his refined humor. Miss Maude Buschlen is recognized as Canada's foremost lady violinist. She has made several transcontinental tours and is now touring Northern Ontario. Miss Ada Davis is a talented soprano and pianiste. Never before has such an array of extraordinary talent been brought together in one concert and everywhere the houses are being sold out. Everyone is advised to reserve seats early and avoid disappointment. Plan of Hall will open at The Banner Bookstore at 9 o'clock sharp on Friday morning, Oct. 8th. The concert is in aid of the Orangeville Hospital.

We acknowledge with appreciation the receipt of two cans of honey from Geo. Rayfield, of Camilla, vegetables from the Marsville School Fair, bread from Mrs. Albert Simpson, a basket of onions from Mr. Bowers, and also the beautiful vegetables shown at the Orangeville Fall Fair by the Mono College, The Maples and Orangeville Women's Institutes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Daughters of the Empire will be held at Miss Irvine's home on First Ave., on Friday, Oct. 8th, at 7.30 p. m. The Executive will meet at 7 o'clock.

MISS O'FLYNN'S RECITAL

Unfortunately the recital given in the Opera House on Thursday night by Miss Edith M. O'Flynn, of Shelburne, and assisting artists, attracted only a small audience. Those who had the good fortune to attend had the pleasure of listening to a programme of real merit. The numbers were all of a high order and were keenly enjoyed by the audience. Miss O'Flynn, herself a gifted vocalist, is to be complimented upon providing such a rarely good programme and it is a source of regret that more of our citizens did not make it a point to attend the recital.

Episode 8

A Vitagraph serial always means something new in the way of thrills and something startlingly unusual. This is especially true of the climax of the eighth episode of "Hidden Dangers," the chapter play starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, which is being shown at the Gem Theatre every Monday and Tuesday evenings. Nothing like it was ever before seen in a photoplay production. The thrill comes as a smashing close to the episode. Jean Paige, playing the role of Madeline Stanton, a millionaire's daughter, escapes from a band of criminals who captured her and tried to force her to tell the hiding place of her father's papers and securities. Getting free from their clutches the girl takes refuge in a mountain cave. But it proves to be a case of escaping one peril only to fall afoul of another, for the cave proves to be the den of a big grizzly bear. The bear, angered by the intrusion, starts after the girl and corners her.

Just as the animal rears up on its hind legs and is about to attack, Joe Ryan, playing the role of Dr. Brutell, a friend and protector of Madeline, makes his appearance on the scene. Unarmed, with the exception of a strong battery used in his scientific studies, Dr. Brutell faces a ticklish situation. But he brings his battery into action and by making of himself a human dynamo he shoots flashing forks of electricity at the animal and manages to stun and paralyze him with the electric current, after which he carries the girl to safety.

M'GOWAN–BRYAN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan, of Amaranth, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Sept. 15th, when their only daughter, Laura Irene, became the bride of Mr. Joseph McGowan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGowan, of Amaranth, the Rev. J. A. Reddon, of Laurel Presbyterian Church, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, took her place beneath an arch of evergreens artistically arranged on the verandah, and decorated with asters, autumn leaves and white bells, while Miss Cassie McGowan, sister of the groom, played the Lohengrin wedding march. The bride looked charming in a dainty gown of white satin and georgette trimmed with pearls. She wore an embroidered veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Velma Jelly, was daintily attired in pale blue silk trimmed with accordian pleating and carried a bouquet of astera. Little Miss Allie Eades made a pretty flower girl in white satin and carried a basket of asters, in which was concealed the ring. The groom was supported by Mr. Clifford Bryan, brother of the bride. During the signing of the register, Miss M. Cook, of Ospringe, sang "Until." Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served to about one hundred and forty guests, in a dining room prettily decorated with blue and white streamers, bells and bouquets of asters and sweet peas. Afterwards all enjoyed a very pleasant social evening. The next morning the happy couple left amid showers of good wishes and confetti for a short trip, the bride travelling in a navy tricoonette suit with blue velvet hat, trimmed with ostrich tips to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. McGowan will reside on the groom's farm on the Seventh Line of Amaranth. The Banner joins a large circle of friends in extending its hearty congratulations and good wishes to the estimable young couple.

TRAIN–BOWLES

A pleasing ceremony was performed in the Township of Chinguacousy in the celebration of the marriage of Annie Alberta Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Bowles, to George Ernest Train, at the bride's home, on Wednesday, Sept. 15. The bride, escorted by her father, entered the parlor at 2.30 p.m. to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Pearl Taylor, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Laycock, the bride's pastor. She was prettily attired in blue crepe de chene and was accompanied by a youthful little ring bearer, Miss Jean Cameron, a little granddaughter, of Orangeville. After the ceremony the happy party repaired to the dining room where a dainty repast was elegantly and generously served. The happy pair left on the evening train for Toronto amid showers of rice and good wishes.

POOR HEALTH LIFE'S HANDICAP

Rich, Red Blood and Strong Nerves Needed to Win Out.

It has been well said that life is a race. The full blooded man with sound nerves, the bright-eyed, rosy cheeked woman invariably win. The nervous, dyspeptic man, and the ailing anaemic woman are left behind. Success in life is largely a question of good health and sound nerves. It is never the shaky, undecided men who are chosen for promotion; the sickly looking, pale woman is not sought after like her happy rosy sisters.

What makes all the difference is the condition of the blood. If your blood is thin and poor, your nerves are bound to suffer, because they have to depend upon good red blood for nourishment. Headaches, undecided will, a shrunken figure and pale, unattractive face tell only too plainly that the blood is at fault.

Both men and women in great numbers have found deliverance from their inferiority in life's race, caused by impoverished blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are a remedy that has been a household word for a generation, because they tone up the whole system, make the blood rich and red and strengthen the nerves. Mrs. S. B. Miller, Elmira, Ont., says: "I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a family medicine, and have reason to praise them for what they have done in our home. Some years ago, while we were living in Alberta, my husband was so completely run down that he was unable to do any work, and even to carry a pail of water would exhaust him. A doctor was called in who said his heart was affected, and that medicine would be of little use to him. This greatly worried me and I finally urged him to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He began their use and in a short time the swelling in his hands and feet disappeared. We decided to return to Ontario, but the doctor said he could not stand the trip. But the doctor was mistaken, for through the use of the pills, he gained such strength as to be able to look after the harvest, and in a month later we returned to Ontario. My husband still takes a box or two of the pills twice a year, and they keep him in good shape. I have also found the pills good for my growing daughters, and we are never without them in our home."

One of the best things about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that they do not contain the slightest trace of opiates or harmful drugs. While they are overcoming disease they are building up general conditions of good health. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Let the Homes of Canada Reflect the Nation's Prosperity

CANADIANS have every reason to feel optimistic and courageous to-day, to live happily and to enjoy the refinements and comforts of a progressive and prosperous nation.

As a Toronto "Globe" editorial so truly stated:—

"In the topsy-turvey world of to-day, few nations have a better outlook than Canada, the well-being of which is based firmly upon the fertility of her boundless fields."

Improvement of Homes

One of the most impressive evidences of the progressive and prosperous condition of the Canadian nation is the great interest that is developing in the beautifying and improving of our homes. More care and more thought are being given to the furnishings. Greater consideration is shown for beauty and harmony. An atmosphere of cheerfulness, brightness and attractiveness is carried throughout the home.

The Influence of Furniture

It is really surprising how readily an ordinary, uninteresting house can be transformed into a real home, in which it is a pleasure to live, by the magic of beautiful, yet not necessarily expensive, furniture.

Nothing that you can buy will give you and your family so many years of happiness, comfort and solid satisfaction as beautiful furniture.

Beautiful furniture brings an atmosphere of cheerfulness and brightness into every room. It delights the eye. It gives comfort and rest to the body. It brings contentment to the mind and has a refining influence on character. It gladdens the heart. It is the pride of the owner.

The Designs of To-Day

During the last decade there has been a wonderful improvement in the appearance of furniture.

Modern furniture designers have received their inspirations from the "Period Designs" of the old masters, but have not copied their work, because some of the old masterpieces were either too frail or too cumbersome for utility.

While the average family might not care to furnish their homes with the original work of the old masters, the modern adaptations of them, as produced by Canadian furniture craftsmen, ideally meet the present-day demands for furniture that combines beauty with comfort and utility.

Moderately Priced Suites

This beautiful, modern, well-made Canadian furniture is obtainable in moderately priced sets and individual pieces, as well as in the more elaborate and expensive suites.

The individual earnings of Canadians are greater than those of almost any other race. The new era commencing with the close of the war is proving to be the most progressive and prosperous in the history of the Dominion, and Canadians can well afford to brighten up their homes with better furniture.

This announcement is inserted by

THE HOME FURNISHINGS BUREAU

Bank of Hamilton Building Toronto, Canada

NOTE—The Home Furnishings Bureau does not sell furniture or goods of any kind. Its object is to promote a greater interest in the furnishing of Canadian homes. Your local dealer will be pleased to give you any information you desire about suitable furniture for your home.

"Better Furnished Homes Mean Greater Happiness"

GONE TO CALGARY

(Intended for last week)

Capt. Rev. Frank C. Harper, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Hillsburg, left on Monday morning Sept. 13th, for Calgary, to take charge of the organization of the Navy League in the Province of Alberta for two months. During the war Capt. Harper was for some time chaplain of troops on H. M. Ambulance Transport Araguaya and formed quite an extensive acquaintanceship with the men of the navy. He has now gone west to help in the raising of Alberta's share of the $760,000 fund for the dependents of the men killed in the Navy and for the various Naval Institutes and Homes in Canada. During his absence the pulpits of Hillsburg and Bethel churches will be occupied by Rev. W. A. Campbell, M. A., of Toronto, who will reside in Hillsburg and have the oversight of the work of the two congregations.

J. E. SMITH & CO. SAY

All Ford headlights turned on at once, would send a ray of light from this world to seven miles beyond the moon.

If every Ford spark plug was a loaf of bread, there would be enough food to feed Armenia for three months, with enough left over to give every Russian Bolsheviki a thick sandwich.

Enough money is spent every three years for lubricating oil for Ford cars to finance Germany's expense in the world war and buy wooden legs for all maimed soldiers of France.

If all the Fords in the United States would take part in a parade, driving along four abreast, it would take 113 days for the procession to pass a given point.

If every Ford was a Plymouth Rock hen and every hen laid an egg every day, and you owned this great flock, and sold your eggs at 43 cents per dozen, your income tax for the year 1920, would be just exactly $62,333,-001.

Allowing twenty-seven passengers to each Ford car (conservative estimate) there are enough Fords in the world to load up every human being in the universe for one big ride—the whole world on wheels, with the exception of just two people. Who shall those two be? Who shall walk along in the dust, while the rest of us ride? We nominate the Kaiser and his son.

Will Morning Never Come

DOES this illustration picture your experience?

What is more distressing than being unable to sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the first and most certain symptoms of exhausted nerves.

This is the warning that you need the assistance of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore vigor to the nerve cells and thereby avoid the development of serious nervous trouble.

By improving the quality of the blood and building up the nervous system this food cure brings new energy and strength to the whole body.

Lantic Sugar

Last call for fall fruits

DO not miss your chance to preserve these last sun-ripened gifts of summertime. How your folks will enjoy them, and how pleased you will be to serve them when canned goods made with top-priced sugar are out of reach. The time for preserving foresight is when the fruit is still in season.

Lantic is your best friend in retaining the rare bouquet of luscious plums and peaches, of delicately-flavoured pears. Its tiny, snow-white crystals of purest cane dissolve so quickly into syrup of concentrated sweetness, that you can smile at the old-time caution "Let it simmer until the sugar is all dissolved"—because it's FINE.

Fruit will retain its natural form and colour because over-cooking is unnecessary. Lantic WILL go further, and so costs less.

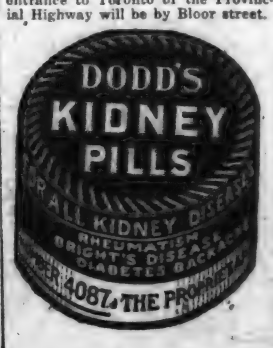
COULDN'T STOP

Owen Sound Chink's Dilemma Didn't Save Him From Fine.

A Chinaman by the name of Lem Soon was the cause of a great deal of excitement around the business section of the city one day last week. He had bought a motorcycle and started out to learn to ride it. Everything went merrily till he wanted to stop it. In spite of all his efforts to get the machine stopped he could not. Faster and faster he went, finally he swooped down 2nd Ave. East like a tornado. To avoid running into two rigs at the corner of 9th Street and 2nd Ave., he cut the corner, dodged a couple of pedestrians, and zigzagged down Ninth Street. At Ninth Street Bridge he was going about twenty-five miles an hour, and was hanging on for dear life. How he got it stopped is not known, the last seen of him he was weaving a course down First Ave. West, still making the dust fly. During his mad dash his number was taken by one of the police force, and in spite of his protests that he had no intention of speeding he was fined the usual $15.35.

It is expected that the western entrance to Toronto of the Provincial Highway will be by Bloor street.



THE OLD AND THE NEW

The millionaire of other days thought he was cutting ice, behind his team of trotting bays, that cost a beastly price. I will recall the shining rigs in which they rode in state, the surreys, phaetons and gigs, with nags of trotting gait. I used to see them whizzing by, and envy turned me sour; and thunder how they used to fly! some seven miles an hour! I wonder what Jim Fisk would say, if he could shake his shroud and for three quarters of a day mix with the modern crowd? He was a dead game sport, was Jim, before he cashed his string; and nothing was too good for him—he sampled everything. And when he in his carriage rode, behind his dappled team, he thought his outfit was an ode, and he, himself, a scream. But if he saw an auto hum, all quivering with power, from Yuba Dam to Kingdom Come, at sixty miles an hour—well, we can only widely guess what Jimuel would say; but he would think, with keen distress, of his old two-hoss shay. The poor man with his Henry car that up the highway climbs, has luxury that well might jar the plutes of olden times—Walt Mason.

He was milking, and while he lifted his eyes elsewhere a grasshopper jumped into the pail.

When he saw the commotion in the milk, he exclaimed: "Well, by gum! If here ain't one of them darned germs!"—The Country Gentleman.

A returned vacationist tells us that he was fishing in a pond one day when a country boy who had been watching him from a distance approached him and asked "How many fish ye got, mister?"

"None yet," he was told.

"Well, yer ain't done so bad," said the youngster. "I know a feller what fished here for two weeks an' he didn't get any more than you got in half an hour."—Boston Transcript.

MASSE CAN HANDLE DOUBLE WORK NOW

Says His Old Time Strength And Energy Have Returned Since Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac has built me up so that I now handle about double the work I used to," declared Oswald Masse, expressman for the J. B. Baillargeon Express Co., and living at 45 Elisabeth street, Montreal.

"I could not eat meat or vegetables without being bloated up as tight as a drum with gas afterwards. I had to live on cereals most of the time. My appetite was gone and I was growing weaker every day. My nerves were all on edge, I could not sleep well and often had night-sweats. I had a pain in the small of my back and grew so weak I could hardly get through my work.

"A druggist suggested my trying Tanlac, and very soon my appetite returned and I can now eat meat, vegetables or anything else and never have indigestion or gas afterwards. My nerves are steady and I enjoy good rest without being troubled with night-sweats. The pain in my back has disappeared and I am stronger and better in every way."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

The Simcoe Children's Aid received $670 from the tag day at the Barrie Fair.

Fred has two cases and two bottles at home, the Inspector leaving the two bottles after they were presented. Some of the balance was consumed by friends from a distance on Labor Day, and in treating friends at home. The Bench held a case had been made out and imposed a fine of $200 and costs.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts thro' the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

Counsel Present Their Argument in the Dufferin Protest.

Chief Justice Sir William Mulock and Mr. Justice Rose reserved judgment after hearing argument of counsel in the Dufferin County election protest last Thursday morning. The argument took place at Osgoode Hall, Mr. Gordon N. Shaver appearing for the petitioners and Mr. Gordon Waldron for the respondent, Thomas Kerr Slack, the U. F. O. representative for the riding.

Mr. Shaver, who spoke for over three hours and a half, argued that the promise made by Mr. Slack to return subscriptions made by his friends in the riding, among the farmers clubs, if he were elected, constituted a corrupt act.

"Place the worst construction on this attitude of Mr. Slack's. Do you say that he did this as an inducement to get them to vote for him. There must be some corrupt act. They were his supporters in any case," said Sir William Mulock.

"I claim that even if he did it to get for himself the reputation of being a rather good fellow it voids the election," argued Mr. Shaver, in saying that the fact that the money was not used had no bearing under the Elections' Act., and that, while the Elections' Act contemplated subscriptions, if these were paid back it constituted a bribe.

"I cannot make it a corrupt act unless you can prove it was done for a corrupt purpose. It is not common sense to suppose that he was influencing these men. They wanted him to run and they were willing to pay his expenses. They were his agents. The only thing he said was 'I'd rather you wouldn't'" remarked Sir William Mulock.

Mr. Shaver argued that, while Mr. Slack might have no intention to do anything wrong, that he had it in his mind to influence the men at the convention when he made the promise.

This argument Sir William called absurd, and asked if it were likely that these voters would bribe themselves with their own money which they had subscribed. When Mr. Shaver claimed that the witnesses examined at the trial in Orangeville had a political bias and favored Mr. Slack, which possibly had restrained them from telling all they knew, Sir William Mulock remarked that he had formed a very favorable opinion of the witnesses; that he did not think they had any bias, and that Mr. Slack's position in the matter seemed a very fair one to him. When Mr. Shaver suggested that Mr. Slack was almost wagering on his election by his promise to repay if elected, Mr. Justice Rose remarked that it could not be deemed a wager where one side stood never to win.

Turning to the payment of scrutineers, Mr. Shaver quoted English law and cases in which "watchers" were employed. According to claims made these "watchers" were used for the protection of voters from violence when polling their votes, and they were afterwards retained for corrupt purposes. Comparison with scrutineers under our election law was not admitted by Sir William Mulock.

'I feel it is a proper office," said Sir William, in referring to that of scrutineers. "It assists in preserving purity in elections. As such the office is a necessary one." Mr. Shaver insisted that if the Court decided that the payment of scrutineers after an election was legal, it would leave open a wide field for political corruption in subsequent elections. He claimed that the word scrutineer, as used in our elections, was a misnomer, and that they were really "watchers" in the English sense of the word.

Mr. Gordon Waldron rested his case on the Elections Act after a short argument. He claimed that in no way had the Elections Act been broken, and that all the transactions of Mr. Slack had been honorable. In referring to the scrutineers, he claimed that the employment of these persons was contemplated by the Act, and that they were extremely useful in preventing corrupt practices.

CELEBRATED DIAMOND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John McLean, of Detroit, formerly of Orangeville, celebrated their diamond wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. Anderson, Islington, Ont., on Monday, Sept. 27th. The happy event was made the occasion of a very pleasant family reunion. Members of the family present were Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Aitken, Miss Emily McLean and Mr. Norman H. McLean, of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert McLean, of Portland, Oregon; the following grandchildren, Mr. Norman Anderson, Peterboro, Mr. Herbert Anderson, Oakville, Mr. Walter Anderson and Misses Edith, Jessie, Isabel and Nellie Anderson, of Islington, and two great grandchildren, the little sons of Norman and Herbert Anderson. During the day the venerable couple received the hearty congratulations of a number of their intimate friends, who joined in wishing them continued health and many returns of their wedding day. Mr. McLean, who is 82 years of age last May, was born on lot 20, con. 2, west, Caledon, and spent the early part of his life in that township. Mrs. McLean, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Lemon, was born on lot 19, 3rd line, west, Caledon, and was 80 years of age on her last birthday. They are both active and in the enjoyment of good health. As most of our readers know, Mr. and Mrs. McLean resided in Orangeville until about four years ago, when they moved to Detroit to spend the evening of life near their family, three of whom are living in that city.

WM. T. TILT

William T. Tilt, a well-known citizen of Orangeville, passed away at his late home on North Broadway late Friday afternoon after a long and severe illness from an incurable internal malady. Deceased, who was 55 years, 6 months and 7 days of age, had been confined to the house for some months prior to his demise. He was given every care that medical skill and the anxious solicitude of a loving wife and daughter could devise, but unfortunately without avail. The late Mr. Tilt was born in Dundee in the County of Waterloo and was in business in Goderich and Detroit before coming to Orangeville about eight years ago. He conducted a billiard parlor on South Broadway until ill-health compelled him to retire from business. He is survived by Mrs. Tilt and one daughter, Miss Edna, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement. H. Burton Tilt, Chicago, Jos. Tilt and Harvey J. Tilt, Detroit, and Edwin B. Tilt, Montreal, are the surviving brothers. The late Mr. Tilt was a big hearted, genial man, who had many friends and no enemies. The funeral was held from his late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's Church, conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were three brothers, Messrs. Edwin B. Jos. and Harvey J. Tilt, two nephews, Fred Tilt and Blakie Fairbairn and Mr. T. H. Greenis. There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes. These included:—a pillow, the family; cross, brothers and sisters; casket bouquet, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Maxwell, Calgary, Alta.; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore and family, London; spray, Mr. and Mrs. C. Vrooman and family, Galt; wreath, Waterloo Lodge, I. O. O. F., Galt; three links, Maple Leaf Lodge, I. O. O. F., Orangeville; sprays, Miss Sylvia Lake, Miss Cora Irwin and Mr. Clare Hannah, Orangeville; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Deagle, Orangeville; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Walter and Mr. Blakie Fairbairn, Orangeville; spray, The Girls' Auxiliary St. Mark's Church; crescent, Mr. Fred Tilt; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pownall. The late Mr. Tilt had been an active member of the Oddfellows for the last 28 years.

Among the friends from a distance at the funeral were:—Messrs. Chas. G., Ed. and Arthur Vrooman, Galt; Messrs. Melvin, H. and H. D. Vrooman, Fergus; Mr. Nelson Vrooman, Toronto; Mr. Edwin B. Tilt, Montreal; Mrs. Wm. Littlejohn, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Tilt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tilt and Mr. Fred Tilt, of Detroit.

FRIENDS IN NEED

Friends in adversity are real friends as Mr. Geo. Overland, of Erin, can testify. A week ago Saturday night Mr. Overland met with a very serious loss through having his fine barn, the season's crop and most of his implements destroyed by fire. When his neighbors learned of his loss they put a number of subscription lists into circulation. Last Thursday night the collectors met at the home of Township Clerk Samuel Huxley, of Erin, who is acting as Treasurer, and placed in his hands the handsome sum of $2207. This sum Mr. Huxley will forward to Mr. Overland. The large amount raised furnishes Mr. Overland with encouraging evidence of the sympathy and goodwill of the people of his neighborhood and will at the same time be of substantial assistance in helping to replace his destroyed barns and machinery.

FREQUENT HEADACHES A DANGER SIGNAL

The Victim Nearly Always Suffers From Weak, Watery Blood.

There are few ailments that cause more genuine misery than nervous or sick headaches. Only those who have endured the suffering, sometimes for days at a stretch, can realize the agony of the victims. Noises increase the pain, food is unthought of, for it only adds to the distress. When the attack is on there is little to be done until it passes away. These headaches are nearly always a danger signal that too frequently passes unheeded. They are the symptoms of many maladies, such as anaemia, constipation, indigestion, etc., and when these are cured the headaches permanently disappear. Headaches are more often a sign of weak, watery blood than anything else, and the most successful treatment, therefore, is a remedy that will rebuild the blood and make it rich and red. This can best be done through a fair course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which has a special action on the blood, and through the blood on the nerves. In this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases due to poor, watery blood such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, after effects of influenza, neuralgia, etc. The effectiveness of this tonic tratment is illustrated in the following case: Mrs. Geo. Arn, R. R. No. 6, Simcoe, Ont., says:—"Some years ago my daughter, then a young girl of eleven, became very much run down and nervous. She was troubled greatly with sick headaches, and frequently with vomiting spells, and although we lived just across the road from the school, she was not able to attend. She was taking medicine all this time, but it did not seem to do her any good. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and finally decided to give them to her. By the time she had taken two boxes she seemed much better, and before the fifth box was finished, she was again in the best of health and has always since enjoyed the best of health. I am satisfied it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that restored her, and I have since seen equally good results in other cases."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Saturday, Oct. 9th, has been set apart by Royal Proclamation as Fire Prevention Day. Besides serving the purpose of general public education it is requested that the observance of Fire Prevention Day should be made the starting point for some definite activity looking to the checking of the enormous annual loss that Canada suffers from fire. Our readers will realize the importance of interesting themselves in this movement, when they are told that in 1919 the loss in Ontario alone from fires reached the immense total of $10,514,232. This does not include the loss from forest fires, which of course ran into another large sum of money. Education and definite action to lessen the loss of wealth from fire are both urgently needed in this province. Let us all make Saturday, Oct. 9th, a definite starting point in the campaign.

—Brampton postponed Fair will be held on Friday and Saturday.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

At the Epworth League meeting last Monday night Mr. Wilson McConnell spoke on "The Victorious Life." It was pointed out that the Victorious Life is the Christian Life. The three great essentials for which are Vision, Vigour, Victory. Get the vision, exercise vigour, and the result will be victory. This life must be a life of action, a progressive life, the life that Christ lived when he was on earth and expects his followers to live, the life that triumphs over all things.

Next Monday evening there will be a debate, "Resolved that Canada is of more importance to the British Empire than the British possessions in Asia." The affirmative will be upheld by Misses May Niebel and E. M. Budd, while the negative will be taken care of by Mesrs. Will Porter and Clarence McConnell. A good programme is being provided and a goodly number of young people are expected to be present.

LAUREL.

The Epworth League has reorganized for the season and the following officers cordially invite everybody in the community to their regular meetings on Tuesday evenings:—Pres. Miss F. Hamilton; 1st Vice-Pres., Miss L. Morrow; 2nd Vice-Pres., Arthur Richardson; 3rd Vice-Pres., Lewis Hamilton; 4th Vice-Pres., Miss O. Pratt; 5th Vice-Pres., Miss B. Richardson; Secretary, Tom Nelson; Treasurer, A. D. Harrison.

On the evening of Sept. 21st, Dr. Birks, of West China, gave an interesting account of his experiences there. A short social hour followed enabling the leaguers to get adquainted with their representative.

Under the auspices of the Citizenship Vice-President an interesting oldtime spelling match was held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28th. After the opening services two sides were called up with Messrs. Harvel Dynes and Arthur Richardson as captains. The pastor, Rev. G. W. Lynd, opened the word bombardment with "accident." After two trials each the first round ended with a few falling out. After that only one chance was given. Finally after an exciting ten minutes Miss G. Russell stood supreme, having ousted her adversary upon the word, "alphabet."

The President then proceeded with the business and closing exercises. It was moved among other things that a League newspaper be launched in the near future, edited by Miss L. Morrow.

The Missionary Vice-President would like to remind all leaguers that the monthly missionary meeting is on Oct. 12th. We have an interesting letter from Dr. Shaver, our home missionary in Fort William. This letter will be read at the meeting on the 12th.

SPROULE-SPROULE

Mr. Edmund H. Sproule, a well-known Broadway business man, sprang a neat surprise on his friends last week by joining the ranks of the benedicts. The interesting event took place on Friday afternoon at the home of the bride, Mrs. Ellen Sproule, First St., Rev. W. M. Morris officiating. After the marriage the happy couple left town on a motor trip, returning the first of this week. The Banner extends its congratulations and good wishes.

ALTON

On Thursday afternoon the Little Light Bearers' meeting was held in connection with the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Methodist church. The President, Mrs. J. Lemon, occupied the chair. After the opening exercises, Mrs. J. M. Dods gave a very interesting paper entitled "Tithes and Talents." Miss Dorothy Cockerill sang a solo beautifully, after which Miss Evelyn Thomas gave a very inspiring address. Then Miss Margaret Lemon sang very sweetly. Mrs. Joyce McConnell, in behalf of the Auxiliary and Superintendent of this Department, gave the address of welcome to the visitors, after which the certificates were delivered to the Little Light Bearers and gave to each child present a Light Bearer's star. After the program the children spent awhile playing games under the supervision of Mrs. (Rev.) Morris. Then the Auxiliary members, mothers and children enjoyed afternoon tea together. Mrs. McConnell reported six new life members. That is a total of seventeen life members and twelve annual members in the Little Light Bearers' Department of the W. M. S.

Sept. 27th, 1920.

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir:

In The Banner of last week I notice a report of the death of Mr. William Hagen, formerly of Alton. Thinking a few remarks based on my knowledge of Mr. Hagen's past career might be of interest to your readers here I have ventured to submit the following observations. The late Mr. Hagen, who was of Irish decent, was a young man at the time of the American Civil War and enlisted in the Hundredth Royal Canadian Regiment, which was formed about that time. One of your former townsmen, the late John Bookless, was also a member of this Regiment. The Regiment was sent to Gibraltar to do garrison duty and it was here that Mr. Hagen met and married his wife, who was born at Gibraltar of Irish parentage. After serving at Gibraltar for some time, our onetime townsman got his discharge and he and his wife came to Canada and took up their residence on lot 22, near the old Alton Grey & Bruce station. Afterwards he obtained employment as a sectionman on the "Narrow Guage" road. Later he was promoted to the position of section foreman on the Alton section and served as such for a number of years. He was afterwards transferred to the Caledon section and was eventually retired by the C. P. R. with pension. He subsequently moved to Toronto, where he worked with the T. Eaton Co. for some years. As a man Mr. Hagen was highly respected by his fellow employees on the railway. He had a family of eight, two sons and six daughters. The sons were William, formerly roadmaster on the Ontario Railway at Tweed, and Joseph, formerly C. P. R. Engineer at Smith's Falls. Of the six daughters, two are deceased, one married P. Sexton, of Toronto, two were married to the Unger brothers and the youngest was married to Mr. Killeen, formerly of Caledon, now a business man in Winnipeg. Mr. Hagen was twice married, his first wife having died in Toronto a number of years ago. The second wife, I understand, is still living.

NO INCREASE IN PRICE

Notwithstanding the enormous increase in the cost of production, over three times previous to war prices, that great weekly, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, has decided to accept renewals and new subscriptions at the old rate ($1.50 a year) from all who remit before December 1st, 1920. This should be good news to readers of that big weekly. The Family Herald has been vastly improved and is beyond doubt the greatest value in newspapers.

Of a son we loved so dear;
His equal would be hard to find,
What would we give to have him here?

However long our lives may last,
Whatever scenes we view,
Whatever joys or cares be ours,
Dear Wilbert, we will always remember you.

Sadly missed by his sorrowing Mother and Father.

Two years have passed, still we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts will always linger,
Somewhere in France, where our dear brother is laid.

GOT NO BENEFIT

About a month ago, Mrs. Tough, wife of Rev. Chas. Tough, of Mets, came to Orangeville for the purpose of having their son, Gordon, a bright boy of fourteen years, take special treatment from Miss Austin. The boy was in excellent health until he was vaccinated about a year ago. Shortly afterwards he became paralysed from the waist down. His parents have consulted a number of doctors and followed different methods of treatment, unfortunately without obtaining any beneficial results. They were finally recommended to give Miss Austin a trial. Although this lady has obtained excellent results in many difficult cases she was baffled in this particular instance and the unfortunate patient was obliged to return home on Tuesday without having derived any appreciable benefit from the treatment. The case is peculiarly sad and has attracted wide-spread attention. We understand that medical men are of the opinion that the trouble was caused by the vaccination. The patient is a very bright boy and we understand has shown marked aptitude as a student.

A DESTRUCTIVE STORM

October was ushered in by a furious northwest snowstorm—one of the worst ever experienced in this section at this or in fact any other season of the year. The heavy sticky flakes lodged in the foliage of shade and fruit trees, overloading the branches and causing many of them to break. Cheery and apple trees suffered severely and the damage to orchards is incalculable. Many of the beautiful maples that adorn Orangeville's residential streets were badly broken and their branches cumbered the streets in all directions. Both electric light systems were out of commission most of the day, but got going again shortly after nightfall on Friday. Telephone lines fared badly and there was no outside connection to the north and west on Friday. It is said that there were forty-two poles down between this town and Shelburne. The storm was general, but did most damage in Dufferin, Grey, Simcoe and Wellington counties.

CALEDON.

The Y. P. S. of the Methodist Church opened the season with a Corn Roast at the home of Mr. Wm. Tribble on the 1st line. The bright moonlight made the evening most suitable for an outdoors gathering and a very enjoyable time was spent playing games around the bright bonfire. Mr. and Mrs. Tribble and family proved themselves excellent hosts, doing all they could to add to the enjoyment of their guests. After some time had been spent in games, the corn and other refreshments were partaken of. Before dispersing for the evening all joined hands and joined in the hearty singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Thanksgiving Services will be held in the Methodist Church here on Sunday, Oct. 17th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p. m. Rev. W. E. Wilson, pastor of King St. Methodist Church, Toronto, will preach at both services.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and thoughtfulness during Elmer's illness and in our bereavement. The sympathy of true friends and the hope of reunion in the Life hereafter makes the loss of our loved one possible to bear.

JOHN SIMPSON

Another of the early settlers of Amaranth and a pioneer of East Garafraxa passed to the great beyond on Monday morning in the death of Mr. John Simpson. Born in Armagh Co., Ireland, he came to Canada with his parents when 15 years of age, settling at Reading corner. Sixty-four years ago he married Catharine Hanna, the young couple starting life's battles on the virgin bush lot, now the home of Mr. J. P. Hawes. After ten year's work in clearing a large part of this place, Mr. Simpson bought the old homestead in Amaranth, now occupied by his son, Thomas F. Simpson, then a solid bush, and started to hew out a home. This he splendidly accomplished, and in the success attending life's labors, was loyally supported by his wife. She died nine years ago. Mr. Simpson never sought any public office, confining his interests to his own affairs. He was a life-long member of the Church of Christ. The following children survive: William, in Grand Valley, Mrs. Willis Potter, of Amaranth, Mrs. John W. Rounding, of Winnipeg, Thomas F., of Amaranth, and Mrs. John W. Brown, of Buffalo. The funeral took place by motor to the Union cemetery on Wednesday.—Star & Vidette.

Mother Twice Saved from Blood-Poison!

The unique power of Zam-Buk is well demonstrated by the case of Mrs. S. Cliff, of Melette, S.D. Here, once again, are facts which convincingly prove that pain, inflammation and blood-poison cannot withstand Zam-Buk's powerful antiseptic healing.

Mrs. Cliff, says, "I gashed my hand severely between the fingers with a piece of tin. The wound, though carefully tended to, somehow became infected and poisoned. I had doctor's treatment and used numerous prescribed remedies but the swelling and throbbing spread right up into the shoulder.

"Hearing splendid reports of Zam-Buk I determined to try it. So long as I live I shall remember the wonderful relief experienced the first time I used the balm. Under the cooling and soothing influence of Zam-Buk, pain disappeared, the swelling reduced rapidly and I was at last able to sleep."

"Day by day there was vast improvement, when every trace of inflammation and poisonous matter had been drawn out of the wound by Zam-Buk, perfect healing resulted.

"Again when laid up with my leg, swollen and inflamed from the knee down, there was nothing to touch the trouble but Zam-Buk. This wonderful balm soon put me on the sure road to recovery. To-day my faith in Zam-Buk is such, that never again would I be without it." 50c. of all dealers.

Equally splendid in Eczema, Ringworm, Piles, Ulcers, Boils, Abscesses, Cuts, Burns, Scalds, & Sprains. SAMPLE FREE if 1c. stamp (or copy of this paper) is enclosed to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

The Price of Shoes
as.
The Price of Other Things

IT has been said that "comparisons are odious." And so they are—as a rule.

But it has been so repeatedly stated that shoe prices are "excessive" or "ridiculous," that we feel justified in making a comparison between the present price of shoes and the price of some other things that we buy.

The following prices are from Government statistics and cover the period from January, 1914, to January, 1920.

Advance in price of Iron and Steel	126 per cent.
Average advance in all commodities	146.6 "
Advance in price of Fruit and Vegetables	153.3 "
Advance in price of Textiles	256.2 "
Advance in price of boots and shoes	118.2 "

Shoe prices had to increase—naturally. The price of everything that enters into a pair of shoes has gone up tremendously in late years. For instance, hides have advanced 154.6 per cent. in six years. One of the principal materials used in making fine shoes has advanced 500% in the same period. In fact, there is no single commodity used in the manufacture of shoes that has not advanced by leaps and bounds during late years.

But in spite of this a close margin of profits, efficient manufacturing methods, and keen domestic competition, has resulted in lower prices than the above advances would seem to make inevitable.

These comparisons will show why shoe prices are higher—they have simply followed in the wake of general advancing prices.

But, in Canada, they are neither "excessive" nor "ridiculous," but proportionately lower than most other things.

The Shoe Industry in Canada is an efficient and competent one—making shoes for the Canadian people which, grade for grade, are as low, or lower in price, as shoes obtainable in any Country.

¶ Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

159 Avenue Pius IX, Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured.

At this time, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and I did so. After taking two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives', I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well.

My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to "Fruit-a-tives".

THE CAT CAME BACK

Found Its Way Home Over Many Miles of Strange Country.

A remarkable instance of feline intuition has just been given by a Maltese cat belonging to Rev. Dr. Harper. The cat was taken up to their summer home above Parry Sound early in July by Dr. and Mrs. Harper in an effort to get rid of the mice up there. The cat did not become altogether reconciled to the place on Georgian Bay, but stayed round though it made frequent trips abroad. When preparing to come home Dr. Harper fixed up a large carton in which to carry pussy, but pussy would have none of it and when about to be put in the box it skidooed and had to be left behind because there was not time to catch it before the boat went out. Dr. Harper asked a young fellow resident up there to take care of the little animal if he could get it to stay with him and never expected to see it again. Monday morning when Dr. Harper opened the kitchen door the cat came in purring loudly and at once sought refreshment where its saucer always sat. Needless to say it was well fed and warmly welcomed. Just one month exactly was consumed by the cat in making the trip of more than a hundred miles over strange country back home. This cat seems never to have forgotten the casual kindness which rescued it and gave it a good home. One day in winter a couple of years ago Dr. Harper was at the C. P. R. station when the train from the west pulled in. He heard the faint cry of a kitten and looking under the car from which the sound came saw a small gray cat, its face covered with sleet and ice, perched on the cross beam of a truck which carries the wheels. He picked the kitten up. It was so numb it could scarcely move and with his hands the doctor melted the ice on its face while he carried it home where he fed it. It soon revived and from that time seemed to show a marked appreciation of its home. After its recent exploit this cat has become more than ever valued around the Methodist parsonage.—Alliston Herald.

ONLY THAT, AND NOTHING MORE

In a Highland village, which contributed an amazing proportion of its manhood to war service, a striking memorial has been erected to the fallen. It consists of a large roughhewn block of granite. On the only smooth side of the block is engraven "1914—1919." The reticence of the inscription has a dignity which may be commended to people who are now devising war memorials. That Highland glen lost most of its young men on the battlefield.

Dufferins Had an Easy Victory in the Second Game With Mimico.

Dufferins won an easy victory in the second game with Mimico, played on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The visitors were shy four of their regular team and the juniors who took their places were no match for the speedy Dufferins. Mimico made a stand in the first quarter, playing some really good lacrosse, but after that the team went to pieces and the greenshirts scored almost at will. Play was fairly even in the opening period, which ended with the count standing 1 to 0 in favor of The Dufferins. The only score of the quarter came near its close on a pretty combination play between Earl Stevenson and Bert Brown, the latter netting the goal. In the second period Dufferins got four in a row, Blythe Brown taking the first on a rebound, Bert Brown the second and third with swift shots from his favorite position out on the side and Blythe Brown the fourth also with a sideshot. Clyde Gordon, who came on at half time and who was greeted with a round of cheers when he appeared on the field, got in to the lime light by tallying shortly after the face-off. Mimico scored a couple of minutes later and then Gordon notched another for Orangeville. The tally came as the result of a particularly clever bit of work. Blythe Brown passed the ball to Gordon back of the flags. The latter eluded his check, ran around the end of the net and dropped the ball in the goal. It is not often that a goalkeeper scores a goal for his team, but the unusual thing happened at this stage, when Bert Booth relieved an attack on his citadel and then ran the length of the field and made a successful shot on the Mimico flags. Gordon tallied two more and then Mimico relieved the monotony by taking their second goal after a bit of neat combination play. Dr. Zinn, Bill Stevens, Blythe Brown and Gordon scored one apiece before the quarter ended. In the final period Bert Brown and Ewing scored for The Dufferins and then Taylor tallied for the visitors with a lightning shot from well out on the side. The Dufferins took four more before the period ended, Bert Brown, Gordon and Earl Stevenson scoring in the order named. The game was free from roughness and only three penalties were imposed. Referee Ernie Doyle and Judge of Play Tom Humphreys were the officials and handled the game in first-class style.

The win gave The Dufferins undisputed right to the title of intermediate champions of the O. A. L. A, for 1920. The winners were heartily congratulated at the close by many old lacrosse players who were here for the game, not only on winning the championship, but on the splendid manner in which they upheld the best traditions of the game throughout the season. It goes without saying that Orangeville is proud of the champions and the hearty congratulations of all classes of our citizens go out to the players and also to President "Jimmy" Armstrong and the other members of the management, who have one and all worked hard for the success of the team.

The game attracted an excellent crowd notwithstanding the chilly weather. The gate receipts amounted to the handsome sum of $575.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood then indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for the little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculee Conception, Que., writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

MELANCTHON VILLAGE

The violent snowstorm of last Friday caused some of our inhabitants to think winter had really come, but the cold spell has gone and we are now enjoying beautiful October weather.

Miss Hazel Barrett is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mills, at Lindsay.

The election trial of our neighbor and worthy member, Mr. T. K. Slack, M. L. A., at Orangeville was the chief topic of interest last week. The following from the village were in attendance:—Messrs. Jas. Brown, Jos. Gallaugher, Thos. Sanderson, and George Barrett, besides a large number from different parts of the township.

The good people of the Melancthon appointment have at last put a new roof on the Gravel Road Methodist Church. The improvement was much needed.

H. White & Co.'s hay press has been working in the neighborhood and a good price is being paid for hay this season. Result—the farmers are making money.

Mr. Wm. Barrett had the misfortune to have a valuable young cow killed by the train on the C. P. R. crossing the other night.

Another large real estate deal is being put through in our midst. Melancthon farms appear to be in demand at much inflated prices. Forty years ago farms, which are today selling for $6,000 to $8,000 apiece, would not have been taken as a gift. The raising of livestock seems to be the main object of the progressive farmer of the present day and Melancthon farms are especially well adapted for this kind of farming.

Melancthon Grain Market is again open for the season with Mr. Sam McComb in his usual role as manager.

Our village blacksmith shop is still vacant as well as the cottage [illegible] beside the shop. Here is a good opening for a blacksmith to get started before the winter sets in. We have no blacksmith nearer than Shelburne or Corbetton, with an interval of eight miles of well settled farming land between.

GOOD ROADS AND RURAL FIRE PROTECTION

Good roads enable the farmers to gather quickly and assist fighting fires or in saving household goods and live stock. More good roads will cause more communities to arrange for rural fire risk and saving valuable lives and property. Besides the feeling of security it is inevitable that the insurance rates will be decreased.

Episode 9

Jean Paige, the charming and plucky little co-star of Joe Ryan in the Vitagraph serial, "Hidden Dangers," has well earned the present day honors of being the gamest and most daring woman star in motion pictures. If she never did anything more dangerous and daring than the stunt she performs at the climax of the ninth episode she would still hold the honors, for that piece of work has been acclaimed as being the top notcher of the several hundred thrilling scenes in the chapter play.

The scene, coming right near the close of the episode and topping the preceding action with its big thrill, is one where Miss Paige climbs to the top of a church steeple and hangs onto the weather vane, hoping to escape from the outlaw gang that have pursued her there. They set fire to the church and the steeple is about to topple to the ground with this little slip of a girl hanging to it when she escapes just by sheer pluck and chance.

The story of "Hidden Dangers" was written before Miss Paige was selected as one of its stars. When she was decided upon to share the honors, the director wanted to change the thrill scenes and modify the hazard and danger for Miss Paige, because of it being her first work in serial productions. She would not allow them to do this, however, and insisted that she go through with the story as planned.

Her director, William Bertram, said after the making of the steeple scene: "I always knew Miss Paige was a splendid actress, but I must confess I never knew that she had the lion's heart she has." The ninth episode will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights, October 11th and 12th.

McLean and other friends in town over the week-end.

Mr. J. E. McMaster, First Ave., arrived home on Saturday night after an absence of six weeks on a pleasure trip to the West. Mr. McMaster went through to Vancouver, where he visited with his oldest brother, Mr. John A. McMaster, whom he had not seen for twenty years. Our townsman describes Vancouver as a prosperous, go-ahead city. He fell for the city in every respect except the climate, which was altogether too damp to suit. Mr. McMaster says there were only three dry days the whole time he was in the city. Our townsman also spent some time with friends in Calgary, where he met quite a number of former Dufferinites including Dr. Leslie A. Maxwell, one of the leading dentists in the city, and ex-Mayor F. J. Marshall, of Orangeville.

Y. P. S. MEETING

Miss Isabel Fife gave an extremely interesting address on a trip through the Holy Land from Jaffa to Jerusalem at the weekly meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. on Monday night. 185 times - no difference!

Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, famous concert soprano, has made this test 185 times. 185 public audiences, in 185 cities, have heard her compare her voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one, out of a total of more than 100,000 listeners, has been able to tell when Miss Shepherd was singing, and when the New Edison—except by watching her lips.

4,000 similar tests of direct comparison, made by over fifty other celebrated vocalists and instrumentalists, have given this same result.

The New Edison is perfect realism achieved!

What kind of music "gets" you?

Tell us—and we'll show you how all its emotional power is RE-CREATED by the New Edison

Is it the soulful violin?—a mellow contralto?—the scintillating flute?—a sweet, soothing tenor?—that draws the quickest emotional response from you.

Let us play your favorite voice or instrument in a new kind of Realism Test. See whether you are touched by the RE-CREATED music in the same way that you are touched by the living music.

We want to show you that the New Edison RE-CREATES all the vital power in all music.

Remember what to ask for—"personal favorites" Realism Test!

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Perfect realism is your one vehicle to the inner joys of music which you crave.

Mr. Edison spent three million dollars in the research work which gave the New Edison perfect realism. He did this in order that the phonograph might transcend its former limitations and (here we quote Mr. Edison's own words), "bring into every American home, music so realistic and so perfect in its rendition as to be an unending source of benefit and pleasure."

The instruments which proved this perfect realism in Miss Shepherd's 185 tests were all exact duplicates of the original Official Laboratory Model on which Mr. Edison spent his three million dollars. You can also have an exact duplicate of this three million dollar original. We have it in our store, and guarantee it to be capable of sustaining the same test of direct comparison.

Important Practical Detail

Our Budget Plan brings your New Edison for immediate enjoyment, without asking for immediate payment. Ask about it when you come in to hear the "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

POPULAR LITTLE GIRL WELL AGAIN

Alice Bouchard is Wonderfully Benefited by Tanlac. States Mother.

A statement which will be read with interest throughout the Province of Quebec was made recently by Mrs. Joseph Bouchard, of 1131 Ethel, Verdun, a suburb of Montreal, concerning the benefit her daughter, Alice, had derived from the use of Tanlac.

Alice Bouchard was the young lady, who, at the big Pageant on June 24, impersonated Marguerite Bourgeois in the tableaux representing the founder of the Ladies of the Congregation of Montreal teaching Indian girls and the children of the early settlers.

"Alice had been in poor health for a long time and had indigestion so bad there was little that she could eat without suffering great distress," said Mrs. Bouchard. "After eating she complained as though she had swallowed a stone, and so much gas would form on her stomach she could hardly breathe. She often lay awake for hours at night feeling like she was going to choke. She was constipated and had frightful headaches. She had little or no appetite, became very thin, and her complexion was bad. She complained of feeling weak all the time and we thought she would have to take to her bed altogether.

"A neighbor told us about Tanlac and we got some for Alice. She now has an excellent appetite and can eat anything without having indigestion afterwards. She sleeps well at night, has gained in weight and feels better in every way."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

STEPHENSON'S CUSTOM WOOLLEN MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

Was Built By Brampton Man at Time of Crimean War.

Mr. Irwin Stephenson's custom woollen mill on Bythia St., commonly known as the Orangeville Carding Mill, was destroyed by fire between two and three o'clock on Sunday morning. The fire was first noticed by Fred Dawson and Allen Cranston, a couple of young men, while on their way home a short time after the arrival of the express special from Toronto. They notified Nightwatchman Thos. Dawson, who rang in a fire alarm. Unfortunately there had been a false alarm a little earlier in the night and on this account some of the firemen did not respond as promptly as they would otherwise have done. However, it is doubtful if the building could have been saved under any circumstances. The building was a frame structure and dry as tinder. The contents also included considerable greasy and inflammable material that made the best kind of food for the devouring element. The fire which originated in the addition at the east end of the main building spread with great rapidity and the entire structure was soon a fiery furnace. The heat was intense and the brigade had a difficult task saving Mr. Stephenson's dwelling house, which stands quite close to the mill site. Next morning all that remained of the building was the foundation and a mass of charred and blackened timbers, the remains of the framework of the superstructure. Most of the large beams were still in position, but looked decidedly unsafe and Mr. Stephenson is taking immediate steps to have the ruins of the building pulled down.

The destroyed building was one of the landmarks of the town. It was a three storey frame structure, 40x25, with a one storey frame addition at the east end. As nearly as can be ascertained it was built by William Waite, a Brampton man, during the Crimean war, probably in 1855. Waite operated the mill for a couple of years with rather indifferent success, and then left Orangeville and returned to Brampton. It stood idle until 1869, when it was purchased by John Stephenson, father of the present owner, and a partner named James Ingram, who came here from the New England States. Four years later Mr. Ingram sold out his interest to Mr. Stephenson and moved to Cataract. Mr. Stephenson and his son operated the mill until the former's death in 1909, since which the mill has been owned and operated entirely by the son, Mr. Irwin Stephenson. It was the last custom mill in this section of Ontario, and probably the last in the whole province.

The contents of the building included a complete set of carding machinery and a quantity of wool brought in by farmers in the district. Mr. Stephenson had been using the mill during the day and had a fire on in the stove used for heating the building. He left early in the evening, carefully checking off the stove before locking up for the night. There was very little fire in the stove when he left and Mr. Stephenson is quite positive that the fire did not originate from the stove. The fact that the floor near the stove and an adjoining partition were not burned supports his contention. Those who arrived on the scene early are also positive that the fire had it origin in the addition, which was then a mass of flames while there was little sign of fire in the main building. It is strongly suspected that the fire was of incendiary origin, although there is a possibility that it may have been started by a spark from a C. P. R. engine which went through from Orangeville to Fraxe Junction about 2 a.m. and returned later in the morning. Mr. Stephenson estimates his loss at $3,000. There was no insurance on either building or contents. As a matter of fact the mill had never been insured since it was built. Citizens generally will regret the disappearance of one of the landmarks of the town and extend their sympathy to Mr. Stephenson in his loss.

For many years Mr. Stephenson had made the practice of preserving the Toronto Globe and the local newspapers. He had a fairly complete file of the Weekly Globe extending back to sometime in the 60's, files of the Daily Globe covering many years and probably the best collection of local newspapers outside the office files of the papers themselves. These were all stored in the mill and were of course destroyed, together with many clippings of historical and literary interest. This loss Mr. Stephenson feels keenly, as he has long taken an active interest in the preservation of records of local and general historical value.

R. to recover damages resulting from an accident which caused the death of Mrs. McWhinney. Deceased, who was a middle-aged woman and quite fleshy, was driving with her daughter out of higher near Flesherton in a cutter during February of the present year. Close to a railway crossing known locally as Cairns' Crossing a passing train frightened the horse causing it to plunge forward throwing Mrs. McWhinney against the dashboard of the cutter and then into the snow, where she expired instantly. Plaintiff contended that her death was caused by mental shock and physical injuries and that the defendants had been guilty of negligence in that the engineer had failed to blow the whistle when approaching the crossing. Several witnesses testified that the whistle had not been blown. On the other hand the engineer and members of the train crew testified that the warning signal had been given at the proper time. The defence set up the contention that death had been caused by heart trouble. When the Court resumed on Tuesday counsel announced that a settlement had been reached. On learning the terms, the Court withdrew the case from the jury and entered judgment for the plaintiff for $5,000, of which $2,000 goes to the husband and $500 each to the two daughters of the deceased woman. L. B. Lucas, K. C., and W. D. Henry, Markdale, acted for plaintiff and Anglin MacMurchy, K. C., Toronto, for the defendant company.

The jurors on the case were E. Knight, W. J. Bates, James Carson, Geo. Hand, Walter Crosby, N. Collins, Anson Dyer, Thos. Halbert, Jas. R. Clark, Wm. A. Clowes, Robt. Caldwell and Stewart Hughson.

NON-JURY CASES

Campbell vs. Campbell—Action for alimony. Plaintiff moved for leave to discontinue action without costs. Motion adjourned for argument in Toronto. Lucas & Henry, Markdale, for plaintiff; A. A. Hughson, Orangeville, and J. W. Curry, K. C., Toronto, for defendant.

Street vs. Craig—An action by Margaret Street, of Orangeville, against Thomas Craig, a Mono farmer, for damages for personal injuries. In June 1919 while the defendant was delivering six head of cattle at the C. P. R. yards here one of them broke away and became wild with fright. In the course of its wanderings it entered a yard where the plaintiff was hanging out clothes, knocked her down and hooked her in the side, inflicting an ugly gash across the abdomen. W. D. Henry, Markdale, for plaintiff; C. R. McKeown for defendant. Judgment was reserved.

The last case on the list, Ferris vs. Ellis, an action for the specific performance of an agreement to purchase some land, was being tried at time of going to press.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief by Enriching the Blood.

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which will shortly leave the victim painracked and helpless.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SLACK IS SAFE

The Dufferin election protest was dismissed with costs on Tuesday. Mr. T. K. Slack, the sitting U. F. O. member, is therefore safely seated for the full term of the present House. The decision is just about what was expected, as it was felt that the evidence had not shown any intentional wrongdoing on the part of Mr. Slack or his agents.

ELMER M'MULLEN

The whole Mono Mills community was startled and sorrow striken, when it became known on Monday, the 27th ult., that the shadow of death had again descended with awful suddenness upon the home of Mrs. George McMullen, of Albion, and snatched from it her younger son, Elmer, after an illness of only a few days duration. The lad of eighteen years just growing into a manhood of great promise and bright prospects, and gifted with a winning personality and wisdom beyond his years, his death is indeed a serious loss, not only in his own home, but in the whole community. In the Sunday School and Church, in the Epworth League and in the recently organized Young Men's Club he was a regular attendant and an active worker. Scarcely had the shadow lifted from the home since the husband and father was taken away a few short years ago, when Elmer was called to "Be with Father," as he said to those who were with him when the end was coming near. Needless to say the heartfelt sympathy of everyone goes out to the widowed mother, the aged grandfather and the sister, Myrtle, and brother, Wesley.

The funeral was by motor to Caledon East cemetery on Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. Peter Tiller, pastor of the Methodist circuit here, assisted by Rev. Alfred Laycock, a former pastor, and Rev. J. A. Matheson, of the Presbyterian Church, conducted the funeral services at the home and grave. Many beautiful floral offerings bore their mute testimony of love and esteem. These included a pillow from the family, wreaths from Mono Mills Sunday School, the Epworth League of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Oswald Potter, Mrs. David Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. May and family, Clifford Mc-Kenzie, of Toronto, boy and girl friends and Wilfrid and Carrie McKinley, and sprays from Fred and Alex. McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Welwood, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Geo. Speers and Miss Reta Stinson, of Toronto. The pallbearers were all chosen from intimate boy friends as follows:—Roy Arlow, Sam Arlow, Geo. Speers, Joe Gamble, Eddie Lyness and Ernest Patterson.

DIED IN VANCOUVER

Mr. Wm. Guest, West Broadway, received a message on Monday conveying the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. John McClelland, in Vancouver, B. C. Mr. McClelland, who ran a general store in Palgrave for a number of years, sold out his business a short time ago. He and his wife were on their way to California to spend the winter and had gone as far as Vancouver, when Mrs. McClelland was taken seriously ill. We understand that heart trouble was the cause of her unexpected demise. Deceased was about 57 years of age and leaves her husband and a family of two sons and four daughters. The youngest son and daughter were accompanying their parents to California. The remains are being brought east for burial and it is expected that the funeral will take place to Raney's Church cemetery in Adjala on Saturday afternoon. Deceased was widely known and highly respected in this district and the news of her unexpected demise has caused much sorrow amongst her friends.

MISS ELIZA ANDERSON

Miss Eliza Jane Anderson passed away at her home, lot 24, 6th line, east, Mono, on Saturday at the age of 61 years. Deceased is survived by two brothers, John Anderson, with whom she lived on the farm, and another brother in Owen Sound. The funeral was held to Relessey cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Ford, of Rosemont officiating.

MRS. W. E. LEESON

Mrs. Leeson, wife of Mr. W. E. Leeson, Caretaker of the Orangeville High School, died in Grace Hospital, Toronto, on Saturday following an unsuccessful operation for internal trouble. Deceased was 53 years of age and leaves her husband and several sons and daughters. The funeral was held from her late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. T. M. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's, conducting the services.

CELEBRATED HOMECOMING

The Dufferins were given a rousing reception on their arrival home from Toronto by special train about midnight on Saturday night. The Citizens' Band met the boys at the station and headed an auto procession up Mill St. to Broadway. A large bonfire was lighted on the latter street opposite the Queen's Hotel and a lively impromptu celebration was organized in short order. The proceedings were lively for a time, but were brought to an early close because of the sabbath.

The boys were also given a nice time in the city after the game, when the players, a number of the officers of the club and several of the Orangeville supporters were dined at the Ontario Club as the guests of Messrs. Norman Irvine, Lester Green and Frank Kennedy, former Orangeville boys and now prosperous city business men. About thirty players and supporters of the club sat down to the tables and did ample justice to the excellent menu so generously provided by their hosts. The dinner was followed by a number of speeches of a congratulatory order, Mr. Irvine performing the duties of chairman in a happy manner. It was a delightful affair and showed the interest and pride that our Old Boys still take in the achievements of The Dufferins.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Citizenship Department had charge of the Epworth League meeting last Monday evening, Revs. R. G. Partridge occupied the chair. Fair-sized crowd turned out despite the inclement weather to hear the debate, "Resolved that Canada is of more importance to the British Empire than the British Possessions in Asia." It is just possible that some attended the meeting with the idea that a debate is a dry uninteresting feature. But any who had that idea left with a very different one and any who believed that debates are interesting had their belief strengthened.

Misses May Niebel and Etta Mae Budd upheld the affirmative and pointed out that Canada is more closely related to the Empire and supplies it with more foodstuffs and intellectual power than the Asiatic Possessions. Messrs. Will Porter and Clarence McConnel in upholding the Negative, spoke of the great value of the Eastern coaling stations and the tropical products of the Asiatic Possessions. The affirmative won and were greeted with hearty applause.

WHITTINGTON.

The Whittington Branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Caven at 2.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 13th. The program included a paper by Mrs. Jos. Kinsley on "Our Social Responsibilities," a recitation by Miss Georgina Beatty and a chorus by the young ladies.

Threshing is the order of the day and the Whittington machine is travelling right along doing good work this season, despite the fact that it narrowly escaped being condemned last autumn. Young Jim Billings thought he could handle steam and run anything at all, but he is not in it at all with John Billings. He couldn't begin where John would leave off and anything that John Billings cannot handle in the line of steam, gasoline or traction engines, it is a pretty safe bet that no one else need try to handle. The Whittington Co. has a good man on the steam end of their outfit anyway and with a man as experienced as John Staveley on the grain end the outfit just seems to be walking right along.

MONO MILLS.

Harvest Home Thanksgiving services will be held in the Anglican Church here next Sunday morning, commencing at 11 o'clock.

Anniversary services will be held in Adjala Presbyterian church on Sunday next also Morning service at 11 a.m. and evening service at 7 p.m. Rev. G. H. Milne, of Everett, will occupy the pulpit.

Quite a number from here motored to Toronto on Saturday to see The Dufferin-St Simms lacrosse match and returned much elated to see the boys of the green and white hand out defeat to the senior champions.

It is beginning to look as though the much talked of and long delayed undertaking to erect a memorial to the boys from here, who fell in the Great War, was about to be carried into effect. The next of kin have unanimously chosen a site at the north end of the village and arrangements are being made to have it surveyed and made ready with the intention to have the stone erected early in November.

Reopening services will be held in Mono Mills Methodist Church on Sunday, Oct. 31st. Rev. C. H. Qualfe, of Heathcote, a former pastor, will conduct the services. Mr. Qualfe had charge of the circuit here for four years previous to the pastorate of Rev. Alfred Laycock and made many friends in all denominations, who will be pleased to have this opportunity of meeting him again. Morning service at 11 a.m. and evening service at 7 p.m.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. (Rev.) Matheson is recovering from her recent attack of eye trouble.

ALTON.

On Sunday night, October 3rd, Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, a brother of the pastor, Rev. J. F. G. Morris, preached a very able sermon to a deeply interested congregation in the Methodist church here.

Mr. J. McLaren, Y. M. C. A. Secretary for the County of Peel, was in town a week ago Wednesday and organised the Trail Rangers with Waldo Dorrington taking the responsible position of mentor. Mr. McLaren will return on Friday evening, the 15th inst., to organize the Tuxis Boys.

We congratulate Dr. Price upon his recent accession to the ranks of the benedicts, welcome his bride to the midst of our village and trust that both will enjoy many years of happiness and comfort in our midst.

Mrs. Anderson has been seriously ill for some time and we are all very sorry that her recovery is proving so tedious.

The Melville Appointment had a very successful anniversary a week ago Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, occupied the pulpit and preached a most acceptable sermon. Alton Methodist choir gave valuable assistance in the song service.

We are glad to note that Miss Hazel Mason is recoverinf from her long and tedious illness.

REAL CHAMPIONS

Dufferins Demonstrated Their Class in Matches With St. Simons.

Trounced Senior Champions in Both Games, Winning the Round by 16 to 9.

The Dufferins are now undisputed champions of the Ontario Lacrosse Association. They won their right to the title in clear and decisive fashion by defeating the senior champions, the strong St. Simons team, in both games played to decide the championship. The first contest took place on Idylwyld Park here on Wednesday afternoon, when The Dufferins took their first fall out of the Senior champions to the tune of a 9 to 6 score. The game was played according to the intermediate rules, a 90 yard field between the nets and ten men aside. St. Simons attributed their defeat to the short field and the ten men game and their supporters predicted that they would turn the tables in decisive fashion in the second game which was played at Scarborough Beach on Saturday afternoon on a 110 yard field with twelve men aside. The senior champions have been playing the larger field and the twelve men game all season, so that there was some justification for their confidence in the outcome of the Saturday match. Unfortunately for the Toronto team and their supporters, The Dufferins took to the big field and the senior style of game much as a brood of ducklings take to the water. They were right at home from the face-off. They took control of the game almost from the start, scored after a few minutes exciting play and were never headed thereafter. When the whistle blew for full time amid scenes of indescribable enthusiasm they were the winners by a score of 7 to 3, a victory even more decisive than the one they won on their home grounds the preceding Wednesday.

Both games were witnessed by immense crowds. It is estimated that fully four thousand people saw the Wednesday game here. Twice that number crowded the Scarborough grounds to overflowing for Saturday's game, and strange to say The Dufferins appeared to have a much stronger following than the senior champions. This was due largely to the loyalty of former Orangeville people now living in Toronto, who turned out in thousands to cheer for the team that carried the familiar colors of the old home town to a glorious victory. The crush at the gates was tremendous and the game was delayed a full half hour to allow those who were still outside, time to get their tickets and make their way into the grounds.

Both games were keenly fought all the way. The St. Simons team have made the reputation of being strong finishers and they lived up to their reputation in both games with The Dufferins. The final moments of the Wednesday game here found them strong and aggressive and though hopelessly defeated on Saturday they battled to the last in most determined fashion. Both games were keenly contested and in both play was fast and brilliant. In Wednesday's game Dufferins scored once and their opponents were blanked in the opening period. In the second period the home team scored 3 goals to 2 for St. Simons, making the half time tally 4 to 2. Each team got a goal in the third period and The Dufferins took 4 and St. Simons 3 in the final round. On Saturday Dufferins got away in front again, scoring shortly after the face-off. St. Simons evened a little later, but Dufferins came back strong and managed to make the count 2 to 1 before the period ended. The second quarter was a repetition of the first, The Dufferins tallying twice while their opponents made a single counter. With the score standing 4 to 2 at half time, the third quarter found both teams playing fast, determined lacrosse. St. Simons made a supreme effort to pull up on even terms, but the Dufferin defence was a little too good for the red shirted home and the latter had few chances to shoot from close in. What few they got either went wide or were taken care of by Booth, who played a brilliant game all day. The period passed without a score, but the pace told on the St. Simons men and when play was resumed the speedy Dufferin home gan in three counters in short order. St. Simons rallied and persistent attacks netted them one tally before the end of the period.

The victorious green-shirts were escorted to their dressing rooms in triumph at the close of the game. On every hand they received the hearty congratulations of overjoyed supporters. St. Simons took their defeat well and their manager, Eddie Powers, and some of the players visited the dressing room shortly after the game and offered their congratulations to the victors, admitting that they had been defeated by a stronger team.

What makes Saturday's triumph the more remarkable is the fact that The Dufferins played the whole game without making a change on the team. They had two good spares on the grounds in Bill Stevens and Black, but the team was going so well that the management decided not to attempt any changes. Stevens and Black are both strong players and the fact that they did not take any part in the game must not be taken as any disparagement of their ability. It was simply a case of leave well enough alone. The twelve men who were on the field certainly played the game of their lives. There was not a weak spot on the team. Booth seemed almost invincible in the flags. Densmore cared for his old friend MacGregor in fine style and with Cushing formed a barrier that puzzled the St. Simons sharpshooters all afternoon. Earl Stevenson, who was shifted from centre to defence field, played a wonderful fielding game. The same is true of Scott and Ewing. All three men went at top speed and outraced the St. Simon fielders time and again. Henderson also excelled on the defence and kept Starling, one of the most elusive men on the St. Simons home division, well in hand. Golden, who took Stevenson's place at centre, covered a lot of ground, and St. Simons found him a hard man to hold. He is light, but a clever stick handler and has speed to burn. Blythe Brown and Gordon were both very much in the limelight and gave the St. Simons defence a bad afternoon. Bert Brown was also in fine form and played one of his best games, and that is saying a good deal. He did some clever ball getting out behind the flags, generally beating his check in the race for the sphere. Zinn was always dangerous, and the St. Simons home watched him closely. He figured in a number of effective combination plays and tallied once with a brilliantly played dropping shot that completely fooled Chandler. The story of the two games is well told by the Mail & Empire in fair and well-written reports, which we subjoin for the benefit of our readers. Of Wednesday's game the city daily says:—

The fastest and most thrilling game of lacrosse ever played in Orangeville, in a game for which the oldest of old-timers fails to recollect an equal, the Dufferins of Orangeville, intermediate O. A. L. A. champions, this afternoon defeated the St. Simon's, of Toronto, senior O. A. L. A. and Eastern Canada champions, by a score of 9 to 6. The game is the first of the home-and-home series for the championship of the province.

Never for a moment was there a lull in the contest. Never for a moment was there even the semblance of rough tactics on the part of either team. And although Orangeville led from start to finish, never was there a moment when the 4,000 spectators were not on their tip-toes, thrilled with the play, as it alternated from one end of the field to the other.

Seldom has such a magnificent exhibition of goalkeeping been seen as was given by Chandler for St. Simons and the veteran Bert Booth for the Dufferins. Time after time as the player with the ball pressed in and shot the spectators gripped their fellow-fans, got ready to cheer for a score, then cheered all the harder when the impossible was seen to be possible, and the ball, instead of bulging the net, caromed off the goal-keeper's body or found its way into his stick to be thrown clear of the danger zone, picked up by a friendly player and rushed into the enemy's territory.

It was one of those games in which the home crowd starts out to cheer only for the home team, and ends up by cheering lustily for both. Such an exhibition of gameness, of skill and of sportsmanship threw partisanship to the winds, leaving the spectators, home and foreign, satisfied whichever team had won. Naturally the satisfaction is warmer and keener because of the victory of the Dufferins, but the need of praise is sung for St. Simons as well as for the home boys, and there is a warm spot in the hearts of the Orangeville folk for the visiting team which fought so well and took defeat so well here this afternoon.

Right from the start play was fast and brilliant, with the Dufferins assuming the offensive, but the work of Chandler was magnificent, so that only one of the torrents of shots rained upon him found its way into the net behind him. It came from the stick of Stevenson, after a brilliant play in which he eluded the St. Simons defence and shot from close inside.

In the second quarter the Saints made a great effort to secure a lead, but Bert Booth, emulating the example of Chandler, made dazzling stops. Meanwhile the Saints, engrossed in the attack, weakened their defence, and Gordon and Blythe Brown each slipped the ball past Chandler. It was then that J. Sullivan suddenly broke into the limelight. By two clever pieces of work he scored twice, almost tying the score when the whistle blew for half time.

In the third quarter again play was evenly divided, and the scoring also, each team notching one more point, that for Dufferins by Golden and for St. Simons by Starling.

The fourth quarter found both teams apparently as fresh as when they had first started, with St. Simons determined to even the score, and if possible to secure a lead, and the Dufferins as equally determined to retain their lead and if possible to increase it. The Dufferins seized the advantage. Right from the face-off they attacked, and in one minute Golden had found the net. The teams faced off again. Once more Dufferins carried the pia yinto the visitors' territory, and before theSaints could adjust themselves to thewhirlwind attack Bert Brown had scored again. The shock acted like a douche of cold water on St. Simons. They stiffened ,secured the ball, and in quick succession Starling and Sullivan had each slipped the ball past Bert Booth. Their advantage was short-lived, however. Dufferins seemed impregnable on the defence, lightning in the attack, and soon Stevenson and Gordon and snatched back the advantage the Saints had gained. With only a few seconds to go, and with St. Simon's fighting with their backs to the wall, Scott scored the final goal of the game, leaving the Dufferins with an advantage of three goals to carry with them to Toronto on Saturday.

The report of Saturday's game reads:—

The impossible has happened. St. Simons, senior champions of the Ontario Lacrosse Association, conquerors of Ottawa, and champions of Eastern Canada, holders of the Dechorough Cup, and hailed as the greatest lacrosse team Ontario has known for years, so hailed, not only in Toronto, but wherever they have played this season, St. Simons, the unconquerable, have met defeat and have yielded their laurels to the Dufferins of Orangeville, intermediate O. A. L. A. champions, and to-day champions of Ontario. They met defeat twice. First in Orangeville last Wednesday when they were defeated by a score of 9 to 6. Secondly, at Scarborough Beach on Saturday when once more they lost out in a great contest, the score being 7 to 3, leaving the Dufferins undisputed champions of the province by a total score of 16 to9.

It was a great game and a great crowd. It has been years since such a throng has paid its way into a park to see an exposition of Canada's national game. Eight thousand fans were at Scarborough Beach on Saturday afternoon. It has been years since such a magnificent exposition of Canada's national game was witnessed, and if next Saturday these two teams should meet again in a battle for the new Dechorough Cup, that crowd would be back again, and with that crowd another one equally as large. Lacrosse, such as was played by St. Simons and Dufferins on Saturday, is one of the greatest, if not the greatest field sport in the world.

The palm of victory has gone to Orangeville. It was well earned. The cleverer and the superior team won. There is not a fan, nor a critic nor a supporter who begrudges the Dufferins their well-earned honors. They played the game clean. They have proven themselves to be a wonderful, and a brilliant lacrosse machine. It is hats off to Orangeville.

At the same time St. Simons have lost none of their prestige by their defeat. In defeat as well as in victory they have proven themselves to be a team of clean fighters, a game team, a team of sportsmen, a credit to the club they represent and a credit to the game. They accepted defeat as sportsmen should, as ready to acknowledge superiority as they have been to acknowledge the plaudits of those who have watched them overcome obstacles this summer and climb from the bottom to the highest rung of the senior ladder. St. Simons and Orangeville have done more to return lacrosse to the pinnacle upon which it once rested than anyone or anything else could have.

The reason for Orangeville's victory can be summed up in a few words. Their defence outplayed and out-generaled St. Simons home, and their home out-generaled and out-played St. Simons defence. In other words, in the two vital departments of a team, the Dufferins proved themselves masters of their opponents. At centre and in goal the teams were evenly matched. Throughout it was a battle of brain against defence and the team which was stronger and more resourceful in both departments won. The Dufferins took the lead and were never headed.

There is no doubt that in whining Or-

Hats off to "Jimmy" Armstrong

The genial Manager of the champion Dufferins. "Jimmy" is a happy and a proud man these days—proud of the "boys" as he affectionately calls the champions. Armstrong has proved himself an astute lacrosse manager and has done his share to bring the championship to Orangeville, by giving generously of his time and energy to the affairs of the team. He has always had the confidence and loyal support of every player and officer of the club, and that counts for much in building up a team skilful enough to win two championships in a season.

angeville sprung one of the biggest surprises the game has known for years. The defeat of St. Simons in Orangeville was not unexpected. The senior champions went there with a weakened team. They played ten men lacrosse, a style new to them, and they played on a field whose margins were narrower than those to which they had been accustomed. When they returned with only a three goal deficit it was generally considered that they had, in a measure, gained a victory and that they would have little or no trouble in overcoming that lead and defeating their opponents here where all conditions were to their advantage. That not only were they unable to overcome that lead, but lost by even a bigger margin than they did in Orangeville, is sufficient indication of the strength and ability of their opponents.

The game had scarcely started before Orangeville had netted a goal. From face-off St. Simons rushed, but Robertson, shooting wide, the ball passed into the possession of the Dufferins, was rushed to the other end of the field from where Gordon, jockeying behind the net for position, passed the ball out to Stevenson, who counted on a hard ground shot.

The Saints pressed vigorously but their best efforts were frustrated by a single handed effort on the part of Cushing, who with the whole home around him forced the play behind the net. There, however, McGregor reached over and forced the ball past Booth evening the score. It was the only time during the whole game that the Saints were on even terms with their opponents. The Saints pressed the attack, but could not penetrate the Orangeville defence and finally, Gordon getting the ball at midfield, rushed in and with a long, fast shot, deceived Chandler, making the score at the end of the quarter, Orangeville 2, St. Simons 1.

The Dufferins forced the play early in the second quarter and a few minutes after the period opened Gordon batted in a goal from the side. After a rush by Scott had proved unproductive, Bennett bored in and scored from close range. Some great work by both defences followed this goal and neither side could score. The deadlock was suddenly broken by Blythe Brown, of Orangeville, when he scored the most spectacular goal of the game. Getting the ball near his own goal he speeded down, almost the whole length of the field, completely tricked the St. Simons defence and beat Chandler from close in, leaving the score at half time, Orangeville 4, St. Simons 2.

No scoring marked the third quarter. Close checking and strenuous play, rather than any deliberate orintentional attempt at rough tactics resulting in a number of penalties. It was in this period that work of the Orangeville defence scintillated so brilliantly. Time after time the Saints rushed in, only to find themselves faced with check at the right moment and their efforts frustrated. Booth, by a magnificent bit of work, saved a sure goal, when MacGregor shot. It was St. Simons quarter, one of those relentless and continuous attacks, which so many times this season has broken the morale of the opposing team and turned defeat into victory for the Saints. This time it failed.

This splendid, if fruitless effort, on the part of the locals sapped their strength, and the counter attack of the Dufferins, which marked the opening of the final quarter, found the Saints physically weakened. They were unable to stave off the pressure on their defence and Orangeville goals rolled in. Stevenson was the first to score, scoring the tally after a short passing game close in. He was quickly followed by Zinn, who broke clean through and scored from on top of the nets. Bert Brown followed by taking a pass from Stevenson and beating Chandler. It was Orangeville's last goal. With only a few minutes left and with victory assured they commenced to slacken their whirlwind pace and the Saints, game to the core, took advantage of the easing of the pressure to commence an attack on the Orangeville nets, the effort resulting in their third and final goal, the tally falling to the credit of J. Sullivan. Several minutes later the whistle blew with the final score standing, Orangeville 7, St. Simons 3. The teams:—

Orangeville—goal, Booth; point, Cushing; cover point, Densmore; first defence, Scott; second defence, Henderson; third defence, Stevenson; centre, Golden; third home, Ewing; second home, Gardon; first home, Blythe Brown; outside, Bert Brown; inside, Dr. Zinn; spares, Black and Stevens.

St. Simons—goal, Chandler; point, Morris; cover point, E. Sullivan; first defence, Sproule; second defence, Robinson; third defence, O'Rourke; centre, Bennett; third home, J. Sullivan; second home, MacGregor; first home, Starling; outside, Robertson; inside, Scott; spares, Merkel, Dopp and Martin.

Referee, Kinder; Judge of Play, T. Humphrey.

—The Dufferins are real senior champions alright.

—The Dufferins certainly played like champions on Saturday afternoon.

—The way The Dufferin home rushed in on goal on Saturday brought the big crowd to its feet time and again.

CONGRATS FOR DUFFS

The Banner regrets very keenly the fact that lack of space prevents it from publishing in this issue at least some of the many congratulatory telegrams and letters, which have poured in on the Dufferin players and the officers of the Club since the victory over St. Simons on Saturday. We must however make an exception in the case of Ex-Mayor G. D. Lewis, whose letter to Manager "Jimmy" Armstrong reads as follows:—

My Dear Jimmy:

As a former Orangeville man and therefore an admirer of anything so distinctively Orangevillian as the peerless Dufferin lacrosse team, permit me to offer you my congratulations and thanks for the magnificent game and result at Scarborough Beach on Saturday. I think that I voice the opinions of the thousands of supporters present that your boys are the greatest and cleanest aggregation that ever played this most thrilling and spectacular field sport. The Dufferins are skilful, brave and clean.

Yours truly,
GEO. D. LEWIS.

The following is part of a letter received by Mr. B. McGuire from Mr. J. D. Bailey, Toronto, an oldtime lacrosse player, following Saturday's victory over St. Simons:—

Dear Blaney:

You certainly did make a clean sweep on Saturday and there is not a shadow of a doubt but that the best team won. You ought to feel pleased to hear the many flattering comments that were passed on Saturday on the good, clean work of your team.

A case that attracted much attention and some comment was tried before Magistrate McMullen, of Flesherton. Thomas Porteous works for Mr. Harmon Radley near the village, and W. Higgins, who works on the county roads, boards at the same place. Porteous claimed to have had a wad of $200 in bills and swore out a warrant charging Higgins with the theft. The latter was arrested and taken to Owen Sound and Police Magistrate Creasor remanded him to jail, where he remained for two days, when he was brought to Flesherton by County Constable McCaffrey, and tried. Porteous had no evidence to offer, in fact he could not swear whether the money was stolen or whether he had himself lost it. The accused was acquitted.

Mr. Jas. Justice, of Erin, recently picked up a number of ripe black cap berries in their garden, from this year's growth of bushes. This is unusual for this variety of berry.

The purpose of paint is two-fold—it should beautify of course but also it must fully protect the surface to which it is applied. The high cost of repair-work has made us all fully realize the extravagance of letting a building "run down" for lack of a coat of paint.

It is equally important to understand the extravagance involved in the use of poor paint, and to know that there's one paint which leads all others in the matter of economy:

B-H PAINT "English" 70% Pure White Lead (Kendall's Genuine XX) 30% Pure White Zinc 100% Pure Paint

No other paint can match it in covering capacity—no other brand can equal its record of permanence. Affording real protection over a long period, it has removed the false notion that a house must be repainted every year. If you use this paint of extreme durability your house is protected for years.

PRESENTATIONS

Arthur Friends Honor Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kearns Prior to Removal to Guelph.

Mr. J. M. Kearns, whose appointed to the position of Crown Attorney of Wellington County was noted in The Banner a couple weeks ago, was made the recipient of a handsome club bag and floor reading lamp by a number of his Arthur friends. The presentation was held in the Town Hall, Mr. H. Irvine ably discharging the duties of the chair. Although the weather was most unfavorable, there were quite a large number present. A highly complimentary address was read by Mr. J. A. Rogerson and the gifts were presented by Messrs. W. Pinder and D. Gillies.

In a brief reply, Mr. Kearns expressed his regret at leaving Arthur, and his sincere appreciation of the gifts he had just received. He referred at some length to the splendid feeling of co-operation and local fraternity which he had always found existing among the people of Arthur, who stod loyally together, who were always ready to help and assist each other in any way and wherever occasion offered. He claimed that he had been generously dealt with by the people of Arthur and hoped he was grateful for it. A number of breezy addresses were delivered, among the speakers being Messrs. E. W. Brocklebank, Dr. Blair, T. B. Farrell, Rixon Rafter and J. M. Roach. Musical selections were rendered very nicely by Misses Roach and Drake.

The congregation of Arthur Methodist church also presented Mr. Kearns with a gold-headed cane and Mrs. Kearns with a gold-headed umbrella.

DEAD AND ALIVE

Editor of the Banner,
Sir:

We have often heard the above expression in regard to churches, societies, institutions and even individuals, scarcely realizing the real meaning of the phrase, until on a recent Sunday night we attended one of the churches in Caledon township, where we witnessed a pretty fair representation of the adage, "Dead and Alive" with the exception of the minister's sermon, which was an up-to-date one. In nine the congregation was about what might be called a corporal's guard, but from the apparent intelligence and respectability of those present we venture to say that in this respect the gathering could not be surpassed by any other congregation in the township. Whether the absentee members and adherents were away joy-riding or busy preparing for an event which was to take place, or are tired of the minister and his sermons, we know not, but we would just say that if the rev. divine serves up to his hearers every Sunday a dish of the same practical Scripture truths that we listened to that night, then the congregation surely cannot be tired of that part of the service. The organist was skilled and capable, but the music used must have been of a new kind as the hymns were sung to the time of "The Dead March in Saul." The illumination of the church was a "cracker jack" whether the illuminating fluid was gas or from a new kind of electric plant, which had been recently installed and had not got into proper working order, we cannot say, but the interior certainly reminded us of our boyhood days, when we used to play the game of blindman's buff, being blindfolded and calling to each other, "Here am I, where are You?" Some of the jets had ceased to do their bit, whether on strike, or out of order, or possibly superannuated. At any rate the lights from these jets were conspicuous by their absence. The rest of the jets, that tried to do their duty, sent forth a most feeble flicker, furnishing a realistic imitation of glowworms on sticks and making it difficult at times to see one's hymn book, let alone the words of the hymn. They brought back to our minds the first line of the old nursery rhyme,

"Twinkle, twinkle little star,
Oh, I wonder what you are."

There certainly needs to be a stirring of the dry bones in this particular church to get it out of the "Dead and Alive" column.

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison-test—or could sustain it.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

LIKE A MAGNET

THE manner in which Zam-Buk draws disease and poison out of the skin has been aptly described as "magnetic." Sores and wounds are cleansed and soothed, new healthy skin grows, in a way which is a positive revelation in the art of skin-healing.

Even obstinate and long-standing sores yield in an astonishing way, for Zam-Buk has antiseptic and germicidal properties that cannot be found in any other preparation. Zam-Buk

Draws Disease out of the Skin.

The marvellous success of Zam-Buk is due to its rare herbal origin and the scientific methods employed in its blending, refinement and concentration. Then Zam-Buk is entirely free from the animal fats and mineral impurities which make common ointments and salves harmful and even dangerous to some skins.

Dr. Patterson Shibley, of 1808, Wyoming Avenue, Washington, D.C. writes:—"For sixteen years I have used Zam-Buk in my practice and know nothing to compare with it in skin trouble, from roughness and irritation to chronic skin disease. Zam-Buk, without doubt, has wonderful curative properties, and I always recommend it in preference to other remedies."

Of all druggists and stores 50c per box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. FREE Trial sample on request if 1c. stamp to cost (for return postage).

CLARKE-BAKER

A very quiet wedding was solemnized in Owen Sound, September 28, at 9.30 a.m., when Kathleen Wilson Baker, youngest daughter of Mrs. George Baker, 968 6th Avenue East, became the bride of Gordon Bain Clarke, manager of the Union Bank of Canada, Caledon. Rev. P. T. Pilkey, of Knox Church, in which the bride was a consistent worker, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. The bride, who was wearing her travelling suit of navy tricotine with a blouse of peach georgette, and hat of embroidered reindeer panne velvet, was unattended. She also wore the groom's gift, a beautiful sable scarf. The bride's mother, Mrs. Baker, was attired in a black silk dress with corsage of mauve flowers and her aunt, Mrs. Gilchrist, had on black silk and georgette. Lorne Wrigglesworth, of Shelburne, nephew of the groom, was also present. The bride was given away by her mother. The decorations used in the color scheme were red roses, snapdragon and asters of a delicate shade. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left amid showers of confetti on a motor trip to Muskoka and other points. They expect to be away three weeks after which they will reside in Caledon. The young couple have the best wishes of a large number of friends for their future prosperity.

"O hear us when we cry to Thee For those in peril on the sea!"

Have you ever been at sea in a storm and seen the clouds lowering, the wind rising and the waves running mountains high, decks treacherous and the crew anxious? Unless you have, you cannot imagine its awful majesty, or the courage it calls up and the spirit it commands in men.

Many Canadians Have Never Seen the Sea—

Yet the sea is Canada's World-Trade highway. The sea and the Merchant Sailors make us prosperous.

But the Merchant Seaman's life is hard and perilous. He wages continuous battle against the forces of nature. The real sailor is not the deck steward or attendant on comfortable ocean liners. His ship is no floating palace. His voyage no pleasure trip.

The Real Sailor's Ship is the Tramp Steamer—

or Windjammer, beating against gales—decks awash—sleep a stranger for days and nights on end. Frozen in winter, dodging icebergs in spring, groping through fogs off treacherous banks, beating round the Horn, fighting through typhoons, or becalmed in the Yellow Sea. Tough going all the way.

Death Always Hovers Over the Wheel—

Is it any wonder, then, that the Navy League wants to make life comfortable for our sailors when ashore? After all, Canada is their home; and the home, while they are here, of the sailors of other lands.

The Navy League endows, maintains or assists in maintaining every Sailor's Home, Institute and Welfare Society in Canada. And every dollar subscribed for the maintenance of these Homes and Institutes will be money well invested, and redound to our national prosperity.

The Sea is Our Heritage and Our Strength—

In proportion as we develop this Sea-Conscious Spirit so shall we advance in world civilization and trade. We can only develop our Sea-Conscious Spirit, by making life more endurable to Canadian Sailors. And it is for this purpose that a portion of the Navy League's Fund is set aside. To carry on its work next year, the Navy League must have $760,000. This money must be raised next week. It is not a large amount and borne in proportion from Coast to Coast it must surely be subscribed.

The Navy League of Canada

SAILORS' WEEK CAMPAIGN

October 18—23. Dominion Objective $760,000.

The work of the Navy League is—to enlighten people upon the importance of the sea; so that Canadian products may be shipped, through Canadian ports, in Canadian ships, officered and manned by trained Canadians.

to encourage and to undertake the training of Canadian lads to man Canada's Navy and Mercantile Marine.

to formulate a fundamentally sound policy for the training of our present sea-faring population, to meet an emergency, so that Canadian overseas commerce will be adequately protected.

to support facilities for making the Sailor's life ashore endurable.

to provide for dependents of those who died to protect Canada, Nationally, Imperially and Commercially.

These objects can only be achieved through an organization representative of public responsibility and outside party politics.

A sad and very distressing accident occurred in Belle Ewart on Sept. 7th, when Napoleon Trombly, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trombly, while playing at the Lake Simcoe Ice Co.'s ice house, had the misfortune to get his foot caught in the machinery. His boot was torn off and his foot terribly mangled. His knee was badly injured and his foot put out of joint. He was very brave and didn't cry, but just prayed and asked God to help him. Medical aid was at once summoned and he was rushed to the R. V. Hospital in Barrie, where everything possible was done to try to save his life. Unfortunately blood poisoning set in followed by lock-jaw and the doctors found it necessary to amputate the limb. On Tuesday morning, Sept. 14th, at 2 o'clock, the injured lad passed away. The funeral was held to the cemetery in Belle Ewart on Thursday following. Dean O'Malley, of Barrie, conducting the service. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Besides his parents the deceased is survived by two brothers and a sister, namely, Eugene, Leo and Marie. To the bereaved parents and family the sympathy of the community is extended.

On Saturday evening prior to his marriage a number of the Conservative friends of Mr. Fallis called at his residence and presented him with a cabinet of sterling silver marked with the initial "F" and also with a handsome travelling bag for Miss Fletcher. Episode 10

The bone and sinew of every screen serial is its thrills. But every serial photoplay must have one outstanding moment of thrill—a stunt that stands out away above the rest for sheer power of its daring. According to the impression on the public is this usually determined. By this method the Vitagraph Company, who produced "Hidden Dangers," the latest of their serial photoplays, starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige, decided that the greatest of all the big moments in the serial was the opening scene of the tenth episode, which will be shown next Monday and Tuesday nights.

This scene is a sequel to the climax of Episode 9. It is the rescue of Jean Paige from the top of a burning church steeple that is about to topple to the ground. But the rescue is even more thrilling and hazardous than the situation that calls for it. As the fans know, who saw the ninth episode at the Gem Theatre last week, Miss Paige is left hanging to the church spire, which is necessary. He circles once around is being consumed by flames and about to fall. Just as the steeple is tottering and the flames are licking the feet of the plucky girl an airplane appears.

The aviator, a mail courier for Uncle Sam, sees that instant action the burning steeple and then with his trail rope hanging over the side of the fuselage he passes over the top of the spire where the girl is clinging. Miss Paige grabs hold of the rope and is carried away dangling from the rope. For many minutes she actually clung in this perilous position until the plane made a landing. Besides winning the palm as the big thrill scene of the picture, it also won for Miss Paige the coveted honor in serials of being the pluckiest woman of them all.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next cold and wet and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Building Insurance is necessary these days because of the high cost of building. YOUR RAILWAYS AND THE COST OF LIVING

BEFORE the Privy Council at Ottawa protest against the new railway rates has been made on the ground that the giving of the new rates would raise the cost of living by a percentage many times higher than the percentage actually charged by the Canadian railways.

It was pointed out that the numerous middlemen who act as the distributors of goods would each add his percentage of profit to the freight rate, so that, although the railways might receive, say, only 40 cents additional freight charge on shipment, the public would be forced by the distributing middlemen to pay many times that amount.

The managements of the various Canadian railways desire, through this, their association, to draw the attention of newspaper readers to the highly significant fact that the recent increase in United States railway rates—an increase similar to the increase in Canada—has actually been followed by a decrease in the cost of living in that country.

FURTHERMORE

A great Canadian manufacturer recently made public—without any solicitation and without the previous knowledge of the railway managements—figures which proved that the retail selling price of a yard of plain white cloth in Winnipeg, after being hauled from Montreal to Toronto, and Toronto to Winnipeg, would be increased only one-half cent, even after the wholesaler had added 20 p.c. profit to the new freight rate and the retailer another 50 p.c.

He showed that these distributors, whether rightly or wrongly, added 15 cents to his mill price of 16 cents per yard.

Yet the railways carried the raw cotton for this yard of goods from Texas to Montreal, and the finished goods from the mill to Toronto, and Toronto to Winnipeg, for one and one-half cents.

One and one-half cents as against fifteen cents.

We venture to believe that, whatever the explanation or the justification may be, the same serious additions to cost by the distributing trades will be found in relation to almost every article of common household use.

This is not to attack distributors. They may themselves be victims of a bad system or of an overcrowded trade. But it is to point out that if they add whatever percentages they, as a trade, find convenient, on top of the freight rates, the railways cannot help either themselves or the public. The oppressive results of these practices should not be charged against the railway managements, nor cited as reasons for holding freight rates down,—merely because railway rates can be held down—while other prices soar as the various trades find necessary.

RAILWAY charges always must be a serious item in determining cost of production. But the management of your railways urge upon your attention this fact: That antiquated, overloaded and wasteful systems of distributing goods are much more properly a subject for public anxiety.

Canada cannot prosper without prosperous railways. Canadian railways cannot prosper unless Canada prospers.

In all sincerity let us suggest that the people of Canada beware of those who would restrict and even strangle the railways simply because control exists there—and is not so convenient in other departments of commercial activity.

NOTED CHEF CAME TO HATE ALL FOOD

Delights With Which He Delighted Other People Could Not Even Tempt Renaut.

"I couldn't have believed that any medicine would give such wonderful relief as Taniac has me, after what I had suffered from indigestion," said Joseph Renaut, chef at the Hotel Kennebec, Levis, P. Q., and formerly head chef at Bouillon's famous French restaurant in Montreal.

"I was so badly off for two years that I came to hate the very sight of food. I couldn't eat without suffering afterwards, and frequently had awful headaches. My sleep was broken and I always felt tired and worn out. My nerves became upset, and I was so weak that I hardly knew how to drag through the day.

"Before I had finished my first bottle of Taniac I began to eat like a horse and could digest anything without suffering afterwards. I am no longer bothered with headaches, my nerves are steady and I sleep so fine that I get up in the mornings feeling tip-top. After I had an attack of the grippe some time ago Taniac built me up and led to my quick recovery."

"Taniac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts thro' the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Fortunately there was a well right at hand, and while two men took turns at the pump others dashed water on the stacks and against the new barn. Soon the roof of the old barn fell in and the logs of the walls were drawn out to the field.

The towns of Hespeler and Preston are both growing. Assessment returns just given out show that the former has a population of 3,059, a gain of 59, while the latter has 5,877 inhabitants, 150 more than in 1919.

Frances Allan, widow of the late Thomas McKim, departed this life at her residence, Shelburne, a week ago Sunday evening after an illness of some duration. She is survived by two sons, Edward of Collingwood, and Allan of Collingwood, and two daughters, Mrs. Fred Smith, Ottawa, and Mrs. R. J. Puckering, Shelburne.

The case of B. O'Neill against H. Harrison, of Fergus, an action for damages to the extent of $1,500, which was to have been heard at the fall assizes in Guelph, did not come to trial, a settlement being affected whereby Mr. O'Neill gets $300 without costs. The action arose out of an automobile accident. Mr. O'Neill is a resident of Ennotville.

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 21, 1920.

CASE OF TITLE

Defendant Willing to Execute Mortgage If Plaintiff Can Give Clear Title to Property.

The last case tried at the Fall Assizes here last week was one for the purpose of compelling specific performance of an agreement to purchase a mill site and water power in the north end of Mono township. On July 28th, 1919, William Ellis, the defendant in the case, made an agreement with plaintiff, Henry Somerville, for the purchase of part of lot con. 2, old survey, Melancthon, consisting of almost seven acres, including a stream, mill site and water power. Ellis was to pay $3,000 for the property, three cash payments of $200 each on specified dates and the remaining $2400 to be secured by mortgage on the property. Ellis took possession about August 1st, and made his three cash payments, spent about $500 improving the property, but according to the plaintiff has refused to complete his agreement by executing the mortgage. The defendant admitted the agreement, but maintained that the plaintiff was not able to deliver over the property free of encumbrance, because of certain fishing rights granted to J. D. Morgan and others under an indenture dated August 1st, 1904. He expressed his willingness to execute the mortgage as soon as the plaintiff was in a position to give him a clear title to the property. If the plaintiff was unable or unwilling to do this Ellis asked:—

1. Relief from the obligations of the agreement, repayment of the $600 he had already paid the plaintiff and a further sum of $500 as compensation for the money he had spent improving the property.

2. As an alternative, conveyance of the lands in question freed and discharged of all encumbrances.

3. If the lands cannot be so conveyed, then payment from the plaintiff of the sum of $1500 as compensation for his loss by reason of the plaintiff's failure to carry out his part of the agreement.

After hearing the evidence the Judge reserved his decision. The case is the result of loose conveyancing, coupled with neglect to have a careful search made for title before the papers were signed. C. R. McKeown, K. C., Orangeville, and J. R. Layton, Shelburne, for plaintiff; W. D. Henry, of Lucas & Henry, Markdale, for defendant.

DEFENDANTS WON

Essex Growers, Limited, Worsted in Suit With G. J. Lemon & Co.

At the Dufferin Fall Assizes last week Essex Growers, Limited, a Leamington business concern, sued G. J. Lemon & Co., of Caledon East, on an alleged contract for the delivery of four carloads of potatoes. On the 3rd of March last the plaintiffs made an arrangement with the defendants by telephone for the purchase of four carloads of potatoes at 90 cents a bag, delivered f.o.b. cars at point of shipment, in bags to be furnished by the plaintiffs and to carry a freight rate of 23c. to 25c. a bag, delivery to be made as soon as possible. This agreement the plaintiffs contended was subsequently confirmed by telegram and letters. Defendants failed to deliver the potatoes, but subsequently shipped 1200 bags at an advance of 42 cents in price. These the plaintiffs refused to accept and the defendants were obliged to sell them elsewhere. Plaintiffs claimed damages to the amount of $1,459.65 to cover the loss they had suffered and also costs of the action. The defendants contended that the telephone conversation referred to by the plaintiffs did not constitute a binding contract and that on or about March 5th, they telephoned the plaintiffs as follows:

"Received your telegram. Will endeavor to fill your order as yesterday agreed, but owing to bad roads and strenuous car situation may not succeed. Should you not be able to support us in the case of a rise in market we would advise you not to depend on us. Answer."

Defence also maintained that the plaintiffs had varied their order by afterwards insisting that the potatoes should be delivered in sacks of 160 lbs. They counterclaimed for $461 damages resulting from plaintiff's failure to accept two carloads of potatoes which they shipped at the higher price. The Judge found the facts as represented by the plaintiffs, but in law the Statute of Frauds constituted a valid defence to the action. Judgment was therefore entered for the defendants without costs. R. L. Brackin, Windsor, for plaintiffs; C. R. McKeown, K. C., Orangeville, for defendants.

ST. KITTS CHALLENGE

St. Catharines, the junior O. A. L. A. champions, have challenged The Dufferins to play home and home games. Unfortunately the management of The Dufferins have been obliged to decline the challenge as the Club has challenged for the Mann Cup and dates may be set for the games, which would make it necessary for the team to leave for the Coast on very short notice. Otherwise the champions would have been very happy to accommodate the ambitious St. Catharines boys and incidentally demonstrate that while junior lacrosse may be fast the intermediate and senior brand is still faster and more scientific.

MRS. GEO. ENDACOTT

Mrs. Geo. Endacott, formerly a well-known resident of Orangeville, passed away at her home in Vancouver on Friday last at the age of 73 years. Deceased had been poorly for a considerable length of time. The funeral was held on Monday, interment taking place in one of the Vancouver cemeteries. One son, Harry, in business in Vancouver, and Ethel, a nurse in Vancouver General Hospital, are the surviving family. Mr. Endacott, who was a brother of Sheriff Endacott, of Orangeville, died some years ago.

"BERT" SHERMAN

Robert J. Sherman, popularly known at "Bert," passed away at his home in Woodbridge on Saturday last after a short illness from pneumonia. Deceased, who was 36 years of age, was a widely known railway man, and was at the time of his death a C. P. R. conductor running between Toronto and Orangeville. He is survived by a widow and a family of three young children, a boy and two girls. Mrs. Sherman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pattullo, of Orangeville, and a sister of Mrs. N. Willoughby, Zion St. The funeral, which was in charge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was held from the residence of his father, Mr. I. Sherman, St. John's Road, to Prospect Cemetery, Toronto, on Monday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Bell, pastor of the High Park Methodist church, was the officiating minister. The Banner unites with the many friends of the family in extending its heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved widow and children in their great loss.

JOHN C. REID

The remains of the late John Clifford Reid, whose death in Medicine Hat, on Saturday, Oct. 9th, was briefly noted in last week's Banner, arrived in Orangeville on Friday evening last accompanied by deceased's oldest son, Charles, and his youngest brother, Mr. J. Oliver Reid, of Champion, Alta. The body was taken to the Reid homestead, lot 2, 2nd line, west, Mono, now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid. From here the funeral was held to the family burying plot in Greenwood cemetery on Saturday afternoon. There was a very large attendance at the funeral, which was under the auspices of the Masonic Order, with which the deceased was actively connected in the West. The pallbearers, who were all members of the Order, were Bros. E. H. Sproule, Dr. G. H. Campbell, Dr. W. H. Bowles, John Norris and Albert Walker, of Orangeville, and Dr. Morgan, of Shelburne. Rev. H. L. Partridge, pastor of Orangeville Methodist Church, was the officiating clergyman. A large number of beautiful floral tributes bore silent and impressive testimony to the sorrow and esteem of friends of the departed man.

The late Mr. Reid, who was a son of County Clerk J. C. Reid and the late Mrs. Reid, spent his boyhood on the Reid homestead in Mono and received his education in the Orangeville Public and High Schools. After graduating from the latter institution he set out to learn the hardware business. In 1898 he left his home town and went to Port Arthur, where he spent three years. From Port Arthur he went to Medicine Hat in 1901 and a few years later to Suffield, Alta., where he was in the hardware business for a number of years. A few years ago he returned to Medicine Hat to become Managing Director of the McGregor Hardware Co., which operates a chain of four stores in Medicine Hat and neighboring towns. Deceased was a man of energy and outstanding public spirit. During his residence in Suffield he served on the school board for several years and held the office of Mayor for five years. He was prominent in all the public activities of the town and district and his loss will be keenly felt, not only by close friends of the family, but by those with whom he had been associated in different business and public activities. For the last three years Mr. Reid had suffered from hay fever and asthma, and it was a severe attack of this malady that caused his unexpected death. He was 46 years of age and therefore still in the prime of life. He is survived by a widow, who lived in Port Arthur prior to their marriage, the son already mentioned and four daughters, Irene, Mary E., Gertrude and Margaret, who have the sympathy of all friends here and in the West in their great sorrow. His loss is also mourned by his aged father and a family of four brothers and four sisters, namely, T. Emerson Reid, B. A., Toronto, W. E. Reid, Shelburne, J. Oliver Reid, Champion, Alta., Chas. R. Reid, Orangeville, Mrs. W. C. Watson, Caledon, Mrs. Hugh Reid, Mono, Mrs. Fred Wright, and Miss Lena Reid, Toronto. Deceased was a member of Assiniboia Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Medicine Hat, and was also a Forester. Before leaving for the east service was held at the home in Medicine Hat by Rev. Mr. Farrell, pastor of the Methodist Church.

W. G. ROWLAND

It was with the deepest regret we learned that on Wednesday, Sept. 29th, one of our most highly esteemed and valuable citizens, in the person of Mr. W. G. Rowland, had suddenly passed away to his eternal rest. Mr. Rowland had a rather serious illness in February of this year, but he had so far recovered as to be able to be around and look after his affairs. He was taking medical treatment and his friends had hoped he would soon be his usual self again. However, God willed otherwise. However, God willed ing h[illegible], and on Wednesday morning his [illegible] soul passed quietly away at [illegible]come, Hillcrest Ranch.

On Friday, an impressive service was held at the home, conducted by Rev. Trevor J. Williams, B. A., of Landis. Mr. Rowland had always been prominent in musical circles and concert work, and two quartets, "One Sweetly Soleman Thought," and "The Christian's Good Night," were sung by those who had been his friends in life. Mr. Williams spoke very feelingly of his connection with the departed in musical and church work at Crane Creek, where Mrs. Rowland had been organist for five or six years, and the loss the church and community had sustained.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, who was formerly Miss Dynes, eldest daughter of Wm. Dynes, M. P. P. for Dufferin, and three daughters, Mrs. S. W. Wilson, of Cando, Alleyne and Edythe at home, all of whom were present at the funeral. Mrs. Rowland and her father, Mr. W. Dynes, and Mr. Rowland's only brother, Mr. M. H. Rowland, of London, Ont., accompanied the remains to Francis, Sask., where Mr. Rowland was formerly in business, and where interment took place on Saturday, Oct. 2nd. The service was conducted by the Masonic Order, of which Mr. Rowland was a life member, and whose members met the body at the grave, the pallbearers being six of his fellow members. The beautiful and solemn service of the Order was read and the body consigned to its last resting place. At the conclusion of the service, "Nearer my God to Thee" was sung by those who had often in days gone by mingled their voices with his.

Mr. Rowland was a kind husband and loving father, and leaves his family well provided for. He had just completed the sale of 640 acres of his property at Cando. The floral tributes, contributed by friends at Cando, Crane Creek, Willowfield, Saskatoon and Francis, were beautiful, and testified in their mute way to the high esteem in which he was held.

We shall meet but we shall miss him,
There will be one vacant chair;
We shall linger to caress him,
As we breathe our evening prayer.
—Landis, Sask., Record.

MRS. MARY M'GARVIN

A member of one of Orangeville's early families entered into rest on Sunday in the person of Mrs. Mary McGarvin, whose death took place at her residence, corner of John and York Sts., following a long and a very trying illness. Mrs. McGarvin had been a sufferer for upwards of six years and had been confined to her bed for the last two years and six months. During her long illness she was cared for and waited on by her sister, Mrs. Neibel, whose devotion and loving ministrations did much to cheer and brighten the last days of the stricken woman. Although life had held for her much sorrow and suffering Mrs. McGarvin had a bright, cheery and hopeful nature that brought her many consolations for her sorrows and disappointments and won her a circle of warm friends, whose love and esteem she enjoyed to the last. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and a devoted Christian woman, whose faith lifted her above the weakness and the suffering of her earthly state and enabled her to look forward with sure and unshaken hope to the joy and abiding happiness of the life to come. So long as her health permitted she was a regular church attendant and took a very active interest in the work of the various women's societies. Deceased was a daughter of the late John Walker and Rhoda Reid. She was born near Markdale, but her parents moved to Orangeville when she was a child and her early life was spent here. The funeral was held from her late residence to the family plot in Greenwood cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Morris and Rev. Wm. Fingland conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were four nephews, Messrs. Edgar Neibel, Regina, Herbert R. Neibel, Orillia, Fred Neibel, Toronto, and Harold Leach, Buffalo, and Messrs. Geo. Beswick and A. D. McKitrick, Orangeville.

Friends from a distance, in addition to those already mentioned, were Mrs. Craine, Mrs. Russell Fallis, Mrs. Orange Jull and Mrs. W. H. McCormick, Toronto; Mrs. Ostrander and Mrs. Jos. Chambers, Brampton, and Miss Minnie Lindsay, Shelburne.

NOT THE AUTHOR

It has been brought to our attention that an impression prevails in Caledon, particularly in the neighborhood of Caledon village, that Mr. Jas. R. Hillyard is the author of the article, headed "Dead and Alive," published in a recent issue of The Banner. In fairness to Mr. Hillyard we wish to state that he had nothing whatever to do with the article in any way. It came from an altogether different source and also from a different quarter of the township.

LAUREL.

What kept me from League last Tuesday night? Will I be there next Tuesday?

The October Missionary meeting was held on Tuesday evening, the 12th. A goodly number were present. However, it was not necessary to bring in any planks to seat the crowd. There certainly is plenty of room for all, so why stay away. We opened the meeting by singing hymn 24. Mr. Lynd then led in a short prayer. The lesson found in Isa. 2:17-21 was read by Mrs. L. Hamilton. After singing another hymn Mrs. Richardson gave an interesting Talk about Dr. Grenfell and his Deep Sea Missions. The inspiring letter from Mr. Shaver, of Fort William, was read. The letter was both lengthy and interesting. Mr. Shaver described in very interesting fashion one of the night school classes that he holds with the foreigners. On motion of Mr. L. Hamilton, seconded by Mrs. C. Banks, the League objective for Missions was set at $100.

Be sure you come to the meeting next Tuesday night, A good time is awaiting you.

NAVY LEAGUE ADDRESS

Rev. Chas. Adams, of Myrtle, Ont., addressed a fair-sized audience on the subject, "What and Why of the Navy League," in the Public Library Auditorium on Wednesday night of last week. The address was eloquently delivered and contained a fund of interesting facts about the work and objects of the Navy League. Col. J. A. V. Preston occupied the chair. Toward the close of the meeting a sailor named Bloomfield furnished a diversion not contemplated by those in charge of the programme. Bloomfield rose from his seat in the hall and claimed that he had been unfairly treated by the naval authorities, charging among other things that he had been discharged to make room for a Jap. The chairman made a memo of his grievances and promised that the local branch of the League would investigate them as speedily as possible. A letter elsewhere in this issue sets forth the facts of the case from the standpoint of the officials responsible for Bloomfield's discharge.

PRESENTATION

A very pleasant social gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan, of Amaranth, on Tuesday evening, October 12th, when nearly one hundred and fifty of the friends and neighbors gathered to present Mrs. Eades, who is returning to England after residing in the community for over six years, with an address and some small token of their regard. The address was worded as follows: —

Mrs. Gertrude Eades and daughters,
Dear Mrs. Eades:

Having learned some short time ago of your purpose to return to your former home in England your friends and neighbors have come together this evening to express their sorrow at your departure from this neighborhood and to wish you God Speed on your journey back to the land of your birth.

We all regret that you are leaving Amaranth, for you have been an excellent neighbor and a useful member of the community. We will also miss your little daughters and hope that they too will find congenial friends and surroundings in the Old Land.

As a slight reminder of our good wishes and the years you have spent here we wish you, Mrs. Eades, to accept this watch and purse, and you, Allie and Thelma, these bracelets. With these gifts we extend our sincere good wishes for a safe and speedy voyage home and we sincerely hope that you will be permitted to return to our midst again in the near future.

Signed on behalf of your many Canadian friends,

Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. T. Reid, Mrs. J. Hunter, Mrs. Robt. Bryan.

The address was read by Mrs. Robt. Bryan and the presentations were made by Mrs. John Bryan, Mary Hunter and Olive Bryan.

Mrs. Eades made a brief and feeling reply after which the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and other social amusements. In the early morning all departed for their several homes after singing Auld Lang Syne and wishing Mrs. Eades a safe and pleasant voyage.

FOUR OUT OF FIVE

There are five championships in the O. A. L. A. Dufferin now holds four out of the five, namely:—

Senior—Orangeville.
Intermediate—Orangeville.
Juvenile—Shelburne.
Midget—Shelburne.

The junior championship goes to St. Catharines, unless Shelburne is given a chance to play the St. Kitts outfit in the final round. Shelburne had a good chance, until they were put out of the running by Weston. It is charged that the Weston team used several men over the age limit and not properly signed up with the Club to do the trick.

DRAWING ON YOUR RESERVE STRENGTH

This is What Thousands of People Throughout the Country Are Doing.

Thousands of Canadian housewives are working from day to day on their nerve. They are daily drawing more and more on their reserve strength, knowing full well that they are using up that vital force which often means life or death in the crisis of disease. They are the victims of a feeling of hopeless exhaustion after the performance of even the small tasks which were once the simplest and easiest parts of the day's work. They find the appetite failing, sleep is disturbed and unrefreshing; they lose weight, and always feel tired and depressed. In this condition a blood-building tonic is needed to restore health and activity, and for this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. Often the trouble will have progressed to a point which makes full recovery slow, but the treatment should be persisted in, and renewed health and activity will be the result.

The case of Mrs. W. Schooley, R. R. No. 2, Tilsonburg, Ont., well illustrates the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of health breakdown, through weak, watery blood. Mrs. Schooley says:—"For upwards of five years I felt my strength declining, until at last I could not do light chores around the place. Then a doctor was called in, and after doctoring about a month he said that only an operation would help me. I did not feel like going through this, and decided that in any event I would wait a while. I had no appetite, often had headaches accompanied by dizzy spells; several times I had fainting spells, and my legs would swell, and I could not even sweep a floor without resting several times. Again a doctor was called in and he said the trouble was general debility and nervous breakdown. The treatment, however, did not help me, and then one evening as my husband was reading the paper, he came across a case in many respects similar to mine, cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The next day he got me a supply of the Pills, and to their continued faithful use for several months, I owe my present splendid health. I may say that soon after beginning the use of the pills I felt a gradual improvement in my condition, my appetite improved, I began to feel rested after a night's sleep and I gained in weight. My friends were continually expressing surprise at my improved condition, as it was generally believed I had become a chronic invalid. I always take a delight in telling them that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are responsible for my present good health, and as they have been a real blessing to me I shall always continue to praise them."

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood, or weak nerves, begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or they will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville.

BANQUET AND DANCE

A largely attended meeting of the ladies of the town was held in the Auditorium of the Public Library building on Thursday evening, Oct. 14th, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of arranging some entertainment for the members of the Dufferin Lacrosse team, champions of Ontario. It was unanimously decided to hold a banquet and dance in the Public Library building on Friday evening, Oct. 29th. Committees were appointed to carry out the necessary arrangements. Any persons having friends to whom they wish invitations sent for the Dance will please leave lists of the names with Mrs. J. W. Aiken, Convener of the Committee.

Another general meeting will be held in the Library Auditorium tonight (Thursday) for the purpose of receiving reports of Committees and transacting other business. All ladies are urged to attend.

SOLD 50 ACRE FARM

Mr. William Morrow has sold 50 acres of his fine farm at Fraxa Junction to William J. Dean, of Mono Road, who will get possession the 1st of December. The property sold is part of lot 2, con. 2, Amaranth, and is said to be one of the best fifty acres in the township. The deal was put through by Geo. Wilkins, real estate and insurance agent.

Nurses and Doctors Likened to Angels

THERE was still a delicious brogue and a humorous "twisht" to Norah's tongue, despite years in Canada and many heartaches.

Deserted by her husband, she broke down under the burden of wash tubs by day and family cares by night. "Tuberculosis," said the doctor. Only rest could save her. "But, doctor, dear, phat about the childer?" defied Norah.

Eventually the "childer" were cared for, while Norah was sent to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Eight months effected a cure, and, with help from the Samaritan Club, she is now making a home for the "childer."

"Faith," and Norah's Irish blue eyes shone as she told her story, "it's serryphims an' angels them docthors an' nurses do be, an' them folks givin' the lolikes of me a chanct to be gettin' strong agin."

Aren't you glad in your heart that Norah didn't die?

DISTRESS IN EUROPE

British Empire Effort to Help Smaller Nations.

Canadian Red Cross to Organize Appeal on Behalf of Orphans—Call to Be Made In Armistice Week.

An urgent appeal for aid to combat the widespread disease and distress in the war-stricken areas in Europe has been made by the League of Red Cross Societies to the nations which have suffered least from the war. In response a War Relief Fund has been undertaken in Great Britain with an Empire-wide appeal for contributions. The Fund is under the immediate patronage of His Majesty the King and has the support of all parts of the Empire.

His Excellency, the Governor-General of Canada, having received communications from London upon this matter, consulted the Prime Minister, and with his approval referred the question to the Canadian Red Cross Society, and it was arranged for an appeal to be made in Canada during Armistice week in November. The Fund will be known as "The British Empire War Relief Fund."

To Make Known the Need.

The Canadian Red Cross Society accepted the task of making this appeal known throughout Canada only in view of the relentless circumstances and the humane desire to help to alleviate the terrible suffering of a large number of peoples. The reasons are numerous and compelling. Large populations are suffering from distress and disease. Millions of innocent children are among them. Even in time of peace great numbers of their people lived close to the bread line. The war drained them of all their surplus resources.

Through the years of strife they were denied all but the barest necessities, and their condition now is pitiful indeed. History has repeated itself. The diseases which took such fearful toll of human life after the Thirty Years' War, the Seven Years' War (1757-65), and the Napoleonic Wars are again widespread, and now there are millions of people in Galicia, Poland, Jugo-Slavia and Roumania who, in addition to being poverty stricken, are in the direst misery and despair on account of disease. In some twelve countries, most of which were either our Allies or friendly to the Allied cause, modern civilization is faced with the inevitable consequences of a great war through partial famine and pestilence.

A Previous Epidemic.

That the epidemic is now one of alarming proportions and terrible in its effect may be noted from the following quotation from "The Times":

"At present the worst results of typhus are confined to Galicia, where the schools are closed, business is at a standstill, and civic life is crippled. The whole community is faced with starvation, whilst the absence of clothing and drugs makes it impossible for the authorities to make any headway against the epidemic. Here we have a country into which the idea of modern sanitation has never penetrated; for the most part there is no water supply in the smaller towns and villages save wells, whilst the work of sewers is done by open gullies running through the streets. There are no doctors, no nurses, and no beds, and the miserable typhus-stricken patients lie unattended on the bare floor. Throughout the rural districts whole families exist in miserable one-roomed huts, their diet consisting of starvation rations of potatoes and beet, both bread and meat being luxuries rarely seen. In almost every hut there are several cases of typhus and in many instances whole families are stricken with the disease, and are perforce left to die unattended."

Many Countries Are Suffering.

What is said of Galicia is true of other countries of Europe, such as Esthonia, Lithuania, Latvia, huge territories of the Ukraine, Soviet Russia, Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia. Nor is typhus the only affliction. Tuberculosis, smallpox, dysentery and relapsing fever are also ravaging large areas.

Lack of Medical Aid.

These terrible conditions have been called to the attention of the people of the British Empire in a statement by the Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who, speaking for the Council of the League of Nations, says:

"Men, women and children are dying by thousands, and over vast and civilized areas there are neither medical appliances nor medical skill sufficient to cope with the horrors by which we are faced. Governments have in certain cases done all in their power to bring relief, but there remains a vast field for charitable enterprise which can be dealt with only by voluntary effort."

Eleven Million Orphans.

Dr. Livingstone Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, who has just returned from Europe, states that there are 11,000,000 fatherless children in Europe who face the next few years without hope of adequate care unless outside assistance is given.

For Suffering Children.

No stronger call could be made to humanity than that of suffering children, and on their behalf particularly the Canadian Red Cross will appeal throughout Canada during Armistice week. Each provincial division of the Red Cross will have charge of the arrangements in its own province, and all Red Cross workers should put themselves into touch immediately with their local branch or with the Headquarters of the Provincial Division if no local branch is organized.

HIS RETORT

An Irish witness was being examined as to his knowledge of a shooting affair.

"Did you see the shot fired?" the magistrate asked. "No sir; I only heard it," was the evasive reply. "That evidence is not satisfactory," replied the magistrate sternly; "stand down."

The witness turned around to leave the box, and directly his back was turned he laughed derisively. The magistrate, indignant at his contempt of court, called him back, and asked him how he dared to laugh in court.

"Did you see me laugh, your Honor?" queried the offender.

"No, but I heard you," was the irate reply.

"That evidence is not satisfactory," said Pat; and this time everybody laughed except the magistrate.

FREAK BETS ON ELECTIONS

Laughs at Losers—U. S. Citizens Who Have Had to Drop Dignity in Payment of Election Wagers

Before the present year expires it is calculated that at least half a million citizens of the United States—many of them prominent professional and business men—will have to "face the music" as the result of backing the losing Presidential candidate.

The ingenuity expended in devising these bets is almost incredible. No eccentricity is too extreme. Losers have carted winners for miles in wheelbarrows, whiskers have been cut in all conceivable styles, stylish young men, dressed in the finest clothes, have worked as waiters and domestic servants, and have even dug ditches; while several losers have had to submit to mock funerals and actual burial alive.

Business men have impersonated tramps, acted as clowns, sold patent medicines at street corners, and strolled along crowded thoroughfares carrying Negro babies.

To crawl on hands and knees across a bridge and back, to swim across a river regardless of the weather, to promenade in the loser's wife's clothes, to walk along prominent streets carrying a large placard bearing the inscription, "I am an ass who predicted a Republican majority," to grind a hand organ in front of a church; blowing a feather half a mile, drinking disagreeable concoctions—these are examples of freak election bets that have been paid by the unfortunate losers.

After the last election Philadelphia enjoyed the spectacle of a prominent citizen hauling the backer of Woodrow Wilson—a man weighing twenty stone—a distance of half a mile up a steep hill.

In New York a dignified millionaire banker had to mount the steps of the Treasury Building, and from that eminence recite "Mary had a little lamb," ten times. A Broadway dandy had to wear a brimless silk hat, rubbed the wrong way, to and from his office for a whole month; and a highly respectable merchant of middle age, a man who was noted for his aversion to women, was condemned to stand at a corner of Sixth Avenue and "kiss and hug" the first Negro woman who passed.

A Chicago resident went about for a month with a gold ring through his nose; a man of New Jersey had to live in a pigsty for a similar period; and a Kansas lawyer's penalty was to crawl in the mud on all fours through the main streets of Wichita, proclaiming to the world at large that he was an idiot.

Thomas Farloe, of Pennsylvania, paid for a misguided wager by blacking his face with burnt cork and spending four weeks in the guise of a Negro. A Los Angeles man had to take his place between the shafts of a carriage and dray his own coachman through the main city streets; while one of his friends had to wear his clothes inside out and walk backwards for a month.

Still more unhappy was the fate of three Minnesota losers, one of whom was condemned to engage in a butting contest with a full-grown ram; another, to twist the tail of a notoriously vicious mule once a day for three weeks; and the third, to cover himself with ail and ashes and stand in a field as a target for rottenn apples.

But perhaps the most popular betting novelty is that known as the "peanut and toothpick." A hill is chosen, a peanut and toothpick are the properties, and the loser is compelled to roll the little nut up the hill with a two-inch toothpick.

Another ludicrous performance was that of a portly and dignified major, who for six hours had to carry a fractious Negro baby through the streets of his town, administering the bottle and soothing it with dreamy lullabies.

AWFUL POSSIBILITY

An Australian dignitary was being entertained by New York society. For what seemed to be endless nights he has dragged through the intricacies of the pigeon-walk, the fox-trot, the camel-limp, and the rest. At last came his day of departure.

"Please, madam," he implored of his late hostess as they parted at the gang-plank, "don't ever come to Australia."

"But, wh-wh-why not?" gasped that surprised and offended lady.

"Because," answered the Australian, wiping his brow, "I don't want you ever to see a kangaroo at play.

Trade follows the merchant flag of Canada. By willingness and ability to provide ships Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. The trade of 45,000,000 people in British Tropical Africa is waiting for us today. But we must have ships and a sea-conscious spirit in the people and in the Government.

LOOKING FORWARD

They had just become engaged.

"I shall love," she cooed, "to share all your griefs and troubles."

"But, darling," he purred, "I have none."

"No," she agreed; "But I mean when we are married."

CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE

William and Henry, chauffeurs, were discussing the ill-luck of a fellow chauffeur, Clarence, who had the day before been fined for taking out his employer's car without permission.

"But how did the boss know Clarence had taken the car out?" asked Henry.

"Why," explained William, "Clarence ran over him."

Canada's sea-conscious spirit must be developed. The merchant flag of Canada must fly in every part of the empire. "The sea does not separate—the sea binds." To develop our sea heritage, we must send chosen and trained emissaries—our most able business men—to make preferential trade agreements with other nations in the Empire. And we must make good these trade agreements with Canadian ships.

the fighting Gladiators of ancient Rome healed their wounds and sores with rare herbal oils and balms. These are said to have knitted the damaged tissues together in miraculous fashion.

Though the highly-prized secrets of those precious healers were lost with the fall of Rome itself, the introduction of the great herbal balm Zam-Buk, has furnished their true successor. It is so marvellously like them in action.

The soothing and healing touch of Zam-Buk is to-day known the world over. Wherever there is a Cut, Burn or Scald, a Festering or Poisoned Sore, a patch of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Pimples or Rash, Zam-Buk ends the trouble once and for all. The same with Ulcers, Ringworm, and Piles.

Nothing else known to Science performs such marvellous healing, or dispels disease from the tissues so thoroughly as Zam-Buk does. This is due to its pure herbal character and origin. Its absolute freedom from the animal fats and mineralsfound in present-day ointments is another valuable feature.

With production costs at high-water mark, the price of Zam-Buk remains at 50 cents. At the old price you still have the same high standard of curative and healing value. Increased world-wide demand allows this.

Center of Attraction.

Angelina was, of all my acquaintances, the most vain. Happiness for her seemed an impossibility unless she was the center of attention. So when we learned of her coming marriage we knew that in style and display the event would surpass anything that had ever taken place in our town, and we were not wrong in our expectations. Under a bower of roses the happy couple had been pronounced man and wife and the organ pealed forth a flood of music. At this point we were surprised to see the bridegroom shaking hands with those nearest him. He didn't stop there, either, but, leaving his blushing bride to face the audience, alone, he passed up and down the aisles of the church greeting all the guests!—Chicago Tribune.

News dispatches from Paris say that the old tradition that treaties shall be written by hand survives, and that Joseph Carlo of the French ministry of foreign affairs, official calligraphist and painter, is writing the new peace treaty.

For about 40 years the post of official illuminator in the French ministry of foreign affairs was held by M. Garapin. He had one love in life—"the pen," to quote his own words, "this simple and marvelous instrument through which human thought is transcribed and forever preserved;" one hate—"the vulgar and unaesthetic typewriter, which prints without art pages that time will not respect."

The official calligraphist not only writes treaties and conventions, but also all the official documents conferring orders of decorations on sovereigns, and all the letters which are sent to them and signed either by the president of the republic or ministers.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

A thousand rumors do not make one single fact

ALL of us want to believe the rumors regarding further reduction in footwear prices. If they were founded on fact—or even probability—we would have been ahead of Rumor in announcing the good news.

BUT rumor, as usual, ignores the one fact that controls the situation—that prices to the retailer are governed by the cost of raw materials and labor.

High prices are not of our making or seeking. They have been imposed upon us and you by the tremendously increased cost of every single thing that enters into the making of shoes.

And these high material costs, together with to-day's wage scale, which govern and dictate our shoe prices, show no immediate tendency to permanently seek lower levels.

THAT is why we cannot make any definite promise to you that our prices to the retailer will be any lower this season than those in effect for Spring, 1921, styles.

Irresponsible Rumor ignores these facts—delights in "sensational news"—and, as is so often the case, hurts everybody indiscriminately until its falseness and viciousness become apparent.

We appreciate our responsibility to you; we want to help towards cheaper living and we are earnestly striving to improve matters. We ask your confidence and belief to encourage us towards that end.

OUR advice to you—and we give it in all sincerity—is to BUY NOW any shoes you need for yourself or your family for Fall and Winter. Don't buy extravagantly or recklessly, but do so carefully and judiciously.

COAL! YES. IN QUANTITIES?

THAT REMAINS TO BE PROVEN

Shelburne has another slight fit of excitement over coal.

Having had previous flurries of excitement over the same matter, the town is waiting for further showing before it becomes real excited.

The heading expresses it exactly: "Coal? Yes, in quantities? That remains to be proven."

We know there is coal in this vicinity. It has kept coming to the surface on the Stoddart farm, Fifth Line, Melancthon, for something like thirty years. And it has been turned up to the surface on other farms stretching south-easterly from this one for several miles.

But no real effort has been made to "prove out" the presence of coal in quantities except in one instance, a number of years ago, when Mr. James Pickering had a well drilled just north of the town, the driller quitting the job when a certain depth was reached although double pay was offered him if he would drill deeper.

The present excitement centres around the activities of H. A. Chamberlain, of the Chamberlain Coal Syndicate, who came to town a short time ago and secured coal mining leases or options on several hundred acres of land. Preparations for drilling on one farm were popularly supposed to be under way, when attention was suddenly diverted to the John F. Lyon farm, on the Gravel Road (Toronto and Sydenham Road) immediately west of Shelburne cemetery. In drilling for water on the Lyon farm, Mr. Rutledge, the driller, had gone through a black formation, not rock, for about twenty-five feet, at a depth of slightly over one hundred feet. Nothing much had been thought of it at the time, but attention being drawn to the matter last week, some of the stuff that had been taken out of the hole was dug up from the old well in which it had been thrown, and the presence of coal in it was ascertained. A shaft is now being dug beside the well down to the rock. When the rock is reached a diamond drill will be put at work.

If this drill hits a real coal measure—well, look out for real excitement, that's all!

In the meantime; Coal mining people have been here to look the ground over; financial men from Toronto have been up to look the ground over; at least one reporter from a Toronto daily paper has been up to see what he could see and hear what he could hear; and a photographer from the Dominion Information Bureau spent a day taking photos of the town, the Lyon and Stoddard farms, etc.—Economist.

Robt. J. White has sold his large brick residence in Shelburne to H. A. Chamberlain, of the Chamberlain Coal Mining Syndicate. The price paid was $3,000.

"Cream the butter with the sugar"
~the Cook-Book says

"OH, come on, Mabel, I want to go shopping. It needn't take all afternoon to make a cake! Here, let me cream the butter and sugar. Watch how quick I can do it! If you'd ever used Lantic before you'd realize how quickly a fine sugar creams."

Lantic is a quick-acting sweetener, because it is fine. It distributes the pure cane sweetness speedily, thoroughly and economically. It saves time in the preparation of cakes, puddings and sauces, in the cooking of preserves, in the making of candy, in the sweetening of beverages, hot or cold. Not whiter are the snowy doilys and serviettes on the mahogany table than the tiny crystals of Lantic that gleam and glisten in the sugar bowl. Not finer is the silver with its hall-mark. Yet, in homes where every penny counts, Lantic goodness helps in the saving. It does go farther!

M'GARVEY–DRENNAN

On one of those balmy, bright magnificent October days, known only to the Canadian climate, Wednesday of last week, the wedding occurred at Cherry Brae Farm, the home of the late Mr. John Drennan and Mrs. Drennan, of Charlotte Emma, daughter of Mrs. Drennan, to Mr. William McGarvey of this town. The floral decorations were beautiful and seasonable, the ceremony taking place under a bower of maple leaves in all their autumnal glory of crimson and gold. The bride, wearing a gown of white kitten's ear crepe with veil and orange blossoms, was given away by her brother, Dr. William Drennan. Mrs. E. Duff, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor and Mr. D. McLean supported the bridegroom. Rev. Dr. Harper performed the ceremony. Miss Betty McLean played the wedding music and Mrs. Lewis Monkman sang "All Mine Albne" during the signing of the register. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. McGarvey left by the 4.30 C. P. R. train on a brief honeymoon trip to points in the western part of the province. An interesting incident was the arch of maple bought and flags built by the school children of Nicolston who gathered at the gateway and cheered lustily as the wedding party motored through. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crozier, Orangeville; Mrs. D. S. McLean and daughter, of N. Tonawanda, N. Y.; Miss Maude Sarge, Miss Ellie Moss, Miss Mabel Treas, Miss Jessie McLean, Mr. Arnold Furnival, Miss M. Proctor and Miss M. Bunt, Toronto; Miss Bell, Beeton; Mrs. C. McKim and Mrs. Robertson, Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. McGarvey have the good wishes of many friends and have the propitious augury of the old adage, "Happy is the bride the sun shines on."—Alliston Herald.

HULSE–MONTGOMERY

At three o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 12th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. H. L. Partridge in the Orangeville Methodist Church, the contracting parties being Miss Ruth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery, West Broadway, Orangeville, and Mr. Roy Gardiner Hulse, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hulse, North Erin. The bride, who looked charming in her wedding dress of white crepe de chene with flowing veil and wreath of orange blossoms, was given away by her father and attended by her niece, Miss Bessie Robinson, of Toronto, who was becomingly gowned in dove tone taffeta with hat to match. Little Miss Dorothy Montgomery, also niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Rex Hulse. Miss Clara Hulse, cousin of the groom, played the wedding march, and Mr. Walker Montgomery and Mr. Gordon Robinson acted as ushers. A dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of at the home of the bride, after which the happy couple left on the six o'clock train for a short honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a navy blue tricotine suit with hat to match.

AN EXPLANATION

Superintendent of Boys' Naval League Tells Why Sailor Bloomfield Was Discharged.

In answer to inquiries respecting William George Bloomfield who made certain statements at the Navy League meeting in the Public Library Auditorium on Wednesday evening of last week, Lt. Col. J. A. V. Preston has received a reply from Mr. H. Stuart, Provincial Superintendent Boys' Naval Brigade, Ontario, containing the following statements:—

14th October, 1920.

Col. Preston,
c-o Navy League of Canada,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your inquiries re Bloomfield, this man was employed by the Toronto Branch of the "Boys' Naval Brigade" during the winter of 1919-20, as a laborer on board the training ship "Commodore Jarvis." On the completion of the work on board the "Commodore Jarvis," he was employed as a laborer in bringing the training ship "Pinta" forward for commissioning.

As the work on the "Pinta" was nearing completion, he was discharged, owing primarily to his use of intoxicating liquor, but not wishing to injure the man for any future employment, he was informed that the work was finished and a reduction had to be made in the staff. He immediately became abusive through the periodical "Jack Canuck," in which paper appeared from week to week several abusive articles referring to a Japanese cook on board the "Pinta."

The Japanese referred to was employed on board the "Wave Crest" in 1918 for a period, and gave every satisfaction. He was again employed the early part of this year as the cook. This man came to Canada when he was two years old, was educated in Vancouver, has a very gentlemanly bearing, always courteous and mannerly, clean in his work and appearance and a capable man for the job. Owing to Bloomfield's activities on being discharged, we had eventually to discharge the cook for the sake of public opinion, notwithstanding the fact that although a Japanese, he is a Canadian citizen with a Canadian wife, and also holds property in Canada.

The gasoline story is fabrication. This has reference to washing or scrubbing the sails with gasoline.

Regarding the electrical appliances alleged to have been thrown overboard, I have no knowledge of this, nor can I imagine how such a thing could occur. The ship is electrically lighted from its own dynamo, having been installed this year. The other electrical equipment is the wireless telegraphy installation, loaned from the Department of the Naval Service, Ottawa, for the purpose of instructing boys in wireless telegraphy. This equipment was installed at the cost of $150.00, and every article even to a screw is on charge to the Department of the Naval Service, and dare not be destroyed; even if broken it must be returned, before a new part can be obtained.

With regard to the capabilities of instructional officers on board the "Commodore Jarvis" and "Pinta," these men's character and ability, on making application, are thoroughly gone into, and their suitability as an instructor to boys is thoroughly tested. Bloomfield applied for a position as instructor, and was not found suitable, owing to his unsuitability in the first place as an instructor, and secondly that he was addicted to drinking. His language was not educationally fitting for a boy.

Yours very truly,
H. STUART,
Provincial Superintendent, Boys' Naval League.

BRAMPTON'S CONGRATS

Congratulations are being received by the Dufferin Lacrosse Club of Orangeville from all parts of Ontario upon their splendid victory over St. Simons on Saturday last, Oct. 9th. From the moment the ball was faced until victory was assured, the northern team forced the play and, by greater speed, more skilful combination, more accurate shooting and superior staying powers, proved themselves the masters of the situation and in every way entitled to the championship. Orangeville has often had a winning team, but none so uniformly proficient as the twelve which were so triumphantly successful on Saturday. The Conservator joins in the congratulations.—Brampton Conservator.

A DEPENDABLE PAPER

When you subscribe for a newspaper there are two essential points to be taken into consideration. First, make sure that you subscribe for a paper friendly to your interests, one whose friendship has been proven. Second, a newspaper that is fearless editorially, always dependable and with farm markets reports that are as nearly accurate as possible. Such a paper is The Farmers' Sun, Toronto, owned, and published twice a week by the farmers in the interest of the farmers. Twice a week, 104 issues for the old price, $1.50. You should have this sure friend in your home.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

O'VILLE BAND CONCERT

Orangeville Citizens' Band will hold a big concert in the Opera House on Tuesday evening, Nov. 2nd. The major part of the programme will be provided by the Bates Concert Co., consisting of Shirley Rogers-Bates, soprano, Walker Bates, tenor, and Laura Miller, entertainer. Members of the band will contribute cornet duets, brass quartettes and other instrumental music. All citizens should assist the band boys in their venture and we hope they will have a well-filled house on the night of the 2nd. Watch for further particulars next week.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Last Monday night at the regular meeting of the Epworth League Mr. W. R. Liddy gave an address on his recent trip through the northern part of our fair Province. A descriptive outline of the trip from North Bay to Cochrane and back was given, much being said about the mining carried on. Mr. Liddy spoke of the great wealth of this, as yet, undeveloped area and the great opportunities for success it offers to young men. The process of manufacturing paper from pulpwood was given in detail. Many of the beautiful sights along the way were described by the speaker. The rich country which has not yet been travelled by white men was also mentioned.

Surely we have a great heritage, a heritage equalled by no other and it is for us to prove ourselves a worthy people. It seems very appropriate that such a lecture should mark the closing hours of another Thanksgiving Day, the one day of the year set aside by the government for the purpose of returning thanks to the Almighty for the many blessings which we enjoy. The musical part of the program was supplied by Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Liddy.

On Monday evening, November 1st, a program of a special nature is being arranged. It is intended that this meeting will take the form of a Rally. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

A BAD FAULT

Interest in the Shelburne coal discovery received a bad setback from the announcement a few days ago that the supposed coal would not burn. The despatch, which appeared in the city dailies, read:—

"The great Shelburne coal discovery turns out to be a mistake on the part of too sanguine prospectors. The black rock which was taken to be coal is now stated to be fluospar and horn-blende. It looks like coal, but lacks one esential quality; it won't burn. The rock formation on one farm upon which "discoveries" were made shows samples of both deposits, but it is a formation which precludes any possibility of coal. Investigations were made by Government officials and by Mr. H. A. Harrington, Ontario Fuel Controller, and these gentlemen are satisfied that there is no coal in the vicinity. A report has been made to the Government."

Prof. A. F. Coleman, of Toronto University, has also declared that there is no value in the deposits of coal at Shelburne. "The deposits there," continued the professor, "are too low down below the formation in which coal occurs. Coal has been found in a half-dozen places in Ontario, but it has always been too low. Anything below the carboniferous strata is of no importance. There is little to be found, even in the Devonian. That is of less importance still. As it happens, the rock at Shelburne is of strata even lower than Devonian."

CALEDON.

Sunday, Oct. 17th, 1920, was a day long to be remembered as it was one of the best days in the history of Caledon Methodist Church. Rev. W. E. Wilson attended this church and Sunday School when a boy and it was here he decided to take up the ministry and, after serving in this capacity for the last ten years, accepted the unanimous invitation to come and preach their Thanksgiving and Harvest Home services. That a prophet is without honour in his own country is an old saying and while it may be true in some cases, yet in this case, it is a great exception as practically the whole community turned out to hear the popular pastor of King St. Church and both morning and evening the church was filled to its capacity. Mr. Wilson preached two very appropriate, instructive and uplifting sermons. Mr. Harry Elliott, baritone soloist, of Toronto, sang at both services and was very much appreciated by the large congregation. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flowers and also the products of the field, garden and orchard. The collection amounted to $134.00.

Episode 11

A thrilling, deadly and terrific battle of a man and a woman against a giant octopus or devil-fish, as one of the big sensational scenes in the 11th episode of "Hidden Dangers," gives a good idea of the measure of the daring entertainment that this serial is providing for the fans in each of its chapters. In this chapter play are being starred Joe Ryan and Jean Paige.

The putting on the screen of an actual scene of a man and woman caught in the coils of an octopus is alone worth all the credit that has come to Vitagraph for the class of this serial. When it is remembered that this ugly, deadly monster of the sea had first to be caught, placed in a tank in the scene set and then above all that, a young slip of a girl, together with a man, had the supreme courage to take a chance in the slimy and crushing tentacles of this monster, the average fan can well appreciate the danger, effort and pains that are contained in the making of a serial photo-play of the "Hidden Dangers" type.

In this scene Joe Ryan and Miss Paige are imprisoned in a submarine cave by a gang of criminals, known very well to the fans at the Gem Theatre as the Black Circle. During the flow of the tide the octopus is washed into the cavern prison of the man and woman and immediately proceeds, as is its nature, to wrap its tentacles around them. Ryan and Miss Paige make a terrific fight to free themselves, and when finally Ryan manages to get his arm free from the devil fish's clutches he secures his knife and hacks at the deadly coils until the beast gives up the battle.

MISS ELIZA MORRISON

The daughter of one of the pioneers of Peel passed away to-day on the farm on which she was born 83 years ago. Eliza Morrison was the daughter of the late Robert Morrison, of lot 15, seventh concession of Toronto Gore. Her father came into the wilderness on the east side of the county, and Miss Morrison herself endured what the children of the early settlers found to be their lot in those long-gone days. She was educated at the old Tullamore school, and attended the first Anglican church at Tullamore. In her earlier days she was an earnest worker in the church and took part in the Sunday school and the auxiliary. Latterly she has not been able to leave her home, but has been able to go around, and until the last two weeks, has been in her usual health. She is survived by five sisters and two brothers. Two sisters, Rebecca and Mrs. Arthur Shaw, and one brother, Robert, were living with her on the homestead, William J. lives at Malton, Mrs. William Shaw at Mono Road, Mrs. Morrison at Mt. Forest, and Mrs. Geo. Bailey in Brampton. The funeral will take place from her late residence on Friday afternoon to St. Mary's Church, Tullamore, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Knight, of Bolton.—Conservator.

JAMES CORBITT

On Sunday, Oct. 10th, James Corbit, a respected farmer of the 14th Con., Proton, passed away after a short illness from pneumonia at the age of 70 years. The deceased was born at Orangeville and was married to Maria McKinney nearly 50 years ago. About 37 years ago they moved to Proton township. Besides the widow three sons survive, namely, John, Wm. J. and Ed., all residing in Proton. The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Ventry and was a life-long Conservative.

The funeral took place on Tuesday to Dundalk Cemetery and it was largely attended by sympathizing friends and neighbors. Rev. George Kendell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, conducted the service. The pallbearers were: John M. Corbett, Jos. Goodfellow, Thos. Wiltshire, Richard Rathwell, John Acheson and Thos. Ludlow.

Among the friends from a distance who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peacy, Mr. and Mrs. Ben McKinney, Miss Myrtle Carson, Chas. Gillespie, Cleve and Clifford Conley, all of Toronto, Wm. McKinney, of Orangeville.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to the bereaved family.—Dundalk Herald.

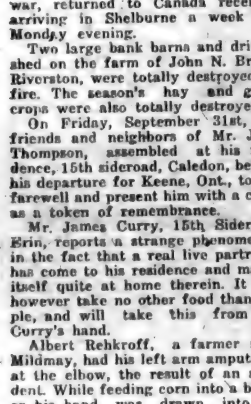
One of the rarest animals yet presented to the Harrison Park Zoo in Owen Sound is a pure white ground hog, about 19 or 20 months old, and was presented by Mr. George Knox, of Allenford. He caught it when it was very young and has had it for the past 18 months and it became, during that time, quite tame. Not only is it white, but its eyes are of the pink color peculiar to Albinos.

Overseas trade made us prosperous, Overseas trade will keep us prosperous. To maintain our Overseas trade Canada must have a sea-conscious spirit. It must be in the people, in the government and in the schools. Canadians must not be hewers of wood, drawers of water for other nations. Canadian ships must carry Canadian products to world markets.

Judge Fisher has delivered judgment in the Henderson vs. Rutledge court case heard in Orangeville a couple of weeks ago as follows:—"Judgment for landlords for possession as claimed, but in view of the evidence given in support of the tenant's contention re five year lease, which I am unable to give effect to, because of its indefinite character, I direct that each party pay his own costs."



WONDERFUL NEW TEA WAREHOUSE

The magnificent building shown above, and situated at the corner of St. Lawrence Boulevard and La Royer Streets, Montreal will be occupied by the SALADA TEA COMPANY about February 1st, next. The building at present occupied by SALADA, at the corner of St. Paul and St. Sulpice Streets, Montreal, was erected by them eleven years ago, but for som time has proved inadequate for their business.

Other SALADA warehouses are situated at TORONTO and BOSTON.

The West India Trade Agreement would not have been worth the paper it is written on had it not been for Canadian ships, and the vision of Canadians who realize these facts. To win world-trade we must develop our sea heritage, our ports, our men, our ships. Trade must flow East and West and Overseas—shut off this Dominion from the seas and in fifty years Canada will cease to be a nation. Canada is the eighth Maritime Power. Seventy years ago Canada was third. There are 8,700 ships under the Canadian Flag to-day. The value of the merchant fleet of Canada is $250,000,000. Through lack of interest of Canadians in their maritime affairs these ships are neither officered nor manned by Canadians. To-day the protection of Canadian trade routes is not given by Canada. The burden of the British Navy is $17 per head of British taxpayers. The "Burden" of the Canadian is twenty-five cents per head of Canadian taxpayers.

He—"What did your father say when you told him that my love for you is like a gushing brook." She—"He said 'Dam it.'"

London City Council turned down the request of the Board of Education that a by-law be passed to spend $571,000 on a new school.

Mrs. W. Morrison, Collingwood, committed suicide in her kitchen while her husband was getting a wagon to move to Duntroon, Ont.

Lloyd Schefter, 15 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schefter, Guelph, was fatally shot when he tried to knock down an apple with the butt of his rifle, while returning from hunting.

British Brothers, Limited, the greatest trade emporium in the world is the British Empire. Canada can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag without arousing international complications. Canada possesses men with brains to make these preferential trade agreements. But we make good these agreements with Canadian ships.

UNK WUNK-THE PORCUPINE

Ambling in his own peculiar way down a time worn old deer runway Unk-Wunk, the porcupine, like all of his kind took his time, crawling under this log, scrambling over that one. He had set no time or place to go but had just a bit of the wanderlust urged him on. A blue-jay peered at him from a low hanging branch and screamed wildly to let all and sundry of the wild wood-folks know something was moving in the neighborhood. Unk-Wunk disdained to notice this noisy interupter and just plodded on. He came to a little lake, the shores of which were strewn with logs, here and there patches of lily-pads turned their red undersides to greet the fresh blowing west wind, a family of ducks floated contentedly in mid-lake, a deer raised its head and glanced apprehensively, satisfied, it went on with its feeding and roaming. Unk-Wunk crept down through tangled shore bushes and crawled out on a log, taking his fill of water and reaching out with his fore-paws drew in some lily-pods, these he ate with great relish and evidently satisfied, slid off the log and swam for the far shore.

There the under-brush hung over the shore line a veritable barrier, the resting place of many birds, a shelter for the sly mink and hungry weasel. Clawing and scrambling Unk-Wunk found a hole and crawled through, disturbed nesting birds screamed and flew defiantly at the rustling white and black tipped object. A large poplar invited and with a certain deliberateness he climbed up it and there in the topmost branches fed and partly curled up, swayed and swung and slept. The sun began to creep down to the tips of the western pines, bathing them in mellowed shades light and dark, the woods took on that greyish tinge of dusk. The old porcupine awakened and peering uncertainly around something seemed to prompt him to climb higher up the tree. Here in one of the smaller crotches was a nest, but the first intimation Unk-Wunk received of it was a flutter of wings and a jabbing of sharp beaks in his face and head. He stopped dead still, his head pulled back in under his shoulders, his tail twitching back and forth a deadly menace, but still the robins persistently attacked. Unk-Wunk, mad and goaded on, again commenced to climb, the birds, maddened, were joined by their friends, but still that almost invulnerable porcupine kept on his way, found the nest, ate the eggs, then slowly crept and slid backwards down to the awaiting and sheltering underbrush, leaving the birds to mourn their loss.

It was night—the woods lay still and black and forbidding, but for the chirping of crickets and the song of the night birds. Unk-Wunk meandered along deer-trails and little paths until he came to an opening in the bush-land and his sense of smelling and instinct of danger as dull as it was (for a porcupine's instinct of danger is almost nil), told him that man lived here. With his waddling boldness he approached a building and at once commenced to chew with that rough-rasping-rip-raw like sound on the door frame.

Old Pete in his bunk lay dreaming of a lynx peering out from a low hanging tamarac's branches at him. Even in his sleep he shuddered and then sat bolt upright in a cold sweat. Cautiously he crept out of bed and padded softly across the cabin floor muttering maledictions on all the four-footed tribes in the wilds. Picking up a short maple club he quietly opened the door. For a few seconds there was an expectant death-like silence and then swoosh-swoosh-swoosh. The cabin door closed with a bang and over the long-long trail the spirit of Unk-Wunk had passed to the happy-hunting grounds of his own kind.

WHAT PROTECTION DOES TO THE PROTECTED

The Massey-Harris Company, Limited, has just sold $4,000,000 of ten year 8 per cent. gold bonds in the United States. In the advertisement the concern is described as a Canadian one, established in 1847, with combined assets of more than $45,000,000. A further statement is made that they are the first Canadian industrial firm to offer securities in the New York market in 1920. The money is to be used largely for the extension of the company's plant at Batavia, New York.

This company, which believes in protection and in the principle that Canadian farmers should only buy Canadian-made machinery, are quite willing to go to New York for money. Apparently what is sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander. As pointed out in a recent editorial in this paper, the founder of the Massey-Harris Company left his father's farm while another brother continued to work on the old homestead. In less than two-thirds of a century the one branch of the family is worth $45,000,000, according to their own statement, while the other one is doubtless in the same financial condition as tens of thousands of Canadian farmers. This is what protection does. Can any one say that one branch of the family was more deserving than the other or that one branch of the family should have been taxed to maintain the other?—The Farmers' Sun.

Canada's Overseas Trade made giant strides during the war. Employment was plentiful, wages good, farmers were prosperous. To hold what we have and get more Canadian ships and Canadian men to man them are needed. New routes must be opened, Canadian trade lines must be established and maintained. With ships the markets of the world are open to Canadians. Trade follows the flag.

the real breatheable tablets, quiets the throat, chest, and lungs cold, resisting. When a nasty cold or a coughing bout foretells the revival of your old bronchial trouble, the best thing to do is to take Peps at once to strengthen and the chest. When a Pepe tablet is taken from its preserving silver wrapper and allowed to dissolve in the mouth, it gives off powerful medicinal and germicidal fumes that immediately circulate with the breath through all the air-passages, and destroy any germs that have got into nostrils and throat. At the same time the sore, inflamed membrane is soothed, healed, and protected, phlegm is released from the bronchials, breathing is made easy, and that distressing cough and throat soreness disappear.

By this direct treatment Peps keep trouble off the

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day is with us again, crowned with golden leaves, her arms full of ripened fruit, her robes odours with sweet fragrance, one of the loveliest times of the year. We gaze forward very expectantly to her coming, she carries with her long moon-lit nights, breathing dewy odours and soft warm airs. This year she is with us and full handed—and we greet her coming—just as a matter of course. The golden glories of harvest wave in rich plumage around her, the fruit, the corn, the grain, make magnificent arches along the way. The mirth and laughter of harvest home is truly with us, and man rejoices in bountiful crops and welled filled barns. We grumble and complain if her great arms are not as well filled as usual, or because the harvest crop promises are less bounteous than they were before, or because the grub and worm have held carousal. When the earth yields bountifully of fruit and grain—we take it as a matter of course. Surely if we are so ready with our fault-finding when the higher burdens come, we might at least be equally ready with thankful recognition for the bountiful. So while Thanksgiving gets her palette out and mixes thereon tints of orange and scarlet, making the hills and woodlands things of greater beauty than they were, let us with grateful hearts acknowledge our indebtedness to the Giver of all good things, and for at least once in our lives—be thankful.

Three million new customers for Canada's grain, produce, manufactures secured by the West India Trade agreement and Canadian ships. By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag, without arousing international complications.

ROAMIN' IN THE GLOAMIN'

On Sunday evening one of our young men was somewhat surprised to hear shouts from the bed of the river, just below the Bissell dam, on the south side of the Grand. Investigation proved that a resident had fallen over the bank (about 20 or 25 feet high at the point) and was located under a ledge of rock. By means of a couple of ropes, an extension ladder and a score of willing hands the man was rescued, apparently none the worse of his experience. He now holds the high-dive record for the community, and is probably no fonder of river water than he was before he took the plunge on Sunday evening.—Elora Express.

UNEQUAL LOSSES

Frederick was sitting on the curb, crying, when Billy came along and asked him what was the matter.

"Oh, I feel so bad 'cause Major's dead—my nice old collie!" sobbed Frederick.

"Shucks!" said Billy. "My grandmother's been dead a week and, you don't catch me crying."

Frederick gave his eyes and nose a swipe with his hand and, looking up at Billy, sobbed despairingly:

"Yes, but you didn't raise your grandmother from a pup."

For four hundred years the freedom of the Empire has been maintained by a sacrifice of countless gallant lives on land and sea. "He that commands the sea is at great liberty."—Bacon. Liberty to live, liberty to trade; trade means prosperity, liberty to trade lies upon the sea. The congregated wealth of the nation must stand behind the forward movement to the sea.

CANNOT DESCRIBE TERROR IN LONDON

Air Raids Almost Completely Shattered Mrs. Hunt's Nerves But Tanlac Restores Health.

"Tanlac has built me up from a nervous wreck to where I am a well woman feeling finer than I have in years," recently said Mrs. Kathleen Hunt, of 52 Dartnell Ave., Toronto, Ont.

"I was in London during the war, and as a result of the air-raids my nerves were almost completely shattered. Night after night I used to lie awake in fear of the Zeppelins and Gothas, and when they did come we all had to get down into the basement of the house, and the noise of the bombs dropping all around, and our guns trying to bring the enemy down was most terrifying. I simply can't describe what we went through and it is no wonder that the health of thousands of people gave way under the strain.

"I lost all desire for food and my digestion became so upset that I couldn't eat a thing without suffering distress afterwards. My blood became thin and I fell off in weight until I was a mere shadow of what I used to be. I constantly had headaches that almost drove me distracted and altogether I was in a sad plight.

"Well, that was the condition I was in when I came out to Toronto, and soon after I got here I was advised by a druggist to try Tanlac as the best possible medicine for troubles like mine. It was really surprising how it helped me. It wasn't long before I had a good appetite and could sleep better at night.

"I soon found that I could eat anything I wanted without suffering in the least from indigestion, and I improved right along. I haven't had a trouble of any kind now and in fact never felt better in my life. I shall always have a good word to say for Tanlac, for I think it is a perfectly splendid medicine."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts thro' the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

MERCHANTS TO BE LICENSED

Under the revised system of collecting the luxury taxes in Canada, which comes into effect on November 1st, every merchant will be under license. The plans for inaugurating the new system are well advanced and the special stamps will be available for all merchants by the last day of this month. The method to be followed, it is explained, will give the Inland Revenue Department a complete check on all transactions and the collection by means of stamps will make the operation of the act much more simple. Every merchant is to be supplied with a special machine for cancelling the stamps by perforation, and merchants will be charged a nominal license fee of $2. They will not, however, be required to pay anything for the perforating machine. Supplies of stamps will be available at all banks and also at various local Customs offices, so that it will not be necessary for merchants to stock up for long periods in advance. While the statement has not been made officially that such action is contemplated, it is pointed out that in case of merchants who persist in ignoring or evading the law regarding the collection of luxury tax on goods sold by them, it will be within the power of the department under the new regulations to refuse to renew the license of such merchants, and they would thus be unable to continue in business.

SERVICE COMMISSION MEETING

Halton, Dufferin and Peel Officials Confer in Brampton.

There was a meeting of the Ontario Service Commission in the Judge's chambers at the Court House yesterday, morning and afternoon. The commission comprises W. D. Gregory, Chairman, Dr. Horace L. Brittain, Norman Sommerville, Albert Hellyer and E. A. Potock and Jas. W. Mallon, Secretary. These meetings are called for the purpose of receiving suggestions as to possible improvements in connection with the appointment of officials for the Administration of Justice and the feasibility of combining some of the offices. Dufferin, Halton and Peel were well represented including P. M. Pattullo and Crown Attorney J. L. Island, of Orangeville, Sheriff Webster, Norval, Crown Attorney W. I. Dick and Judge Elliott, Milton; P. M. McClelland, Oakville; Registrar of Deeds for Halton, Mr. Chisholm, Fred J. Patterson, Registrar of Deeds for Dufferin; R. J. Sanderson, Registrar of Deeds for Simcoe; W. D. Bowles, Mono Road, Warden of this County, Robt. Crawford, P. M.; Sheriff Henderson, Judge B. F. Justin, Reeve A. H. Milner, County Clerk L. H. Willis, F. J. Jackson and W. S. Morphy. The suggestion that one jail is sufficient for the three counties and its location here as the most central place met with bitter opposition from the Halton delegation, while Dufferin were only lukewarm in their support. Another suggestion that was dealt with at length was the appointment of only one police magistrate for the county to hold court at the different places—Peel Banner & Times.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 28, 1920.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canadian sugar consumers see no particular reason why they should treasure the memory or delight in the works of the Board of Commerce.

A writer again reminds us that work is the appointed calling of man on earth. Herein perhaps lies one of the reasons why so many people miss their calling.

If they should actually discover coal at Shelburne Dufferin would speedily become the "Hub" of Old Ontario. Even Hogtown, to use the loving appellation bestowed on Toronto by the inhabitants of Hamilton, would have to take a back seat for a time.

With coal mining looming up as a prospective industry at Shelburne and oil wells exciting interest and extravagant hopes of quickly accumulated wealth at Flesherton, the highlands of old Ontario ought to be in a fair way to achieve a prominence hitherto undreamed of.

Carnegie tried to give away his wealth before he was called on to pass in his checks. He nearly succeeded, managing to get rid of all but twenty-three million dollars. Even at that most of us know some people who made a much better job of getting rid of whatever wealth they possessed.

A despatch in the city dailies states that a rush of unemployed men has commenced from the United States into Canada. If they are looking for work Ontario farmers will bid them a hearty welcome. Right now Dufferin County farmers could accommodate several score ablebodied men with all the work they want.

The refiners claim that government regulation and interference prevented them from making twenty-one million dollars during and since the war. The Canadian people are not so much interested in what the refiners were prevented from making as in what they actually did make while the situation was all in their favor. A little light on this point would be quite interesting, but the sugar barons are unlikely to take the people into their confidence on this score.

The other asks that the age limit of a pupil beginning school be placed at six instead of five years as at present.

On Thursday evening Rev. W. M. Morris gave an address on Education and Democracy. This was supplemented by moving pictures which were intended to show how the movie can educate.

RICH, RED BLOOD THE GREATEST NEED

Nearly All Ills Are Due to Poor, Watery Blood—How to Improve Its Condition.

To be in a healthy condition the human body requires a constant supply of new, rich blood. Nearly all the ills from which people suffer arise from one cause—poverty of the blood. If the blood is rich and red it absorbs nourishment from the food which passes into the stomach and distributes that nourishment to the brain, nerves, muscles and all the organs of the body. When the blood is weak and poor in quality it cannot do its natural work of feeding the brain and body, and the result is weakness and disease.

Headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, pimples and unsightly blotches on the skin, all indicate that the blood has become impure—that it is not doing its appointed work. If this condition is not remedied it will grow worse and worse and a complete breakdown will eventually occur. To bring about a healthy condition of the blood no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their one mission is to make new, rich blood, which reaches every part of the body bringing with it new health and increasing vitality. Thousands have testified to the benefit they have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when run down in health. Among these is Mrs. Bertha Kendall, Darling avenue, Toronto, who says: "In the summer of 1918 I was in poor health. My appetite was variable, and I was weak and unfit for work, and I suffered a great deal from nervous headache and palpitation of the heart. A lady friend recommended Dr. Williams Pink Pills which I used with splendid results, as by the time I had taken six boxes I felt like a new woman. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold to every nervous, sick woman, as they cure quickly and save doctor bills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FLESHERTON OIL WELLS

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. B. McGuire, of The Banner, had the pleasure of visiting the Flesherton oil wells in company with a number of the officials of Canadian Oil Fields, Limited, the company formed to develope the wells in the Flesherton district. The visit was full of interest and afforded an excellent opportunity of becoming familiar with the development in progress at Flesherton and the prospects upon which the Company rests its faith that it will eventually strike oil in commercially profitable quantities. Boring was in active progress at the time of the visit and the drillers stated that they were down a depth of 2400 feet. It is interesting to note that the farm on which the Company is now operating adjoins the farm of Mr. Samuel Thompson, father of Mrs. Wm. Savage, wife of the landlord of The Dufferin House here. This is by no means the first occasion on which an attempt has been made to strike oil in the Flesherton district. It is many years now since the existence of oil was first discovered in the streams and wells of the watershed, which extends from the Caledon hills north to Flesherton. No less than fifteen wells have been sunk by different prospectors, unfortunately with indifferent results. The men responsible for the operations of Canadian Oil Fields, Limited, profess confidence that they have solved the difficulties, which confronted and finally baffled former prospectors. Former borings were brought to a standstill at a depth of some 1875 feet through encountering a hard-pan formation, which defied the ordinary oil drilling apparatus. After a careful study of the conditions, Canadian Oil Fields, Limited, decided that they would probably get the results they desired by sinking wells in the syn-clinal formation, as was done in the Roumanian oil fields. The Banner was informed that the boring in the 2400 foot well is now proceeding at a rate of two feet an hour in dolomite sands which are saturated with oil. For the last 450 feet it was stated that the well has been going down through heavily saturated oil sands, the quality and quantity of the oil becoming better and more plentiful as the drilling progresses. Whether oil will be discovered in paying quantities remains to be demonstrated, but the officials of the company have unbounded faith in their enterprise and are sanguine that they are fairly on the way to make a rich strike.

The gentlemen in whose company The Banner visited the wells, were Messrs. H. McGuire, R. Morrow, H. P. Clancy and Melvin A. Gough, all Toronto men. Mr. Gough is the Secretary-Treasurer and Assistant General Manager of Canadian Oil Fields, Limited.

MORE NEWSPAPER AMALGAMATIONS

Two newspaper amalgamations, in the interests of economy and efficiency, have taken place just recently. The Tribune and the Telegraph of Welland joined hands. The new paper will be independent in politics, with Louis P. Duff as editor. The capital of the company is $100,000. The Mitchell Recorder has been bought by the Advocate, and the papers will be amalgamated on Nov. 1st. In making the announcement the Advocate says that for a long time it has been felt that two papers could not exist in Mitchell, and in order that one might make a decent living, the Advocate has taken over the business of the Recorder.

Prior to their departure the Ladies Aid and Women's Missionary Societies of the Methodist Church presented Mrs. Dean, who has been a useful and valued member of the two Societies, with the following address:

To Mrs. Dean:—

Dear Sister:

We, the representatives of the Ladies Aid Society and the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Methodist Church, Alton, wish to give expression to our appreciation of your valuable services to these societies, which on this occasion of your removal from among us we tender to you from a sense of love and duty. You have not only been a valued member of these societies, but a very valuable officer, as you have ably filled the office of Treasurer of our Women's Missionary Society since its organization. We deeply regret the loss we must sustain. The absence of your hearty co-operation and the faithful discharge of your duty to these societies will mean more than words can well express.

In representing our church in general we must include as recipients of our message of appreciation, Mr. Dean and family, also Mr. Page. As you, gentlemen, have not only been members of our church, but have served several terms in official capacities, we wish to remind you that your willingness to discharge the duties of these offices has formed impressions that will long be held in loving remembrance by those left to regret your departure.

Times come when farewell must be said, although so often a very unwelcome term. But we will endeavor to apply the golden privilege that follows, that of forgetting the absence of body and remembering the presence of spirit, which still links us together in true fellowship in the service of our Master.

We now assure you that our best wishes accompany you and our prayer is that the blessings of Heaven also go with you and enable you to prosper and grow strong in the great work of service for the advancement of the Kingdom of our Lord and Master.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid and the Women's Missionary Society,

Mrs. J. D. McClellan, Pres. Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. J. W. Lemon, Pres. W. M. Society.

The employees of The Beaver Knitting Mills presented Mr. Alex. Dean with a purse of $25.00 and the following address prior to the removal of Mr. Dean and family to Toronto:—

Dear Mr. Dean:

We have learned that very shortly you are moving away from Alton, and as friends and fellow-workers we would say most of us have known you for many years and as one of ourselves you have always been held in high esteem and our goodwill and appreciation of comradeship we now express to you at this time. We hope and trust that you and Mrs. Dean will for many years to come enjoy good health and that happiness and prosperity may be yours in the years that remain to you both. We therefore present to you this $25.00 as a tangible evidence of our good will and kindly sentiments, and remain in the united ties of friendship and comradeship your fellow workers.

MRS. HUGH MAGUIRE

A splendid woman has been called to her reward by the death of Mrs. Hugh Maguire, of Orangeville, formerly of Relesmey, who passed away quite suddenly on Thursday morning last after a short illness from pneumonia. Mrs. Maguire was only taken ill one week before her demise and even then her condition did not cause any undue apprehension until the day before her death, when she took a sudden turn for the worse. She was conscious and in the full possession of her faculties until the last and calmly bade farewell to the loved ones who had gathered about her bedside.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Ann Mercer McCoy, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, of Adjala, in which township she was born and spent her girlhod. Of a family of twelve brothers and sisters, only two survive her, namely, Mrs. John Bonnell, of Owen Sound, and Mr. George McCoy, of London. About 54 years ago she was married to Mr. Hugh Maguire, of Mono. The young couple settled on lot 20, con. 5, east, Mono, where they lived happily and prospered until the death of Mr. Maguire nine years ago. The subject of our sketch was noted in her home neighborhood for her kindness of heart and openhanded hospitality. The Maguire home was always open to the traveller or the minister, and was for many years a stopping place for the ministers who visited the Relesmey community. Deceased was a bright, cheery woman, who never lost her interest in the outside world or the doings of her neighbors and friends. She was always warmly interested in young people and had the happy faculty of winning the confidence and affection of the young folk with whom she was thrown in contact. She was a devoted wife and mother, whose love and affection for her children in their childhood has been rewarded with a measure of filial affection that neither time nor the inevitable separation that comes when the children leave the old home had power to lessen. Deceased was a faithful and consistent member of Relesmey Methodist church for many years and has attended the Methodist church here since coming to town about three years ago. She was in her 77th year.

Mrs. Maguire is survived by a family of three sons and three daughters, all happily married and settled in life. They are C. W. Maguire and Jas. H. Maguire, with the Imperial Oil Co. in London and Windsor respectively, John W., on the homestead at Relessey, Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Alliston, Mrs. Robinson, wife of License Inspector T. J. Robinson, Orangeville, and Mrs. Alf T. Glover, Regina. There was a large attendance of citizens and former Mono neighbors at the funeral, which was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson on Zina St. to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Rev. H. L. Partridge conducted the services at the house and grave and was assisted by Rev. T. H. Stewart. The pallbearers were Dr. G. H. Campbell, W. Fairbairn, Dr. W. J. Price, T. S. Hewson, Capt. Alex. Firth and Albert Walker. A large number of beautiful floral tributes testified to the sorrow and esteem of friends of the departed woman. Amongst these were:—A pillow, the family; wreaths, the grandchildren, Mrs. C. W. and Mrs. J. H. Maguire, The Imperial Oil Co., London, The Imperial Oil Co., Windsor; sheaf, Mason family, Mono Mills; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. McMahon, London, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maguire, Hamilton, W. M. S. Orangeville Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Maguire, Shelburne, Mrs. Robert Mann, Windsor, Capt. and Mrs. Firth, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McKim, Miss Isabel Fife, Miss Marian Walker.

Friends here from a distance included:—Mr. Mercer Denholm, publisher of the Blenheim News; Messrs. George McCoy and Robert McMahon, London; Mrs. Wm. Stevens and Mrs. John Bonnell, Owen Sound; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maguire, Hamilton; Miss Florence McMahon, Oshawa; Mr. Jos. McCoy, Mrs. E. J. Darraugh and Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Toronto; Miss Mary McElwain and Mrs. John Rawn, Caledon East; Mrs. Ed. Lloyd and Mrs. Hayden, Schomberg; Jas. Mercer and Mrs. Geo. Fleming, Tottenham; Mr. Thos. and Miss Addie Cook, Bolton.

LATE DONALD GEAR

One of the oldest and most widely known men of the vicinity passed away on Friday last in the person of Donald Gear, in his 86th year. Following a slight accident a month or so ago, in which he suffered a broken rib, complications incident to old age set in, and he passed away on Friday. He was in town on fall fair fair day, and showed the severe shaking up his system had received. Born in Caithness, Scotland, he came to Canada with his parents when 7 years of age, and stopped at Norval for a time, and then to the 13th line Garafraxa, below Marsville. Over 66 years ago he settled on the old homestead on the 11th concession, and made a success of farming by persistent, hard work, economy, and intelligent grasping of favorable opportunities. Mr. Gear retired to the village some few years ago, and since the death of his wife three years ago, has been at his son, James'. He had abounding energy, was a great reader and a well informed man in most things, and took great pleasure in travelling about from one place to another. He was a Reformer, and a life-long member of the Church of Christ. He is survived by the following children:—John and Margaret, in Fergus, James H., Mrs. Robt. Peden, and Donald, in Garafraxa, Mrs. Hattie Genders at Eureka, Ill., and Mrs. Haight, of Saskatoon. The funeral took place on Wednesday to Price's Corners cemetery.—Star & Vidette.

SINGING

OFFERS WONDERFUL POSSIBILITIES FOR ALL ROUND DEVELOPMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Music Has a Strong Corrective Influence Upon Childish Impulses.

The following is a full report of the excellent address, which Mrs. E. E. Reece, of Birch Cliffe, near Toronto, gave at the recent Convention of the Dufferin Teachers' Institute in Grand Valley. Our readers will find the address well worth their careful perusal. Needless to say it possesses a special value and interest for teachers, school trustees and others directly in touch with school work.

I have decided to speak on "Singing in Our Schools," first, because it is a neglected subject, and secondly, because I see in it such wonderful possibilities of an all round development of our children.

It was Fetis, the great Belgian composer of the last century, who said "Art without love is powerless; to persuade others we must believe in what we say and to move others we must ourselves be moved." Therefore it is not by knowledge, but by the love and enthusiasm I have for this subject that I hope to move some of you, maybe, to take a little more interest than hitherto in Singing in our Schools. If you will only start, the fascination of teaching it will grow with you, as you go on from step to step.

I suppose none of you have taught in England. If you had, you would realize more fully, what a wonderful country this is to teach in; we have so much freedom here, so little restriction, we can each be the individual wherever we are placed, and yet in many cases, an onlooker might imagine there were a few hard and fast regulations such as these:—

Thou shalt not teach physical culture.

Thou shalt not teach art.

Thou shalt not teach singing.

Thou shalt not teach folk dancing.

Leave these subjects to the children to acquire the best way they can, but thou shalt only slave away at the subjects on which an examination is set. It is because you leave the more cultural subjects to take care of themselves, that the more practical are so hard to teach at times.

We grumble, many of us, about examinations and yet we go on digging and driving along the set examination groove, instead of relaxing for part of the day, and revelling in the cultivation of some of the finer arts.

Some of you will say there is not time for all these frills. Reserve that verdict till you have tried them. Teachers, who have tried them say, that when given a proper correlation with other work, then they are a great help, not a hindrance. Our children become more alert, more self reliant, they acquire greater self control, they are subject to instant obedience, and become vitalized for all other work.

As educators, you know that the day of the three R's is past, and the child of to-day has to be developed in something more than mere memory.

Whenever I ponder over teaching, especially if considering any new move, I always try to consider the influence of the subject and see if it will bear a four sided development upon the child's character, the development in which we read the Divine Child grew. We read that Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favour with God and man. He increased intellectually as He increased in wisdom, physically as He increased in stature, spiritually as He increased in favour with God, socially as He increased in favour with man, and the best development of our children will only be secured when we endeavour to reach all sides of their young lives. Singing is one of the subjects that develops a child on all sides.

True education means "the drawing out of all that is good in a child, the cultivation of all parts of his nature," therefore, if we confine our work to one side of his nature only, we run the risk of starving, maybe, the most important side of all. There is nothing like music to move the feelings, and it is always the feeling side of our nature that moves us to action, especially when such action demands self sacrifice. Pure reason never did, and never will move us to any act of self denial.

If we believe (and none of us can deny it), that the emotions are intensified and uplifted through the power of music, why are we not giving a more important place to singing in our schools. I know the multiplicity of subjects makes it difficult, but if we are earnestly trying to develop our children along the right lines, why do we practically shut out the subjects which do most towards character forming, and after all, the most important part of our duty is to mould characters.

It is good to get good results for examinations. We all work for it, but as far as I personally am concerned I wouldn't care a snap for results if I did not feel that the characters of my pupils were being developed in the same proportion.

Do not think for one minute that I am disparaging the more practical subjects, they are absolutely necessary, but what I cannot understand is, why teachers, who are desirous to do their very best for the boys and girls, still go on in this enlightened age and persist in giving pre-eminence to the examination subjects, and only a secondary place, hardly that, to the subjects that develop and bring out the very noblest, the purest, the best and highest traits of character. Why can't we seek through a thoughtful, careful allocation of the time spent in school to so arrange our time tables, that we shall develop our children all round.

There is no subject for gripping a child like singing. It has a strong corrective influence upon the impulses. The mother, before her child came to you, began this training. You have all seen her, romping her babe on her knee to a lively tune, or also soothing him with a lullaby. How the little ones love these lullabies. Why don't we continue this good work. Nature taught the mother what her child loves, why not let nature be our teacher too, for as Wordsworth says: "Nature never did betray the heart that loved her." Often, when teaching in primary work, have I saved the situation by stopping work, when the little ones began to fidget, and letting them sing a good rousing song, march to it, clap to it for about five minutes and then work went on smoothly and with renewed effort. It was much better than scolding those dear, trusting little hearts.

It has just the same corrective influence with the older pupils. It is wise to part every afternoon on friendly terms with our pupils, but you all know there are times when we do get irritable and short-tempered. When that is so in my own room, we stop work at ten minutes to four and have a sing, and it is impossible to keep up a "grouch" and sing, therefore the cloud vanishes before we separate and all is well when we sing our closing hymn.

We often say our young charges are as restless as young colts. Do you remember what Shakespeare said of the power of music, even on young colts?

"For do but note a wild and wanton herd,
Or race of youthful and unhandled colts
Fetching mad bounds, bellowing and neighing loud,
Which is the hot condition of their blood.
If they but hear, perchance a trumpet sound,
Or any air of music touch their ear,
You shall perceive them make a mutual stand,
Their savage eyes turned to a mutual gaze
By the sweet power of music."

Besides being a strong corrective influence upon the impulses, singing when taught in the right way is a means of developing a child spiritually. Teach children to sing with expression and you will notice a reverence, a devotion and worship unfolding, whenever they take God's name upon their lips.

It was Plato, who over 300 years B. C., said, "Just as gymnastic exercise is necessary to keep the body healthy, so is musical exercise necessary to keep the soul healthy."

From now on I will give you a few pointers that are absolutely essential, if you want to make a success of teaching this subject. I shall avoid any fine technical points, but just touch on those, which mean success just as much in the one room school as in the graded school.

First—

You must prepare your lesson carefully and thoughtfully the night before. Know what you want to teach, what your aim is. Often, time is given to singing and nothing accomplished, simply because the lesson was not thought out before hand. During the lesson, note any weak point. Perhaps, you may not know how to remedy it then. Never mind, make a mental note of it, and find out the remedy that evening, and then teach it the next lesson. If the children fall down on a difficult interval, prepare a few carefully, thought out modulator exercises, drilling on that interval for the next lesson. Drill on it and master that difficulty before you go on to the next step. Haphazard exercises are useless, they are waste of precious time.

The three points that I would stress in the actual singing are:—(1) A good tone; (2) Clear enunciation; (3) Correct time. A few words on each of these:

To produce good tone encourage soft singing, never allow shouting or yelling. Sometimes the expression calls for loud singing, be careful then not to sacrifice quality of tone to volume of sound.

For good tone too, the children should be taught to breathe properly, and then to give a good true vowel sound. Much time can be saved here if the teacher can give a good pattern readily, if you cannot, don't worry, select an elder pupil to come to the front and pattern the sound.

Children readily imitate—even, unfortunately to a fault.

Enunciation—

We should train our children to enunciate clearly every word. This can be done at any time when the children speak and especially in the Reading and Literature lessons. Do not accept a carelessly spoken sentence at any time. Train the children to attack initial consonants quickly and clearly (with quick lip and tongue movement), then to dwell on the vowel to the fullest extent, and to sound the final consonants, without exaggeration. This will need a lot of drilling, but remember that "Trifles make perfection."

Time is very easily taught when children are trained to "watch the beat," and to respond instantly. It matters not what class you teach, you will never get good results unless you do conduct, and in this way absolutely control the time. Without conducting, you can never have a good, clear bold attack on the first note and hence if in competition work, lose marks on the first note. You will never have a sustained note with a clear-cut ending without conducting. When the children get used to it, they simply love responding to your beat, as they realise you are working together and that you are feeling the same sympathy of song as they themselves feel.

Another point I would like to stress is this:

Never allow any common ragtime airs to be sung in school. Why waste precious minutes in this way? The children are not learing and we certainly are not teaching. I maintain that we are then helping to rob our children of the glorious possibility of ever being able to appreciate the wonderful works of our great composers, such as the majestic, soul stirring oratorios of Handel, the delightful operas of Verdi, Beethoven's sonatas and others. Children love good music, when trained to it, and can very soon appreciate the good. We have them for a short time, let us build for the future as much as possible, and teach them music that will never weary, but which will grow more precious as they understand more fully what harmony really is.

Competition—

In these country schools of ours we need competition far more than in the city schools. At the present time we have no supervision of the subject, then what better or safer plan for us than to enter into competitive work at our School Fairs, where we can gain from friendly comparison of our work, where we can have friendly criticism and advice.

This side of competition is all too frequently ignored. It is unfair to the movement, unfair to each other to regard it as a mere contest for superiority. It is not, it is, or should be, a school for trainers. We are fellow teachers and we should help one another.

If after what I have said to-day any one thinks I could help them in any small way, you have only to let me know and I shall be delighted to help you because I want every child to have a glad song in his heart, because they are the children who will develop into happy men and women and it is the happy, contented people of the earth who do the things worth while.

I will close with a quotation from Gladstone:—

"They who think music ranks amongst the trifles of existence are in gross error, because from the beginning of the world, down to the present time, it has been one of the most forcible instruments of training, both for arousing and for governing the mind of man."

—William E. Gladstone.

PLAIN LOT

A Lancashire woman had a rooted objection to beards, especially among the clergy. It so happened that a newly-appointed curate boasted a beard, and the woman had told him and most of the parish exactly what she thought about it.

In the end her attacks on the unfortunate curate became so violent that the vicar went to remonstrate with her.

"A canna abide a man wi' a beard," she explained.

"But," said the vicar, "don't you know that in our magnificent east window we have the Twelve Apostles, all of whom have beards?"..

SINCE 1870 SHILOH 30 MEDICINE COUGHS

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

A COSTLY SPREE

Durham Young Man Pays Dearly For His Fun.

On Sunday evening last, just as an aggressive young twilight was beginning a subtle attack on an exhausted day, an eighteen-year-old Durhamite reclined against a tree in front of the Central Hotel in Walkerton and watched the hands of Father Time at work on his prohibition stage. Down the street came two youthful Walkertonians, and Durham told them how dry he was. A wink's as good as a nod, and one of the pair said he would get him some lubricator. He departed on his mission, and on his return the scene changed to the West End Bridge, where the Durhamite held the flask so long to his face that he got wobbly at the knees, and started down street in an inebriated state. He was sadly under the influence when Chief Ferguson picked him up at Hartley House corner, and being as helpless as a sick sheep, the Chief, like the Good Shepherd, had almost to carry him to jail. After sobering off over night in the cells he was brought before Magistrate Tolton and Dr. Clapp at 10 a.m. Monday, when he told how he paid a dollar for the portion he drank of the booze. He was assessed the minimum fine of $10 for being drunk and told to go and sin no more. The next step was the summoning of the supply man, and before the same two justices on Monday night this youth told how he had met four strangers in a car parked on the front street and on overhearing them speaking of booze, butted into the conversation and purchased from the bootleggers the bottle of nectar which put the Durhamite down. He was ordered to pay a fine of $200 for having liquor in other than his private dwelling and as the charge was laid by the local cop, the two-hundred green-backs will go into the town treasury to help finance municipal affairs here. If many such assessments were levied, Walkerton's tax rate would soon sink to the diminishing point, thus showing that it's an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody good.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

THE ART OF SNUBBING

If you wish to be thoroughly hated, if you wish to be remembered for evil, if you wish to be a social blight, if you wish to drive from you all confidence, all affection, all sympathy, if you wish to lose the key to the hearts of others, then cultivate the art of snubbing. If you wish to get confidence and to give confidence, if you desire that some few should affectionately remember you when you are gone, if you wish to be delivered from the curse of a solitary existence—Snub not.

A RED CROSS BRIDGE.

The development of the dairy industry of Canada during the past two decades has been surprisingly rapid. Quick to realise the profits to be derived from milk production and the great value of dairying in conserving the fertility of the soil, the Canadian farmer has not hesitated to increase his investments in dairy cattle. The industry expanded during the five years of world war. Canada, being distant from the theatres of war, although handicapped by the drafting into military service of half a million of her most vigorous manhood, was able to continue the development of many of her important industries, particularly agriculture.

It was not so in Europe. There the fiery blast of war, which left profits in some parts of the world, almost extinguished not only industry but national life itself in other. The drain upon manhood was so great that now in hundreds of thousands of families no adult males remain. Europe moreover is filled with orphan children whose prospect of life is marred by the lack of all that is necessary to bodily and mental growth. In most cases the earning power and consequently the purchasing power of their families is utterly destroyed.

Turning again to Canada we find there a surplus production of the commodities that are so badly needed in Europe. Condensed milk for instance is a commodity that is a prime necessity for the children of the poor communities of Europe but the nations to which they belong have no means of purchasing it for them. The Canadian Red Cross is going to endeavor to supply part of their needs by means of a general appeal for contributions to be made during Armistice week on behalf of the British Empire Fund, which is to be used in the humane task of relieving the sufferings of millions who are stricken by famine and disease. Part of the fund will be used for purchasing in Canada suitable supplies and thus the Red Cross will furnish the bridge across which some of our surplus milk will reach the enfeebled children in war-stricken areas. Those who assist will not only have the satisfaction of having contributed to relieve the sufferings of others less fortunate but by helping others will thereby indirectly help themselves.

FROM GENEVA.

Organizer for League of Red Cross Societies Tells of Need of Europe's Orphans.

"While we at home are intent on industrial expansion and a place in the sun, Europe in its war-weakened condition is fighting for its very existence," said Donald W. Brown, director of the department of organization in the League of Red Cross Societies of the World, which has its headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland. He visited Toronto to learn the peace program of the Canadian Red Cross Society and to establish closer contact between it and the league.

Millions of War Orphans.

Having just arrived from Europe, Mr. Brown was able to give the Canadian Red Cross some first hand information concerning the people of Europe. He called attention particularly to the condition of the children, so many of whom are now orphans. While the exact number who have lost one or both parents during the war cannot be determined, the most conservative estimate places the number at over ten millions. This number seems quite consistent with the heavy war casualties among so many nations.

Dependent Upon Charity.

The condition of these children is in most cases very pitiable. Many of them have no homes and they are dependent upon whoever may be charitable and kind enough to help them. But there are few who are able to give such help for the mass of the people of Russia, Poland, parts of Roumania, Czecho-Slovakia and other countries are so poor that they have not necessaries for themselves. Consequently in the great area between the Baltic, the Black and the Adriatic Seas, there are millions of children who face the next few years, and particularly the coming winter, without hope of proper care unless outside assistance is given them.

Disease Prevalent.

In addition to the unhappy condition of the children the adult populations are in the direst of misery on account of disease. Suffering has been accentuated by lack of food and clothing, nursing and medical attention, and tuberculosis, smallpox, typhus and dysentery are continuing unchecked.

Typhus which has so often proved a scourge and menace to the human race is again prevalent, and unless checked will most likely extend its ravages to an alarming degree.

British Empire Appeal.

For these urgent reasons, Mr. Brown said, the League of Red Cross Societies has made an earnest appeal to the people of the British Empire and he was glad to hear that the cause of the suffering children was being taken up in Canada. He had learned that an appeal on behalf of the British Empire Fund would be made in Canada by the Canadian Red Cross during Armistice week and wished for it every success.

Typhus In Canada.

In its earlier days Canada suffered from the ravages of a disease then known as "spotted fever" but now known generally by the name of typhus. It is a disease that spreads rapidly and is very destructive of human life. In the years 1846-47 it was brought to Canada by immigrants and caused great loss of life. It is only by taking urgent measures to stamp it out in the centres where it is now raging that it can be prevented from extending.

ANGLICAN CLERGY AROUSED

Canadian Churchman Discusses Annulment of Mixed Marriages by Quebec Courts.

Under the caption "The Tail and the Dog," The Canadian Churchman, the national Church of England weekly, calls upon the clergy of that Church for action in the matter of the annulment by French Roman Catholic judges of mixed marriages performed by Protestant ministers. The article reads as follows:—

A catechism to be read by all faithful churchmen of riper years:

Q. Can the tail wag the dog?
A. It can try to do so.
Q. What is the dog?
A. The Supreme Court of Canada.
Q. What is the tail?
A. A court of Montreal in the Province of Quebec.
Q. What was the occasion?
A. The marriage of Bernard John Dahlmann and Gertrude Idella Barbeau.
Q. When were they married?
A. The twenty-first day of September, 1914.
Q. Where were they married?
A. In St. Matthew's Church, Quebec, P. Q.
Q. Who married them?
A. Rev. Canon F. G. Scott, Rector of the Church.
Q. By license or banns?
A. By legal license secured from a notary.
Q. Who is Bernard John Dahlmann?
A. A Roman Catholic who was a private in the 13th Battalion, C. E. F., at Valcartier, P. Q., at time of marriage.
Q. Who is Gertrude Idella Barbeau?
A. Protestant domiciled in Montreal at the time of marriage.
Q. Why were they married in Quebec?
A. Dahlmann secured permission from his Colonel to go from Valcartier to Quebec to marry Miss Barbeau, in spite of the fact that all leave had been cancelled on account of the forthcoming sailing of the contingent.
Q. Why does the matter come under review.
A. Because Mrs. Dahlmann petitioned the Superior Court of Montreal to annul the marriage. The petitioner stated that Dahlmann and she went to the Bishop's Palace (R. C.), at Quebec, on September 21, 1914, and asked to be married. The request was refused because she was a Protestant and Dahlmann was a Roman Catholic. They then went to St. Matthew's Anglican Church, and were married by Rev. Canon F. G. Scott by license. Immediately after the ceremony, she claimed, her husband proceeded to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, performed his religious exercises, received his rosary and proceeded then to Valcartier and afterwards went overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Petitioner said her husband deserted her then, and persisted in his desertion now. Petitioner said that her husband afterwards repudiated the marriage as having no binding effect on him, "spiritually, religiously, or civilly." There was no contestation of the petition, no appearance filed on behalf of the defendant, who, on the record was described as being "of parts unknown." The court considered petitioner had proved the right of her demand, and judgment was ordered to intervene.
Q. Was the judgment ordered on the grounds of desertion?
A. No.
Q. On what grounds was judgment ordered?
A. The ground of dissolution was that, being a "mixed" marriage, performed by a Protestant minister, it could not be held legal and binding under the Quebec civil laws.
Q. Has the Supreme Court of Canada ever given a decision on such a matter?
A. Yes. The Supreme Court of Canada was asked by the Government some time ago to answer the following question: "Does the law of the Province of Quebec render null and void, unless contracted before a Roman Catholic priest, a marriage that would otherwise be legally binding which takes place in such province? (b) "Between persons, one of whom only is a Roman Catholic?" "The unanimous answer of the five Supreme Court Judges Fitzpatrick, C. J., Davies, Idington, Anglin, Duff, J. J.), being: 'The law of Quebec does not render void, unless contracted before a Roman Catholic priest, a marriage otherwise valid where one party only is a Roman Catholic.' And per Anglin, J.: "Marriages between persons one of whom only is a Roman Catholic, commonly called mixed marriages, which would otherwise be legally binding are civilly valid whether solemnized before a Roman Catholic or a Protestant clergyman or minister. These results flow from the provisions of the civil law of that province taken by themselves; and also from the law of the Catholic Church so far as it is given civil effect by article 127 of the civil code."
Q. When was the annulment granted?
A. On the eighth of Sept., 1920
Q. By whom and where?
A. By Mr. Justice Bruneau in the Superior Court of Montreal.
Q. Is the Supreme Court of Canada supreme in Canada?
A. Yes.
Q. Can the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada be reversed by any court in Canada?
A. No.
Q. By what can its decision be reversed?
A. Only by the Privy Council.
Q. Has the Superior Court of Montreal reversed the decision?
A. In effect it has reversed the decision by stating the grounds of annulment as above.
Q. Was Dahlmann advised by any Roman Catholic Priest or person in authority in that church that the marriage was not legally binding?
A. Ask yourself the question.
Q. Ought the Church of England in Canada and in the Province of Quebec to protest against such decisions?
A. Most emphatically the General Synod authorities and the Quebec Diocesan Synod authorities ought to draw the attention of the proper authorities to such a matter.
Q. Why should the General Synod and Quebec Diocesan Synod authorities draw attention to this?
A. First because the decision declares illegal an administration of one of our clergy which the Supreme Court of Canada declares to be legal and our Church provides for.
Because the effect of Roman Catholic domination in such matters seriously hindess the maintenance and extension of our Church in Quebec.
What generally happens in Quebec when two young people marry, one being a Roman Catholic and the other a Protestant? The young people go through two marriage ceremonies, one in a Roman Catholic and the other in a Protestant Church. This is done because if the Roman Catholic person be sincere, there is the desire to escape the consequences of the Roman Catholic Church treating the marriage as illegal and any children as illegitimate. You could gather many sad tales from Protestant parents about their young people forming attachments with young Roman Catholics and then being caught on the horns of this dilemma: the children must be brought up as Roman Catholic or treated as illegitimate by the Roman Church.
It is not surprising that many Protestant families move away from the Province of Quebec to avoid their young people being caught in this way. Throughout the country-side church after church has had to be closed because Protestants find it better to move away from the Province. In the city of Quebec about forty years ago there were 15,000 Protestants. To-day there are only 3,500 (one-half of them are Anglicans) and they are decreasing every year.
It might be inferred that there is some concern very much interested in making Quebec solely a Roman Catholic province. One canny Scot, the last survivor in his district in an eastern township, saw his chance and took it. He put his farm up for sale at a gilt-edged price. It was snapped up by a Roman Catholic, so poor that he did not have two pennies to rub against each other. Scotty took the money without havering about it. But he had his own idea where it came from.
"Bridging the chasm" is a good thing, but a bridge must rest on at least two points. It is all very well to exhort Protestants to extend the hand of Fellowship to Roman Catholic fellow-citizens, but the extension of hospitality from the other side is necessary if things are to be right. What some residents call "The Tragedy of Quebec" is going on at a rapid rate. And nothing is being done by Protestant churches to counteract these designs.
What are the authorities of the Anglican Church going to do about bringing this decision of Mr. Justice Bruneau to the attention of the proper authorities? Are we going to take such a thing lying down? If Mr. Justice Bruneau's decision is constitutional, then the sooner we know it, the quicker we shall realize the plight we are in, and, it is to be presumed, do something about it.

HIS LITTLE COUNTRY PAPER

When the evenin' shade is fallin' at the endin' o' the day
An' a feller rests from labor smokin' his pipe o' clay,
There's nothin' does him so much good, be fortune up or down,
As the little country paper from his ol' home town.

It ain't a thing of beauty, an' its print ain't always clean,
But it straightens out his temper, when a feller's feeling mean.
It takes the wrinkles off his face, an' brushes off his frown,
That little country paper from his ol' home town.

It tells of all the parties an' balls of Punkin Row,
'Bout who spent Sunday with his girl, an' how the crops will grow;
How it keeps a feller posted 'bout who is up an' who is down—
That little country paper from his ol' home town.

Now, I like to read the dailies an' the story papers, too;
An' at times the yellow novels an' some other trash—don't you
But when I want some readin' that will brush away a frown,
I want that little paper from my ol' home town.

A WORLD in itself—a dauntless little world, each citizen battling for life!

Life is very dear, when you are young, and so many patients at the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives are still in their eager twenties. Yet each has something of tragedy and of heroism in that short life's history. Here, a girl who cared for orphaned brothers and sisters; there, a school teacher alone in the world; a nurse broken down through hard work; a housemaid; a factory hand; a young mother; or, amongst the men, a laboring man, friendless and penniless; a farm hand, who has wife and children; a fireman; a miner; a telegraph operator; a machinist.

Ah—how they want to live! And how well spent the money restoring them to health and strength up there in Muskoka.

ACTION FAILED

At the Fall Assizes here a few weeks ago Miss Margaret Street, of Orangeville, sued Tom Craig, a Mono farmer, for $2,000 damages for injuries inflicted on the plaintiff by a cow belonging to the defendant entering the garden of the plaintiff's brother, where she was hanging out some clothes, knocking her down and inflicting serious injuries. After hearing the evidence Judge Middleton reserved his decision. This he has now handed out dismissing the action without costs, but expressing his regret that the law compelled him to do so, thereby leaving the victim of the accident without any remedy for what happened. The judgment as reported in yesterday's dailies reads:—

The plaintiff fails because (a) If the action is founded on trespass the damage is too remote; (b) The trespass was from a highway and was not voluntary nor the result of negligence, and even in this case, the damage would be too remote; (c) If the action is founded on a duty arising from the keeping of the animal, the animal was a domestic animal and was not vicious, and there was no knowledge. I greatly regret that I am driven to this conclusion by the cases leaving this unfortunate woman a cripple without remedy for that which has happened to her without the least fault on her part. Action dismissed without costs. W. D. Henry, Markdale, for plaintiff; C. R. McKeown, K. C., Orangeville, for defendant.

CORED BY BULL

Chester Patten, an Amaranth Farmer, Received Fatal Injuries Last Friday Morning.

Chester Patten, a farmer living on lot 19, 8th line, Amaranth, was gored and fatally injured by a bull last Friday morning. The unfortunate man succumbed to his injuries about 2.30 on Friday afternoon.

Patten had just started to do the morning milking, when he was attacked by the bull. The angry animal caught him in the lower part of the body inflicting an ugly wound with one of its horns. After being tossed about and trampled by the bull Patten eventually managed to crawl to the top of a rail pile in the barnyard. Here he was obliged to remain until his eldest son, Orville, who had gone back to one of the fields to bring in the horses, returned and drove the animal off by pelting him with stones. The young man then assisted his father to the house and hurriedly summoned the family doctor. The most serious injury was the gash already referred to, an ugly tear about six inches in length through which the bowels protruded. Later in the day the two doctors who had been called, assisted by a trained nurse, performed a difficult operation in a final attempt to save the life of the injured man. Unfortunately, the effort proved unavailing and Patten passed away about 2.30 in the afternoon.

The news of the awful occurrence spread with great rapidity and filled the entire district with gloom. The unfortunate man, who was about 43 years of age, had spent his lifetime in Amaranth and was well-known and highly respected. He had a severe illness last winter from anaemia and in order to save his life his physicians resorted to the method of transfusion of blood. A neighbor named George Johnston submitted to the operation, which proved entirely successful. Patten gained in health and strength afterwards and at the time of his death had so far recovered that he was able to again engage in farm work.

Deceased is survived by a wife and three sons, aged 17,12 and 8 years respectively. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever witnessed in Amaranth township, was held on Sunday afternoon. Interment took place in Laurel cemetery, Rev. Mr. Truax, of Grand Valley, conducting impressive services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Lewis Menary, Wilmer Walker, Geo. Davis, Geo. Johnston, J. A. Hughes and W. R. Grosskurth.

MRS. CARBERT'S DEATH

Oldtime friends here learned with regret of the death at her late residence, 36 Olive Ave., Toronto, on Sunday last of Mrs. Bythia Chilver Carbert, widow of the late Dr. Joseph Carbert, of Orangeville. Deceased was born in England 91 years ago and was one of the pioneer residents of this province, having lived in Ontario for 87 years. She had lived in Orangeville until thirty years ago. Two sons and two daughters survive, namely, Joseph A., of Medicine Hat; Dr. G. B., of Campbellford, Ont.; Mrs. James Falkner, of Toronto, and Miss Lucy at home. Mrs. Carbert had been ill for about three and a half years. The funeral was held to Prospect Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

SPARK FROM ENGINE

Destroyed Barns of Jacob Hoare, a Well-known East Garafraxa Farmer.

About three o'clock last Thursday afternoon the fine barns belonging to Mr. Jacob Hoare, lot 8, 17th line, East Garafraxa, a short distance west of The Maples, were completely destroyed by fire, which originated from a spark from a threshing engine threshing when the conflagration started. In another fifteen minutes he would have been through and the machine would have been out of the barn. The spark either caught in the roof or in the top of one of the mows. The flames spread with incredible rapidity and the whole of the main building was a seething mass of flames in a very few minutes. So quickly did the fire spread that the men who were working inside the doomed barn had barely more than enough time to make their way to the outside. A number of pigs were released from their pens and saved, but a valuable horse was burned to death in the stables. Some of the implements were saved and others destroyed. The season's crop consisting of about 2500 bushels of grain, 70 tons of hay, the entire crop of straw, etc., was consumed. Mr. Hoare's stock of harness and stable implements also fell a prey to the flames. There was no time to move the separator and it was burned where it stood. The threshing outfit belonged to Edward Lane, who valued the separator at $1700. Mr. Lane had $800 insurance on the machine.

The barn in which the fire started was a fine bank structure, 55 by 60. Other buildings destroyed were a straw house, 50 by 60, pig pen, 28 by 60, sheep pen, 20 by 36, a hen house and a carpenter shop, both commodious frame buildings. The dwelling house was also in imminent danger of destruction but was finally saved by hard work on the part of Mr. Hoare and his neighbors. The loss is estimated at $10,000, with only $3700 insurance.

Profound sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Hoare, who are respected and industrious members of the community. At this season of the year it is of course impossible to rebuild before winter and Mr. Hoare is therefore up against the difficult problem of making some provision for the housing of his stock until next spring. Failing this he will probably be obliged to make a sale.

Episode 12

During this episode Ryan is made prisoner by a villanous gang. To get him out of the way they tie a rope over a cliff, counting on his struggles to cause the sharp-edged rocks of the cliff to cut the rope and plunge their victim down into the abyss. But their plan of torture takes an unexpected trend, when a flock of buzzards attack Ryan as he hangs helpless from the cliff edge. As the scene in the photoplay will show, Ryan faces some actual danger for a while as the big birds soar around him, swooping down and pecking at his face and other exposed parts. Hanging there in mid-air he makes a plucky fight, even though his arms and legs are tied. He finally manages to get his legs free of their bonds, and in that manner holds the buzzards off until he is rescued by friends. In the making of the scene, the buzzards, brought to the spot by the odor of a dead cow that was used as bait, actually did attempt to make a feast of the star. While the cameras were clicking they made front and rear attacks on him, and by the time the scene was completed they had scored pretty hard on different parts of the star's anatomy with their sharp and heavy beaks and talons.

Concerning them, Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Dumas, Que., writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and am never without them in the house. They have always given the greatest satisfaction and I can gladly recommend them to all mothers of little ones." His Dufferin County friends will be interested to learn of the marriage of Harry B. Cooney, son of the late E. B. and Mrs. Cooney, of Laurel. The happy event took place in St. George's Church, Brandon, Man., at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 20th, Rev. S. R. Hammond officiating. The bride was Miss Madge Cowdroy, of Eling, near London, Eng. The groom was born and resided at Laurel until 1915, when he enlisted in the 164th Batt., with which he subsequently went overseas. He took part in the big push on the Somme in 1918 and at the close of the war marched into Germany with the army of occupation. It was while overseas that he met and fell a victim to the charms of Miss Cowdroy. The bride came to Canada this year. The happy couple will reside at 822-13th st., Brandon.

HENDERSON—CALLANDER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Callander, 543 Eramosa Road, Guelph, was the scene of a lovely autumn wedding on October 21st, when their daughter, Jessie, became the bride of John Russell Henderson, of Mimico, formerly of Alton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Merrill, of Toronto. The bride, who wore a smart suit of brown duvetyn with hat to match and carried sunburst roses, was given in marriage by her father. She also wore a family heirloom—a gold brooch set with pearls which was worn by the groom's great great grandmother. Miss Ethel Henderson played the music and Miss Grace Callandar was her sister's bridesmaid. Mr. C. Palmer, of Mimico, acted as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque; to the bridesmaid a string of pearls; to the pianiste a gold bar pin and to the best man a Masonic tie pin. Guests numbering about fifty were present from Stratford, Hamilton, Welland, Toronto, Brampton and Drayton. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left later in the evening by motor for Hamilton and Toronto and on their return will take up their residence in Mimico.

WARNOCK—M'ARTHUR

At two o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 19th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. W. R. Stevenson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McArthur, Grand Valley, the contracting parties being their only daughter, Isabel, and Mr. George C. Warnock, of East Garafraxa. Owing to the recent bereavement in the family of the bride only the immediate friends were present. The Bride looked charming in her wedding dress of white satin trimmed with georgette and pearls, with flowing veil trimmed with pearls. She was unattended and was given away by her father. Miss Stella Rounding, of Toronto, played the wedding march and during the signing of the register sang "O Promise Me." A dainty wedding repast was afterwards partaken of at the home of the bride. The happy couple left on the afternoon train on a short honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a niger brown serge suit with hat to match. A number of dainty wedding gifts testified to the esteem and good wishes of friends of the young couple.

"Household Effects $500.00"

A True Story

By R. L. Wood

RECENTLY a farmer died, leaving an estate valued at $25,000. Of that sum, $500 represented "household effects."

Before his death he frequently deplored the fact that his grown-up children had left home and gone to the city. His disappointment was not that he had lost money by their desertion, which had compelled him to leave part of his farm unworked for want of help. He was an affectionate father, who liked to have his children near him. He could not understand why they should want to drift away one by one.

Good-Bye Dad

Strangers may have wondered also until they read that item in the inventory of the estate—"Household effects, $500."

Waiting for Better Days

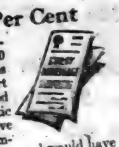
For a generation that family had lived in a house with an irreducible minimum of furniture. When as a young fellow the farmer had taken his blushing bride home, he did not have a great deal of money to put into furniture. Both were content to wait for better days. But when better days came, and there was a modest sum available, it was spent on better accommodations and furnishings for the live stock. That was fine. That was humane. It was also good business.

One of the Best in Several Counties

In time the farm came to be one of the best equipped in several counties. The machinery was of the very latest and best description. The live stock were glad and content to stay on the farm. But the young folks were not content to stay.

There were four sons and two daughters. A piece of furniture had been added to the house from time to time, generally the second-hand furniture store supplied the need. For years the family managed with just as little and as cheap furniture as could be made serve their turn. The stable and barn were comfortable, but inside the old farmstead there was neither comfort nor beauty.

$6,000 at 6 Per Cent



An item in the inventory showed $6,000 invested in securities paying 6 per cent. Part of that money invested in comfortable, artistic furniture would have transformed the farm house into a real home and would have paid the farmer infinitely better, both in cash and moral dividends.

The house furnished with suitable and moderately priced furniture, instead of its scattering of cheap odds and ends, would have attracted the children. Children naturally love the beautiful, and their natures crave for its presence. Some of the boys might have been inclined to remain on the farm and the mother might not have been left alone to carry on the dairying and other duties.

A Hard Chest Against the Wall

Bare walls and scantily covered floors, a hard chest against the wall in lieu of a couch, offer feeble counter-attractions to the lure of the luxurious city.

The children who deserted the farm probably did not blame the lack of home comforts for their desertion. They were not jealous of the cows and horses because of their more comfortable quarters. They carried away with them many happy memories of the old homestead.

But they went, and can you wonder when you read that illuminating item? —"Household effects, $500."

"Better Furnished Homes Mean Greater Happiness"

Beautiful furniture transforms an ordinary, uninteresting house into a real home, in which it is a pleasure to live.

It brings an atmosphere of cheerfulness and brightness into every room. It delights the eye. It gives rest and comfort to the body. It brings contentment to the mind. It gladdens the heart. It makes home life more attractive. It makes people take more pride in their homes.

Nothing that you can buy will give your family more years of happiness and solid satisfaction than modern furniture.

And beautiful, well-made, Canadian furniture is obtainable in moderately-priced sets and individual pieces, as well as in the more elaborate and expensive suites.

SINKING A SHAFT

AND SELLING GROUND FLOOR STOCK.

Shelburne Coal Prospecters Going Right Ahead.

The unearthing of coal on the farm of J. F. Lyons, one mile north of Shelburne, still goes merrily on and at the time of going to press the shaft extended down 26 feet. A fence five feet high and about 50 ft. in circumference surrounds the whole operations and the earth is being thrown out of the excavation in a large heap. Ten men are this week engaged in the excavating, five by day and five by night. The labor secured is entirely local. The men are busy all the time digging downward. The plan is to dig down to the limestone rock. Of course the circular excavation will be properly reinforced and in event coal is found in quantities when the hard pan formation is reached little difficulty will be experienced in getting it. When the limestone is reached by excavation a diamond drill will be set to work and with this all the drilling will be done. The syndicate who are in charge of operations, the Chamberlain Coal Syndicate, will have a drill in the near future. It is a diamond core drill and is expected immediately.

The man who is in charge ofoperations on the Lyons farm is H. A. Chamberlain. He is a practical miner who came to Shelburne six weeks or two months ago from Bracebridge, Muskoka. He has had 15 years' experience in mining mica and feldspar in Muskoka District and at one time was connected with a copper mine. He is running everything at present with his own funds and those of a few associates.

It is the intention of the above named prospector to immediately place before Shelburne investors an opportunity to purchase shares and assist in every way possible to carry on the research work, and all interested in the matter and hopeful for the future of the coal discovery, and who, incidentally have money to invest, should consult Mr. Chamberlain on the matter immediately. We understand that one share subscribed now will be equal to five shares after the company has been formed. Chas. Engrebrit, of the L. H. Seale & Co., Investment Securities, Toronto, is in town this week assisting Mr. Chamberlain to lay the plans of financing the matter before the public and incidentally giving local investors the preference to foreign capitalists.—Free Press.

M'BRIDE—HARKNESS

"Caribou Farm, Hillsburg, the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harkness, was the scene of a very interesting wedding, conducted by the Rev. J. Lindsay, of Erin, when Hilda Letitia (Lettie), their youngest daughter, became the bride of Mr. Albert D. McBride, son of Mrs. Catherine and the late John McBride, of Belfountain.

The bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, to an arch of evergreens and carnations, to the strains of the wedding march played by her friend, Miss Lulu Berry. The bride was attired in champagne satin with over dress of metalle net, carrying a bouquet of sweetheart roses and ferns, caught up with white satin ribbon, and wore a daintily embroidered net veil with orange blossoms and pearls. Little Miss Peggy McBride, niece of the groom, made a charming flower girl dressed in pink silk crepe and carrying a basket of carnations and ferns. After congratulations, the bridal party moved to the dining room where the wedding breakfast was served by girl friends of the bride to thirty guests. The groom's gift to the bride was an oak cabinet of silver; to the pianiste, amythest drop ear-rings; and the flower girl, a pendant and chain. The young couple left amid showers of confetti, for "Highland Inn," Algonquin Park. The bride travelled in a reindeer broadcloth suit, with mink furs and hat to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, West Caledon.

THE WHALE

A century ago New Bedford, Mass., and other Atlantic ports, sent out a fleet of whalers and fortunes were made from their operations. As whales became scarcer trips involved more distant voyages, and many of these New England vessels found their way into Pacific waters. To-day the California Gray whale, the Right whale, the Sperm whale are almost exterminated, and the Humpback species is rapidly following. In 1911 the pinnacle was reached in whale fishing, over 21,000 of these slow-growing animals being destroyed that year. To-day the Finback whale, a species formerly considered unworthy of notice, is the principal object of pursuit, and it bids fair to soon follow in the pathway of the more valuable species. Future generations have a poor chance of utilizing the whale, save as museum specimens.

THE LATE MRS. PERRY

The funeral of the late Mrs. Perry, formerly of Lloydtown, who has been residing recently with her son-in-law, Sr. W. E. McKinley, took place from his residence on Wednesday, Oct. 13th, to St. Clements Church, Toronto, and was attended by a large number of friends and relations. The late Mrs. Perry was the second daughter of the late Nathaniel Irwin, of Armagh, Ireland, who came as a young man to this country and hewed a home for himself and young bride, Nancy Mills, from the same place. Mrs. Perry was born and lived practically all her days on the farm her father cleared, and lived on until his death, on the tenth concession of King. The fourth generation is at present living on the farm. Rev. Mr. Bushell, rector of St. Clements, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Dr. Hallam, of Wycliffe College. Her husband predeceased her fifteen years ago, and died in the home of their marriage. The deceased was in her 81st year and leaves an unbroken family of six sons and two daughters, namely, Mrs. W. E. McKinley, and Miss Etta, of Toronto; Mrs. S. A. Perry, of Vancouver; Archdeacon N. I. Perry, rector of Holy Trinity, Welland; Rev. R. J. W., rector of St. Paul's, Innisfil; Rev. T. H. Perry, rector of St. Matthews, Halifax; Rob., of Toronto, and Will M. on the old homestead.—Bolton Enterprise.

HE HAD WORK ENOUGH

Old Ebenezer was whitewashing his barn one morning with a brush that contained very few bristles. Colonel Jud happened to pass, and said:

"Why don't you get a brush with more bristles in it, Ebenezer?"

"What for, Colonel?" asked the old man.

"What for?" shouted the Colonel. "Why, Ebenezer, if you had a brush with more bristles in it you could do twice as much work."

"Mebbe so, Colonel, mebbe so," said the old negro placidly. "Only, ye see, I ain't got twice as much work to do."

TOOK SHOELESS MARE

16-Year-Old Lad's Joy Ride Landed Him in the Toils.

Gordon Armstrong, of lot 25, con. 6, Ching., has had a youth working for him for the past two months by the name of Joseph Tracey. On Sunday afternoon the lad was evidently home-sick for his parents, who reside at 33 Elm street, Toronto. To get to them he harnessed up a poor old brown mare, lame in both feet, and with the weight of many a year of travel on her shoulders. She had not a shoe on her feet, but that did not bother the would-be traveller. To ride in, he hitched the poor old mare to a McLaughlin buggy, with top and sides, and did not worry at all that his equipage was badly splashed with mud. There was a new spoke in either of the hind wheels, too. When Joseph arrayed himself for the journey, he donned a pair of blue trousers that had not been intended for his use, and likewise a red sweater. Not caring to travel without funds, he tucked into the pockets of the trousers a little cash that did not belong to him, and as the day was dark, and the evening was falling, when he made his exit from the lane gate he carried a flashlight, which did not belong to him by the right of gift or purchase. Chief Herkes was notified, and it is likely that Joseph will enjoy another little journey, this time in the company of the Brampton constable. Tracey is a lad about sixteen, but looks younger, and has fair hair.—Conservator.

The horse and buggy were discovered near Thistletown, and Tracey has been taken into custody by the Toronto police.

CONFINED TO BED FOR TWO MONTHS

Was So Run Down After The "Flu" She Couldn't Do Her Housework—Grateful to Tanlac.

So many people throughout Canada have testified to having used Tanlac with such splendid results following influenza, grippe, operations, typhoid and pneumonia, and other troubles that result in a run-down condition, that it has become universally recognized as the most powerful reconstructive tonic of the present day.

Another striking statement in connection with this fact was given recently by Lyman Williams, well-known farmer, living on R. F. D., No. 1, Vinemount, Ontario.

"Last February," said Mr. Williams, "my wife was taken down with the "flu" and was confined to her bed for two months. It left her in such a badly run-down condition that she wasn't able to do any of her housework whatever and nothing seemed to restore her strength. Her appetite was very poor, and her stomach was in such a bad fix that she could only eat the lightest kind of food. She had awful headaches, lasting for a day or two at a time, and was simply in perfect misery.

"She saw Tanlac so highly recommended by others that my wife decided it would be a good idea to try it, so we got her a bottle and she began to improve from the very start. Her appetite picked right up, and after taking four bottles she says she never has an ache or pain of any kind. She has regained all her lost weight and can do her housework with perfect ease. My wife is so grateful for what Tanlac has done for her that she is always telling the neighbors about it, and I'm no less thankful than she is for her recovery."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, NOV. 4th, 1920.

ALLIANCE ADDRESS

Rev. John Bailey, M. A., a one-time Dufferin boy and a graduate of the Orangeville High School, spoke from the pulpit of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning in the interests of the work of the Dominion Alliance. Mr. Bailey reviewed the fight for temperance in Canada in an interesting manner, referring particularly to the disappointments and set-backs the temperance forces had received at the hands of legislators at various times. These setbacks he stated should not be regarded as a cause for discouragement, but rather as an incentive to renewed effort to attain the final goal, bone dry prohibition. Although the congregation was small on account of the unfavorable morning Mr. Bailey's appeal for financial support for the work of the Alliance brought pledges for upwards of $75.00. Mr. Bailey has only recently returned from Scotland, where he spent some months assisting in the local option campaign that has just drawn to a close in that country.

A PASTOR MOVES

Comes to Orangeville for the Sake of His Wife's Health.

A despatch in the Toronto dailies a few days ago stated that Rev. J. W. Edwards, pastor of the Cochrane Baptist Church for the past seven years, had left that town to move to Orangeville. Mrs. Edwards has been in a Toronto hospital for some time and it is believed that the climate in Orangeville will be better for her than that of Northern Ontario. Baptist services were conducted in a private house for a time by Mr. Edwards after his arrival in Cochrane, but in 1915 a church was opened for worship. Mr. Edwards was Secretary of the Public School Board for three years and was a Director of the Cochrane Agricultural Society.

RECREATION FOR YOUNG

Peel County Y. M. C. A. Secretary Addressed Orangeville Audience Monday Night.

A capacity audience heard Mr. A. McLaren, Y. M. C. A. Secretary for the County of Peel, speak on the subject, "Directing Recreational Activities of the Community," in the Auditorium of the Orangeville Public Library on Monday night. Much of the address was a discussion of the play spirit, which the speaker described as the great elemental force that is locked up in the lives of the boys and girls. All down the ages in spite of repression, both wise and unwise, this play spirit had kept cropping out in each succeeding generation of youth, Play, Mr. McLaren stated, was the natural or life method of developing character, whereas the school is man's method. The play instinct was the only outlet for the creative energy of the boy and girl. Play is an unfailing sign of youth. Just as soon as we lose our play spirit we had better look around for our undertaker, for we are then surely growing old and verging upon the grave. The speaker defined a number of theories of play, including (1) surplus energy, (2) recreative or recuperative theory, (3) instinctive theory, (4) recapitulation theory, which regards the playing child as simply repeating past history of the human race. Some authorities maintain that ninety-five per cent. of the crime of this world is simply the result of misdirected play energy. Parents, Mr. McLaren stated, are giving too much time to the making of dollars and cents and too little time to the development of character. On account of the growth of our towns and cities and the consequent congestion of population it has become necessary to pay more attention to open spaces and play grounds for the children than has hitherto been given to these important matters. Every town should have proper play grounds, a place where all boys could learn swimming and a skating rink and toboggan slide for winter sports. Mr. McLaren stressed the importance of supervising the play of children and the need of a competent supervisor. The supervisor could very well be a school teacher, who should be a play expert as well as a teacher. He hoped the time would soon come when one of the first questions Boards of Education would ask teachers will be how they can play and what they know about play. When concluding Mr. McLaren suggested that the meeting appoint a representative committee to consider the local situation and local needs and devise methods of meeting these needs in the play life and environment of the children of the town.

Principal Hackett, of the High School, occupied the chair and heartily endorsed the suggestions advanced by Mr. McLaren. The speaker was tendered the hearty thanks of the meeting on motion of Rev. W. M. Morris and Mr. W. R. Liddy, both of whom spoke briefly in advocacy of the proposed committee. Rev. T. H. Stewart, Mr. H. F. Tuck, Rev. H. L. Partridge, Albert Walker, Col. Preston, Dr. Campbell and others spoke briefly.

On motion of Mr. Liddy, seconded by Miss Strang, a nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. J. B. Adamson, Dr. Price and Mr. H. F. Tuck to select a permanent Committee to carry out the suggestions of Mr. McLaren. The three members of the nominating committee are to be members of the Standing Committee.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES

The attention of Banner readers is directed to the Educational Conferences, which are to be held at various points in the County of Dufferin next week under the auspices of the Dufferin County Educational Association. The Conferences are being held for the purpose of discussing and stimulating public interest in various educational problems. Some of the suggested topics are The School Attendance Act, The Adolescent School Act, Consolidated Schools, Continuation Classes, The Place of the School in National Life, Democracy and Education, The School as a Community Centre, Health Education, The Value of Education, Women on School Boards and Rural Depopulation and the Schools. Outside and local speakers will deliver addresses at each of the Conferences. Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Ontario Trustees' Association, who has been the moving spirit in the organization of these Educational Associations, will attend and speak at all the Conferences. Officers of the County Association will also be present at the meetings. Announcement of the places and time at which meetings will be held will be found elsewhere in this issue.

DEVILS TOGETHER

The Advance had a short call on Thursday last from Mr. Blaney McGuire of The Orangeville Banner, who was up with a party of Toronto gentlemen taking observations at the Finch oil well. Years ago—43 to be exact—Blaney and The Advance man were "printer's devils" in the old Orangeville Advertiser office, now defunct for some years. Fisher Munro was the proprietor, and Sam Hadden, now Secretary of Toronto Typographical Union, was a senior apprentice of the same office. James Cameron, late foreman of the Shelburne Free Press, was foreman of the Advertiser at that time. It was interesting to meet our old friend of boyhood days once more. There have been vast changes in that time, and we both have seen many ups and downs, and both have tasted of acute sorrows as well as pleasures, but the kaleidoscope of time will probably not make many more revolutions for either of us.—Flesherton Advance.

RICH, RED BLOOD NECESSARY TO HEALTH

When the Blood Becomes Weak and Watery a Tonic is Needed to Build it Anew.

Why are we being continually told that good, health-giving blood must be bright red? What has color to do with the quality? Just this—the oxygen in the air is the great supporter of all organic life. One function of the blood is to take the oxygen from the air—which it meets in the lungs and deliver it to the tissues of the body. When the blood, filled with life-sustaining oxygen, is sent out by the heart, it is bright red. When it returns, impure and deprived of oxygen, it is dark.

You will see, therefore, that there are two prime requisites of health, pure air and bright red blood—the pure air to furnish the oxygen, the rich, red blood to carry it where it is needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make your blood rich and red because they increase its power to carry oxygen, actually making it so much more able to carry increased life and strength to every organ in the body.

Pale, anaemic people whose nerves are on edge, whose cheeks are pale, and who tire out easily, should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the steady improvement that follows their use. A case in point is that of Mrs. J. P. Rolston, South River, Ont., who says:—"About two years ago my system was in a badly run-down condition; and I kept growing worse all the time until I could hardly do my housework. I had severe headaches, and pains across my back and under my left shoulder. I did not sleep well and would feel just as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. Life seemed a burden. I had taken doctor's medicine for a long time, but it did not meet my case, at least it did me no good. Then as a result of reading about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I decided to try them. When I had taken a couple of boxes I felt much better, and when I had taken five boxes more I felt that I was again a well woman. I have not since felt any return of the trouble and I advise all women who are broken in health to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MRS. HENRY WHITE

An old resident of the township of Mono was summoned to her long home last week in the person of Elizabeth White, wife of Mr. Henry White, whose death occurred at her late home, lot 6, 2nd line, east, on Tuesday, October 26th, after a comparatively short illness. Deceased, who was 76 years, 3 months and 10 days of age, had enjoyed the best of health until last winter, when she had a severe attack of the flu, from the effects of which she never fully recovered. Mrs. White was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Island, who were among the earliest settlers in the south of Mono. She was born and spent her girlhood on lot 3, 1st line, east, now occupied by Mr. Elgin Holmes, a great-grandson of the original owner. About fifty years ago she was married to Mr. White and since her marriage had lived continuously on the farm on which she died. By patient and persevering industry Mr. and Mrs. White had acquired a fine 200 acre property, with brick dwelling house, bank barn and outbuildings. Here they spent the evening of life in well-earned comfort. The death of his life partner is a severe blow to the aged husband, who is now over 80 years of age. To him and the other members of the family the community extends its sympathy in their hour of loss. The late Mrs. White was a kind, sympathetic woman, always ready to help a neighbor in sorrow or distress. She was an affectionate, dutiful wife and a devoted mother, who made the happiness and welfare of her family her first consideration in life. As a neighbor she was held in the highest esteem and her passing will be keenly regretted by all who knew her intimately. She leaves two sons and two daughtrs, namely, John J. White, of Blount, Thos. H. White, on the homestead farm in Mono, Mrs. Jas. A. Leighton, Mono, and Mrs. W. J. Reid, Macleod, Alta. Joseph Island, Orangeville, and Dr. R. L. Island, Toronto, are the surviving brothers, and Mrs. Johnston, wife of Ald. F. W. Johnston, of Toronto, is the only sister living. Deceased was a member of the Anglican church and had been identified with St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, for the greater part of her life. The funeral was held from her late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon, and was quite largely attended by sorrowing neighbors and relatives. Rev. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's, was the officiating clergyman. The remains were borne to their last resting place by Messrs. F. W. Johnston and J. J. Nelson, of Toronto, Jas. A. Leighton, J. E. McMaster, Thos. Holmes and W. J. Armstrong. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore impressive testimony to the sympathy of the friends.

MRS. GEO. SPOTTON

A very sudden death occurred in Wingham on Friday evening, Oct. 22nd, when Mrs. Spotton, wife of Mr. George Spotton, Principal of the Orangeville Business College, was seized with an attack of heart failure and passed away before medical assistance could arrive. Deceased had not been in good health for some time, but was able to be about as usual during the afternoon. Complaining of feeling tired she went to her room, where her daughter found her shortly afterwards in an unconscious condition. Mr. Spotton, who is very well known in Orangeville, is the proprietor of the Spotton Business College in Wingham, The Canada Business College, Toronto, the Orangeville Business College and similar colleges in several other Ontario towns. The funeral was held on Monday following her death. The Orangeville Business College closed down for the day in token of the sympathy of the staff and students. Mr. Samuel Irwin, outside representative of the College, attended the funeral.

ALEXANDER JOHNSTON

Mr. Alexander Johnston, at one time a prominent business man in Orangeville, passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Sunday at the ripe age of 81 years. Deceased had always enjoyed excellent health until the beginning of September, when he was taken ill and was removed from his home at Miss Ingraham's on West Broadway to the hospital. His demise was caused by hardening of the arteries. The late Mr. Johnston was born in Scotland, but came to Canada when quite young. The family settled at Camden East in Eastern Ontario, where he spent his boyhood. He embarked in the general store business here some forty years ago in partnership with his brother, William. The firm did business under the name of A. & W. Johnston and was at one time one of the most widely known business houses in Orangeville. Deceased had been living retired for the last fifteen years. Three years ago he sustained a trying bereavement through the loss of his wife, who was a member of the well-known Clare family of Preston. Mr. Johnston was one of nature's noblemen. He was courteous in manner, kindly of heart, and a man whose word was as good as his bond. He was an adherent of St. Andrew's church and a member of the Sons of Scotland. He is survived by one son, Mr. Clare Johnston, Manager of the Union Bank at Islington, and two brothers, Messrs. Thos. Johnston, of Napanee, and William Johnston, of Toronto. The funeral was held from Miss Ingraham's residence to Greenwood cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. W. M. Morris was the officiating minister and was assisted by Rev. T. H. Stewart. The pallbearers were the two brothers, two nephews, Will and Rice Johnston, and Messrs. Fred and Herman Clare, of Preston. There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes including wreaths from the Orangeville Bowling Club and Miss Ingraham and her boarders.

MRS. WM. J. NEIL

The sympathy of our citizens is extended to Mr. William J. Neil, Wellington St., in the bereavement he has sustained through the loss of his wife, who passed away on Friday, October 29th, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Neil, whose maiden name was Jane Rountree, was born in England, but came to Ontario when a child. In her early life she was an active member of the Primitive Methodist Church, with which she was connected until the union with the Wesleyan Methodist Church. She lived at Woodbridge for twelve years and contributed generously toward the construction of the Methodist Church in that place. In 1889 she and her husband removed to Wingham, where she was a loyal supporter of the church and had the honour of again helping to defray the cost of building a new church edifice. Deceased came to Orangeville in 1912 and shortly afterwards had the misfortune to lose her former good health, being thereby precluded from taking the active interest that she had formerly manifested in church and outside activities. The late Mrs. Neil was of a retiring disposition, but was beloved by all who knew her intimately. The funeral was held from her late residence to the C. P. R. station Monday morning, interment taking place in Hillcrest Cemetery. Woodbridge. Later in the day, Rev. H. L. Partridge conducted the service at the house. The pallbearers were Messrs. Thos. Hopkins, J. Gartley, J. Kray, R. Allen, W. Bradley and [illegible] Fairbairn.

D. O. E. MEETING

Lord Dufferin Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Smith, 1st Ave., on Friday, November 12th, at 3.30 p.m. During the meeting, the Regent, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, will give a report of the proceedings at the Provincial Quarterly Meeting of the Grand Chapter held in Ottawa last week.

BANQUET FOR DUFFERINS

Citizens of Orangeville Do Fitting Honour to Champion Lacrosse Team.

Success might be written in large capitals all over the Banquet and Dance given by the ladies of Orangeville in the Public Library Building on Friday night in honor of the champion Dufferin Lacrosse Club. About seventy members sat down to the banquet, the guests consisting of the members of the champion team, the officers of the Club, oldtime Dufferin players and a few of the active supporters of the team. The Dance which followed was attended by between two and three hundred people, many of whom were from neighboring towns and other outside points. Both functions were of a thoroughly enjoyable character and taken together made an impressive tribute to the players whose prowess on the lacrosse field has done so much to bring honour and distinction to the town they represent.

In making the arrangements for the Banquet the ladies showed ingenuity and a measure of originality deserving of the highest praise. Particularly was this the case in the matter of decorations which showed a distinct advance and improvement on conventional efforts along this line. Green and white was of course the dominant color note in the banquetting hall and also in the ball room upstairs. Those familiar with the bare walls and somewhat dull appearance of the library auditorium were more than surprised at the remarkable transformation the ladies had effected in the appearance of the room. The whole room was lavishly decorated, the general effect being further added to by an admirable lighting arrangement. The speakers' table was arranged to represent a miniature lacrosse field with nets at each end. In one of these stood a figure armed with a tiny lacrosse stick representing Bert Booth, the clever goal keeper of the victorious Dufferins. At the other end of the table a red-jerseyed figure, prostrate in the "flags" with lacrosse stick lying on the ground at his side and a ball safely netted in the citadel he had vainly sought to defend, represented the defeated St. Simons team. Seated on the stage at the end of the hall were four little maidens dressed in white with green butterfly bows of ribbon in their hair. Each bore a basket filled with flowers. Before the banquet commenced the players were called forward, congratulated by the Little Misses, daughters of officers of the Club, and then severally presented with choice bouquets from the flower baskets. The four girlies were Frances Hopkins, Mary Clark, Nora Campbell and Betty Sproule. The waitresses, who were dressed in white and were green aprons and caps, were Misses Gladys Ewing, Dorothy Wright, Birdie Leighton, Dorothy Fisher, Jennie Young, Alberta Kearns, Bessie Lewis, Edith Robinson, Marguerite and Waneita Hannington.

Needless to say ample justice was done to the splendid menu provided by the ladies and served in such a dainty and appetizing manner. When the wants of the inner man had been fully satisfied the covers were removed and a pleasant hour was spent in speech and song, Dr. G. H. Campbell, President of the Club, officiating as toastmaster, and Mr. James Armstrong the genial manager of the champions, and Mr. Blythe Brown, captain of the team, occupying the places of honor to the right and left of the chairman. A pleasing novelty at the commencement was the introduction of a number of small boys uniformed in green and white, each representing one of the players on the team and each having a verse of poetry to recite to the gathering. The lads thus signally honored were:—Geo. Campbell (Bert Brown), Arthur Wheelock (Blythe Brown), Harold Henry (Densmore), Morley McLean (Ewing), Bert McLean (Earl Stevenson), Crozier Price (Stevens), Arthur Henry (Zinn), Jimmy Marshall (Henderson), Gordon Gartley (Golden), Elmer McKim (Gordon), Clayton Connell (Black), Douglas Adamson (Cushing), Ralph Rhomer (Booth), and Gordon Lewis (Scott).

The opening toast to the King was heartily honored by the singing of a verse of the National Anthem, the entire company standing meantime. Mayor Parkinson and Reeve Jeffers did the honors in response to "The Town and County" and Dr. R. W. Rooney, C. R. McKeown and W. C. Hopkins championed "The Lacrosse Club" in entertaining manner, their addresses and particularly that of Mr. McKeown being well interlarded with interesting reminiscenses of oldtime lacrosse in Orangeville. The toast to "The Team," which was honored with great enthusiasm, brought brief and modest replies from Captain Blythe Brown, Bert Booth and Raspin Scott. "The Rooters," whose part in the game was humorously expressed by the quotation, "Thine old groans ring yet in my ancient ears," were represented by F. M. Rutter, Superintendent of the Owen Sound Division of the C. P. R., J. D. Torrie, J. Foley and J. W. Aiken. The closing toast to "The Ladies" brought fitting replies from Mr. J. M. Gardhouse, of Weston, Jas. Armstrong, Bert Brown, E. H. Sproule, Geo. Morrison and B. McGuire.

The piece de resistance of the menu was a large-sized cake with green and white icing, suggestively termed the groom's cake. It fell to the lot of "Jimmie" Armstrong, Manager of the Champs., to cut the cake and "Jimmie" blushed as rosily as any June bride while performing the unaccustomed task.

It was about ten o'clock when the banquetters brought their happy gathering to a close by singing the National Anthem and Auld Lang Syne. It was then a case of "On with the Dance" until the wee hours of the morning, when the gathering dispersed each and all carrying home the happiest memories of the night and all delighted with the signal success that had attended the effort to do fitting honor to the 1920 champions of Eastern Canada. Glionna's five piece orchestra from Toronto provided delightful music for the dance. The following are some of the letters and telegrams of regret received by the ladies from outsiders who had been invited:—

Meaford, Oct. 26th, 1920.

We cannot tell you just what a pleasure it has been to us to be so kindly remembered by the Ladies of Orangeville as evidenced by the invitation which came to us last week for the Assembly to be held in the Carnegie Library on the evening of October 29th in honour of the victorious Dufferin Lacrosse Club. We regret exceedingly not being able to accept, but we feel we want you to know we will be very much with you in thought. We are thinking of you in your preparations for the banquet and assembly, remembering having been privileged in the long ago to take our share in showing our splendid Dufferins just how proud we were of them. We have not grown away from Orangeville and occasions of this kind prove to us just how much the old home town still means to us. We have followed The Dufferins this year with a wonderful interest and real enthusiasm and as each game was played found ourselves quite excited until we learned the result, and as each victory came we sent up our little cheer, perhaps not very loud but very real. So the kind invitation coming to us by means of which we are still counted as loyal admirers of The Dufferins was indeed appreciated by us. Please accept our most sincere thanks for the kind thought. With heartiest congratulations for "The Boys," very best wishes for a happy and pleasant evening and again regretting not being able to be with you, we remain,

Gratefully yours.
Mr. and Mrs. T.T. Paul.

Toronto, Oct. 28th, 1920.

Received your invitation and am very sorry will not be able to attend. Hoping you shall have every success with your Assembly,

Tom Humphrey.

Newmarket, Oct. 29th, 1920.

Impossible for me to be in Orangeville to-night. Convey my congratulations to the Dufferin Lacrosse Club on winning two championships.

Ernie A. Doyle.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 28, 1920.

I thank you for the thoughtful compliment of invitation to banquet to Dufferins on Friday, only regret distance makes acceptance impossible. Please assure those who remembered the days around '97 and 1900 that Dufferins' success is as dear to me as ever.

J. N. Fish.

Owen Sound, Oct. 25, 1920.

Pardon an informal reply to your kind invitation for Friday evening. I am very sorry that it will be impossible for me to be present to do honour to the "up-to-date" Dufferins. "God bless 'em." "Encore." As an old Dufferin (one of the has beens) I hope the occasion will be worthy of the boys and their great record. The list of ladies who have the matter in charge, coupled with your own as convenor, guarantees the success of everything and if the wishes of an oldtimer count for anything Orangeville will have the best time in its history. Am exceedingly sorry that the date "bars my dower" in this event. Again wishing you the best of luck.

Yours Sincerely,
J. C. Telford.

P. S.—Enclose $5.00 toward gaiety.

St. Johns, N. B., Oct. 26, 1920

Convey heartiest congratulations to victorious Dufferins. Have watched their splendid record with keenest interest and pride. We join you in honoring boys who have won a clean and splendid triumph. With you in spirit to-night. Never prouder of being a has been Dufferin. Tempus fugit. History repeats Dufferins forever.

F. S. and Mrs. Dowling.

Fergus, Ont., Oct. 27th, 1920.

I wish to thank you very much for your kind invitation to attend the banquet in honor of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club on Friday next. I regret that I will not be able to attend. I watch, however, with a great deal of interest the splendid record made by the Lacrosse Club and certainly wish them every success.

M. J. Beatty,
Beatty Bros., Ltd.

Ottawa, Oct. 25th, 1920.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your invitation to the banquet to be given to the Orangeville Lacrosse Team on Friday next. We might say that we have watched with interest the success of your team during the past season and were delighted when you won not only the Intermediate Championship, but also the Senior Championship of Eastern Canada, and are quite sure, if you have an opportunity, you could add to your laurels by winning the Pacific Coast and World's Championships. We can assure you that we would be delighted if it were at all possible for us to be present, but might say that we will be absent from home for two weeks and are sorry that we will be unable to attend.

Hugh and George Carson.

Toronto, Oct. 26th, 1920.

I regret very much that it will be impossible for me to attend the Assembly, which you and the ladies are giving to The Dufferin Lacrosse Club and to which you were kind enough to invite me. I trust that your efforts will be crowned with success as were the efforts of The Dufferins during the season. Thanking you for your kind invitation, I remain,

Very truly yours,
Jas. Labbett,
Treas. O. A., L. A.

The verses recited by the boys chosen to represent the players were:

BOOTH

I take my stand between the flags,
And watch their funny shooting,
But seldom can they reach the nets
To start their crowd a-rooting.
For with a stick that's two yards wide
My chest protector helping,
I disappointed Weston's crowd,
And sent them home a-yelping.

DENSMORE

You may call me "Dubby" Densmore,
You may wonder why I don't score,
But the duty you assign me,
I'll not shirk;
For McGregor's shots keep failing,
While upon his trail I'm trailing.
I'm the man before the flags
That does the work.

OSCAR BLACK

With my knee done in a plaster,
It was sure a great disaster
That I couldn't take an active part
Before the year was done.
But unless your Oscar's crazy,
And I'm sure he isn't lazy,
I'll be with you in the winning
IN 1921.

HENDERSON

In the Junior Ranks you found me,
And you threw your charms around me,
And you asked me if I thought
I'd like to help the team along.
Then you found in me a stayer,
Whether substitute or player,
And before the year was ended,
I WAS GOING MIGHTY STRONG.

EWING

They call me "Buck,"
That name has stuck
Because I seldom canter,
But work at both ends of the field
And likewise in the centre.
I'm on defence, when we are pressed
And when we're not, I'm fielding;
And when I get a chance to shoot
You see the goal nets yielding.

GOLDEN

My native town is Orangeville,
Of that I can't be prouder,
It's my delight, in Green and White
To make the shouting louder.
And Mimico won't soon forget
That I'll the goods deliver,
And take a pass at lightning speed,
And score without a quiver.

GORDON

They kept me in a German jail,
And fed me on cold water,
And down at Mimico, they tried
To carry on the slaughter;
But who can blame them after all,
For when a goal's required,
I take the ball and run and dodge,
And score just when desired.

BLYTHE BROWN

I'm Captain of the greatest team
That ever wore a sweater,
And you may ask St. Simon's
If there ever was a better.
And when I started in to score,
Unless some one would drop me,
There weren't any seven men
Who knew just how to stop me.

SCOTT

I'm Raspin Scott from Melville Cross,
I love the fields of clover;
But when I get a stick in hand
I'd rather be a rover
And help the Green and White to win,
On many fields of glory;
Let Bracebridge, Woodbridge, Weston and St. Simon's tell the story.

STEVENS

You captured me at Mimico,
And had to fight to do it,
And since that time I've done my bit,
That you should never rue it.
And though they tried to slaughter me,
And put me out of action,
I always took my place again
THE "CENTRAL" ATTRACTION.

CUSHING

There's no need to ask who I am
Not from Borneo nor Siam,
But from Fergus with my running mates
I came to play the game,
With the Best Club in creation
Of every tribe and nation.
Joseph Cushing as a player
I have gained Provincial fame.

STEVENSON

The whistle blows, the game is on
And I have drawn the rubber,
And sent it flying down the field
To Bert Brown or his brother;
And then when Ewing, Gordon, Zinn
Commence to make a killing,
They found me there to take the pass
For I was more than willing.

ZINN

For the honour of the County
Shelburne sent you Dr. Zinn,
And we knew with his assistance,
That you couldn't help but win;
For though "Painless in extraction,"
He's not "Painless in attack,"
And to score when scoring's needed,
Is his one peculiar knack.

BERT BROWN

Just to end the scoring section,
They have placed me near the goal,
Since in adding up the counters
I haven't any soul.
And I shoot with such precision,
That the goalies, one and all,
Say that if they had their choice
They'd rather stop a cannon ball.

HOW IT IS DONE

The Dufferins take the field looking so refreshed that every one knows they have their own private "Booth" with them, and in case of failure then they have the best of "Firth" to rely upon. Judging by the "Black" looks of the opposing team, we know that their home already realizes it will be no downy "Cushing" they will lay their heads against this afternoon. In fact after a gruelling match, many have yeen heard to remark that they would enjoy an afternoon in the lion's "Dens More." Having drawn a strong impregnable "C(G)ordon" about the goal they place on defence a counterfeit, at least he might well be called a counterfeit, as he certainly is a "Dill" that cannot be passed. The centre of attraction is a youth of noble bearing and a long course of strenuous instruction, who has taught the opposing players to stand back and make way for the "Earl." Should they forget their manners for a moment however and get in the road he "Blythely" passes the "Buck." Zip, zip, a dazzling pass or two, a lightning "up-bert," and seizing a "Golden" opportunity, a magnificent shot, and then, great "Scott!" it's "Zinn!"

With apologies to the public in general and the team in particular.

READY FOR THE DUFFERINS

Th Victoria Lacrosse Club, champions of the Pacific Coast League and holders of the Mann Cup, which they won from Vancouver a short time ago, are willing to defend the latter trophy against the Dufferins any time the Ontario champions are inclined to make the trip West. While the Western club states that it is willing to meet the Orangeville team this fall, the Executive points out that this is the rainy season on the Coast and on this account it would be difficult to secure favorable weather or an adequate attendance of spectators for the games. In view of these unfavorable factors the Management of the Western champions suggests the advisability of deferring the trip and games until next spring. The matter was discussed at some length during the lacrosse banquet in the Public Library on Friday night. Players and officers were nearly unanimous in the opinion that it would be better not to make the trip until next spring. As a result it is now almost a certainty that The Dufferins will not go West before the spring of 1921.

A GUARANTEE

The publishers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, are doing the right thing with the public. Ninety per cent. of newspapers have already raised rates. The Family Herald publishers guarantee a full year's subscription at the old rate of $1.50 a year to all who remit before December 1st, 1920. We learn that many old subscribers are renewing for two years in advance and thousands of new subscribers are being added. It is a great paper and the best value on the Continent.

Wonderful improvements have lately been made in the Family Herald. Members of the Imperial Press Conference, who lately visited Canada, say it has no equal in the British Empire. Canadians should appreciate such a paper at the price. After December 1st they may have to pay more.

CALEDON.

Quite a number of our local sports left on Monday for their annual deer hunt in the wilds of Northern Ontario. The party included Dr. Wm. Stubbs, V. S., Dr. W. T. R. Stubbs, V. S., Dr. Thomas, R. J. Potter, John and Jas. Warnock, W. B. Dodds, C. R. Rutledge and Jas. McDevitt. We wish them a pleasant outing and hope they may all return safely, bringing their deer with them.

A very enjoyable social took place in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. Games, music and contests furnished an excellent programe, but owing to the inclement weather, the crowd was not as large as was expected.

Mrs. Margaret McHugh is rather seriously ill at present. Dr. Price, of Alton, is in attendance and her neice, Miss Hillyard, of Cataract, is the nurse.

GLENCROSS

A successful Hallowe'en Party and Box Social was held in the Orange Hall on Monday night, November 1st, under the auspices of Miss Peavoy, teacher in the Glencross school, and her pupils. A number of excellent drills, recitations and readings were contributed by the scholars. Mr. Wilson McConnel, of Orangeville, gave recitations that were heartily appreciated. Rev. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla, occupied the chair. The evening was a splendid success in every way and a large measure of the credit for its success is due to Miss Peavoy, whose energy and interest were largely responsible for the excellent programme provided.

THE DRIFT FROM THE LAND

For the first time in the history of the United States the returns of the recent census show the urban population to exceed the rural. Residents in cities and towns number approximately 54,796,100, as compared with the total rural population of 50,970,000, this, too, notwithstanding the fact that during the decade from 1910 to 1920 free delivery routes and telephone exchanges have been multipled, and the automobile has largely taken the place of the horse and buggy on country roads. These changes were welcomed because it was believed that the encouragement given to community life would banish loneliness by bringing the farmer folk into closer and more intimate touch with the centres of industry and population and extending the comforts and luxuries of the cities to remote homesteads. Yet the drift to the cities has not been stayed. In 1910 the rural population exceeded the urban by 4,000,000—in 1920 it is 7,000,000 behind.

Doubtless the altered conditions created by the world war that began in August, 1914, and still remain, played a conspicuous part in the movement of country people cityward. The high wages and shorter hours of labor were natural and prime attractions to country workers, who could earn more in a week than they had been doing in a month or more. But that while it explains in a measure the drain from the land does not remedy the situation that, unless alleviated, must grow increasingly serious. When normal conditions are restored and the call of industry is less insistent, pressure of circumstances may send numbers back to the land, but something more must be done to make the rural districts more attractive. That is a problem which must be tackled wisely and effectively. There must be a better system of distribution, cheaper transportation and a general elevation of the rural amenities of life.

The Beeton World advanced its subscription price to $2 November 1st.

Mr. W. H. Wright has been selected by the City Council as Solicitor for the City of Owen Sound.

M. G. Beatty has sold his property on Victoria Street, Alliston, and the garage in the rear, to Norman Morrison, of Tecumseth.

Dr. Stanley Gilbert, who assisted Dr. Zinn, of Shelburne, in his dental practice during the past summer, has gone to Newmarket, where he has bought out a dental practice for himself.

A number of young ladies of the Methodist church, Meaford, have volunteered to take care of all babies while the parents attended revival meetings going on there, so says the Meaford Mirror.

Some weeks ago Postmaster Trimble, of Flesherton, was fined $5 and costs for fishing in the hydro pond on Sunday, the case having been brought by a deputy game warden named Durant. The charge was denied and an appeal in the Division Court entered. This was heard before Judge Sutherland at Dundalk and the appeal granted. Mr. Trimble was allowed $6 and $10 for costs, while the money put up in the former trial has all to be refunded.

The vehicle was loaded with pressed hay and the little chap was carried up on the wheel until he came in contact with the rack. Fortunately he was noticed by someone in time to save his life, but not until one of his limbs was so badly bruised that the services of a doctor had to be secured to dress the wound. HEROIC RESCUE FROM DROWNING

Owen Sound Man Dived Under Wharf to Save Six-Year-Old Boy Who Had Fallen Into River.

Had it not been for the presence of mind and bravery of Mr. Dugald McConachie, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sensabaugh, 1103 Third Avenue East, would probably be mourning to-day the death of their six-year-old son, Charles. The little chap with a number of companions was playing on the wharf at the foot of Eleventh St. East Friday afternoon when the Str. Caribou was coming in. As the mooring lines were being put out, the man handling one of them backed against little Charlie and knocked him through a hole, the wharf at that point being in none too good shape. The youngster fell into deep water; but Mr. McConachie, hearing the cry that a child was drowning, without a moment's hesitation threw off his coat and dived from the steamer under the wharf. It was a nasty place to go into, a tangle of posts and spikes, and the light was none too good, but he managed to reach the sinking boy and swim with him to the boat where ample aid was at hand.

After changing his clothes Mr. McConachie went to his home at 1379 Third Avenue East, stopping on the way to inquire after the welfare of the child, who also was none the worse of his experience, except for the shock and a few small scratches sustained in the fall.

It is likely that Mr. McConachie will be recommended for a Royal Humane Society medal, which most people will agree he richly deserves. —Owen Sound Advertiser.

A boy and a girl visited on a farm this summer, and were told they must write to their parents. The little girl wrote pages about the scenery, flowers, fruit, pet animals, etc. The boy grabbed a postcard and dashed off the following: "Grandma is a bully cook. I am having a good time eating. Dinner is ready now. Good bye."

The Preston police have in their custody an unknown man, evidently unbalanced, who, minus clothing, ran amuck on the streets of that town one night recently and attempted to gain entrance to several homes. His clothes were later found in a cabbage patch.

IF YOU HAVE Skin Trouble

DOES your skin get rough, rashy, and irritable? Are you troubled with outbreaks of pimples and blotches? If so, Zam-Buk will soothe your skin and clear away these annoying disfigurements. If afflicted with more obstinate troubles like dry or weeping eczema, ulceration, abscesses, ringworm or poisoned sores, Zam-Buk alone ensures speedy and thorough cure.

Zam-Buk's soothing, healing and germicidal powers are derived from a scientific blending and concentration of nature's herbal oils and extracts.

Zam-Buk has revolutionised the treatment of skin troubles. Where ordinary coarse ointments act merely on the surface, Zam-Buk's refined herbal juices penetrate to the underlying tissues, destroying disease at its very root.

For quick, clean healing of everyday cuts, burns, scalds and wounds, or for ridding skin or scalp of eruptions and sores Zam-Buk is invaluable.

WEEPING ECZEMA. Mrs. Carmichael, 72, 5th Avenue, Montreal, writes: "I suffered from wet eczema so long that, when hospital treatment failed, I began to think my case incurable. Zam-Buk, however, ended the discharge, and soothed my skin wonderfully. It drew out all inflammation and cleared every trace of disease."

BABY'S FACE BOILS. Mrs. C. B. Ritzey, Riverport, N.S., says: "My baby had sores on her face caused by teething. Although I tried numerous salves and ointments nothing would heal them. On a friend's recommendation I got some Zam-Buk. This soothed the child, healed every sore, and effected a wonderful cure."

THE IDEAL GIRL

The ideal average girl is strong in body, is intelligent, believes in God and strives to obey His laws. She is not afraid to work and she has courage to meet hardships and loneliness if they come. She is interested in pretty clothes, she wants them for herself, she has what she can honestly afford and she spends time and takes pains to get the best she can for the money she has. She refuses to be extreme in style or to make herself ridiculous or conspicuous. She likes fun, she enjoys amusements and good times. She will not indulge in things which her parents heartily disapprove or which unfit her for work or study, and which her own conscience tells her are doubtful. She loves her friends and companions and has as many as she can. She chooses carefully her friends among the boys and men and lets neither word nor act lower in the least degree their respect for her. She looks forward to the day when she shall have a home of her own and fits herself to care for it with intelligence and skill. She is honest, and faithful to the present tasks. She is kindly, generous, helpful, cheerful, just the sort of girl one would like to live with every day.

Word Picture of Muskoka Hospital

Set on an elevation—the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, consisting of an infirmary for bed patients, with verandahs overlooking the lake, and many long, low, open-air pavilions, surrounding wide, green lawns. Here, in hospital suits, are the patients, all wonderfully happy. White-clad nurses and doctors pass to and fro. Peace and contentment reign. Convalescents bask on sunny lawns, or lie in shaded hammocks. Broken down through overwork, worry, under-nourishment they have nothing to do but get well.

"It is God's own spot," declared one young man recently. Proper care, rest, pure air and good food had saved his life, the Samaritan Club providing for a bed-ridden father during the son's absence. "God's own spot" where it helping hand was sent out to those losing their grip on life!

CANADA FIFTY YEARS HENCE

A Former President of The Canadian Club of New York Looks Forward Half a Century to a Day When the Dominion Shall Have Not Only a Vastly Greater Population and General Development Than Now, But Also a Modified Climate.

Readers of The Banner will take more than a passing interest in the following article, which is from the pen of a former Orangevillian, Mr. John Emery McLean, now a citizen of New York and a Past President of the Canadian Club in that city. The article appeared in a recent issue of The Maple Leaf, a monthly magazine published by the New York Canadian Club:—

Among the results of the World War is the evolution of Canada from the colonial into the continental stage of national importance. She is already in the same class with her big neighbor, Uncle Sam, in more than the geographic sense; for many of her citizens' misconceptions concerning life in this Republic and American characteristics in general have been dissipated through the interchange of ideas that the Canadian Clubs and kindred organizations of both countries have done so much to promote.

In Canada the term "Yankee" is no longer applied indiscriminately to people in Maine, Texas and California, and when it is properly restricted to the typical New Englander it is by no means a term of opprobrium. In other words, the real Americans are recognized as cousins of the Canadians, by whom they are made as welcome in business and social relationships as blood relatives can ever expect to be; for familiarity has revealed the essential identity of our two peoples in everything that makes for progress, peace and fraternity.

In view of the dark shadow that has fallen upon Europe, The Maple Leaf is to be commended for sounding the keynote of faith that there is ground for optimism on at least one continent of our globe and among at least one branch of our race—a branch that is becoming more closely unified with each passing year.

In British North America, the foundations are being laid for what will prove to be, in all probability, the last of the world's great nations. It is the only remaining large section of the land area of the globe, inhabitable by white men, in which the prodigality of Nature awaits the industry of man. The Canadian Confederation embraces a territory as vast as the United States, which, with its hundred-odd millions of inhabitants, is populated to less than one-sixth of its capacity for the maintenance of human life.

Great Development Coming.

The comparatively few millions that make up the present population of Canada may be regarded as pioneers who have as yet barely scratched the surface of their country's resources. They comprise a nucleus of such a character, however, that a contemplation of their qualities and achievements opens to the mind a vista of coming greatness without historic parallel. They are a unique people, with a unique opportunity, upon whose future History can throw but little light. Yet it must be plain to every student of current events that, during the three hundred years that have elapsed since Champlain accomplished the first permanent colonization of Canada, the development of that country has been as nothing compared to what the next half century will reveal.

The glory and the credit will be shared mutually and equally by all of the different provinces, and I point to my own native Ontario as typical and illustrative of the progress of the whole Dominion. Like New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, it is peopled by a race in whose veins there flows an admixture of English, Scotch and Irish blood that stamps the distinctively Canadian type as the most vigorous representative, mentally and physically, of the Anglo-Saxon and the Celt. Born of an ancestry that has been for centuries in the van of civilization; nurtured in an atmosphere without restraint upon the activities of political and religious thought; reared in a rigorous but healthy climate, and educated in a realm in which intellectual liberty and equal rights determine the boundaries of freedom—what would we expect in the line of economic and industrial achievement from such a people? The race is made up of strong men, beautiful women and intelligent children, who enjoy a glorious heritage and whose character and intellect really shed the lustre on account of which Canada is regarded universally as the brightest jewel in the diadem of the British Empire.

Outside of her lack of population, Canada is minus not a single one of the elements of national greatness; and her present achievements transcend those of any people of equal numbers in the world's history. Their character has been forged in a crucible not to be found in southern latitudes—their enforced contention with certain natural elements has made strenuousness a characteristic of Canadian life; but, to the true Anglo-Saxon temperament, as developed in that northern soil, difficulties are only a welcome challenge to successful endeavour.

Difficult Problems Ahead.

But it is my own opinion that we shall see a modified climate in that country in the next 20 or 30 years, due in large part to the development of agriculture along scientific lines, to the inevitably rapid increase of population, and to the opening up of vast virgin areas through the construction of perhaps a fourth transcontinental railroad. A much smaller proportion of Canada's young men, too, will be induced to emigrate from their native land in order to avail themselves of the undoubted opportunities offered by this great Republic to men of brains, energy and integrity; and it is probable that the natural fecundity of the Canadian race will in itself tend to solve the problem of alien immigration, some perplexing aspects of which have already presented themselves to Canadian statesmen for solution. It is evident, therefore, that Canada today is an ideal arena for the play of the forces of evolution, and that it affords an environment congenial to the development of the arts and sciences and the practice of the learned professions; for it is through the proper adjustment and co-ordination of such activities that the Dominion will yet work out her brilliant destiny.

It is not to be assumed, however, that the future greatness of that new country is to be achieved without the necessity of mastering certain social problems, which already are taxing the resources of the finest intellects in the United States. We in New York come daily face to face with the problem of ignorant and illiterate immigration, now amounting to about 3,000 per day. We have to encourage sociological and moral difficulties with which Canadians may never have to deal, and this exemption is among the least of their blessings. Canada has racial, climatic and geographical advantages that make the onward march of its civilization toward the loftiest goal of human welfare irresistible and inevitable. Moreover, Canada is a democratic republic in everything but name. Without being a slave to tradition, she can avail herself of the best results achieved by the peoples of all other countries; and in this sense at least the Dominion of the future may be regarded as an electric nation. But no matter how strenuously I strive with my mental vision to pierce the veil that hides from our view the coming years, I am utterly unable to see any other flag waving in supreme authority there than the Union Jack of Great Britain.

Mental Forces Powerful

Yet along the line of original and constructive statesmanship, Canada has surpassed other nations in more than one particular. Her Board of Conciliation and Investigation for the adjustment of labor disputes is a model device, which is already attracting the admiring attention of the world's governments. The facilities of industrial and inventive genius that have resulted from centuries of experiment elsewhere are appropriated by those long-headed Canadians and applied with an increased degree of skill and economy to the needs of that progressive people. It follows, therefore, that the mineral deposits of Canada, its vast timber tracts, its precious stones, its fisheries and the fertility of its soil are natural bounties that will be developed and utilized in the coming years to an extent not possible to a less brainy people. The "food reservoir of the United States" is to be Canada's ultimate status.

But this materialistic side of the picture of Canada's future greatness is not the only side of humanitarian mind. The utilisation of cosmic forces is, in my judgment, a matter of secondary importance to the development and application of the mental forces that have been the real cause of Canada's ascendancy. The names of many Canadian writers are as well known to American readers as are some of the most famous authors of the United States. Canadian orators, poets, essayists, novelists and men and women of the stage have won international fame, and much of the very best of the world's present-day French literature was written and published by our valiant brothers of the Latin lineage who have made Quebec their home.

Some of the most prominent workers in the cause of universal peace and brotherhood were born and are still employed in that thinly-populated domain. The national spirit in Canada is becoming daily more and more intensified by reason of the unifying cohesion that results from her inter-provincial railways and telegraphs. Work for the common good is superseding the struggle for individual success, and the national co-operation thus aimed at in the fields of industry and public utilities cannot fail to result in the establishing of an ideal national structure. The colleges, universities and technical schools of Canada are attracting from all parts of the world students who realize the superior advantages of a systematic collegiate education that is coupled with that Anglo-Saxon thoroughness of tuition without which no scholastic efficiency is complete.

Brains as Well as Brawn

On account of these recent strides in the intellectual, industrial and economic progress of Canada, the tide of emigration has begun to turn. Although more than a million of us Canadians have already come down to this great Republic, in search of the wider opportunities for personal success afforded by a vast population, yet the bright young men of Canada to-day are finding at home all the opportunities they seek in the race for success. The increasing stream of those migrating to the Dominion from the States will supplement the efforts of the native Canadians until that new country, in 1970, shall be in some respects the greatest of nations.

Canada is so vast and so diversified in its products that it is said by travellers that you can get anything there that you can get in any other part of the world. There is no need for the student, the scientist, or the inventor to go elsewhere in search of material or opportunities for the exercise of his talents, and this is also true of the worker in the field of sociology. Those who seek the uplifting of mankind chiefly through the moral and spiritual impulses of the individual should find much encouragement in the evidence of these forces as part of the equipment of the Canadian people. The religions of that country are shaping themselves more and more along the line of deeds. If "faith without works is dead," the works of human betterment in Canada assuredly manifest a profound degree of faith—faith not only in an over-ruling Providence but in the ultimate and glorious destiny of a people and a country whose natural endowments are without historical precedent.

The mainspring of all human progress along any line can be reduced to a single factor—brains. Nature seems never to have created a need that was not accompanied by a supply. For the solution of certain social and industrial problems, for which Canada is already forced to search, a high order of intellect is demanded. She is already, on her Pacific Coast, face to face with the problem of handling non-assimilable races. This is a question that every new country has had to face, and it is one that has never been satisfactorily solved. Even in the United States, the historic problem of the negro is growing daily more complex and portentous. But I am optimistic enough to believe that the matter of alien races in Canada can well be left to the resources of Canadian statesmanship.

Population the Great Need

Canadians have a nationality of their own. In proof of this, I point to the marvelous growth in the number of Canadian clubs that are to be found in almost every country inhabited by white men. They are an element of growing importance in the social and intellectual life of nearly every American city, and the Canadian Club of New York, as befits the metropolis, has already become the brightest and strongest link in the chain of such organizations in the United States. Virtually every city in Canada also has its Canadian club. This most interesting institution, therefore, is a plain revelation to any observer that the feeling of definite Canadian nationality is an instinct as well as a factor of world politics.

The Dominion has as large a degree of self-government as the United States, and its elections give evidence of an equally accurate expression of the popular will; and I believe the principles on which these activities are conducted are of a kind that no mere increase of population will adversely affect. When Canadians living in this Republic are asked why they left so magnificent a country, so filled with the blessings of liberty and civilization, the invariable reply is that it is in the United States that they find population. That is Canada's only lack, but it is a need that is being rapidly supplied, and I think the time is fast approaching when we Canadian-Americans will feel rather lonesome.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Suddenly Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEE GARCEAU

22 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1918, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

It tells—but only partly tells—the Story of Misery in Central Europe.

Within the great territory between the black lines millions of destitute children are doomed to grow up weak and deformed through want of fats, milk and sugar, unless immediate help comes from without

"Our problem over the forthcoming winter appears to be about 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 children.

"These children are the obligation of every man, woman and child in the Western Hemisphere, for we have suffered less; but, beyond this, they are a charge on the heart of the whole world."

CITIZENS' BAND CONCERT

An audience of probably three hundred attended the Citizens' Band concert in the Opera House on Tuesday night. The programme was a real musical treat and as such was thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the good fortune to hear it. Mrs. Shirley Rodgers-Bates, the soprano, and her husband, Walter Bates, tenor, are both artists of a high order and their singing displayed natural ability, thorough training and true musical temperament. Their numbers were nearly all encored and the encore demands were generously acceded to in almost every instance. The same was true of Miss Laura Miller, the entertainer, whose happy selections always won the heartiest applause. Bandmaster Russell Morrow contributed a cornet solo, "The Rosary," and Mr. Morrow and Bandsmen Cruikshank, Greenis and Marshall gave a brass quartette in a very acceptable manner. Both numbers were encored. The full band played before, after and at intervals during the program. Altogether the concert takes rank as one of the best heard in Orangeville for some time.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Accounts passed by the Town Council at Monday night's meeting were:—

Wm. Marshall, $2.00; W. J. Curry, $7.80; Ed. Delaney, street watering, $18.20; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $34.17; Fred Manning, $4; Samuel Street, $11.20; George King, $18.00; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $14.30.

The local Hydro Commission's account of $319.50 for street lighting was referred to the Street Lighting Committee with power to adjust and pay.

An application from the Daughters of the Empire for cancellation of the improvement tax of $11.02 on the hospital property was referred to the Court of Revision.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Secretary of the Dufferin Agricultural Society stating that as the Society had not made application for the usual grant of $100 before the levy was made for the year the Council does not deem itself in a position to make the grant this year.

On motion of Fairbairn and Dalgleish, the Clerk was instructed to notify the Cataract Electric Co. to have its lines in Orangeville put in proper and safe condition as at present they are dangerous to the public.

The Reeve and Councillors Fairbairn, McPherson and Wilkins were appointed a Committee to look after the revision of the Voters' List.

There were nine applications for the vacant position of Night-watchman. The applicants were O. Carpenter, Alex. Conley, Sam. Ewing, John E. McKibben, Ben Price, Jas. A. Patterson, David Riley, jr., D. Sawyers and Rich Sanderson. The position was given to S. Ewing, a brother of Chief Jas. Ewing, at a salary of $52.00 a month.

THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

Episode 13

The thirteenth episode of the Vitagraph serial, "Hidden Dangers," will be presented on Monday and Tuesday evenings next. The title of this episode, "A Woman's Grit," is aptly illustrative of the action in this chapter. For most of the big, daring thrill scenes have been entrusted to Jean Paige, the co-star of the play with Joe Ryan. While it is the first vehicle that either has had as a star, Mr. Ryan has generously thrown much of the big stunts to Miss Paige throughout, and especially in this chapter. Instead of slowing up, now that it is nearing its conclusion, this latest serial has been adding more speed and sensation to its action every week. The thirteenth episode is unusually full of thrills. One of the main ones is a sensational draw-bridge scene. Here Miss Paige has one of her greatest moments and she has handled it with sublime courage and ability. The scene is one where Miss Paige, fleeing from a gang of outlaws who have held her for ransom, boards a train, and when the latter is forced to stop on a bridge to allow the draw to open, she jumps off the engine and rushes for the bridge section being lifted into the air. She leaps and catches it and is carried high in the air and away from the clutches of the pursuing bandits.

LAXTON—HALL

On Saturday, October 30th, 1920, a quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Anne's Church, Toronto, when Miss Hazel Hall, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, of Alton, became the bride of Mr. John Laxton, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Laxton, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lawrence Skey, rector of the church. The young couple will reside in Toronto.

LOGAN—ROBINSON

Royce Ave. Presbyterian Church, West Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Margaret E. Robinson, eldest daughter of Mr. James Robinson and the late Mrs. Robinson, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Logan, eldest son of Mrs. J. Logan and the late John Logan, of London, Ont. Rev. G. M. Dunn officiated and the wedding music was played by Mr. Acheson. During the signing of the register Miss Beth Stringer sang "Because" in her usual pleasing manner. The bride wore a becoming suit of brown and hat to match. After the marriage a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie, Symington Ave. During the evening several telegrams were received from friends in Vancouver and other parts wishing the bride and groom every happiness in their future home. Later on Mr. and Mrs. Logan left for their new home in London, Ontario. (Vancouver and London papers please copy.)

BOTH LEGS BROKEN

Serious Hallowe'en Accident in Orangeville—Victim in Hospital —Pranksters in a Nasty Predicament.

A bunch of local Hallowe'en pranksters are in a decidedly unpleasant predicament as a result of a most unfortunate occurence shortly after midnight on Monday night. The apartments on the second floor of the 2nd St. frontage of the Henderson Block on the corner of Broadway and 2nd St. are served by an out doors closet elevated a distance of probably fifteen feet from the ground and reached from the rear of the apartments by means of an elevated walk protected by side railings. The structure is supported by strong wooden posts. The boys set out to demolish the building by chopping off the posts with an axe. While they were busy at the job Richard Allen, one of the inmates of the apartments, stepped out of the back door to the walk and called to them to desist. The gang paid no attention to his remonstrances and finally the posts gave way allowing the walk to drop to the ground and bringing Allen down with the wreck. The unfortunate man fell on a lot of debris that had been allowed to accumulate in the open space beneath and had both his legs fractured besides sustaining severe bruises and shock. As soon as the platform fell the crowd ran and left the unfortunate victim of their thoughtless and foolish act lying among the timbers of the demolished structure. They must have seen him fall, although it is not likely that they knew he had been seriously injured. After lying on the ground for some time Allen managed to crawl along an alley to the street, where he was discovered by Nightwatchman Ewing and Special Constable Thos. Peavoy. He was rushed to Lord Dufferin Hospital, where he was made as comfortable as possible. Here his injuries were attended by Drs. Macleod and Henry.

The injured man, who is about 75 years of age, is a retired Mono farmer and a widower. He was prominent in Mono politics for many years and was Reeve of that municipality for several terms. His condition is very serious. Both legs are broken in two places and the bones are also badly shattered. The authorities are taking steps to bring the offenders to task and they will probably be given a stern lesson. We understand that the matter is in the hands of County Crown Attorney Island, who will take the necessary legal steps just as soon as he has the report of the officers, who have been detailed to get the facts. We understand that the officers are already in possession of the names of most of the young men implicated in the unfortunate affair.

And will pay $300.00 in Cash Prizes for the best answers to these Questions---This offer is open to every woman in Canada and the Competition Closes Nov. 15th, 1920

The Human Clock usually Breaks Down Instead of Runs Down

IT has long been a favorite idea of mine to compare the human body with my old clock here."

"Without proper attention the old clock gets run down and stops until I wind it up again and then it ticks away just as heartily and regularly as ever."

"And so it is with the human body, but the great difference I find is that the human clock usually breaks down instead of runs down because people neglect to take proper care of their health."

"Through all these years I have managed to keep well and to keep going by using restorative treatment whenever there are indications of the system becoming run down."

"Fortunately I learned the value some years ago of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to its use I largely attribute my healthful condition at this age."

"When I hear people talking about being unable to sleep, or of suffering from nervous headaches, indigestion or worn-out feelings, I ask them 'Why don't you not use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase your nervous energy?'"

"So many people, as age advances, suffer from a lowering of the vitality, from high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries, but I have found that the use of this restorative treatment, when required, keeps my health at the high water mark."

$25 for third best letter.
$5 each for succeeding twenty-five best letters.

For your guidance we would suggest that you clip out this advertisement and start in at once to make an investigation among your friends and neighbors.

Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd.

DEPT. 89 TORONTO, ONT.

Before beginning the next series of advertisements to tell people about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, we want you to help us to decide on the style of our advertising.

The use of testimonials has always been favored in medical advertising, but with an effort to make our advertisements more interesting we have during the last few years used attractive illustrations and the conversational style of reading matter.

You will find samples of both styles of advertising on this page. What we want to know is which style appeals most strongly to women, because it is on the wife and mother mostly that rests the responsibility of looking after the health of the family.

If in addition to reporting that such a style of advertising is most interesting to you, you can say, "I have made inquiry among 25 of my friends and find that 16 have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the result of reading your illustrated advertisements, 7 on account of reading testimonials and the other two have never used it," your answer would be much strengthened.

By adding further particulars as to various cases which have come to your attention your letter would be made more interesting and more likely to win a good prize. Your name will not be used publicly without your permission.

Was Given Few Months to Live Is Now Strong and Well

Miss E. W. Ehman, School Teacher, Libau, Man., writes:—"Four years ago, while living in Regina, I was afflicted with fainting spells, nervous headache, and became very thin and pale. I sought medical advice and was treated for consumption, and given only a few months to live. I had to sleep on the verandah and was told not to go to public places for fear of spreading germs.

"A newspaper advertising Dr. Chase's Nerve Food fell into my hands. I bought six boxes and after a few weeks began to increase in weight and feel better. Under this treatment I gradually regained my health and now weigh 165 pounds. I enclose a picture I had taken while ill and my photo of to-day, so that you can see what a difference there is.

"The reasons for my writing this is the hope that this statement of mine will fall into the hands of some poor sufferer who can be benefitted, may be saved, by the steady, regular use of Dr. Chase's preparations.

"I often use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to keep my kidneys and liver in shape. I have recommended Dr. Chase's medicines to a great number of people for kidney trouble, lame back, appendicitis, shortness of breath, indigestion, nervousness, and in fact for every sickness I am asked advice about."

CAR STOLEN

Auto Thief Caught Many Miles From Scene of His Theft.

A rather remarkable evidence of the efficiency of our provincial constabulary occurred last week. A Ford car belonging to Mr. D. Muir, Ceylon, was stolen at Priceville on the evening of Wednesday last during the progress of the big concert held in the Presbyterian church there. When the owner came out of the concert his car was missing and there was nothing to show where it had gone.

The chief of police at Toronto was immediately communicated with and a description of the car given. Next morning a Priceville lady said she saw a man take the car and described his dress. The C. P. R. train staff said they had put a man answering the description off the train a few miles west of Priceville that afternoon. Cards were printed and sent broadcast giving an excellent description of the stolen car. Thursday afternoon, about twenty hours after the theft, a message came over the wire stating that car and thief had been captured at Millbrook, 15 miles north of Port Hope, and about 185 miles distant from Priceville. The tank was full of gasoline when it was stolen, which gave the thief a long run before he had to replenish the supply.

At Millbrook he tried to dispose of the car, also an overcoat. Arousing suspicions, the constable there arrested the young man, whose name is Harry Turner, and wired Toronto police department, which instructed him to hold Turner and a man would be after the car. Constable Cook and Clarence Muir went down to Millbrook. Turner was remanded to Cobourg jail, where he now is. Turner denied having stolen the car and said he had never been up here. He is unaware that a Priceville lady saw him take the car and can describe his clothes. He claimed to have bought the car in Toronto for $250. Turner's mother is a widow and goes out washing for a living. Her son had been away from home for a couple of years and she had not heard from him until he sailed home with the stolen car. Mr. Clarence Muir returned home with the car this week.—Flesherton Advance.

BE YOUNG WHEN YOU'RE OLD

Of course, Man-of-Forty or Forty-five, you are going to have some aches and pains; you are not able to stand, physically, what you did 20 years ago, but what can you expect?

You think it is a sign that you are going into decay, and you are rapidly failing because you cannot do a lot of useless things requiring much energy.

And if you have favored yourself and taken as little exercise as possible in the last 10 years, perhaps you would better sit up and take account of yourself and your future.

However, most men lose their grip just because they simply give up.

And having given up, they do the rest by thinking themselves into the discard.

Perhaps you are one of those misguided individuals who, having reached middle age, think it beneath your dignity and the position you are supposed to hold among the younger crowd, to laugh and enjoy yourself.

Your sedate front is only put on through lack of poise.

Get rid of such crashing, deadening thoughts.

Why shove yourself into the junk heap?

Be young as long as you can and thus make it happier and easier for your associates, as well as adding comfort and health to your allotted span.

It was the quick and effective work of the watchman that saved Graham & Carton's Garage, Weston, one night recently. Three men drove in the early hours of the morning and made an effort to force an entrance into the garage. They were, however, noticed by the night watchman, who approached and used his gun as the men started off in the car towards the city.

HAS GOVT. CHANGED ITS MIND

About Building Provincial Roads Through Villages?

In February last, when the Provincial Highways were being named, it was stated that the Province and Dominion would pay eighty per cent. on the construction of these highways and the municipalities through which they passed would be held responsible for only twenty per cent. It was also announced that this percentage basis would apply to villages such as Shelburne. Rightly or wrongly, the idea got abroad that the Government would take over these designated village roads just as it takes over the designated township roads.

But a change comes o'er the spirit of the dream.

Chatsworth got the first bump, and Chatsworth is even more Provincial Highwayfied than Shelburne, for two of the highways meet at Chatsworth.

Chatsworth left the repair of its Provincial Highway streets off for some time, expecting the Government to start work. But the work showed no signs of starting. So Reeve Breese wrote to Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, and this is the reply he received:

Toronto, Oct. 7th, 1920.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of October 4th, re Provincial Highway, duly received. I might say that it is not our intention to take over roads running through municipalities, but it is our intention to materially assist these municipalities in building roads. As the development of the roads leading into Chatsworth is gone on with, undoubtedly your village will receive every consideration.

Yours truly,
F. C. BIGGS,
Minister of Public Works and Highways.

On its face, this means a radical change in the Government policy and a change for which there was no excuse for not notifying the municipalities most interested.

If the Government policy has been changed,—why?

And if it has been changed, why were the municipalities not promptly notified?

Hon. F. C. Biggs has the floor.—Economist.

A technical school is proposed in connection with Guelph Collegiate Institute.

POINTED A GUN

Magistrates McMullen and McTavish held court on Thursday evening last, when Joseph Holley was charged with pointing a gun at Wm. Cargo. Mr. Cargo said his cattle got loose and entered Holley's property. He, with his dog, went after them, and while getting his cattle, Holley attempted to hit him over the head with the gun. Later when he undertook to leave the premises Holley had fired his gun, the charge passing about two feet from Cargo. Holley denied that he fired in Cargo's direction, and claimed he came out of the house with the gun intending to shoot the dog. This, however, he made no attempt to do. After hearing all the story the Magistrates recorded a conviction and fined Holley $10 and costs. The town hall was packed to the doors with male and female, young and old, and the concensus of opinion was that Holley got off very lightly under the circumstances.—Flesherton Advance.

SUBSCRIPTION ARREARS

The Banner is mailing statements to a number of subscribers who have allowed their subscriptions to fall in arrears. Prompt payment of these accounts will be greatly appreciated by the publishers. The cost of newsprint has become so high that it is almost necessary that all subscriptions should be paid in advance. Under existing conditions it is poor business carrying along subscriptions that have been allowed to get two or three years in arrears. These unpaid subscriptions are usually allowed to run simply because the amounts are small and easily forgotten whenever the subscribers happen to be in town. There is scarcely a case in which the payment of the amount owing will inconvenience the subscriber in the least.

FEELS THAT SHE'S DOING GOOD DEED

Toronto Woman Wants Others to Know What a Blessing Tanlac Has Been to Her.

"I am delighted with the results I have received from Tanlac, for I am once more enjoying life and health," said Mrs. Neil McNeill, of 65 Crawford street, Toronto, Ont.

"I have been almost a constant sufferer for more than a year from stomach trouble and nervousness. I couldn't eat much of anything, for my digestive organs were so badly upset I was in distress after every meal. It was hard for me to retain anything on my stomach and I felt nauseated most of the time. Sickening headaches often came on me and I had to give right up and go to bed. My nerves were unstrung and at night I was always restless and many times wasn't able to get to sleep until early morning. My strength and energy seemed to leave me and most of the time I was too weak to do my house work. I did everything possible to get relief and even spent some time in the hospital, but nothing seemed to help me.

"It was my husband who suggested that I try Tanlac, and I began to improve steadily right from the start. The nervousness and indigestion started leaving me and I commenced to eat things I hadn't been able to touch. To-day I call myself perfectly well and can do my housework all by myself. I eat just whatever I please and never suffer one bit afterwards. Those sickening headaches have disappeared and my nerves are so steady and quiet I sleep soundly all night long. I've told lots of people about Tanlac and I always feel I am doing a good deed every time I do it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

After deliberating for over an hour the jury at the Sessions in Toronto, returned a verdict of not guilty in connection with the charges against Jacob Troyer of stealing tickets from the C. P. R., by whom he was employed as a conductor. It was alleged that the accused took up tickets and failed to return them when making his reports of his daily runs. As soon as I applied Zam-Buk it cooled the fiery surfaces and reduced the inflammation and pain. More Zam-Buk brought perfect healing."

DIED FROM INJURIES

RICHARD ALLEN, VICTIM OF FOOLISH HALLOWE'EN PRANK, PASSED AWAY IN LORD DUFFERIN HOSPITAL THURSDAY MORNING

Coroner's Inquest Opened in the Orangeville Court House at 7.30 Last Night.

Richard Allen, the victim of the foolish Hallowe'en prank reported in last week's issue of The Banner, passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital about 7 o'clock last Thursday morning. Although Allen had a strong ..... man, ... Henry, who were summoned to attend to his injuries, held out no hope of his recovery from the very first. Both legs were broken in two places between the ankle and the knee and the bones were badly splintered and driven through the flesh by the force of the fall. There was also evidence of a slight fracture of the skull. The injured man remained conscious until a short time before his death and was able to converse intelligently with his physicians and nurses.

The sad tragedy was the cause of widespread sorrow and a feeling approaching consternation. Everywhere could be heard expressions of regret that a life so active and so vigorous should have been brought to such a sadly tragic close. The remains were taken to Hulse's Undertaking Parlors, where they remained until Saturday morning, when they were removed to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where an impressive service was held by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Morris, at 1.30 in the afternoon. The sacred edifice was filled to the doors, the audience including many of the deceased's old neighbors from the east of Mono. Members of Harris Masonic Lodge, of which the late Mr. Allen was an old member, were present in full lodge regalia and occupied pews at the front of the church. The church choir led in the singing and at the close of the service the organist, Miss Kathleen Fleming, played the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee," softly on the church organ. The casket containing the remains was placed in front of the pulpit and was almost hidden from view by a mass of beautiful floral offerings, which bore impressive testimony to the sorrow of friends of the departed man. The church service was followed by the beautiful burial ritual of the Masonic Order, read by W. Bro. Capt. A. Firth, W. M. of Harris Lodge, and Bro. Rev. W. M. Morris, the chaplain. The pallbearers, who were all members of the Order, were Bros. C. R. McKeown, J. E. Smith, J. L. Island, R. B. Henry, J. J. White and H. A. Dake. From the church the remains were conveyed by motor to Mono East Cemetery, where interment took place in the family plot.

Deceased was in his 76th year and was a widower without any family. Of a family of ten brothers and sisters he was the second last, a sister, Mrs. S. Wallace, of Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, being now the sole survivor. The late Mr. Allen spent most of his life in Mono township, where he formerly owned and worked a fine 200 acre property on the 5th line. He was an energetic, public-spirited man, who took a keen interest in politics and other public questions. He served as Councillor and Reeve in Mono for a number of years and was at one time regarded as a probable Conservative candidate for the Commons in the old electoral constituency of Cardwell. He had lived retired in Orangeville for the last eight or ten years.

Friends here from a distance for the funeral included:—Mrs. (Dr.) J. S. Island, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. W. A. Caesar, Mrs. S. Wallace, Mr. J. A. Raymond, Mr. George Patterson and Detective W. J. Allen, of Toronto, Mrs. R. L. Mason, of Fenelon Falls and Mrs. J. A. Armour, of Owen Sound.

Owing to the absence from town of, Dr. R. W. Rooney, the local coroner, Dr. M. W. Berwick, of Grand Valley, a Coroner for Dufferin, was apprised of Mr. Allen's death. After making enquiry into the facts Dr. Berwick decided that an inquest should be held. A jury was accordingly sworn in at Hulse's Undertaking Rooms at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. After the jury had viewed the remains the inquest was adjourned until Friday of this week at 7.30 p.m. in the Court House. The date was subsequently changed to Wednesday (last) night at the same hour. The jurors are: Thos. Arnett, foreman, John Norries, J. D. McMillan, J. B. Adamson, J. E. Smith, Mayor Parkinson, Reeve Jeffers, W. M. Green, J. Foley and A. D. McKitrick.

MASQUERADE BOX SOCIAL

The Masquerade Box Social held in the Glenoo school on November 1st was a decided success. The school was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The program was carried out under the auspices of the teacher, Miss B. Emach, and the pupils of S. S. No. 19, Mono, and consisted of vocal solos, duets, choruses, instrumental music, dialogues, recitations, speeches and dances. Mr. A. Curtis occupied the chair and made a splendid address, explaining why we celebrate Hallowe'en. After the program Mr. E. White auctioned the boxes in a most pleasing manner and was ably assisted by Messrs. H. and W. McKim and W. Dermott. The proceeds were about $40. Everyone reports having spent a most enjoyable evening.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

A well-attended Educational Conference was held in the Township Hall at Mono Centre on Monday night under the auspices of the Dufferin County Educational Association. This was the first of a series of Conferences which the Association is holding at various points in Dufferin County this week. Mr. J. A. Marshall presided and the principal speakers were Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Ontario Trustees' Association, Rev. C. J. Bailey, of Mansfield, Mrs. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla, and Mr. Malcolm McCormick, of East Garafraxa. Short addresses were also given by Inspector Liddy, W. H. Gemmell, J. W. South, A. D. McKitrick, Rev. Wm. Coutts and Herman Forsythe. There was also considerable helpful discussion of an informal character. After the speaking the meeting decided to organize a township sub-committee of the Dufferin Educational Association. Officers were appointed as follows: President, Mr. J. A. Marshall; Secretary, Mrs. Wm. Coutts; Committee, Mr. Wilson Duke, Mrs. Alex. Still, Mr. W. J. Coleman, Mr. S. Barber, Mrs. W. J. Cruikshank and Mrs. Thos Little.

WHY ANAEMIA PREVAILS

The Strenuous Conditions of Life To-day Are Responsible.

Mothers who remark that girls to-day are more prone to anaemia than the girls of a generation ago, should look back at the surroundings in which they and their companions lived. They would easily see the reason in life's altered circumstances to-day.

Now the school-girl's life is more strenuous; her more numerous studies are a severe tax upon her strength. Also, girls enter business soon after leaving school—at an age when they most need fun and outdoor life. Their womanly development is hampered by the stress of working hours, hurried and often scanty meals. Girls are more liable to bloodlessness to-day, but there is this consolation that, whereas doctors formerly regarded anaemia as often incurable, the cures are now counted in tens of thousands. Such medicines as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have restored to good health thousands of weak, anaemic girls and women, simply because they contain the elements necessary to make new, rich, red blood which means good health and vitality.

When your daughter's strength fails and pallor, breathlessness and backache disclose her anaemic condition, remember that you can make her well and assure her healthy development by giving her Dr. Williams Pink Pills to make good red blood. Remember, too, that for women of all ages Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially helpful in the many ailments that result from watery blood. They make women and girls well and keep them well. This is amply proved by the case of Miss Eva MacKinnon, Glammis, Ont., who says: "As a school girl I grew very pale and would take dizzy spells and sometimes vomiting. My condition was such that I was not able to attend school regularly, and my mother was very much worried about my condition. Finally she decided to give me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I took these for a considerable time, gradually gaining strength until I was perfectly well. It is some years since I took the pills and I have enjoyed the best of health, and I am certain pale, sickly girls will find new health if they give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WILLIAM E. MURPHY

Mr. William Edward Murphy died at his home on the third line of Tosorontio last Monday after being confined to his bed but a few days. Mr. Murphy's death was due to a blow which he received in the right side some weeks ago while moving a gasoline engine. He had the horses attached to the engine and when the team commenced to draw a crowbar lying partly beneath the skidding did not move with the weight and was thrown backwards, the end striking Mr. Murphy. The injury, though painful at the time, was not thought serious as Mr. Murphy appeared to have recovered. Internal trouble developed and when medical aid was sought nothing could be done to save his life. The late Mr. Murphy was the fourth son of the late Andrew Murphy and was born in the township of Tosorontio 51 years ago. As a young man he attended Collingwood High School from which he matriculated and then spent some years at Queen's University, Kingston. Some twelve years ago he commenced farming on his own account on the place he has since worked. He is survived by his wife whom he married some years ago, four brothers and three sisters. They are Rev. Arthur Murphy, of Edmonton; R. J. Murphy and J. F. Murphy in the West; A. R. Murphy, Tosorontio; Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Mulmur; Mrs. T. J. Gilmour, Tosorontio, and Mrs. Charles McMillan, of Erin. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the cemetery at St. Luke's church with which deceased was identified. Service was conducted by Rev. G. L. Gray at the grave side and in the church. —Allston Herald.

MRS. C. FIRTH

An esteemed old lady in the person of Elizabeth Humphrey, relict of the late Mr. Christopher Firth, passed away at her home here about noon on Saturday after an illness of but a few days' duration. Though Mrs. Firth had been an invalid for the past eight years, the result of an injury from a fall, it was not until Tuesday of last week that she took seriously ill, suffering a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Firth was in her eighty-seventh year, having been born in Westow, Yorkshire, England, in 1836. In 1862 she was married to the late C. Firth, who pre-deceased her by a little over a year. Of a family of ten, eight survive, as follows: William in Michigan; Christopher, in Niagara Falls; Alex, in Orangeville; Sam and Ben, in British Columbia; Mrs. Turner, in Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Carothers, Toronto, and Miss Kate, at home.

Of a retiring and mild disposition, Mrs. Firth was a most lovable old lady, a type of the true, motherly pioneer, fast passing to their long rest. To her friends, her death, even at her advanced age, came as a great shock, and cast a cloud of genuine sorrow over many homes.

Interment was made Monday afternoon in Trinity Church cemetery, the funeral service being conducted by her pastor, the Rev. F. G. Hardy.

Her sons, Christopher and Alex., and all three daughters were present at her death-bed, and a grand-son, Mr. Harry Firth, of Toronto, was also present at the funeral. —Durham Chronicle.

LEAGUERS CONVENE

Report of Orangeville District Convention in Alton.

The annual meeting of the Epworth Leagues of the Orangeville District was held in the Methodist church in Alton on Monday, October 25th. The meeting was well attended, the church being crowded to the doors. Mr. Bert Lindsay, of Caledon East, President of the Orangeville District Epworth Leagues, occupied the chair and also contributed a solo during the evening.

At 7.45 p.m. a song service conducted by Rev. F. M. Bellsmith, of Mono Road, assisted by the Alton choir, was much enjoyed by all. The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. John Morris, of Alton, and after prayer an excellent address by Rev. A. Bamford, of Honeywood, on the Christian Endeavor Department of the Leagues, was much appreciated. Mr. Amos Mason, of Alton, gave an excellent cornet solo.

Dr. W. H. Birks, the missionary representing the Leagues of the Orangeville District in China, who is home on furlough, gave a very instructive and interesting address on his work in that far-off land.

After a solo by the Rev. F. M. Bellsmith the newly elected officers were introduced to the meeting. The officers were:

Hon. Pres.—Rev. H. L. Partridge, Orangeville.
President—Mr. Elmer Still, Orangeville.
1st Vice-Pres.—Miss Kathleen Stockfish, Hornings Mills.
2nd Vice-Pres. — Arthur Richardson, Laurel.
3rd Vice-Pres.—J. N. Proctor, Caledon East.
4th Vice-Pres.—Miss J. E. Sleightholm, Shelburne.
5th Vice-Pres.—Miss Bertha Lowe, Alton.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss Alma McConnell, Orangeville.
Representative to Conference — Elgin Stubbs, Caledon.

The newly elected President, Mr. Elmer Still, then took the chair and called on Mr. Fred. Grafton, of Barrie, Vice-President of Toronto Conference Epworth Leagues, who gave a very instructive Talk on Epworth League plans and work. He told of Toronto Conference plans for a "Winter School" at Danforth Methodist Church, to be held this winter especially for the rural districts.

After a solo by Mr. Clarence McConnell, of Orangeville, the retiring President, Mr. Bert Lindsay, and the Executive were tendered a vote of thanks for the excellent work of the past year. The meeting closed with singing led by Rev. F. M. Bell-Smith, after which the Alton Epworth League served refreshments and a social time was much enjoyed. Much enthusiasm was manifested throughout the meeting and speaks well for Young People's work in the Orangeville District.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Walter Christian, who departed this life in November, 1919.

Such is life. We are brought near persons we love, or who do us good for a time and then they part from us, or we are parted from them. We gain friends and lose them out of sight. We have blessings and forfeit them. All is change. And all this to teach us, amid all these changes, to trust alone in Him who changeth not, to use faithfully all He gives us. John 14-18

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Jemima Christian, beloved wife of Mr. Walter Christian, of Orangeville, who passed away one year ago:

She suffered patiently and long,
Her hope was bright, her faith was strong;
The peace of Jesus filled her,
She bade no last farewell, said good-bye to none.

The heavenly gates were open wide,
A loving voice said "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken
She gently entered home.

It is lonesome here without you, wife,
And, sad the weary way,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.

But peaceful be thy rest, dear sister,
'Tis sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you very dear,
In death we do the same.

Yes, we loved her, yes, we loved her
But Jesus loved her more;
And He did sweetly call her
To yonder shining shore.

The pearly gates were opened,
A gentle voice said, "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
She calmly entered home.

Gone but not forgotten.

Let us show you what an exquisite thing a phonograph cabinet can be.

Every New Edison on our floor—no matter what its price—is encased in a genuine period cabinet.

Period Furniture is the world's most exquisite development of furniture. It originated in the 16th, 17th, and 18th Centuries. Europe was ruled by a Gorgeous Aristocracy. Fine living was the ideal of the day An unparalleled race of artists, architects, and designers built palatial living-places for kings and nobles, and furnished them. The palaces of the nobility became treasure-houses of fine furniture. It was called the "Golden Age of Furniture."

So Mr Edison had his designers go back into the manor houses of England, the chateaux of France and the castles of Italy. They adapted 17 designs from historic masterpieces. They preserved entire "the character and feeling of the best periods" in these superb phonograph cases for the modern American home.

No matter which Edison cabinet you choose, you get both the arts that make your house a cultured home—music perfectly RE-CREATED and furniture of purest period source. What finer gift for all the family?

CALEDON.

(Intended for last week)

The Hallowe'en Social given by the Young People's Society of the Methodist church was somewhat handicapped from lack of advertising and the weather, but the handicap was more than overcome. There was a good crowd and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The various contests were entertaining and interesting and were apparently designed to make everybody better acquainted. It is proposed to have something of the sort every month. It is a good idea and those responsible are to be congratulated. The presence of a number of Alton visitors added considerably to the evening's enjoyment.

The average yield of potatoes this year is much below normal for this section. Two good crops, however, are reported in the village. Sam Bayburn got 40 bags from one-quarter of an acre and Harvey McCort got 80 bags from a half acre. Both planted "Rosbery" and both used fertilizer.

W. J. Warnock's new potato house at the station is practically completed and fills a long felt want. Potatoes have been coming in freely and "Billy" says he can handle any quantity. Price has been a little better at $1.25 a bag.

The following books have been added to Caledon Public Library: Bulb Culture for the Amateur; Farmer on the Strawberry; The Book of Little Rooms; The Rating Quality; Marvels of Nature; Extraordinary Men; From Powder-Monkey to Admiral; Pendennis; Vanity Fair; Lauderdale's Poems; Hints to Small Libraries. These books were presented to the Library by a member. No doubt many others have books in good condition, but which they are through with, that could be made good use of by the Library.

Winners in the Caledon Potato Field Crop competition were:—
1 W. J. Hillock, Green Mountain.
2 Gavin Lennox, Green Mountain.
3 Chas. Tribble, World's Wonder.
4 Alton Lennox, Green Mountain.
5 Gilbert Youngrey, Mortgage Lifter.
6 Leslie McKinnon, Green Mountain.
7 T. G. Glassford, Green Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy, of Toronto, were the guests of their cousin, Dr. Thomson, over Sunday.

Motor accidents are becoming an almost common occurrence these days. In most of them the damage is confined to the cars, but there have been a few very serious ones lately. It doesn't pay to take chances.

Rev. Capt. J. P. G. Morris, Methodist minister, will give a Talk on his experience while in France during the late war, in the Methodist church, Caledon, on Thursday evening, Nov. 11th. Everybody welcome.

"You know my father had a nervous breakdown when he was my age."

"AND what has that to do with you?"

"Well, I have been worried a lot lately, and feel that my nerves are playing out. Besides, I believe that nervous troubles are hereditary, and I guess I am doomed."

"Now, old man, the sooner you get rid of that idea the better. You may inherit a nervous temperament, but not disease of the nerves. It is up to you to take care of yourself, and not allow your nervous system to become exhausted."

"But I am afraid it is too late, so far as I am concerned. My nerves are all shot to pieces. I am restless and fidgety, cannot sleep at night. Everything seems to worry me, and I cannot stand it much longer."

"Why don't you go away for a while and take a good rest?"

"Simply because I cannot. My business requires my constant attention."

"Then I will tell you what to do. Go to your druggist and buy a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I will guarantee that by the time you have used it you will feel like an entirely different man."

"Oh, I have been taking medicine enough from my doctor, and what good has it done me? Perhaps I have had a night's rest occasionally as a result, but certainly no permanent benefit."

"That is just the point. You have sought relief by deadening the nerves instead of restoring them. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food works on an entirely different principle. It forms new, rich blood, and nourishes the depleted nerve cells back to health and vigor."

"That sounds good to me."

"Because the Nerve Food works in this natural way you cannot expect much change after the first box or two. It takes a little time to build up an exhausted nervous system, but if you have a little patience the results will make it worth your while."

"I will follow your advice, for I have been terribly oppressed of late by the hopeless outlook. I know you would not recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food unless you felt sure it would restore my health, so I shall do my part and give it a thorough trial."

THE REPORT CARD

At regular intervals during the school year your child comes home with a report card. This report is a more or less reliable barometer of the child's educational progress, and should be watched carefully. But some parents, kind-hearted ones at that, have the mistaken idea that they encourage progress by pointing out the weak places on the card, taking it for granted that the child should have the "good" marks the card shows. A better method was adopted by a wise father. He saw only the best marks. That is to say, he talked about the good marks, ignoring those below "fair." He dwelt so enthusiastically on the "excellents" that his child came to understand that he was studying, not to keep from the bottom of the class, but to get nearer to the top. Try it on your child's report card next time.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

At a meeting held in Shelburne town hall, Thursday evening last, it was decided to form an Athletic Association for Shelburne. The following officers were elected:—Honorary President, Chas. A Grounds Committee was appointed as follows: Geo. W. Hepton, S. H. Rutledge, R. W. Brett, T. F. E. Claridge, R. J. Puckering, J. E. A. White, W. H. Lamon, Chas. Lindsey, T. J. O'Flynn. The first work to be undertaken will be that of having a section of the Agricultural Society Grounds put in proper shape for use for lacrosse and other games.—Economist.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Georgetown and Milton musicians will comprise a band for the Halton Rifles. The unit intends to hold a camp next summer providing the government makes it convenient to do so.

Colds & Common Sense

You have a cold, or your child has a cold; a cough; a tight feeling across the chest; a soreness in the breathing tubes.

In the past how have you treated such? You have bought some cough mixture, and swallowed this down into your stomach. Now, why? Your stomach was not ailing; and there is no direct connection between your chest (where the trouble is) and your stomach! Then why swallow into your stomach any mixture when the trouble is in your lungs and bronchial tubes?

It's a mistake; and Peps is the remedy provided to correct this un-commonsense treatment. Peps are little tablets, which contain highly beneficial Pine essences, combined with other medicinal extracts. These healing extracts are so prepared that as soon as you put a Pep into your mouth they are liberated in the form of healing vapors. You breathe these vapors down to the throat and lungs, and thus treat the organs that are inflamed, direct. In a way, it is like breathing from a vaporizer or bronchitis kettle, except that there is no apparatus needed, the little Peps providing everything needful for the treatment! The very small portion of Peps which you swallow has a slightly tonic effect upon the stomach and does you good, but the use of Peps is not for stomach troubles, but for lung, throat and bronchial troubles. Peps relieve these as no ordinary treatment can.

Children like Peps and they are best for the little ones because Peps contain no morphine, laudanum or other poison found in so many of the old cough mixtures.

Druggists and stores everywhere sell Peps 50c. box or from Peps Co., Toronto, for price. Remember the name—four letters only:—

Peps

A HIGH STANDARD

This is the confession of the apostle. If ever a man might be confident of himself, it was Paul. And yet it is this man who comes so near to us in the sense of his own insufficiency. He is buffeted and bewildered by the cross-currents that are in his life, the perpetual conflict between the evil and the good. It is this conflict which sometimes restrains us from taking a definite and open stand as disciples of Christ. If we could but be sure of ourselves. But we are not sure of ourselves. We never know what surprise will be sprung upon us, what ugly exhibition of temper will undo us, what lonely struggle will exhaust us. If we were self-satisfied, or if we had a lower standard of Christian life and service, then might we give a languid allegiance. But we are not self-satisfied, and the standard is high. It is so high that no soul will attain to it in this world. Would we have the standard lowered then? Never! Let the standard remain! What then? One thing is left to us. "I follow after."

DEATH OF EDWARD NOBLE

The Sault Ste Marie, Ont. News of Friday, Oct. 29th, refers as follows to the death of Edward Noble, a former resident of Stanton, Mulmur township. Joseph Noble, of Mansfield, is a brother of the deceased:

Many people were greatly surprised and pained on Tuesday to hear of the death of Edward Noble, who passed away on Monday evening. It was known to his many friends in town and country that he had not been enjoying good health since the early spring, but no one looked for the end so suddenly. He was up and around up to a few hours before his death. The deceased was born in the county of Dufferin, this Province, 59 years ago. He came to the Soo in 1889, when this city was but a village. He was for eight years in the grocery business in partnership with W. H. Ewing and later entered the same business with T. A. Hand. This partnership was of short duration and at its close he formed a partnership with Wm. Greer, in the flour and feed business. For the last three or four years Mr. Noble was for the most part out of business, excepting looking after a farm he owned at Goulais Bay. He acted for some time as secretary of the Agricultural Society and of the New Ontario Poultry and Pet Stock Association. Mr. Noble was extremely well liked by all who knew him, being possessed of a genial nature and being strictly reliable and honorable in all his dealings with the public. His remains were interred in Greenwood cemetery yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Bowles conducting burial services. Besides his widow, Mr. Noble leaves two sons and one daughter to mourn his loss.

Deceased was a brother-in-law of Messrs. James and Sam Ewing, Orangeville.

Mr. Wm. Verner, of Bolton, has sold his hundred acre farm to Mr. Samuel Graham, of Albion, who will take possession in the spring.

From Edison To YOU!

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

The World's Greatest Phonograph Value

THINK of the vast difference between Edison's Amberola and ordinary phonographs or "talking machines". The Amberola is the product of matchless inventive genius—of inspiration. Other phonographs are plain, factory-made machines, devoid of inspiration.

Thomas A. Edison's master mind conceived the Amberola to entertain mankind. Commercial phonographs are put together with just one object in view—to sell at so much profit.

No wonder the Amberola has demonstrated its superiority time and again in public comparative tests with "talking machines" and commercial phonographs.

The marvelous tone of the Amberola—the permanent, genuine Diamond Point Reproducer (no needles to change)—the practically unbreakable, everlasting Amberol Records—all reveal the genius of Edison. And the surprising, low cost of the Amberola puts high-priced "talking machines" and commercial phonographs to shame.

Let us show you how easy it is for anyone to own an Amberola. Call at our store or write to us in the next few days. Even if you are convinced you cannot afford an Amberola, put it up to us to make it possible. So remember—call or write—soon.

Brandram's Genuine B-B White Lead

IT POSSESSED UNUSUAL QUALITY
—THAT'S WHY IT HAS SURVIVED

As far back as 1729 this was the standard white lead in England—and when Canada was colonized by Englishmen, they brought with them this favorite brand. And we, their descendants, have been using it, in preference to all other kinds, ever since. It is made today by that same paint house which obtained the formula from the descendants of that Brandram who first discovered the process. The process is the same as that used in the 18th century—and it is interesting to note that this is the only patented process of white lead manufacture that dates back to so early a period.

It is unrivalled for covering-capacity and durability—the finest, whitest pigment you can use, either for white paint or as a white base for tinted paints. This is the white lead used in B-H "English" Paint and other B-H products.

STRAY SHOTS FROM SOLOMON

(The Furniture Journal)

Wisdom crieth without;
She uttereth her voice in the street.

Cross-eyed Religion

Religion that lets a man steal extra discounts and allowances from his creditors, and permits him to cancel orders and return goods in order to buy them from others is cross-eyed. A man may be an elder, a deacon, or a steward in the church; but if he works the flim-flam game on the people he buys goods from his religion is not worth the powder it will take to blow it over Gilroy's barn. There is too much of this psalm-singing on Sundays and "shinanagin" on Mondays. The worst of it is that people try to make themselves believe that this kind of thing is not exactly crooked. We would like to know the difference between the man who gets a lot of goods and holds up the seller for an extra five per cent. discount, with the alternative of having them returned, and the highwayman who drops a pistol under your nose on a dark night and requests the privilege of examining your purse or your watch. The man who can make the distinction will beat the Devil at drawing fine lines. The only difference we can see is that a man gets penitentiary in one case, while in the other he usually gets the discount.

Strong in Death

A farmer living a short distance from this city in a moment of weakness the other day blew in two dollars and a half at a city departmental store for a fall hat for his wife. On returning home he was so overcome with remorse that he went out to the barn and did the Haman act from one of the cross-beams. The hired man happening along just before the curtain dropped on the scene promptly cut the old hayseed down. He revived and apparently repented his rashness. At the end of the month, however, while again expressing his appreciation of his employee's act, he qualified it by regretting the latter's extravagance in not untying the rope instead of cutting it, and docked him the price thereof. The hired man believes that he cheated hell out of the meanest man that ever lived outside its sulphurous depths.

Mean Screws

Some men can't stand prosperity. A big place contracts instead of expands them. We have known some fairly decent fellows who have been spoiled by getting on a little in the world. Of course a man who is small anywhere is a small man at the start. We have in mind a party who was a model apparently of courtesy, kindness and generosity when he was an employee but who became niggard and an oppressor when he grew to be an employer. There are some men who seem to thrive and prosper by grinding and crowding others, but just keep your eye on them for a while and you will realize the experience of the Psalmist who says in regard to the wicked: "Yea, I sought him but he could not be found." This kind of sowing is bound to bring its own crop. You old screw, your meanness will make its circuit and get round you in time. You may squeeze your unjust discounts and rebates, take advantage of quirks in agreements and manipulate things your way for a while, but the end of the long lane will come yet. We might mention concerns in the trade we represent that afford ample illustration of this truth. Think, young man, before you make up your mind to live the life of the commercial highwayman. "Envy thou not the oppressor and choose none of his ways."

It Will Kill You

There is an ancient myth that tells of a magic skin, the possessor of which had the power to acquire anything he wished for, but at each gratification of the desire it shrank until finally it crushed him. Supreme selfishness is the qualification for the thirty-third degree in the Royal Arch Demons, and plenty of men here are diligently shaping for it. A preparedness for the lodge room is written in some of their faces. When a man gets so he can't think of anything but himself, he is nothing but a moral mummy whose remains are only fit for the scrap-pile of the inferno.

Ought to Get Off

The writer of "Stray Shots" has distinct recollections in his Sunday School days of a good old "Mother in Israel" whose continuous sojourn with the church militant was a source of worriment to her fellow members. The good sister referred to lived so high above the rest that her focus upon their failings threw the latter into such strong relief as to frequently cause those "burnings" that the apostle speaks of so feelingly. It was not any wonder therefore, that one of the church officials at a meeting at which no little interest had been created by the "faithfulness" of the old lady in question along the line of "telling your brother's faults," solemnly prayed that the Lord would take her to Himself as she was too good for her surroundings. There are some people who really seem to be subjects for translation and no serious protest would be made by their friends or acquaintances. We have known wives whose husbands were so good that they would like to see them at heaven's length or at any other distance where their meanness and selfishness would make life less worrisome. We have known men and women so full of their own goodness that they could not live with their families. It is not infidelity that saps the foundations of Christianity, it is the consummate meanness and selfishness socially and commercially of some of those who profess its tenets. The religion of the man who can't kneel down with his family as freely and kindly as he can at the prayer meeting is not worth a button on last year's coat. The man who is so good that he is always picking holes in some ong's character would pick a pocket if he got the chance. "Be not righteous overmuch."

THE PRINTER'S TOWEL

The following lines, headed "The Printer's Towel," appeared the other day in the New York Sun. Those at all familiar with the country printing office of not so long ago will recognise the towel:—

When I think of the towel,
The old-fashioned towel,
That used to hang up near the printing house door,
I can think of nobody
In these days of shoddy
That could hammer out iron to wear as it wore.

The "Devil" who used it
The tramp who abused it,
The "comp" who got at it when these two were gone,
The make-up and the foreman,
The editor (poor man),
Each rubbed some grime off, while they put a heap on.

In, over and under,
It was blacker than thunder,
Harder than poverty, rougher than sin,
On the roller suspended,
It never was bended,
And flapped on the wall like a banner of tin.

It grew harder and rougher,
And blacker and tougher,
And daily took on a more inkier hue,
Until one windy morning,
Without any warning,
It fell on the floor and was broken in two.

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-tives"

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q.

"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again.

One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-a-tives" the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

DAVIS–ELGIE

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Wm. Elgie, Nichol Township, on Wednesday, Nov. 3rd, at 3.30 p.m., when his youngest daughter, Agnes Jane, was united in marriage by Rev. P. M. Ellis, of Monticello, to Mr. G. Harry Davis, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis, of Campania. The bride, looking very sweet in a frock of white crepe de chene trimmed with shadow lace and pearls and carrying a bouquet of sunset roses, entered the parlor on the arm of her father, as the Lohengrin wedding march was played by the groom's sister, Miss Theresa Davis. After the ceremony, performed beneath an arch of evergreen twined with pink and white, the guests, numbering about twenty-five, repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. A large white bell was suspended in the centre of the ceiling from which hung pink and white streamers to the corners of the table, and held there by bouquets of pink carnations and white 'mums. Many beautiful gifts were received, among them being a set of silverware from the Epworth League at Nichol, where Miss Elgie, a faithful worker, will be much missed, also a kitchen shower from the community given on Friday night. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful set of raccoon furs and to the organist a brooch. Mr. and Mrs. Davis left in the evening for a motor trip and on their return will reside in Campania.

LACKEY–DAVISON

On Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 3rd, a pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rich. Pines, Mill St., when their sister, Lillian Gertrude Davison, became the bride of William W. Lackey, of Toronto, son of Mr. S. Lackey, of Orangeville. Rev. W. M. Morris performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. John Davison, entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding music played by her niece, Miss Edith Davison, of Keldon, and looked charming in her wedding gown of white georgette and satin, with bridal veil of embroidered net and wreath of orange blossoms. She also carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, white chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern and wore the groom's gift, a diamond and onyx necklet. After congratulations the happy couple led the way to the dining room, where a dainty wedding repast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Lackey left for their honeymoon to be spent in Kingston and Montreal, the bride travelling in a navy serge suit and hat to match. On their return they will reside at 81 Ellerbeck Ave., Toronto.

LAUREL

The young people of the Presbyterian Church of Laurel held a very interesting meeting on Wednesday evening last, Nov. 3rd. A large number were present. The chief attraction being a debate, "Resolved that the bible should be taught in public schools as literature." Both sides took the subject up very thoroughly, the Judges had quite a time deciding which was ahead but decided at last that the negative had won by the small sum of one point. Refreshments were served at the close and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

THE MAPLES

The October meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Miss Lily Cook on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 21st. The ladies discussed the subject, "How to Make the Monthly Branch Meeting a Success." Miss Hannah Bramble gave a Reading and Misses Corinne Trimble and Ethel Frust contributed two vocal duets. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Reid on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18th. The program for the afternoon consists of a Paper by Mrs. Frust, selected, a discussion on "Women's Present Day Responsibilities," opened by Mrs. Carroll. The meeting will commence at 2.30 p.m. sharp. All ladies made welcome.

"I have exchanged my phonograph!"

A lot of people said that the other day.

They had accepted our invitation to investigate the BRUNSWICK — they came to see whether they approved our judgment.

Of course, we expected people to "discover" the BRUNSWICK, just as we have done; but we did not promise ourselves so many OWNERS of other phonographs would Hit the BRUNHWICK Trail so readily.

Frankly, we were astonished.

We have a suspicion that some of them came to tell us that "a rolling stone gathers no moss."

But exchange that machine that had meant so much to wife and kiddies? Relinquish that which had taken so much time and pains to select—the machine they thought to be the best phonograph on the market?

No, we weren't ready for that.

But it happened the first day and every day after. They caught the idea right away.

They saw that while they had spent weeks picking their phonographs, they were letting someone else pick their music.

They wanted to be able to play ANY record, just the same as those who have never owned a talking machine.

We played some of their own favorite records for them, and they had to admit that the BRUNSWICK played them better,

Many residents of this locality have found a better Phonograph—a wonderful, versatile, all-embracing new musical instrument in the BRUNSWICK. And they found a cabinet that was easy to look at, as well.

We are beginning to think our judgment is pretty good, after all.

Come in yourself and hear the BRUNSWICK. Liberal allowance on your old machine.

You CAN change horses in midstream.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE BOARD

Up to the time of sitting, the Board had received five applications for the allowance, two from Brampton, two from Caledon, and one from Malton. All of these were granted, and more are pending a future sitting of the Board. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 12th, and after that the meetings of the board will be held regularly on the first Saturday in the month.

POTATO WEARS RING

Wm. Dedrick, York St., dug an aristocratic sort of potato in his garden the other day. The tuber was actually wearing a ring when brought to the surface. The metal band encircled the potato fairly in the middle. At both ends the potato had grown larger than in the centre, where its growth was checked by the iron circlet. Consequently the latter was so firmly held in place that it could not be removed without first cutting or breaking the potato. The potato had evidently grown fairly inside the ring.

Episode 14

Much of the action of the fourteenth episode is staged in and about a lighthouse. It is said that William Bertram, the director of the serial, cussed a rather indigo streak when upon examining the script he discovered the authors had picked out a lighthouse for the back-ground in this episode. Because Bertram is a veteran director and he knew just how difficult it is to get a lighthouse.

But, however, after days of hunting and yards of correspondence with the Government Bertram finally got hold of one several hundred miles away from the studio on the California coast.

COMING
THE NEW SERIAL
WILL BE
"The Silent Avenger"
With William Duncan and Edith Johnston in the leading roles.

The 1st episode, entitled, "The Escape," will be shown on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Nov. 22 and 23.

SALADA BUILDING, BOSTON

SALADA BUILDING, TORONTO

THE THREE LARGEST TEA-WAREHOUSES IN THE WORLD

These three huge warehouses owned and operated exclusively by the Salada Tea Company, are the largest in the world devoted to the blending and packing of tea. In less than 30 years "Salada" has become a household word throughout Canada and the United States and is, indeed, by far the largest selling tea in America. Large quantities are also exported to South America and to Europe. Besides these buildings in Toronto, Montreal and Boston, other Salada offices are situated in Winnipeg, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco and London, Eng. The Company trades only in tea and only in tea of Salada quality, thus assuring undivided attention to the product. Every packet of Salada wherever bought may be relied upon to be of exactly the same fine quality and to yield an unequalled cup of tea. This policy of keeping faith with the public has been responsible for Salada's extraordinary sale.

SALADA BUILDING, MONTREAL

A Hamilton firm has been awarded the contract for the erection of Oakville's new fire hall.

The dry goods clerks of St. Catharines, of whom there are about five hundred, are demanding Wednesday half-holiday the year round instead of only during the summer months.

Brampton Hydro Commission has discontinued its service of electric current to John McMurchy's woollen mills at Huttonville. Six months ago he was notified that unless he complied with certain requirements, one being a thorough overhauling of the line, owned by him, between Huttonville and Brampton the power would be cut off. The power was cut off on the last day of October. Mr. McMurchy has been dependent on Hydro since his dam was carried away just before the war. It was largely owing to war contracts that he was supplied with power.

It is understood that the arrangements for the unveiling of the Acton War Memorial on Armistice Day are about completed. The ceremonies will be simple, but impressive. Premier Drury and several prominent military men have been invited to take part.

One of Four Millions

(A Photograph Direct from the War-Stricken Area)

$1 per Month Preserves the Life of One Child

Millions of war orphans in Central Europe are growing up undernourished and stunted.

Thousands of them are dying of typhus, tuberculosis and small-pox

There is almost a complete lack of the nourishing foods growing children need, of clothing, of doctors, nurses and medical supplies. The condition of the children is pitiable in the extreme.

Upon this coming generation depends largely whether these nations will be healthy and right-minded or a hot-bed of anarchy and degeneracy—a menace to the world.

It has been found by experience that the cost of caring for a waif child is approximately three dollars per month; that of the supplies that are required by imports about one dollar is needed; and therefore the dollar that we provide, together with the local support of local governments, local municipalities, local charities and local services practically preserves the life of one child.

MOUNTING NEWS— PAPER COSTS

The expense of publishing a newspaper these days is high, but that it is certain to be considerably higher is confirmed by the statement of an expert who estimates that production cost for Canadian papers during the next six months will be four million dollars in excess of the same period in 1919. In the face of the situation, publishers generally have no alternative but to increase their charges to the public and advertisers as much as they may dislike to do so, but even at the increased charges the newspaper, which supplies up-to-the-minute news of the community and world, is the cheapest article existent to-day. The man who buys a cigar or goes to a "movie" pays the equivalent of a goodly number of newspapers, yet because the newspaper has always been cheap, its proportional value has been lost sight of in many cases.

Chas. Abbott, of Dundalk, has resigned as Village Constable and utility man with the intention of taking a trip home to England in December.

W. J. McKerrol, of Sydenham township, had his hand taken off at the wrist, when he tried to take some straw out of the blower of a threshing machine.

Mrs. Albert Rowley, of Palgrave, announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Edna, to Mr. Melville White. The marriage will take place in November.

C. J. Hamilton has purchased from N. Dilman, his grocery stock in Erin and will do business in the old stand. Mr. Dilman has moved his dry goods, and boots and shoes to the Advocate block.

Archibald McKillop passed away at his home at Harriston on Oct. 24 after a short illness from a stroke. He was born in Quebec but moved to Harriston district in 1867, settling in the vicinity of Cotswold where he engaged in the saw mill business.

William Hunter, who has been making his home at Joseph Ritchie's, Amaranth, passed away very suddenly a week ago Friday morning. He had been subject to a weak heart, but none anticipated such a sudden call. He was overcome while turning the cream separator.

Brydon, the only son of Mr. John Needham, of Brampton, was badly hurt while on his way home from school. An automobile, driven by William Doney, was proceeding slowly along Main street when several children were crossing over from Alexander street. Both Mr. Doney and the unfortunate child were watching a car coming in the other direction. The latter was knocked down and one of the front wheels passed over his body. Drs. Lawson and Brydon were immediately summoned and for a time the young boy's life was despaired of. He has been very ill all week but is out of danger now and making a favorable recovery.

With his throat cut from ear to ear, the dead body of Dr. Hugh Milloy, 62 years of age, dentist of Detroit, was found on Tuesday morning of last week in the garden of the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jas. Milloy, at Erin village, with whom he had been visiting for several days. Deceased was a former resident of Erin, but after graduating as a dentist over 30 years ago, he removed to Detroit.

It appears that the Collingwood bakers promised Mayor Holden a reduction of 3 cents per loaf in the price of their bread the reduction to come into effect on October 25. But the bakers did not come through with the lower price and at a council meeting it was decided to consider ways and means to bring about a reduction by either bringing in bread from outside points or starting a municipal bakery.

TANLAC DISPLAY MAKES GREAT HIT

Unique And Attractive Display of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest, has been placed in the show-window of C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, on Broadway, in this town, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but it is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the town that the proprietor of the store states that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist.

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering the roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, lamas and other beasts of burden for transportation by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, until to-day it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day.

From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body-builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong, local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they received, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their products in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

SUBSCRIPTION ARREARS

The Banner is mailing statements to a number of subscribers who have allowed their subscriptions to fall in arrears. Prompt payment of these accounts will be greatly appreciated by the publishers. The cost of newsprint has become so high that it is almost necessary that all subscriptions should be paid in advance. Under existing conditions it is poor business carrying along subscriptions that have been allowed to get two or three years in arrears. These unpaid subscriptions are usually allowed to run simply because the amounts are small and easily forgotten whenever the subscribers happen to be in town. There is scarcely a case in which the payment of the amount owing will inconvenience the subscriber in the least.

It appears that the Collingwood bakers promised Mayor Holden a reduction of 3 cents per loaf in the price of their bread the reduction to come into effect on October 25. WEAK, NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN

There are thousands of people who are enduring the pain and discomfort of minor ills in the hope that the indisposition is only temporary and will be outgrown in time. Often such illnesses are not serious enough to require the attention of a doctor, but will respond to intelligent home treatment if a reliable remedy is used. Women, busy with a multitude of household cares, young women in offices or stores, or girls studying hard in school, easily fall a prey to that condition of bloodlessness known as anaemia. The trouble need not be serious if prompt, effective measures are taken to check it in its early stages. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will restore the elements needed to bring the blood back to strength, and once the blood regains its healthy quality the entire body will soon show the benefit. Among the many who have found benefit through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. James J. Johnston, of Peterboro, Ont., who says: "I can personally strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because of what they have done for me. About two years ago I felt poorly, was terribly weak, nervous and run down. I was easily annoyed and worried, and my heart would flutter at the least exertion. I tried several remedies but did not find a cure, until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took seven boxes in all and am now enjoying perfect health, and have gained in weight. I calculate the cost small when I think of the benefit I received, and I recommend the pills to all weak people."

Rich, red blood is the whole secret of good health, and from the first to the last dose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich and purify the blood. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GOING TO MATHESON

Rev. P. C. Howard, incumbent of the Mono West Parish of the Anglican church for the last three years, has been appointed rector of the Parish of Matheson in Northern Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Howard are planning to leave for their new field of labor next week. They have won the confidence and esteem of the people of Mono West during their sojourn here and their departure from the field will be the occasion of much real regret.

HOSPITAL NOTES

"A Night in Gypsyland." Does it sound alluring? This rare musical treat will be given in the Opera House on Tuesday evening, November 23rd, under the auspices of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E., and in aid of Lord Dufferin Hospital. The cause is good and the entertainment itself will more than repay everyone who is fortunate enough to secure a ticket. Such well-known artists as Miss Pearl O'Neil, elocutionist and entertainer, Mr. Norman Colvin, Mr. A. B. Dykeman, who was formerly leading soloist in the Bond St. Congregational Church, Toronto, and Miss Sternberg's far-famed dancers will supply a program seldom equalled in Orangeville. Get your seats reserved at The Banner Office at an early date. All seats reserved. Admission, $1.00 and 75c.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At the last General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church a General Board was created in order to supervise and control the financial affairs and the receipts and expenditures of the Church, and also all matters pertaining to the Church's welfare. The appointment of an executive head of this Board was however remitted to the Presbyteries. Orangeville Presbytery has nominated Rev. D. R. Drummond, D. D., to this position. Nominations were also made for the two vacancies in Knox College, namely, Chairs of Religious Education and Homiletics. Rev. W. J. Knox, M. A., of London, was nominated to the former Chair and Rev. Dr. Johnston, late of the American Church, Montreal, to the latter. A committee on Life Service was also appointed, with Rev. Coutts, of Camilla, as convener.

On account of the extension of the work and increased expenses congregations are now asked for 14 per cent. more than their allotment of last year. Rev. Dr. Wallace, formerly of Bloor St. Presbyterian Church, Toronto, was present and gave a helpful address on the Forward Movement continuation work of the Church. The deepening of the religious life is now that which is mainly aimed at. The Presbytery has been divided into four groups in order that this work may be more conveniently undertaken.

DUFFERINS APPRECIATIVE

Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Secretary of the Ladies' Committee, which had charge of the arrangements for the recent Banquet and Ball in honor of the champion Dufferin lacrosse team, has received the following appreciative letter from President Jas. Armstrong, of The Dufferin Lacrosse Club:

Orangeville, 3rd Nov., 1920.

Dear Mrs. Hopkins:

On behalf of the officers and players of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club I wish to convey to the Ladies of Orangeville our very sincere thanks and appreciation of the splendid entertainment supplied us at the Banquet and Assembly last Friday evening. Such a demonstration of appreciation of the efforts of our team during the past season will live long in the memory of the players and all those connected with the Club and will have a very considerable influence in holding the team together for another season.

As our players have proved themselves champions on the field so have the Ladies of Orangeville proved themselves champion of loyal supporters and have brought to a conclusion a grand season of lacrosse with a glorious tribute to the team.

Yours very truly,
JAS. ARMSTRONG,
President Dufferin Lacrosse Club.

FIRST EPISODE

This is a dramatic feature serial—probably the first of its kind ever to reach a screen. It is a fifteen chapter film story of a man's adventures in struggling back from the grave to life, love and riches.

The picture will stand unique as one which possesses the concentrated thrills of seven ordinary serials, and which, in addition to that, possesses a love plot and a drama powerful to the last degree.

The story is that of a man being railroaded to prison on false evidence, supposedly killed by accident and officially buried. The escape he makes literally through the door of a grave and the dazzling exploits he performs to reinstate himself, form a continuously gripping romance from start to finish.

One million dollars was spent on the making of this serial. It paints a landscape of live action extending for thousands of miles. Its star is a character possessed of the dramatic art of a Richard Mansfield or a Dustin Farnum as well as the muscles of a Sandow. Pat Duncan has been a star of great prominence on the spoken stage, and he has wrestled grip to grip on even terms with the best gladiators on the mat.

CALEDON.

A very pleasant gathering was held at Beautiful View Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gibson, on Friday evening last in honor of their guest, Miss Mary Berney, of Caledon East. There were quite a number of their neighbors and friends present and a very pleasant evening was spent in music, violin and other instrumental music. Afterwards the hostess served a dainty lunch and the remainder of the night was spent in dancing. Mr. Elisha Black, of Orangeville, officiated as floor manager and the music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gibson, assisted by Mr. John Gibson. After all had indulged in this popular pastime, the guests dispersed to their several homes, after thanking their host and hostess and Miss Berney for the very pleasant evening all had enjoyed.

We extend Mr. G. B. Clarke, Manager of the Union Bank, and his bride a hearty welcome to the life of our community.

Miss Mabel Billyard, who is in Tacoma Park Hospital, Washington, D. C., training for a nurse, was unable to return home for the funeral of her aunt, the late Mrs. McHugh.

And no one could tell the difference!

This test of direct comparison was made by Anna Case, world-famous soprano, before 2500 people, at Carnegie Hall, New York City, on March 10, 1920. See the three diagram sketches below:

First—
Miss Case stood beside the New Edison and sang.

Suddenly—
the lights went out, but Miss Case's voice went on alone.

Then—
the lights went on again. Miss Case was gone. The audience gasped with surprise to find that her voice had been coming from the New Edison.

Mr. Santa Claus! Come in and hear the phonograph that did it

We want you to see it, listen to it, test it for yourself. This marvelous phonograph can give the family more pleasure than any other instrument you can buy them for Christmas.

Here is why:

This phonograph has actually proved that it can match the performance of the living artist,—and match it so perfectly that no one can tell its RE-CREATION from the living performance.

It did this on March 10, 1920 before 2500 people at Carnegie Hall, New York City—with Anna Case, the world-famed soprano. It did this on September 30th, 1919, before 2500 people at Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh—with Marie Rappold, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It did this on November 5th, 1919, before 6500 teachers at the State Armory, Albany—with Mario Laurenti of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It did this over 4000 other times, with more than fifty great vocalists and instrumentalists.

You can read the facts of these amazing achievements in the leading newspapers of the United States and Canada. They are the talk of the music and scientific world.

And the phonograph? It's the Official Laboratory Model of the New Edison, "the phonograph with a soul." Every Official Laboratory Model in our store is an exact duplicate of the famous original Official Laboratory Model which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to perfect. It is capable of sustaining the test of direct comparison; we guarantee this.

Get an Official Laboratory Model for Christmas. You will have the one phonograph which brings you the living performances of great artists exactly as those artists have given them. You know this is so! The proof has been given! The absolute, scientific proof!

Say the word,—and we'll save an Official Laboratory Model for you, and deliver it in time for Christmas.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Test It Yourself
You'll be able to recognize its superiority with your own ears—in every kind of vocal and instrumental music. Come in and see whether this isn't so. We'll gladly give you Mr. Edison's famous Realism Test.

Money Help
Ask about our Budget Plan. It shows you how to make best use of your Christmas money. It brings your New Edison for Christmas, and makes 1921 help pay. Careful, systematic spending always makes money go farther.

Prices
There is no inflation in Edison Prices. "Edison stood the Gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

ALTON.

The party given by the United Farmers a week ago Friday evening was a great success. The weather was favorable and an unusually large crowd attended the affair. We congratulate our farmer friends on their success, which proved that when it comes to arranging for a delightful social evening the farmers do not need to take any back seat.

The Mission Circle of the Methodist Church will hold a Bazaar on Dec. 10th, afternoon and evening.

The Methodist people of the Alton circuit are holding a circuit concert in the Alton Methodist church on Monday next at 8 p.m., when Rev. W. E. Millson, of London Conference, will deliver an address. Mr. Millson is one of the General Secretaries of the Methodist Church. This will afford our people a fine opportunity to hear him.

LAUREL.

Our old friend, King Winter, visited our burg last week.

The Junior League had a very interesting meeting on Saturday afternoon, when they gave a box social and program. This week the meeting is in the hands of the boys, so we are all expecting a splendid time.

The Senior League of the Methodist church has accepted an invitation to spend a social evening at Whittington on Thursday night. Come along and enjoy yourselves.

Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Lynd spent the week-end with the former's parents at Fort Credit.

Rev. Henderson, of the London Conference, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening.

ARMISTICE DAY

Orangeville observed Armistice Day in fitting and impressive manner. At eleven o'clock the Public and High School pupils marched to Alexandra Park, where they deposited flowers at the base of a cenotaph erected to the memory of the soldiers who had given their lives in the great struggle. Following this ceremony a short public service was held in the Opera House, which was filled to overflowing. Rev. W. M. Morris presided, Rev. H. L. Partridge led the assemblage in prayer and Rev. T. H. Stewart and Rev. Father Bagnasco made brief addresses. "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and other hymns were sung by the whole audience and as the gathering dispersed the school children sang "The Maple Leaf" and "O Canada" under the leadership of Mr. J. E. Jessop.

THE EDISON RECITAL

An overflowing house heard and enjoyed the Edison Recital given in the Opera House Tuesday night by The Adamson Hardware Co. Wonderful indeed were the almost perfect re-creations of the human voice, the violin and the piano by the Edison phonograph. So perfect were the re-creations that the listener could easily believe that he was hearing the living artist and not the machine. David Dargie, the leading artist, has a beautiful tenor voice and his songs and anecdotes were keenly relished. Miss Margaret Whittaker is undoubtedly one of the finest violinists ever heard by an Orangeville audience. The accompanist, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton Dargie, was also an accomplished performer. Altogether the program afforded a real musical treat.

MONO MILLS.

The Ladies' Aid of the Mono Mills Methodist Church will hold their annual Bazaar in the Anglican Church Hall on Thursday afternoon and evening, November 25th. All kinds of useful articles will be on sale, as well as homemade baking, ice cream, fancy goods, candy, etc. Tea will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock. Admission for supper, 25 cents. An excellent program has been provided for the evening, including a lecture by Rev. H. L. Partridge, of Orangeville. There will also be music by a four piece orchestra, duets by Misses Kearns and Ewing, songs by Mr. F. A. Falconer, selections by the Mono Mills Quartette, recitations, etc. Mr. Tiller will occupy the chair. Come one, come all.

The annual meeting of the Mono Mills Branch of the Bible Society will be held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd at 8 o'clock. Rev. R. H. A. Haslam, a missionary in India for fifteen years, will give an illustrated lecture, which should prove both entertaining and instructive. The reception of annual reports, election of officers etc. will also take place during the evening.

"I Am Having a Terrible Time, I Simply Cannot Sleep"

"PERHAPS it is something you have been eating?"

"No, it is not. I am always careful about what I eat, particularly in the evenings."

"Are you often that way?"

"Yes, two or three nights a week, and I am getting worse all the time."

"Is it your nerves?"

"Yes, I suppose it is, for after any little excitement I am sure to have a sleepless night, and I do not know anything much worse than tossing in bed, unable to sleep."

"Do you have headaches?"

"Yes, often, more especially after a restless night."

"Why don't you try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food? That is what nearly everybody uses for nervous troubles these days."

"I don't know just why, unless because I have a dread of taking any drug that is strong enough to produce sleep."

"But, my dear, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will not produce sleep in that way. It is only after using it for a time and after the restorative influence is felt by the nerves that you will find yourself sleeping well and naturally.

"So many of my girl friends have told me about using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for sleeplessness, headaches, nervousness and such troubles that I have the greatest confidence in it."

"How does it act?'

"It is a restorative, makes the blood rich, feeds the nerves and builds up your system in every way so that the benefits are lasting."

"How long will I have to use it?"

"Oh, I suppose two or three months. It takes time, you know, to get exhausted nerves fully restored. It will not be long, though, before you find yourself sleeping well, enjoying your meals and entirely free from headaches."

"Say, I believe I will try it, for I do suffer most terribly when I cannot sleep, and then I am so tired out next day."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts. a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. On every box of the genuine are the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

Rev. A. F. M. L. Smith, who for some time has been engaged in the Forward Movement in the Maritime Provinces, was recently inducted as pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Alliston.

August Lustig paid over $1,300 in freight on one car of implements and household effects and for 7 tickets from Sidney, Vancouver Island, B.C., to Chesley. Sidney is 20 miles up the coast from Victoria. By securing the tickets before the raise he saved $120.

Miss Margaret A. Day, daughter of the late T. J. Day, of Guelph, Division Court Clerk for many years, has been appointed to succeed her father.

The mayor of Collingwood now receives an honorarium of $500 a year. The aldermen get $5.00 for each regular meeting, $3.00 for each special, and $1 for each committee meeting.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Rev. John Lennox, minister of Temple Hill, gave the following pathetic close to a memorial address at Temple Hill a week ago Sunday:
